Approved Feb. 20, 1890.

J. H. COOLEY, Mayor.

Attest:—JAS. K. ARNOLD, Borough Clerk.

Report of the Committee on Streets and Public Health of the Borough of North Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—Your Committee on Streets and Public Health have the following to report as the total year's work and would suggest what in their judgment should be the first and most important work of the year to come. About April the 15th the work of cleaning and scraping the streets East of Somerset street was begun and finished as well as the cost would allow, which amounted to $69 73. Between May 1st and 10th the work of plowing the gutters and scraping a number of streets West of Somerset street was continued at a small cost. Our attention was then directed to Green Brook road, which was almost impassable on account of the heavy rains, the work at this time costing about $95.00. During the last of May we began the macadamizing of Jackson avenue and Somerset street to the centre of Westervelt avenue, which cost, including stone and carting, $1,002.84, labor $272.07, making the total $1,274.91 of which the property-owners paid $300, leaving the actual cost to borough of $960.11. Westervelt-ave was then macadamized next from Jackson to Grandview avenue, the total expense of $581.26. Fifty per cent. of which was paid by the pedl loners, costing the borough in all $291.13. Somerset street between Jackson avenue and Green Brook road was top dressed at a cost of $782.83. The stone and carting alone costing over four-fifths of the total amount, showing how small the labor expenses is for ordinary stone improvement.

Between July 1st and Aug. 30th we again turnpiked Green Brook road, filled in the washouts on Clinton and West End avenues, which was repeated after the second freshet of the Summer. Money being used at this time which was intended for repairs during the Winter months. Work on Somerset street above Mountain avenue, filling portions of Grove street with gravel and relaying crosswalks on various streets concluded the year's labor.

We would ask that the recommendation of the committee of last year be continued on in regard to a cross street or streets and would suggest that Emily together with a portion of Grove street and Mercer avenue to Rockview be macadamized. First, believing that would give an outlet and be a lasting benefit to the greatest number. When we consider that Somerset street gets more wear and travel than all the others combined reaching as it does from one end of the Borough to the other, $1,000 seems small to set aside for the use of that street alone. In conclusion we would recommend that five thousand dollars be the sum raised next year for road purposes. $2,000 of the above for repairs and $3,000 for permanent improvement.

Following we present the financial showing for the year.

Signed N. B. SMALLEY, JAS. F. BUCKLE.

An Exciting Runaway.

A horse belonging to Mr. Thos. Burns, the hackman, got frightened at the cars while passing under the Park avenue railroad bridge this afternoon and ran away. Mr. Burns and his son were in the vehicle at the time and they were thrown out when the wagon struck an electric light pole opposite Reynolds' pharmacy. The former was badly bruised about the head. The wagon was considerably wrecked.

It's So.

You can't most always sometimes tell
If Winter'll have a vernal spell
Or whether he'll some iceberg grip
And smite you with it thigh and hip.
In fact, 'twill never do to bet
If good or bad you're going to get—
But what at Collier's meets your quest
Can be relied on as the best.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather there was a fair attendance at the loan exhibition, last evening.

Mr. L. B. Mulford is confined to his residence, East Second street, with a severe attack of pleurisy.

Mr. Wm. M. Alberti and Mme. Alberti, formerly of this city, but now of Somerville, will spend the Summer in Brooklyn.

The condition of Assessor Isaac Brokaw of North Plainfield is hourly growing worse, and it is thought that the end is near.

The Somerset Democrat this week, published a column editorial on the parochial school question, in which is an interview with Mr. F. X. Schoonmaker of this city.

Miss Byrdee Randolph of Putnam avenue, has returned from a visit to Secretary Noble, Washington, D. C. Miss Randolph was also entertained at the White House, and the British Legation, by Lady Pauncefort.

The "Social Four" gave one of their enjoyable parties at Councilman M. M. Dunham's home on Arlington avenue, last evening. Those present report having had a delightful time. Refreshments were served during the evening.

At a regular meeting of Plainfield Lodge, No. 305, Order of Tonti, held in Odd Fellows Hall, on Thursday evening, with Mr. F. A. Dunham in the chair, Mr. W. R. Codington was elected representative to the District Convention which meets at Trenton on the 3d instant. Mr. Geo. E. Stillman was elected alternate.

The Somerset Democrat is in error in stating that "Rev. Robert Lowry, who has composed much pretty Sunday school music, died at Plainfield on Wednesday." It was the estimable wife of Rev. Dr. Lowry who died, and whose funeral took place from the house, corner of Madison avenue and Ninth street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Celia E. Gardner, the gifted writer, of First place, is the authoress of a new book entitled "Tested," just issued by G. W. Dillingham of New York. The narrative dwells on the history of a girl's life, intermingled with which is a love tale. Miss Gardner also has in press another new book entitled "Seraph or Mortal," which promises to eclipse all her former efforts.

Another Enthusiastic Meeting.

There was another large audience present at Reform Hall, last evening, President Harper being in the chair. Among those who occupied seats on the platform were Rev. W. E. Honeyman who read the first Psalm, Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut who offered prayer, Rev. C. B. Mitchell, Mr. Nicholson and Captain Geo. D. Morrison.

Mr. English delivered the address of the evening in his usual attractive manner, and at his request remarks were made by the Rev. Dr. Hurlbut and the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, the latter at some length and with great earnestness.

The pledge was offered and additional names were obtained. Rev. Mr. Mitchell pronounced the benediction.

The Last Sad Rites.

The funeral ceremonies following the death of the late Anna R. Loxley, wife of the Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry, who died on Tuesday, took place from the house on Madison avenue, yesterday afternoon. The Revs. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, A. R. Dilts and Dr. Pelt, the latter of Philadelphia, all took part in the service. A quartette composed of Miss Alice Holmes, Mrs. Wm. A. Freeman, Mr. M. C. VanArsdale and Master Arthur Freeman rendered delightful and appropriate music. Interment was made in the family plot in Hillside cemetery.

How Often This Section is Violated.

People who drive up in front of the post office or stores and leave their horses without tying, are probably unaware of the fact that they are violating section 24 of the Peace and Moral ordinance, which reads as follows:

"If any person leave any horse or team standing untied in any of the streets of this city, unless the same is in charge of some person competent to care for the same, he shall be liable, on conviction, to be fined any sum not exceeding ten dollars for each offence."

W. C. T. U. Notes.

A service of song and prayer this evening at 7:30.

Sunday morning at 9:15. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at 73 West Front street.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will be held on Tuesday next at 3 P. M., in their rooms 73 West Front street. All are welcome and an interesting hour is assured to those who may attend. It is hoped that each member will make a special effort to be present at this particular meeting.

It is too bad to spend half of a short life distressed with neuralgia, when 25 cents spent for one bottle of Salvation Oil will cure it quickly.

He talked as if he had a "frog in his throat," but he was only hoarse; a single bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup relieved the trouble at once. 25 cents.

A Reply From the Carpenters' Union.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS: In last night's issue of THE PRESS, we noticed an article headed: "Carpenters Have Their Grievances," which stated that—

"Nine of the carpenters employed by contractor James Hardy of Somerset street, quit work yesterday at noon, simply because there was one week's pay due them. This is all explained from the fact that Mr. Hardy has several large contracts under way, and he cannot get his money from the owners until the jobs are completed. It is said that the men who went out all belonged to the Carpenters' Union. Mr. Hardy employs twenty-three men in all. One of the men who went out yesterday will probably return to work to-morrow morning."

In the first place there were eleven men that went out. Second, it was not simply because Mr. Hardy owed them one week's pay, but sums ranging for wages due from one to two weeks, and that he was unwilling to give the men the security they asked for the money due them. The men offered to work for him and do all they could to help him out, providing he could make them secure for the money due them and give them enough to defray necessary expenses until he obtained his money on the contracts. Third, it is not so that all the men who went out belong to the Carpenters' Union.

THE MEMBERS.

[Mr Hardy was interviewed by a PRESS representative concerning the matter today. He regretted that any mention was made of it yesterday, as he considers it a personal matter in which the public would not be interested. Already, he says, a portion of the difficulty has been adjusted, and that within a few days the matter will be amicably settled without any bitter feeling on either side—ED.]

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

THAT SCOTCH PLAINS SCHOOL HOUSE.

Some Pertinent Questions Concerning Its Erection, and a Few Facts for the Trustees to Answer.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Mr. David P. Hall, Trustee of Scotch Plains School District, No, 14, in a letter to THE PRESS dated February 18, 1890, refers to the comments of a "Fanwood Old Timer" in the issue of January 23, as a "reading notice" ("i. e., a paid article.") From this misleading insinuation, it would appear that he wanted to create the impression among "those people in Plainfield, who are not in the habit of visting the beautiful little hamlet," that the criticisms in THE PRESS' news columns of public officials and public works is influenced by the ring of the Almighty dollars. It would seem hardly necessary to refer the gentleman to the large circulation of THE PRESS among the reading public, (of which I am sorry to note that Mr. H. acknowledges that he does not belong,) or to call upon them to attest to the fact that THE PRESS is fearless in honest criticisms of public affairs. In all of the history of THE PRESS it has never been called upon to retract anything or to get down upon its marrow bones and apoligize, to cancel a libel suit. Ever since the institution of the Republic honorable men who assume offices of public trust, have considered it a high honor to have their official acts criticised by the press of the country. And why Mr. Hall should feel alarmed that the "county papers" do harm when he has the backing of Messrs McKim, Mead & White, a firm of architects, who "enjoy a National, almost a World wide reputation," is a mystery.

In regards to his good or ill fortune as a trustee of School District, No. 14, men who seek office should be prepared to take the responsibilities as they come. Just where the animus that he attributes to Fanwood architects and builders come in the comments of "Fanwood Old Timer," is a puzzle that can only be solved in the proverb of old, "that a guilty conscience is self-own accuser." Oh, what a relief it must afford a person troubled with such a conscience to unload the responsibility on other shoulders. And what kind considerate voters that reside in District No. 14, to appoint at their June meeting an Advisory Committee for the purpose of relieving the trustees of all blame and responsibility of the selection of the plans for the much ridiculed edifice. This scholastic edifice has also a great local history, commencing with the giving away of the old school building and lot to a syndicate at the District meeting in June under a set of legal resolutions.

The alleged appointment of two members of the syndicate on the Advisory Committee; the adoption of the Hebrew style of awarding the contract; the meanness of the contractors in not furnishing sufficient material for a secure scaffold, resulting in the death of one workman and making another a cripple for life are all matters to take into consideration. To review this history would consume too much valuable space. But whoever wishes to obtain information relating to it can visit the little hamlet, and talk with the people and they will get the full history. I will now give Mr. Hall and the other trustees a few facts to answer in connection with this scholastic subject.

Mr. Hall refers to provisional plans that the trustees had in contemplation which were laid aside under the advice of the Advisory Committee. This is the first official intimation that the people of the District has had that other plans were under consideration. But it has been generally understood, unofficially, that there were plans submitted to them of a building that contained 200 square feet more seating space, 100 per cent. more light, and costing about $3,000 less money than the present structure.

When the contracts were awarded it was generally understood that the specifications called for the foundation walls to be built of good local quarry stone. The brick work to be built with good hard burnt North River brick, or brick equally as good. Red cement mortar to be used. Reference is made to these clauses in the specification to show what the people are to receive. The foundation walls are built with field trap rock from the stone crackers. The North River hard brick was obtained from a local brick yard. The walls are now variegated with every shade of a brick from a salmon to a cherry red. The walls are now bulged an inch or more in many places, and some of the brick are now showing signs of disintegration. The chimneys on the roof are built so that the wood-work of the belfry ends up against the flues that lead from the furnace in the cellar. The lumber used is said to be not up to a first-class standard.

These are all plain visible facts that do not require the acute eye to detect. Upon whom shall the responsibility fall for this state of affairs? It is altogether unnecessary for Mr. Hall to try and divert public attention from the edifice by giving a list of the buildings and places where these New York architects have performed work in their defence, for the Scotch Plains school building will speak for itself.

Signed:

FANWOOD.

They Are Legion.

Sarsaparilla and other advertised blood medicines are numerous, but the only one possessed of such superior curative properties as to warrant its manufacturer in selling it, as they are doing, through druggists, under a positive guarantee, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If it don't benefit or cure you get the money back which you paid for it. It is recommended to cure all chronic liver, blood and lung diseases, as biliousness, skin and scalp diseases, scrofulous sores and swellings, salt-rheum, tetter, erysipelas and even scrofula of the lungs (or consumption), if taken in time.

"Old Lavender."

The above named play will be produced at Music Hall, on Monday evening.

"Old Lavender" abounds in jolly music and quaint phrases, in the catching fun and the lively passages which have done so much for the success of Mr. Harrigan's local plays. It has pathos as well, and the picture which the author-actor gives us of the warm-hearted, whole-souled boon companion brought by the wrong doings of others to the clutch of severest poverty and distress, touches the source of tears, though the cheery manner in which he bears misfortune, and the grotesque way he has of putting his moralizing, go to the springs of laughter. Few men on the stage could play such a part as Edward Harrigan plays this, with a finish, a sympathy, a delicacy that are admirable.

AN INSULT AVENGED

Ex-Congressman Taulbee Shot by a Newspaper Man.

THEY ARE BOTH KENTUCKIANS

They Met in the Capitol Where the Shooting Occurred.

The Quarrel Was an Old One and the Correspondent's Nose Had Been Pulled by Taulbee—The Tragedy Startles the House—The Wound Not Thought to be Dangerous—Sketch of the Men.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—A highly sensational shooting affair occurred at the Capitol, in which the principals were an ex-Congressman and a well-known newspaper man. Both are Kentuckians. W. P. Taulbee, who represented a Kentucky district in the House during the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses, was the victim, and Charles Kincaid, the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times, did the shooting.

Scene of the Shooting.

The House was engaged in its deliberations when Kincaid's pistol shot reverberated through the corridors of the Capitol. The hour was about twenty minutes before 2 o'clock. A minute later the House was almost empty, and a great crowd of excited employes and others was hurrying through the corridors toward the scene of the shooting.

Taulbee was coming down one of the stairways that lead to the basement of the House wing of the Capitol and was accompanied by ex-Doorkeeper Sam Donaldson. Kincaid came down the steps behind the pair and in a hurried manner touched Taulbee on the shoulder. The ex-Congressman wheeled sharply, and Kincaid, raising his weapon, one of small calibre, pulled the trigger.

Kincaid, meanwhile, had not endeavored to get away. He leaned against the wall of the staircase utterly weakened, and later walked quietly away with the Capitol policeman who arrested him. "I'm the man that did it," he said to the policeman, in an aimless manner. He was taken to the Capitol guard-room and later to a police station.

Cause of the Tragedy.

The trouble grew out of the publication in the Louisville Times of a scandalous story about Taulbee, which resulted, it is said, in the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Taulbee. Since the publication of that story a year ago Kincaid and Taulbee have not met until a short time before the shooting when Taulbee accosted Kidcaid near the east lobby door of the House, called him a liar and pulled his ear. Kincaid, who is just recovering from an attack of typhoid fever, told Taulbee that he was unable to cope with him physically and that he was unarmed. Taulbee then went away. Later Kincaid armed himself and hunted Taulbee up.

At Providence Hospital where the wounded man was taken Drs. Bayne and Koones said that Taulbee's general condition was quite favorable and that he was doing even better than could have been reasonably expected. There are only slight hemorrhages from the nose and mouth which, together with the fact that so far as is known, the brain and the optic nerves are untouched, leads the attending surgeons to regard the case at present as entirely hopeful.

Kincaid Has Friends.

Kincaid will be kept in confinement to await the result of Taulbee's injuries. Should the Kentuckian die it will look very grave for his assailant.

A friend who called assured Mr. Kincaid that he would be pleased to qualify as one of his bondsmen in case he was needed. This friend also stated that he brought a message from Senator Voorhees to the effect that in case his services as counsel were needed at the trial he could count upon them. From the number and prominence of the people who called at the station-house to offer their aid, if needed, it is evident that Mr. Kincaid is not without friends in Washington.

Taulbee, since declining a re-election to Congress last year, has been here and in New York giving his time to dealings in Kentucky lands, and has made some large sales of tracts in the eastern part of the State.

Kincaid, familiarly known as Judge, having held that position in a minor Kentucky court, is a small man, about 40 years of age, quite prominent in a social way in Kentucky and in this city.

Protesting Against Russia.

NEW YORK, March 1.—A mass-meeting was held at the Cooper Union last night to protest against the Russian Government's treatment of political prisoners. V. A. Stoleschnikoff presided and spoke, and addresses denouncing the Czar were also delivered by Rev. Hugh Pentecost, Prof. DeLeon and others. Resolutions requesting the intervention of the American Government to check the outrages upon prisoners were adopted.

Carried Over Genesee Falls.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 1.—E. G. Solomon, engaged in the leather business as Newark, N. J., upon his arrival in Rochester at 6:15 a. m., saw an unknown man leap from Central Avenue Bridge into the Genesee river. The man was short of stature, thick set and wore a long overcoat. He was apparently about forty years of age. The body was quickly carried over the falls which are a short distance from the bridge.

Investigating New York.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Senator Fassett's Investigating Committee on Cities began the work of probing the various departments of the city government this morning. The first witness was Mayor Grant and to-day's session will be occupied with his examination. It is understood that the evidence required from him will be mainly statistical.

Hill Hawes Hanged.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 1.—Richard R. Hawes, the murderer of his wife and two daughters, expiated his crimes on the gallows here. When the knot was being arranged Hawes called out: "Boys, let liquor and vile women alone. You see what they have brought me to."

Coal Fields the Colliery Fire.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 1.—The fire in the Cameron colliery is thought to be under control and will probably be extinguished in a few days.

NO ALARM AT CINCINNATI.

The Situation Not Sufficiently Serious to Cause Much Damage.

CINCINNATI, March 1.—Wildly extravagant ideas of the extent and effect of the present flood in Cincinnati prevail in some places. The river at fifty-seven feet would cover a mere strip of the surface of the city, a few low points along the river, except a very considerable surface in Mill Creek Valley which is not built upon, and is rather vacant property or used for vegetable gardens. Just there is now the principal loss.

Even in the great flood of 1884, when the water was 71 feet high, the amount of surface covered was small. The chief inconvenience arises from the flooding of basements and cellars in the business and manufacturing houses that lie contingnous to the river.

The most cheerful indication that the present flood in Ohio has almost reached its limit is the colder weather and the appearance of snow. Set off against that is the report from up the river which shows that from Wheeling to Cincinnati the river is everywhere rising, and worst of all that at Marietta and Parksburg there is a heavy rain fall. At Portsmouth the rise is about half an inch an hour.

1,500 PEOPLE HOMELESS.

Fleeing from the Floods in the Cumberland River.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 1.—Late reports from the Lower Cumberland River represent much distress on the lowlands. People have been compelled on account of the flood to drive their stock to high ground and leave their own homes for more elevated positions. Higher water is expected on account of the heavy rains of yesterday.

The sudden rise in the Cumberland River has caused much suffering. Nearly 1,500 people have been compelled to abandon their homes on the lowlands. Many houses are under water, some of them from 12 to 15 feet.

All household goods are left in the houses while the people use the best means possible to leave their homes. Dugouts or canoes or scows were constantly in use, and every effort was made to afford relief. Those in the inundated districts who happened not to take the turn of the tide were forced for a time to occupy the upper stories of their houses until they could be rescued.

SULLIVAN'S TRIAL.

The Pugilist's Case Will be Called by a Mississippi Judge on Monday.

JACKSON, Miss., March 1.—The case of John L. Sullivan, on appeal from the Circuit Court for prize fighting in Marion County, will be tried by the Supreme Court Monday next, and the Attorney-General is engaged to-day in preparing his brief. Sullivan stands sentenced to one year's confinement in the county jail.

The decision in the case will not be promulgated before Monday week, and may not be that soon, as Judge Woods is too feeble yet to resume his duties and the court is badly overworked. The Legislature failed to abolish the leasing system, and county convicts are left to be disposed of as heretofore. They are leased out, and the sentence of the lower court is affirmed. Sullivan may be wearing stripes and hoeing cotton or pulling fodder in a July sun before the leaves begin to fall.

New York State Odd Fellows.

ROME, N. Y., March 1.—An adjourned meeting of the committee to select a location for the annual Field Day and Cantonment of the Odd Fellows, Division of the Atlantic, was held here, and after a protracted session it was deemed advisable, because of the triennial meeting to be held in Denver, July 21 to 26, that the General Field Day this year should be dispensed with. The next regimental Cantonment will be held at Oneida on Monday, April 28, when Canton Oneida will be mustered by Col. James G. Hunt of Utica.

Improvements on the Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Among the many improvements the Pennsylvania Railroad Company contemplate on their New York line is the elevation of their tracks in Jersey City, where a handsome station is to be constructed and the passengers landed on the second floor. Without descending to the ground level they will proceed directly to the ferries. The latter will be reconstructed or replaced with new boats, which will be double-decked.

Death of a Rich Miser.

BOSTON, March 1.—Charles Tufts, aged 85, who had accumulated about $50,000 worth of property by working all his life as a shoemaker, paper carrier and maker of shoe blacking, died in his filthy den at 75 Boylston street, Cambridge, last night of pneumonia. He had denied himself every comfort of life, and did not call in a physician during his fatal illness. His only relative, so far as known, is a niece in Worcester County.

A Newspaper in Trouble.

RED BANK, N. J., March 1.—The New Jersey Standard, the oldest and leading Democratic paper in Monmouth County, was taken possession of by the sheriff on a foreclosure of mortgage. Mr. Kempson, the publisher, afterward had an altercation with the mortgagee, Norman Penfield, who publishes the Shore Press at Asbury Park, and the affair has caused some excitement.

Arrest of a Coin Counterfeiter.

RONDOUT, N. Y., March 1.—Frank Wheeler was arrested here and 200 bogus silver coins were found on his person. He is thought to be one of a gang of counterfeiters who have been flooding the Hudson River towns with spurious half and quarter dollar pieces for some time past.

Will Contest Compromised.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 1.—The contest over the will of the late Ellen M. Gifford, who left an estate valued at $400,000, has been settled by a compromise, which allows $250,000 to be devoted to charitable purposes at the discretion of the executors.

Blast Furnaces Resume Work.

READING, Pa., March 1.—The second of the three large blast furnaces of the Brook Iron Company at Birdsboro has resumed operations after a year's idleness. This morning the Keystone Furnace, No. 1, of the Reading Company of this city also resumed.

Two Men Drowned.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., March 1.—Geo. Gage, hotel landlord at Guilford, and Dan Fisher, were drowned in Brackett's pond, Bainbridge, N. Y. They were fishing through a hole in the ice when the ice broke beneath them.

THE BISHOP HISSED

Another Breezy Session in the Shamokin Conference.

THE PERSONAL FIGHT RENEWED

Bishop Esher Says He is Not Under Charges and Will Not Vacate.

The Investigating Resolution Against the Bishop and His Protest Voted On. Secret Session to Examine the Personal Conduct of Ministers—Great Excitement Prevailed During the Debate.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 1.—At the second day's session of the Evangelical Conference after the usual opening devotional services, Bishop Esher, who was in the chair, remarked that the previous day had been practically wasted and he hoped that the resolution that had been offered declaring the presiding bishop an improper person to preside would be withdrawn and the business of the convention acted upon.

Rev. Mr. Smoyer objected and again presented the resolution. Rev. Breyfogle suggested that business proceed and the resolution be considered later. Bishop Esher then tried to have the conference go into secret session and examine the personal conduct of ministers. Rev. Smoyer insisted that the conduct of the bishop be first examined.

The scenes of the previous day were then repeated amid great confusion. Rev. Smoyer exclaimed: "We insist on expressing our feeling in this matter."

"So do I," retorted the bishop.

"Yes and misconstrue," replied Rev. Smoyer.

The Bishop—I have not misconstrued. I have been hissed and jeered by this body. Remarks derogatory to my personal character have been made. I am not under charges and will not be thrown out. I cannot vacate.

Rev. Smoyer—Your position is anomalous.

Rev. Kell—I do not wish it said we hiss the bishop.

Great excitement prevailed during a continued discussion in which it was denied that the bishop had been hissed.

After order had been restored the bishop said: "If I am wrong in thinking I was hissed I frankly recall my complaint of that unkind treatment."

Rev. Haman then asked if the bishop would allow the secretary to put the resolution before the conference, to which the bishop replied: "Certainly; but the action will be placed on the minutes with my protest." The resolution was then put by the secretary and almost unanimously adopted.

Bishop Esher then refused to vacate the chair, and the conference went into secret session to consider charges preferred against ministers, the bishop remarking, "Now we shall examine others."

LABOUCHERE SUSPENDED.

Disciplined for a Violation of the Rules of the House of Commons.

LONDON, March 1.—Last night in the House of Commons Mr. Labouchere was suspended for a violation of the rules, in connection with the bringing up of the unsavory Cleveland street scandal for investigation.

The suspension causes much surprise. It is thought that the offence against the rules was intentional, as a shrewd tactician like Labouchere is unlikely, even in the heat of debate, to have made a blunder so grave as the wilful disregard of the ruling of the chair.

It is believed that the expulsion was planed; that he might thereby be able to say that a full discussion of the subject was adjudged unpleasant by Parliament.

Mr. Labouchere's suspension lasts two weeks. The Speaker ordered the ladies' gallery closed before the debate commenced.

GERMANY'S REBALLOTS.

A Large Number of Socialists Returned but Herr Bebel is Defeated.

BERLIN, March 1.—The returns from the reballots show that Goetz, National Liberal, has been elected in Leipsic City. In the first municipal district of Leipsic, Birk, Socialist, is elected. Mannhein returns Driesback, Socialist; Frankfort-on-the-Main elects Scheidt, Socialist, and Stuttgart returns Seigl, National Liberal. Schwartz, Socialist, is elected in Lubeck, and it is believed that a Socialist has been elected in Bremen.

The Socialist leader, Herr Bebel, is defeated in Leipsic. A Progressist is returned in Carlsruhe, and Osenn, Nationalist, is elected at Darmstadt. Kircher, Schmidt and Heilbronn, Socialists, have been elected respectively in Haerla, Boeblingen and Carmstadt. Eypoldt, Pflueger and Loerrach, Radical, have been elected in Pirra and Karlsruhe.

Granite Manufacturers Organize.

BOSTON, Mass., March 1.—Delegates representing 160 granite concerns of New England, held a meeting in this city and formed an organization known as the Granite Manufacturers' Association of New England, with John O. A. Field of Quincy, President; Walter Lyons of Boston, Secretary; W. S. White of Rockland, Me., Treasurer, and a board of twelve directors. It was the opinion of the gentlemen present that the present condition of the granite business would not warrant the increase in wages now being agitated by the workmen. It was voted that after May 1 all labor should be paid for by the hour and the piece.

Three Times His Age.

BROOKLYN, March 1.—The gossips in the vicinity of 333 Hancock street are shocked because Mrs. Matilda L. Case, a wealthy widow, who they claim to be over 60 years of age, has just married a 19-year-old sailor boy attached to the training ship Minnesota. The boy is George J. Bolles, whose father is a manufacturer residing at Hartford, Conn. The bride is quite indignant that her marriage to a lad younger than her own sons should excite comment.

Laughed After the Deed.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Earl Cumpston, three years old, living with his parents at 805 Dexter avenue, was shot and instantly killed by Malcolm Cumpston, his 5-year-old brother. Death was instaneous. The shot was heard by the mother, who rushed into the room just in time to see the baby fall and to see the other child, unconscious of what he had done, running about the room and laughing.

HUNGER STRIKES AT KARA.

Female Prisoners Subjected to Gross Indignities—The Sigida Tragedy.

LONDON, March 1.—Further particulars of the outrages in Kara have just reached here.

The third mutiny among the prisoners was to obtain the removal of the odious Governor Masukoff who had ordered that a lady be dragged from her bed in her night dress and stripped. After being subjected to the grossest insults she was decked in prison garb.

The first strike of the prisoners lasted eighteen days and ended in Masukoff tendering his resignation which Governor Korf refused to accept.

The second strike lasted eight days, when Masukoff gave out that he had been ordered to another prison.

When this was found to have no foundation the third strike began, which lasted twenty-two days.

The prison surgeon asserted that Mme. Sigida was too ill to be flogged, and reported that her heart was weak. He expressed the opinion that to further carry out the sentence would be illegal.

Shamiting, the Chief Director of the prison, upon being informed of this, sent the following message:

"Execute sentence without surgeons presence." Superintendent Vill hesitated and the official who administered the first flogging applied the lash in the second instance.

HEAVY SNOW-STORM

A Cold Wave Suddenly Strikes East and South.

HIGH WINDS AND DEEP DRIFTS.

Street Cars Blocked and Several Accidents Reported in New York.

The Tail-End of a Blizzard Which is Howling Off the Coast—Wind Blowing at the Rate of Forty Miles an Hour—Snowing and Freezing in the South and Crops Badly Damaged.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The heaviest snowfall of the season, accompanied by a high wind, prevailed all night. A large number of serious accidents, resulting from falls on the sidewalks, are reported from the various police stations and hospitals.

The storm pretty effectually blocked the street cars and even the elevated trains were impeded. On the Brooklyn Bridge the trainmen were exposed to the fury of the storm and suffered severely. The ferryboats were compelled to proceed with great care. About eight inches of snow on the level had fallen.

The signal office here reports that New York is experiencing the tail end of a blizzard which is howling off the coast to the north and east, and that there is very little snow south of this city. The cold wave, however, extends as far south as Florida.

Storms Howling Along the Coast.

SANDY HOOK, March 3.—A severe snow storm raged all night all along the New Jersey coast which reminds one of the fearful blizzard which occurred two years ago. The wind is blowing at the rate of 40 miles an hour from the northwest, and the snow is drifting high at different points.

Heaviest Snow of Two Years.

BOSTON, March 3.—A heavy snow storm, by all odds the heaviest in at least two years, prevailed here all night The snow is fully six inches deep and is drifting considerably. The wind has hauled around to the eastward, but there is no sign of the storm turning to rain.

Heavy Snow Storm in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 3.—A snow storm, accompanied by high winds, set in at noon yesterday and continued until midnight. So far there has been no serious delay to railroad trains, and the horse car and cable lines are experiencing some difficulty in getting their cars through the snow.

Snowing in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 3.—A light snow fell here this morning, the first snowfall for many years. Ice formed last night and vegetation generally is blighted. The damage to truck garden crops cannot as yet be estimated, but it is very large.

Cold in Florida.

ST. AUGUSTINE, March 3.—The thermometer to-day registered 33 degrees above zero, the lowest point reached this season. Great damage has been done to truck farms by the frost of last night, and fears are entertained for the orange crop.

Only a Hint of Winter at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 3.—There was a light fall of snow here last night and several light flurries to-day, giving Buffalonians almost their first taste of winter.

TWO COURT-MARTIALS.

An Army and a Navy Officer to be Tried on Charges of Brutality.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The accusations of cruelty on the part of the army and navy officers to subordinates as charged in the cases of private Wild and the sailors on board the United States steamer Enterprise, have created a great deal of gossip in army and navy circles. Within the next few weeks court-martials will probably be under way, one trying Lieutenant Steele, of the army, at Fort Snelling, Minn., for persecuting and imprisoning a private soldier for refusing to perform menial service for him, and the other trying Commander McCalla, of the navy, at Brooklyn, for cutting down with his sword a sailor for a breach of naval regulations.

These two cases coming so close together have attracted unusual attention. Even in departmental circles, where the cases have been topics of conversation, it is not an unusual thing to hear the practice of cruelty by army and navy officers roundly denounced.

Brutality on the part of officers, it is maintained, is not at all necessary to the proper enforcement of discipline. In the case of Lieutenant Steele, General Crook is now preparing a court-martial for his trial. Officially the case of Commander McCalla of the Enterprise has not been called to the attention of Secretary Tracy; but as soon as it is the Secretary will doubtless follow the example of Secretary Proctor and order a court-martial to ascertain all the facts in the case. Private advices received here respecting the two cases mentioned, corroborate the newspaper accounts which have been published about them.

Found Dead in His Cabin

BALTIMORE, Md. March 3.—The steamship Wileysike, which arrived here from New York to finish loading for Brazil, was in command of First Mate Peabody, her master, Captain James Rowe, having died of consumption when 12 hours from New York. He was found sitting at the table in his cabin. The remains were placed in a vault at 5 o'clock last evening to await instructions from Captain Rowe's family in Plymouth, England.

THE RIGHT ONE WANTED.

Mr. Blaine Trying to Find a Man to Take His Son Walker's Place.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 3.—Secretary Blaine is said to be having considerable trouble in selecting a man for the place of Solicitor for the Department of State, made vacant by the death of his son Walker.

It is a difficult place to fill, and the Secretary wants to get just the right man. There has been some talk of appointing Mr. Moore, the present Third Assistant Secretary, who was appointed to office by the last Administration. He is well posted on points of international law, which he has made a special study, and rendered Mr. Blaine great assistance in the fisheries negotiations. Mr. Moore was secretary of the Fisheries Commission, which sat during the Cleveland Administration, and possesses knowledge on this subject which is particularly valuable just now.

Notice has been given that hereafter all matters connected with consulships must be arranged with Mr. Wharton, the First Assistant Secretary. The Congressmen who call hereafter in behalf of admiring constituents who want appointments as consuls, will therefore have to talk with some one else than Mr. Blaine. He has served notice that he is too busy with big questions to see people about the little ones.

AN ENORMOUS SHORTAGE.

A Deficit of $1,700,000 in the Accounts of George P. Brown.

BOSTON, March 3.—A deficiency of $1,700,000 has been found in the books of George P. Brown, the head of the big wool firm of Brown, Theese & Clark, and treasurer of the Riverside and Oswego mills, whose failure and subsequent flight last summer created such a sensation.

The report of the expert accountant which contains this information has been submitted to the assignees. He found the books in a demoralized condition, and it took months to ascertain the exact state of affairs. Brown had handled immense sums in his official capacity.

In the last four years he had deposited $50,000,000 in two banks, to say nothing of deposits in five other banks. The books do not, however, account for $1,700,840, beyond the fact that the money had been withdrawn by Brown. Where that big sum has gone only Mr. Brown knows.

The Church Trouble at Shenandoah.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., March 3.—There were no services held in the Greek Church yesterday. The feeling still runs high, however, and one Hungarian woman was arrested for trying to effect an entrance into the church. About 40 of the friends of the Rev. Andrushewics held possession of the church and determined not to allow the friends of the Rev. Wolanski to take possession. The chief burgess and 40 policeman were also on guard to prevent a riot. The Rev. Wolanski, with a number of his adherents, attempted to enter the church but was repulsed by the police and the followers of Andrushowicz.

Stabbed While Gambling.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 3.—Condie Bivins, of this city, was arrested in Westport by officers from this place. Early in the morning he stabbed a companion named James Forney twice in the back, inflicting wounds from which Forney will probably die. The men were gambling, and the dispute arose over some money matters. Bivins made his escape and walked to Westport, a distance of 12 miles. He had purchased a ticket for New York, and was about to board a train when arrested. He is now in jail in this city.

Mysterious Death of a Priest.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—A man supposed to be the Rev. Father Peter Herbert Faron, of Baltimore, died in the Pennsylvania Hospital, this city under circumstances which lead the hospital authorities to believe that he was foully dealt with. The body was badly bruised and the Coroner will hold an inquest. Papers found on the dead man's person showed him to have been connected with the Jesuit Institute at Frederick, Md. He was about 33 years of age.

The Coast Lined With Fish.

NORFOLK, Va., March 3.—Vessels coming in from Roanoke Island say the coast is literally lined with bluefish. One seine fishery on Thursday caught over 600 shad and 30,000 herring at one haul. The pound-net fishermen are also doing good work. The spring fishing season is now fully on, and the fish trains from Elizabeth City come in heavily loaded. Later the steam fisheries on Albemarle Sound will be making the 100,000-herring haul.

Bassett Offers to Marry His Victim.

JAMAICA, L. I., March 3.—The condition of Miss Tessie Covert, the victim of malpractice, is reported to be considerably improved. Strong hopes of her final recovery are entertained. John M. Bassett, who is still locked up in jail here, has expressed his willingness to marry Miss Covert should she recover. The authorities of Jamaica have received information that Cassett is already a married man, and that his wife is now a resident of Albany.

The Assault on Miss Cowan.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 3.—Miss Cowan, who was so savagely assaulted by Dan Webster, will probably recover. The story of Webster, printed in a New Haven paper, to the effect that Miss Cowan met him by appointment, is false. She says now that Webster was cutting at her throat when he was frightened away by the noise of a team, and that he certainly intended to kill her.

Incendiaries Burn Several Buildings.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 3.—A special from Venango Boro says the Venango House and several less important buildings were burned last night. The fire was of incendiary origin.

EIGHTY YEARS OLD

Pope Leo Celebrates His Birthday in a Reception.

A SPEECH TO THE CARDINALS.

He Declared His Intention to Give the Social Question Careful Study.

Buffalo Bill and His Troupe Received at the Vatican—Master Abraham Lincoln Very Feeble—Changes in the French Cabinet—Discovery of a Fresh Nihilist Conspiracy to Commit Outrages.

ROME, March 3.—Pope Leo XIII. was 80 years old yesterday, and to-day is the 12th anniversary of his coronation.

In honor of these two anniversaries he gave a reception to the College of Cardinals.

Replying to the congratulations of the Cardinals the Pope declared his intention to give the most earnest study to the social question, and said he hoped to receive the assistance of the European powers in solving this difficult problem.

The Vatican's official organ claims that the German Emperor was inspired to issue the labor rescripts by a former speech of Pope Leo XIII. to the French workingmen. It commends the Emperor's attitude.

French Cabinet Changes.

PARIS, March 3.—Premier Tirard also tendered his resignation, but President Carnot refused to accept it. The press is unanimous in the opinion that the Cabinet is weakened by the resignation of Minister Constans, and that his leaving heralds its downfall. M. Bourgeois, the successor of M. Constans, is an advanced Radical. As a condition of his acceptance he makes special stipulations regarding the Government's policy.

The Pope Receives Buffalo Bill's Troupe.

ROME, March 3.—The Pope was visited by a number of Indians attached to Cody's Wild West Show yesterday and presented them with medals, crucifixes and chaplets. The entire Wild West troupe are to be received by His Holiness to-day.

Master Lincoln Very Feeble.

LONDON, March 3.—The condition of Master Abraham Lincoln remains unchanged. He is very feeble, but in most respects not noticeably more so than he was yesterday.

A STRIKE FOR FREEDOM.

Canadians Organize to Bring About the Independence of the Dominion.

MONTREAL, March 3.—A league has been formed here to bring about the independence of Canada by 1892. All the American powers are to be asked to exert their moral influence, and, if need be, concerted action to free the country from the last vestige of European rule on the continent. The league will have united with it all the liberal clubs in the country.

American universities are to be invited to co-operate, as well as political bodies who have for object the bringing about of the final triumph of democratic institutions throughout the world. The league will be under the control of a Supreme Council, whose actions will be kept secret. This new departure coming after recent actions of liberal clubs in declaring for independence causes much comment here. J. X. Berrault and the young liberals are at the head of the movement.

CLAN-NA-GAEL DENOUNCED.

A Catholic Priest Says the Order Has Injured the Irish Cause.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—The distribution of a four-paged paper entitled the Clan-na-Gael in front of the Roman Catholic churches in this city yesterday aroused the indignation of some of the Roman Catholic clergy.

The Rev. J. Fitzmaurice, of St. Michael's Church, one of the most eminent priests in the city, drove the distributors away from in front of his church. At the half past ten mass he made a speech in which he denounced the Clan-na-Gael in strong language. He said that the organization had brought more disgrace on the Irish people and done more harm to the Irish cause than this or the next generation will be able to repair.

"Every man in the congregation," he said, "should consider it an insult to Catholics to have such trash circulated in front of the church. The Clan-na-Gael has used the Catholic Church as a cloak to hide their doings. I ask you to throw those papers in the gutter and not to let one of them enter your home."

Two Men Burned to Death.

JOHNSONBURG, Pa., March 3.—Martin O'Malley and Peter Faley were burned to death here. O'Malley, who was a laborer, did odd jobs about town. He lived in a little shanty which was located near the railroad track. The two men mentioned and a third party, name unknown, were on a spree. O'Malley and Faley repaired to the shanty about 9 o'clock in the evening and retired. During the night one of the men while yet under the influence of liquor must have turned on more gas. The over pressure set fire to the building and burned it to the ground together with its occupants.

Nellie Bly and the World.

New York, March 3.—It is asserted that Nellie Bly has severed her connection with the World owing to a disagreement with that paper as to the increased salary she was to receive after her return from her trip around the world. The statement is denied at the World office, where it is said that Miss Bly is on a vacation.

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH CONCERT.

A Large Audience Listens to an Exceedingly Well Rendered Programme.

Despite the entire revolution in the programme, and the fact that the concerted music by the mixed quartette had to be given up, as there was no time for practice, the concert at the Crescent Avenue church, Saturday evening, was declared by many to be one of the finest that has ever been given in this city.

The new chapel is a fine place for such an entertainment, as it is not only a charming room, but the acoustics are perfect, and the ventilation excellent.

The Misses Myers were received with great applause, as they have many friends here who have before enjoyed their singing. It is not often that four sisters, who are so in reality, can be arranged into a quartette; but the Misses Myers have sung so much together that they are in perfect sympathy with each other, and sing with great expression.

Miss Alice Stoddard, by her charming manners and beautiful voice delighted every one. Having been ill and unable to rehearse, Mr. Wm. Chapman of New York, kindly offered to play her accompaniments. Miss Marion Simms also gave great pleasure. Her enunciation is perfect, and she enters so into the spirit of her songs, that her hearers appreciate them.

Mr. Wm. E. Courtney sang the most difficult solo of the evening, "Sound an Alarm," from Judas Maccabaeus. When one felt the perfect control he had over his voice, and the grand manner in which he rendered the solo, he understood the reason for the success which has attended him as a teacher, his pupils reaching far and wide. Mr. J. A. Metcalfe, by his fine presence and beautiful voice also charmed every one.

Mr. Venino played exceptionally well and was particularly successful in his Chopin number, playing that in a most divine manner. Mr. Chapman, leader of the Rubinstein and other large societies, paying him the compliment that it required an artist to play Chopin as he (Mr. Venino) did.

One of the most thoroughly appreciated especially by those whom she accompanied, was Miss Jessie M. Utter. The accompaniment to "Old Heidelberg" is extremely difficult, and some of the others, notably "Sound an Alarm" had never been rehearsed. With her as an accompanist, a singer feels at ease, as she is always in perfect sympathy with those whom she accompanies.

After the concert, the artists and their friends were entertained by Mrs. J. K. Myers, to whom is due, to a great extent, the final success of the concert.

Mr. English Closes His Engagement.

Reform Hall was again crowded last evening, when Mr. "Joe" English, the temperance revivalist, brought his series of meetings to a close. President Harper was in the chair, and the Rev. W. E. Honeyman conducted the devotional exercises The choir was led by Mr. Horace Martin, with Mr. George Rogers, accompanist.

Mr. English delivered one of his most interesting addresses, and at times created such a profound sensation that a pin might almost have been heard to drop.

Mr. H. N. Spencer and Mr. Jacob Voehl at the request of Mr. English, delivered brief, but very effective testimonies on behalf of personal abstinence from the drink habit.

The meeting closed Mr. English's present engagement in Plainfield. He goes to Scotch Plains on Tuesday evening, and to Flemington the last of the week.

Death of Freeholder Vanderbeek's Mother.

At the home of her son in North Branch, yesterday afternoon, occurred the death of Eliza D. Vanderbeek, the estimable mother of Freeholder Vanderbeek of this city, in the 98th year of her age. Mrs. Vanderbeek would have been 98 years old had she lived until April 24, and she was in possession of all her faculties up to within a few hours of her death.

The funeral will take place from the church at Lamington on Wednesday at 11:30 o'clock.

"And they laid the aged pilgrim in a chamber which faced toward the East, and the name of that chamber was PEACE."

Interesting Services at Reform Hall.

The attendance at the gospel temperance meeting held at Reform Hall on Sunday afternoon is steadily increasing. At the meeting yesterday the clear, forcible presentation of the text by the leader, Mr. Nickolson, was very profitable to his hearers.

Mr. Nickolson will hereafter have charge of the meetings every Sunday, and his scriptural reasoning, combined with sweet singing and short personal testimonies from the audience, all tend to fill in a pleasant hour.

RE-OPENED.

The Auditorium of the First Baptist Church Was Opened Yesterday After Being Closed for the Past Five Months for Improvements and Repairs—Appropriate Exercises.

The congregation of the First Baptist church, met in the auditorium of the same yesterday morning and evening for worship after its being closed for some time past.

The morning service was very appropriate, consisting of singing and a sermon by the pastor, the Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D. Dr Yerkes took for his text the V Psalm and 7th verse, "But as for me, I will come into thy house in the multitude of thy mercy; and in thy fear will I worship toward the holy temple." From this text Dr. Yerkes preached a very instructive and interesting sermon. During the services the new choir under the leadership of Mr. Chas. W. McCutchen, rendered several beautiful selections and assisted in the musical part of the exercises, accompanied by the new Midmer organ which was presided over by a young organist from New York who was on trial and proved himself to be very satisfactory. The choir is composed of the following persons:

Sopranos—Mrs. M. I. Cooley, Mrs. Geo. A. Chapman, Mrs. Waring, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Miln.

Altos—Mrs. L. H Biglow, Jr., Mrs. Perry, Miss Worth, Miss Emma Whitlock, Miss Gussie Runyon.

Tenors—Mr. C. W. McCutchen, Mr. S. St. J. McCutchen, Mr. L. H. Biglow, Jr.

Bass—Mr. B. T. Barnes, Mr. Bonnell, Mr. T. Armstrong, Mr. Bowman.

The Rev. Mr. Fernald, a retired Baptist minister who lately took up his home in this city, assisted in the devotional services.

The evening service was one of song and praise. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Yerkes, preached a short sermon from the XXIII chapter of Proverbs and the 7th verse, "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he: Eat and drink, saith he to thee; but his heart is not with thee," which was listened to very attentively by his hearers. The choir rendered several beautiful selections during the evening, and a solo was also sung by Mr. B. T. Barnes, after which the pastor pronounced the benediction which brought the service to a close.

The church has been closed for the past five months to make necessary improvements. The interior has been entirely renovated and remodeled and a new Midmer organ has also been substituted for the old one. It is also lighted by electricity, and has been refurnished throughout, which makes a very beautiful and attractive appearance.

Miss Boucher of Westfield, gave a delightful dancing and card party at the old homestead, Tuesday evening. Many friends from Elizabeth, Plainfield and Brooklyn, as well as their Fanwood friends, were present. Excellent music was furnished for the dances and elaborate refreshments were served, making it one of the social successes of the season.

To-night at Music Hall.

"Old Lavender," a comedy drama which abounds in jolly music, quaint phrases, catching fun and lively passages which have done so much for the success of Mr. Harrigan's plays, is booked for this evening. The piece is also pathetic, and the picture which the author-actor gives us of the warm-hearted, whole-souled boon companion brought by the wrong doings of others to the clutch of severest poverty and distress, touches the source of tears, though the cheery manner in which he bears misfortune, and the grotesque way he has of putting his moralizing, go to the springs of laughter. Few men on the stage could play such a part as Edward Harrigan plays it, with a finish, a sympathy, a delicacy that are admirable.

His Predictions May Prove True.

A writer in Town Tattle, an illustrated journal published every Saturday at Elizabeth, has the following to say with reference to the Central League Bowling Tournament:

"The Central Bowling League battle has begun in earnest. Elizabeth has done even better than I expected both in games won and scores made—four straight victories with an average of 831. This is a record certainly not to be sneezed at, and with the material the club has I see no reason why this should not be kept up, at least as far as scores go. With such high figures to buck against I do not think their opponents can capture more than a very small proportion of the games played. Certainly their past records do not show it. At the present outlook, I repeat, Elizabeth should win 'hands down.' Fanwood, Nameless and Monday Night should have a good fight for second place and at home give the Elizabeths a hard rub I fear, however, that the Crescent, Olympic and Somerset teams are hardly in the hunt. I do hope that results will prove my predictions valueless; for in the interest of the game I wish to see the fight as close as possible all around."

An Honest Association.

About nine years ago "Gypsy Queen," a mare belonging to the late John C Meyer of New Brunswick, trotted in a race in this city, being driven by Mount Morris. Owing to the bad weather, seven heats were trotted, and the race lasted two days. The race was under the rules of the National Trotting Association, and both Mr. Meyer and Morris believed that the mare had fairly won third money, but it was given to another horse.

This matter has been thoroughly investigated by the Association, and it was recently discovered that one of the horses which trotted against "Gypsy Queen" was a "ringer," that is a horse trotting out of its class. Upon this discovery the officials of the National Trotting Association at once forwarded a check for the amount of the third money in this old race to Mrs. J. C. Meyer, thus doing "Gypsy Queen" and her driver justice.

A Falling Off in the Membership.

The League of American Wheelmen membership in New Jersey in 1887 was 865; in 1888 it was 740; and last year it had dropped to 627. All this time the number of wheelmen has been increasing rapidly. This does not speak well for the administration of league affairs in this State. Some say it has been owing to the threatened interference of the league with road racing. Perhaps so and perhaps not. Be this as it may, the wheelmen look to Chief Consul Brown to restore the division to its prosperity under his former administration.

One of Frazee Lee's Heirs Dead.

Ezra D. Hetfield, joint heir with his brother, Daniel Hetfield, to the Frazee Lee estate of about $250,000, died at his home, in Fanwood, Saturday, at the age of ninety-three years. The cause of his death was paralysis, which was caused by a severe attack of "la grippe." He was wealthy before his rich relative Frazee Lee died and left him his property. It is believed that his death will bring to a close the several suits pending relative to the disposal of valuable entailed properties. The surviving heir, Daniel Hetfield, is eighty-nine years old.

A Popular Young Man.

George C. Somers, the popular young operator at Bound Brook for the New Jersey Central, is a great favorite with the employees and patrons by reason of his strict attention to duty. He captured burglars on different occasions while night operator by his daring work and prompt actions.

BOLD BANK ROBBERY.

A Cashier Held Up by a Masked Man and Robbed of $4,000.

VALLEY FALLS, Kan., March 3.—A masked man entered Hick's & Gebhart's bank, held up the cashier with two revolvers, and robbed the bank of $4,000. The robber was dressed like a farmer and had his face bound up in flannel.

Before the cashier had handed him his money he had asked permission to go behind the railing where there was a stove, as he had a severe toothache, and thought the heat might mitigate it. The cashier granted the request and the robber passed behind the rail Once there he took out his revolvers and covering the cashier with it directed him to leave the building. The cashier left. The robber then locked the door, secured the booty and escaped, though closely pursued by citizens to whom the cashier had given the alarm.

The robber was overtaken by two officers who demanded that he surrender. He refused and in attempting to pull a revolver the officers shot him dead.

Smelters Form a Trust.

CHICAGO, March 3.—With the exception of five companies all the refining and smelting companies of the United States have formed a trust with a capital of $25,000,000, of which $15,000,000 is to be common stock and the remaining $10,000,000 preferred stock. The common stock is to be used for the payment of the fixed properties that go into the new organization and the preferred stock for the purchase of ore and such personal property as it may be necessary to have. The chief object of the smelters, it is said, is to place their interests beyond the absolute control of the lead trust.

REVISION OF CREEDS.

SERMON OF DR. TALMAGE, DELIVERED SUNDAY, MARCH 2, 1890.

"Loose Him, and Let Him Go," John xi, 44, the Text of the Discourse, Which Is Here Reported in Full—The New Tabernacle to Be Ready in September.

BROOKLYN, March 2.—At the Tabernacle this morning the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., said he thought the new Brooklyn Tabernacle would be dedicated in September, and that the idea would be carried out of building the church by subscription to The Christian Herald, of which he has become editor, all the subscriptions up to a hundred and fifty thousand to be paid to Mr. John Wood, treasurer of the Tabernacle, Fulton street, near Concord, Brooklyn, N. Y. The subject of his discourse was "Revision of Creeds," and he took for his text John xi, 44: "Loose him, and let him go." Dr. Talmage said:

My Bible is, at the place of this text, written all over with lead pencil marks made last December at Bethany on the ruins of the house of Mary and Martha and Lazarus. We dismounted from our horses on the way up from Jordan to the Dead sea. Bethany was the summer evening retreat of Jesus. After spending the day in the hot city of Jerusalem he would come out there almost every evening to the house of his three friends. I think the occupants of that house were orphans, for the father and mother are not mentioned. But the son and two daughters must have inherited property, for it must have been, judging from what I saw of the foundations and the size of the rooms, an opulent home. Lazarus, the brother, was now the head of the household, and his sisters depended on him and were proud of him, for he was very popular and everybody liked him, and these girls were splendid girls. Martha a first rate housekeeper and Mary a spirituelle, somewhat dreamy, but affectionate and as good a girl as could be found in all Palestine. But one day Lazarus got sick. The sisters were in consternation. Father gone and mother gone, they feel very nervous lest they lose their brother also. Disease did its quick work. How the girls hung over his pillow! Not much sleep about that house, no sleep at all. From the characteristics otherwhere developed I judge that Martha prepared the medicines and made tempting dishes of food for the poor appetite of the sufferer, but Mary prayed and sobbed. Worse and worse gets Lazarus until the doctor announces that he can do no more. The shriek that went up from that household when the last breath had been drawn and the two sisters were being led by sympathizers into the adjoining room all those of us can imagine who have had our own hearts broken. But why was not Jesus there as he so often had been? Far away in the country districts preaching, healing other sick, how unfortunate that this omnipotent Doctor had not been at that domestic crisis in Bethany. When at last Jesus arrived in Bethany, Lazarus had been buried four days and dissolution had taken place. In that climate the breathless body disintegrates more rapidly than in ours. If, immediately after decease, that body had been awakened into life, unbelievers might have said he was only in a comatose state, or in a sort of trance, and by some vigorous manipulation or powerful stimulant vitality had been renewed. No! Four days dead. At the door of the sepulcher is a crowd of people, but the three most memorable are Jesus, who was the family friend, and the two bereft sisters. We went into the traditional tomb in December, and it is deep down and dark, and with torches we explored it. We found it all quiet that afternoon of our visit, but the day spoken of in the Bible there was present an excited multitude. I wonder what Jesus will do! He orders the door of the grave removed and then he begins to descend the steps, Mary and Martha close after him and the crowd after them. Deeper down into the shadows and deeper! The hot tears of Jesus roll over his cheeks and plash upon the back of his hands. Were ever so many sorrows compressed into so small a space as in that group pressing on down after Christ, all the time bemoaning that he had not come before? Now all the whispering and all the crying and all the sounds of shuffling feet are stopped. It is the silence of expectancy. Death had conquered, but now the vanquisher of death confronted the scene. Amid the awful hush of the tomb the familiar name which Christ had often had upon his lips in the hospitalities of the village home came back to his tongue, and with a pathos and an almightiness of which the resurrection of the last day shall be only an echo, he cries: "Lazarus, come forth!" The eyes of the slumberer open, and he rises and comes to the foot of the steps and with great difficulty begins to ascend, for the cerements of the tomb are yet on him and his feet are fast and his hands are fast, and the impediments to all his movements are so great that Jesus commands: "Take off these cerements; remove these hindrances; unfasten these grave clothes; loose him, and let him go!" Oh, I am so glad that after the Lord raised Lazarus, he went on and commanded the loosening of the cords that bound his feet so that he could walk, and the breaking off of the cerement that bound his hands so that he could stretch out his arms in salutation, and the tearing off of the bandage from around his jaws so that he could speak. What would resurrected life have been to Lazarus if he had not been freed from all those cripplements of his body? I am glad that Christ commanded his complete emancipation, saying: "Loose him, and let him go."

CHRISTIANS BUT HALF LIBERATED.

The unfortunate thing now is that so many Christians are only half liberated. They have been raised from the death and burial of sin into spiritual life, but they yet have the grave clothes on them. They are like Lazarus, hobbling up the stairs of the tomb, bound hand and foot, and the object of this sermon is to help free their body and free their soul, and I shall try to obey the Master's command that comes to me and comes to every minister of religion: "Loose him, and let him go." First, many are bound hand and foot by religious creeds. Let no man misinterpret me as antagonizing creeds. I have eight or ten of them; a creed about religion, a creed about art, a creed about social life, a creed about government and so on. A creed is something that a man believes, whether it be written or unwritten. The Presbyterian church is now agitated about its creed. Some good men in it are for keeping it because it was framed from the belief of John Calvin. Other good men in it want revision. I am with neither party. Instead of revision I want substitution. I was sorry to have the question disturbed at all. The creed did not hinder us from offering the pardon and the comfort of the Gospel to all men, and the Westminster Confession has not interfered with me one minute. But now that the electric lights have been turned on the imperfections of that creed—and everything that man fashions is imperfect—let us put the old creed respectfully aside and get a brand new one. It is impossible that people who lived hundreds of years ago should fashion an appropriate creed for our times. John Calvin was a great and good man, but he died three hundred and twenty-six years ago. The best centuries of Bible study have come since then, and explorers have done their work, and you might as well have the world go back and stick to what Robert Fulton knew about steamboats, and reject the subsequent improvements in navigation; and go back to John Guttenburg, the inventor of the art of printing, and reject all modern newspaper presses; and go back to the time when telegraphy was the elevating of signals or the burning of bonfires on the hill tops, and reject the magnetic wire which is the tongue of nations, as to ignore all the exegetes and the philologists and the theologians of the last three hundred and twenty-six years and put your head under the sleeve of the gown of a Sixteenth century doctor. I could call the names of twenty living Presbyterian ministers of religion who could make a better creed than John Calvin. The Nineteenth century ought not to be called to sit at the feet of the Sixteenth.

THE SAME, BUT USED DIFFERENTLY.

"But," you say, "it is the same old Bible, and John Calvin had that as well as the present student of the Scriptures." Yes; so it is the same old sun in the heavens, but in our time it has gone to making daguerreotypes and photographs. It is the same old water, but in our century it has gone to running steam engines. It is the same old electricity, but in our time it has become a lightning footed errand boy. So it is the old Bible, but new applications, new uses, new interpretations. You must remember that during the last three hundred years words have changed their meaning and some of them now mean more and some less. I do not think that John Calvin believed, as some say he did, in the damnation of infants, although some of the recent hot disputes would seem to imply that there is such a thing as the damnation of infants. A man who believes in the damnation of infants himself deserves to lose heaven. I do not think any good man could admit such a possibility. What Christ will do with all the babies in the next world I conclude from what he did with the babies in Palestine when he hugged them and kissed them. When some of you grown people go out of this world your doubtful destiny will be an embarrassment to ministers officiating at your obsequies, who will have to be cautious so as not to hurt surviving friends. But when the darling children go there are no "ifs" or "buts" or guesses. We must remember that good John Calvin was a logician and a metaphysician and by the proclivities of his nature put some things in an unfortunate way. Logic has its use and metaphysics has its use, but they are not good at making creeds. A gardener hands you a blooming rose, dewy fresh, but a severe botanist comes to you with a rose and says: "I will show you the structure of this rose," and he proceeds to take it apart, and pulls off the leaves and he says: "There are the petals," and he takes out the anthers and he says: "Just look at the wonderful structure of these floral pillars," and then he puts the stem to show you the juices of the plant. So logic or metaphysics takes the aromatic rose of the Christian religion and says: "I will just show you how this rose of religion was fashioned;" and it pulls off of it a piece and says: "That is the human will," and another piece and says: "This is God's will," and another piece and says: "This is sovereignty," and another piece and says: "This is free agency," this is this and that is that. And while I stand looking at the fragments of the rose pulled apart, one whom the Marys took for a gardener comes in and presents me with a crimson rose, red as blood, and says: "Inhale the sweetness of this, wear it on your heart and wear it forever." I must confess that I prefer the rose in full bloom to the rose pulled apart. What a time we have had with the dogmatics, the apologetics and the hermeneutics. The defect in some of the creeds is that they try to tell us all about the decrees of God. Now the only human being that was ever competent to handle that subject was Paul, and he would not have been competent had he not been inspired. I believe in the sovereignty of God and I believe in man's free agency, but no one can harmonize the two. It is not necessary that we harmonize them. Every sermon that I have ever heard that attempted such harmonization was to me as clear as a London fog, as clear as mud. My brother of the Nineteenth century, my brother of the Sixteenth century, give us Paul's statement and leave out your own. Better one chapter of Paul on that subject than all of Calvin's institutes, able and honest and mighty as they are. Do not try to measure either the throne of God or the thunderbolts of God with your little steel pen. What do you know about the decrees? You cannot pry open the door of God's eternal counsels. You cannot explain the mysteries of God's government now, much less the mysteries of his government five hundred quintillion of years ago. I move for a creed for all our denominations made out of Scripture quotations pure and simple. That would take the earth for God. That would be impregnable against infidelity and Apollyonic assault. That would be beyond human criticism. The denomination, whatever its name be, that can rise up to that will be the church of the millennium, will swallow up all other denominations and be the one that will be the bride when the Bridegroom cometh. Let us make it simpler and plainer for people to get into the kingdom of God. Do not hinder people by the idea that they may not have been elected. Do not tag on to the one essential of faith in Christ any of the innumerable nonessentials. A man who heartily accepts Christ is a Christian, and the man who does not accept him is not a Christian, and that is all there is of it. He need not believe in election or reprobation. He need not believe in the eternal generation of the Son. He need not believe in everlasting punishment. He need not believe in infant baptism. He need not believe in plenary inspiration. Faith in Christ is the criterion, is the test, is the pivot, is the indispensable. But there are those who would add unto the tests rather than subtract from them. There are thousands who would not accept persons into church membership if they drink wine, or if they smoke cigars, or if they attend the theatre, or if they play cards, or if they drive a fast horse. Now I do not drink wine or smoke or attend the theatre, never played a game of cards and do not drive a fast horse, although I would if I owned one. But do not substitute tests which the Bible does not establish. There is one passage of Scripture wide enough to let all in who ought to enter and to keep out all who ought to be kept out: "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Get a man's heart right and his life will be right. But now that the old creeds have been put under public scrutiny, something radical must be done. Some would split them, some would carve them, some would elongate them, some would abbreviate them. At the present moment and in the present shape they are a hindrance. Lazarus is alive, but hampered with the old grave clothes. If you want one glorious church, free and unencumbered, take off the cerements of old ecclesiastical vocabulary. Loose her, and let her go!

DOUBTS AND FEARS.

Again, there are Christians who are under sepulchral shadows and hinderad and hoppled by doubts and fears and sins long ago repented of. What they need is to understand the liberty of the sons of God. They spend more time under the shadow of Sinai than at the base of Calvary. They have been singing the only poor hymn that Newton ever wrote:

"'Tis a point I long to know,
Oft it causes anxious thought—
Do I love the Lord or no,
Am I his or am I not?

Long to know, do you? Why do you not find out? Go to work for God, and you will very soon find out. The man who is all the time feeling of his pulse and looking at his tongue to see whether it is coated is morbid, and cannot be physically well. The doctor will say: "Go out into the fresh air and into active life, and stop thinking of yourself, and you will get well and strong." So there are people who are watching their spiritual symptoms, and they call it self examination, and they get weaker and sicklier in their faith all the time. Go out and do something nobly Christian. Take holy exercise and then examine yourself, and instead of Newton's saturnine and bilious hymn that I first quoted, you will sing Newton's other hymn:

Amazing grace, how sweet the sound
That saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found,
Was blind, but now I see.

What many of you Christians most need is to get your grave clothes off. I rejoice that you have been brought from the death of sin to the life of the Gospel; but you need to get your hand loose and your feet loose and your tongue loose and your soul loose. There is no sin that the Bible so arraigns and punctures and flagellates as the sin of unbelief, and that is what is the matter with you. "Oh," you say, "if you knew what I once was and how many times I have grievously strayed, you would understand why I do not come out brighter." Then I think you would call yourself the chief of sinners. I am glad you hit upon that term, for I have a promise that fits into your case as the cogs of one wheel between the cogs of another wheel, or as the key fits into the labyrinths of a lock. A man who was once called Saul but afterwards Paul declared: "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief." Mark that—"of whom I am chief." "Put down your overcoats and hats and I will take care of them while you kill Stephen"—so Saul said to the stoners of the first martyr—"I do not care to exert myself much, but I will guard your surplus apparel while you do the murder." The New Testament account says: "The witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet whose name was Saul." No wonder he said: "Sinners, of whom I am the chief." Christ is used to climbing. He climbed to the top of the temple. He climbed to the top of Mount Olivet. He climbed to the top of the cliffs about Nazareth. He climbed to the top of Golgotha. And to the top of the hills and the mountains of your transgression he is ready to climb with pardon for every one of you. The groan of Calvary is mightier than the thunder of Sinai. Full receipt is offered for all your indebtedness. If one throw a stone at midnight into a bush where the hedge bird roosts, it immediately begins to sing; and into the midnight hedges of your despondency these words I hurl, hoping to awaken you to anthem. Drop the tunes in the minor key and take the major. Do you think it pleases the Lord for you to be carrying around with you the debris and carcasses of old transgressions? You make me think of some ship that has had a tempestuous time at sea, and now that it proposes another voyage keeps on its davits the damaged lifeboats and the splinters of a shivered mast and the broken glass of a smashed skylight. My advice is: Clear the decks, overboard with all the damaged rigging, brighten up the salted smoke stacks, open a new log book, haul in the planks, lay out a new course and set sail for heaven. You have had the spiritual dumps long enough. You will please the Lord more by being happy than by being miserable. Have you not sometimes started out in the rain with your umbrella and you were busy thinking, and you did not notice that the rain had stopped, and though it had cleared off you still had your umbrella up, and when you discovered what you were doing you felt silly enough? That is what some of you are doing in religious things. You have got so used to sadness that though the rain has stopped you still have your umbrella up. Come out of the shadow. Ascend the stairs of your sepulcher. Step out into the broad light of noonday. We come around you to help remove your grave clothes and a voice from the heavens, tremulous but omnipotent, commands: "Loose him, and let him go."

MORE GOOD ADVICE.

Again, my text has good advice concerning any Christian hampered and bothered and bound by fear of his own dissolution. To such the Book refers when it speaks of those who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. The most of us, even if we have the Christian hope, are cowards about death. If a plank fall from a scaffolding and just grazes our hat how pale we look. If the Atlantic ocean plays with the steamship, pitching it toward the heavens and letting it suddenly drop, how even the Christian passengers pester the steward or stewardess as to whether there is any danger, and the captain, who has been all night on the bridge and chilled through, coming in for a cup of coffee, is assailed with a whole battery of questions as to what he thinks of the weather. And many of the best people are, as Paul says, throughout their lifetime in bondage by fear of death. My brothers and sisters, if we made full use of our religion we would soon get over this. Backed up by the teachings of your Bible, just look through the telescope some bright night and see how many worlds there are and reflect that all you have seen, compared with the number of worlds in existence, are less than the fingers of your right hand as compared with all the fingers of the human race. How foolish, then, for us to think that ours is the only world fit for us to stay in. I think that all the stars are inhabited and by beings like the human race in feelings and sentiments, and the difference is in lung respiration and heart beat and physical conformation, their physical conformation fit for the climate of their world and our physical conformation fit for the climate of our world. So we shall feel at home in any of the stellar neighborhoods, our physical limitations having ceased. One of our first realizations in getting out of this world, I think, will be that in this world we were very much pent up and had cramped apartments and were kept on the limits. The most even of our small world is water, and the water says to the human race: "Don't come here or you will drown." A few thousand feet up the atmosphere is uninhabitable, and the atmosphere says to the human race: "Don't come up here or you cannot breathe." A few miles down the earth is a furnace of fire, and the fire says: "Don't come here or you will burn." The caverns of the mountains are full of poisonous gases, and the gases say: "Don't come here or you will be asphyxiated." And, crossing a rail track, you must look out or you will be crushed. And, standing by a steam boiler, you must look out or you will be blown up. And pneumonias and pleurisies and consumptions and apoplexies go across this earth in flocks, in droves, in herds, and it is a world of equinoxes and cyclones and graves. Yet we are under the delusion that it is the only place fit to stay in. We want to stick to the wet plank midocean while the great ship "The City of God," of the Celestial line, goes sailing past and would gladly take us up in a lifeboat. My Christian friends, let me tear off your despondencies and frights about dissolution. My Lord commands me regarding you, saying: "Loose him, and let him go."

HEAVEN! HEAVEN!!

Heaven is ninety-five per cent. better than this world, a thousand per cent. better, a million per cent. better. Take the gladdest, brightest, most jubilant days you ever had on earth and compress them all into one hour, and that hour would be a requiem, a fast day, a gloom, a horror, as compared with the poorest hour they have had in heaven since its first tower was built or its first gates swung or its first song carolled. "Oh," you say, "that may be true, but I am so afraid of crossing over from this world to the next, and I fear the snapping of the cord between soul and body." Well, all the surgeons and physicians and scientists declare that there is no pang at the parting of the body and soul, and all the seeming restlessness at the closing hour of life is involuntary and no distress at all. And I agree with the doctors, for what they say is confirmed by the fact that persons who were drowned or were submerged until all consciousness departed and were afterwards resuscitated declare that the sensation of passing into unconsciousness was pleasurable rather than distressful. The cage of the body has a door on easy hinges, and when that door of the physical cage opens the soul simply puts out its wings and soars. "But," you say, "I fear to go because the future is so full of mystery." Well, I will tell you how to treat the mysteries. The mysteries have ceased bothering me, for I do as the judges of your courts often do. They hear all the arguments in the case and then say: "I will take these papers and give you my decision next week." So I have heard all the arguments in regard to the next world, and some things are uncertain and full of mystery, and so I fold up the papers and reserve until the next world my decision about them. I can there study all the mysteries to better advantage, for the light will be better and my faculties stronger, and I will ask the Christian philosophers, who have had all the advantages of heaven for centuries, to help me, and I may be permitted myself humbly to ask the Lord, and I think there will be only one mystery left, that will be how one so unworthy as myself got into such an enraptured place. Come up out of the sepulchral shadows. If you are not Christians by faith in Christ come up into the light; and if you are already like Lazarus, reanimated, but still have your grave clothes on, get rid of them. The command is: "Loose him, and let him go." The only part of my recent journey that I really dreaded, although I did not say much about it beforehand, was the landing at Joppa. That is the port of entrance for the Holy Land, and there are many rocks, and in rough weather people cannot land at all. The boats taking the people from the steamer to the docks must run between reefs that looked to me to be about fifty feet apart, and one misstroke of an oarsman or an unexpected wave has sometimes been fatal, and hundreds have perished along those reefs. Besides that, as we left Port Said the evening before an old traveler said: "The wind is just right to give you a rough landing at Joppa; indeed, I think you will not be able to land at all." The fact was that when our Mediterranean steamer dropped anchor near Joppa and we put out for shore in the small boat, the water was as still is though it had been sound asleep a hundred years, and we landed as easily as I came on this platform. Well, your fears have pictured for you an appalling arrival at the end of your voyage of life, and they say that the seas will run high and that the breakers will swallow you up, or that if you reach Canaan at all it will be a very rough landing. The very opposite will be true if you have the eternal God for your portion. Your disembarkation for the promised land will be as smooth as was ours at Palestine last December. Christ will meet you far out at sea and pilot you into complete safety, and you will land with a hosanna on one side of you and a hallelujah on the other.

"Land ahead!" its fruits are waving
O'er the hills of fadeless green,
And the living waters laving
Shores where heavenly forms are seen.

Rocks and storms I'll fear no more,
When on that eternal shore;
Drop the anchor! furl the sail!
I am safe within the veil!

IN A BURNING MINE

Eight Men Entombed Alive Near Wilkesbarre, Pa.

FIRED BY A MULE DRIVER'S LAMP

Rescuing Parties Trying to Break Through a Pillar of Coal.

A Bare Hope that the Imprisoned Men May Have Found Refuge in a Gangway

The Disaster Created Great Excitement

A Belief that the Men Will Die of Suffocation—Names of the Unfortunates.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 4.—An explosion of gas occurred in the South Wilkesbarre shaft while eight men were at work inside of the feeder. In a few minutes the tunnel became filled with smoke and gas which shut off all means of escape.

The tunnel leads into the Wanton mine adjoining and efforts were made to reach the imprisoned men but the rescuing party was driven back and compelled to give up the attempt.

Superintendent Phillips and Inspector Williams are making every effort to break through a pillar of coal and rescue the men alive.

So great is the heat and so dense the smoke in the tunnel, too, that it is with the utmost difficulty that the flames can be reached. Several of the men at work have been overcome and had to be brought out of the shaft. Hope is fast fading away.

The victims are: Michael Terry, Thos. Jameson, Thos. McDonald, aged 20, James McDonald, aged 21, John McNealis, (all single), and Frank Call, Hugh Dugan and Thomas Williams, men of family.

The mine is owned by the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company.

TRAINMEN KILLED.

The Accident Caused by the Explosion of an Oil Tank.

LAKEVILLE, Ohio, March 4.—An oil tank on the third section of Fort Wayne train No. 98 exploded at this place. The train stopped and the fourth section following close behind crashed into it, causing a terrible wreck, which took fire and burned up.

Engineer John Cowan, Fireman Harvey Gatehouse and Brakeman Miller, of the fourth section, were killed, and Gatehouse's body cannot be found. It is feared that he was cremated in the ruins.

Eighteen cars saturated with oil were burned and the heat was so great that the engine bell was melted, while the ties for 1,500 feet were consumed and the track twisted out of shape.

DEFENDS PARNELL.

Mr. Gladstone Praises the Irish Leader in a Speech.

LONDON, March 4.—In the House of Commons last evening, Right Hon. W. H. Smith submitted his motion that the House accept the report of the Special Commission on the charges against the Irish members, thank the Judges therefor, and enter it upon the journals.

Mr. Gladstone, who was received with cheers on his first appearance in the House since his recent illness, rose to oppose the motion. He took the ground that it was unprecedented to thank Judges for doing a judicial duty. The report of the Special Commission, he said, bristled with disputable matter. It was unreasonable to ask members to accept the whole of it. Ireland was on the brink of famine when the seven defendants mentioned in the report joined a seditious conspiracy. The charges against these men were ten years old. It was not wise or decent to censure others.

After a sweeping and masterly survey of the field which had occupied the attention of the Commission, Mr. Gladstone launched the declaration that agitation in Ireland had prevented more crime than it had caused, and as for Mr. Parnell, he said he regarded him since 1882 as a contributor to the peace of the land; and with regard to the period before that date Lord Carnarvon's overtures to Mr. Parnell had barred all charges and condoned all previous acts.

Abused a Boy Prisoner.

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 4.—Mrs. Pierce Butler, of this town, returned from the State Reform School at Morganza, having in charge her 17-year-old son, who was sent to the institution last November. The boy is in a dying condition. His arm is sprained and covered with cuts and festering sores, and he is suffering from a disease contracted at the school. He says the doctor abused him. Mrs. Butler says when she went to the school she was not allowed to see her son until just before the train came along on which she was to take him away. She has engaged counsel and will prosecute the officers of the school.

Young Lincoln Dying.

LONDON, March 4.—The doctors now say that young Abraham Lincoln cannot live but a few hours. The effusions which have more than once nearly killed him have taken a fresh and almost certainly a fatal direction. The young sufferer has intervals of consciousness during which he recognizes and smiles at those around him, but these intervals are becoming less frequent and of shorter duration.

Dead in the Snow.

PATERSON, N. J., March 4.—Rose McCusker, aged 42, was found dead in the snow here. In examining the body Dr. Johnson found $212.02 wrapped in a cloth bound around her right leg. Death was caused by alcoholism accelerated by cold. She had been wandering about all night.

THE MARINE'S NEW MOVE.

He Will Do All His Fighting In Future Before the Occidental Club.

NEW YORK, March 4.—A dispatch from San Francisco says that George La Blanche declares he will be revenged on the California Athletic Club for allowing him to be insulted by Dempsey before a large number of club members the other night while Dempsey and La Blanche were invited guests.

He proposes to get even by making all his matches under the auspices of the Occidental Club in future. The California Club men have been looking forward to a return meeting between Dempsey and La Blanche with more pleasure than any event that could possibly have been arranged. In fact, a doubt that it could take place anywhere else than in the California Club has not been entertained.

The Occidental Club is overjoyed at the turn of affairs. At the next meeting of the Board of Directors a fat purse will be offered the Nonpariel and La Blanche to battle for.

LEGISLATION AT ALBANY.

A Monster Petition for Ballot Reform Presented in the House.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 4.—In the Senate the report of the State Factory Inspector was received, also the reports of the State Engineer and Surveyor. A petition concerning laundry work in State prisons was presented. The report of the Committee on Statutory Revision, and the special order on registration were laid over until March 10.

Among the bills introduced were the following: To amend the charter of Lansingburg village; to amend the charter of Hoosick Falls in regard to village improvements so as to give the trustees more power; to allow religious corporations to apply to the Supreme Court for power to mortgage property; granting additional power to the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad.

In the Assembly, Speaker Husted asked unanimous consent to present a petition. Mr. Sullivan objected too late and the 1,000 pound book made up of 70,000 names in favor of ballot reform, was carried in. Mr. Sheehan stood in the aisle objecting, and the men carrying the petition crowded him down into the arena.

Mr. Sheehan rose to a question of privilege and claimed that the Speaker had violated the rules.

The Speaker rapped him to order, the Republicans applauding, and there was a scene. When quiet was restored the second reading of bills was the order.

The Speaker presented the report of the State Engineer on the Adirondack survey.

The following bills were introduced: Relating to taxation on town houses; to allow electors of Buffalo to vote upon proposed new charter; to revise the charter of the village of Alden; to allow the town auditors to examine all town commissioners accounts; to provide for a commission to prepare an amendment to article 6 of the constitution; to amend the banking act.

Hotel Burned and Two Persons Injured.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 4.—The Exchange Hotel took fire in the kitchen and before it was discovered it gained such headway that the flames were beyond control and the building with its contents were totally destroyed. Loss, about $7,000; partly insured. Lilly Peck, of Gouverneur, N. Y., a transient boarder, leaped from the second story window. She was badly burned about the face hands, neck, body and lower extremities. Her recovery is doubtful.

The Robert Ray Hamilton Divorce.

ELMIRA, N. Y., March 4.—Nothing had been done in the matter of taking further testimony in the Robert Ray Hamilton divorce case. E. C. Van Duzer who is the referee to take the testimony here says that he does not expect to take any more evidence in the case, but is holding it open to admit the evidence if any is offered. George M. M. Driver, Mr. Hamilton's counsel, refuses to talk about the case. Mrs. Hamilton's lawyer is not in town. It is thought that no further evidence will be offered.

The Freestone-Cutters' Lockout.

BOSTON, March 4.—The freestone lockout still continues, and causes much speculation. It is said there is considerable dissension in the contractors' ranks, and that some openly questioned the advisability of locking out the cutters. The contractors deny that a covert attempt is being made to overthrow the eight-hour movement.

Forger Carmichael Removed.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., March 4.—Daniel Carmichael, the forger, was taken to Utica by Deputy Sheriff Mathias, on a bench warrant issued at the instance of the Utica City Canal Bank several months ago. The warrant has been held until now, pending a sufficient improvement in Carmichael's condition to warrant his being removed.

Verdict on the Priest's Death.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4.—The coroner's jury has found a verdict that Father Feron's death was caused by pulmonary apoplexy due to excessive use of narcotics and alcoholic stimulants. The bruises on the body were all found to be superficial and had nothing to do with the death of the unfortunate man.

The Evangelical Conference.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 4.—The Evangelical Conference was presided over by Bishop Esher. The treasurer's report of the Schuylkill Seminary showed a balance in the treasury to June 24, 1888, of $1,680.48. A number of committee reports were read and adopted, and eight applicants were licensed to preach.

Fruit Crop Destroyed.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 5.—At a meeting of the Lancaster Agricultural Society reports were read showing that the fruit crop in the county was practically destroyed by the late frosts. It was stated that there will be no early fruit at all.

LECONEY ACQUITTED

End of the Sensational Murder Trial at Camden.

EXCITING SCENES IN THE COURT.

The Prisoner Surrounded and Congratulated by Friends.

Ex-Prosecutor Jenkins Faints While Speaking for the State—Leconey Practically Beggared by the Trial—A Witness Appeals to the Sheriff to Remain in Jail for Protection.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 4.—The closing scenes of the Leconey trial were very exciting. When Richard S. Jenkins, the old lawyer who conducted the trials of the State in Camden county for twenty years previous to his succession by his nephew, Wilson H. Jenkins, six years ago, arose to make the final argument for the State, the large audience listened with breathless attention. At the end of half an hour Mr. Jenkins complained of the ventilation of the court room.

A few minutes later he was seen to stagger, and but for the assistance of his nephew would have fallen.

He was led from the court room, and Judge Garrison, who is a physician, attended him. It was announced that he had an attack of heart failure, probably not serious, and the court took a recess.

Later the prosecutor agreed to let the case go to the jury on the charge of the Court.

The judge after reviewing all the facts in the case, charged that the circumstances would not warrant the finding of a verdict of murder in the first degree, but said in case the prisoner was found guilty it must be in either the second degree or for manslaughter, and he defined the difference.

The judge's charge was pronounced fair, but seemed to move the spectators to the opinion that it would somewhat influence a verdict against the prisoner.

The jury was out for three hours. As the foreman announced the verdict, "not guilty," Leconey stood up and faced the jury. His father and mother, who were near him, were the first to congratulate him and embrace him. Mrs. Leconey wept while her head rested on her son's shoulder. Leconey then shook hands with his lawyers, and after the adjournment of the court was congratulated by hundreds of friends and acquaintances.

Leconey soon became surrounded by a crowd, and the officers had much difficulty in clearing the court room. There were at least 1,000 persons in and outside of the court house when the verdict was announced.

Leconey, who has become somewhat broken down in health from his close confinement in the jail, said that he had not decided as to his plans for the future, except that he would go home with his parents to Waverly, O.

Leconey is practically beggared. He has expended all the money he could raise for his defense and goes into the world a free man without a dollar in his pocket. The witnesses who testified against him are in terror lest his neighbors should wreak vengeance on them. Old man Smith, who gave damaging evidence against Leconey, was afraid to go home. He begged the sheriff to permit him to remain in the jail for a day or two until the storm which he fears shall have blown over. The request was granted.

KILRAIN'S SENTENCE.

The Supreme Court Affirms the Decision of the County Judge.

PURVIS, Miss., March 3.—The Supreme Court has affirmed the verdict against Jake Kilrain. He is now required to be delivered to the sheriff and serve his sentence of two months' confinement in the Purvis jail and pay a fine of $200, else his bond will be forfeited.

A decision in John L. Sullivan's case is expected next Monday.

Kilrain is now at Hot Springs, but will return at once to begin his term of imprisonment. He is fortunate in having his sentence affirmed early, for his term will be completed before the hot spell begins. Under the Mississippi law county convicts are sold to the highest bidder and worked on farms or on the road. Kilrain and Sullivan will be bid in by Charley Rich or some other friend, and it is not probable that either will be compelled to perform especially arduous labor.

Men and Ammunition Ready.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., March 4.—The affairs of the Greek Catholic Church are still unsettled and each faction holds to its opinions and says it is ready to sacrifice even life for the respective priests. The borough authorities are ready at a moment's notice to shoulder their rifles. Rev. Mr. Wolansky went to Pottsville, the county seat, to see if there was any justice there who would restore to him possession of his property. The trustees now holding the keys of the church are in favor of Rev. Mr. Andrews. The borough authorities have men and ammunition in readiness should there be an outbreak.

A Tramp Dies of Pneumonia.

NASHUA, N. H., March 4.—A tramp, who was taken sick with pneumonia at the police station after walking from Ayer Junction, died at the city farm. Just before dying he said that he was George Stanhope, aged 35, and belonged in East Troy, N. Y.

Socialists Attack the Police.

BERLIN, March 4.—At Dortmund the announcement of the result of the second ballot caused a riot in which the police and the Socialists were engaged. The rioters stoned the police who finally dispersed them at the point of the sword. Thirty arrests were made.

VACATION SET.

Board of Education Meeting.

All the members were present at the meeting of the Board of Education, last evening. After the usual routine of scrutinizing and passing bills was over, several items of interest were discussed.

The time for the usual Spring vacation was fixed to extend from Friday noon, April 4, to Monday morning, April 14. The petition of ladies from the Monday Afternoon club for the introduction of manuel training classes into the public schools, which at the last meeting of the Board was referred to the Committee on Teachers and Text Books, was reported back and considered at length.

On motion of Dr. Huribut, it was decided in view of the little time remaining in this school year, the absence of the Principal and the small balance in the treasury over the known wants for the present year, to postpone the further consideration of this subject until the opening of another school year. The President reported that the night schools had been suspended at the end of February, in consequence of the light attendance.

A proposal was received from Mr. Ernest Ackerman to furnish an American flag for the High School. If the Board would provide a flag-staff, which was accepted, and the Committee on Buildings and Repairs were directed to procure the staff. This makes three out of the five schools which are provided with flags. As this city set the fashion in this matter of furnishing flags for the schools, which has spread all over this and other States, it is to be hoped that the other two schools of this city will not have to wait long before they are also thus equipped.

Acting Principal Goodrich reported $116 as the profits of the school concert, and that the money with the balance on hand from former concerts had been spent in purchasing singing books for the school. He also reported something over $400 as the receipts of the second quarter for tuition in the High school. The receipts for the year from this source will amount to nearly $2,000, a gratifying fact showing the estimation in which the High School is held. In this respect it should be remembered that no scholars are taken from outside the city limits excepting into classes which are not filled with Plainfield pupils.

Mr. Goodrich also stated that since the boys had been stopped from playing ball in the street through the complaint of one lady out of all the residents on the avenue, they were not now provided with sufficient play ground, and suggested that the windows adjacent to the yard be protected with screens, and the boys be permitted to play ball in the yard between the building. The matter was referred to the Committee on Buildings and Repairs. The Board adjourned at 9:30.

Avoid Appearances.—A worthy gentleman, having an unusually red nose, was long suspected of being a tippler on the sly, by those not well acquainted with his strictly temperate habits. His unfortunate disfigurement was readily cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

—The police this morning arrested a number of boys for committing depradations along the Central railroad.

Prominent clergymen, physicians, and all classes of citizens are unanimous in the endorsement of Salvation Oil, the greatest cure for rheumatism.

OBITUARY.

Death of Assessor Isaac Brokaw.

At his home, on Duer street, North Plainfield, about seven o'clock this morning, occurred the death of Assessor Isaac Brokaw, after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases resulting from liver troubles. Mr. Brokaw was perhaps one of the most well and favorably known men in Somerset County. He was about 50 years old at the time of his death, and for the past 12 years he has held the office of Assessor in North Plainfield township, with credit both to himself and to the township. In public life Mr. Brokaw was one of North Plainfield's foremost citizens, and his friends were a legion. He leaves a widow and one son.

Mr. Brokaw was also engaged in the real estate and insurance business. He was Commander of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., also a charter member of No. 2 Engine Company of this city, besides being a Free Mason and a member of the Knights of Pythias. He was also a member of the First Baptist church.

MR. BROKAW'S BIOGRAPHY.

Isaac Brokaw was born September 1840, at Harris' Lane, one mile this side of Bound Brook, New Jersey, on the farm now owned by his uncle, Wm. H. Smock. His father was the son of Isaac Brokaw, who formerly owned the farm now the property of Wm. Rice, near Goad's Mill, and his mother was the second daughter of Henry Smock by his first wife. Isaac Brokaw attended the school at Harris' Lane until he was 15 years of age. He then left the farm and went to Newark, N. J., and learned the trade of silver plating with the firm of Edwards & Frazee. After serving his apprenticeship he worked some three months at this trade.

On the eve of the breaking out of the Rebellion business became stagnant on account of sus ended intercourse with the South, where the greater portion of the firm's goods were shipped. He left Newark and returned to the farm, and in the Spring of 1860 he and his brother took charge of his grandfather's farm. In August, 1862, he enlisted in Co. C, 28th Regt., N. J. Vols., as Third Sergeant, and on Dec. 13, 1862, was detailed to act as First Lieutenant of his Company, owing to the sickness of that officer, and continued in that capacity until June 23, 1863, the date of his discharge.

He participated in the Battle of Fredericksburg, December 13, 1862, Burnside's mud march in February, 1863, and the Battle of Chancellorsville, May 1, 2 and 3, 1863, being connected with the 1st Brigade, 3d Division of the Second Army Corps, commanded by Gens. Couch and Hancock. He was wounded at Fredericksburg and also at Chancellorsville, on May 3, and mustered out of service June 26, 1863, by reason of the expiration of his term of enlistment.

After his discharge he formed a partnership with Mr. George H. Martin in silver plating at 57 Mechanic street, in the City of Newark and in 1865 closed his affairs there and came to this city and continued in the plating business until 1883. He married the youngest daughter of Mr. Wm. M. Jennings, January 19, 1865, and has one son a young man just of age and until lately connected with the United States Express company in New York.

Mr. Brokaw was elected Clerk of the Township in 1876 and re-elected to the same office in March 1877, and upon the death of Isreal Coon, Assessor, in June of the same year, was appointed Assessor by the Township Committee to fill Mr. Coon's unexpired term and has been re-elected to the same office continously since. He was a life long Republican and for the past 7 or 8 years has been largely interested in the Real Estate and Insurance business. He was an honored member of Odd Fellowship, of Free and Accepted Masons and the Knights of Pythias, was a charter member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., and the only comrade ever honored by a re-election to its Commandership.

Death of Mr. A. T. TenEyck.

The death is announced of Mr. A. T. TenEyck formerly of this city which occurred at his home in Samptown, last night, after a long and painful illness from asthma. Mr. TenEyck had many warm friends here who will learn with sorrow of his demise. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and was until recently employed by Mr. W. W. Coriell, the butcher of West Front street. The funeral will take place from the house on Friday at 2 P. M. Interment will be made at Samptown.

Everybody Should Attend.

Comparatively few people seem to know that the loan collection at the Art Gallery is still open, or they do not realize that this is a rare opportunity to see in Plainfield specimens of some of the very best painters in the World. The Art Committee have put the price of admission down to 25 cents during the few remaining days of the exhibition, and all who have not seen these pictures should not fail to embrace this opportunity, the more so as the money goes to furnish new books for the public library.

A Small Fire.

An incipient fire started in Dr. James Hayes' residence on East Front street, a few evenings since, which destroyed about $50 worth of lace curtains, lambrequins, etc. No alarm was sent out.

Remember that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has no equal as a specific for colds, coughs, and all affections of the throat and lungs. For nearly half a century it has been in greater demand than any other remedy for pulmonary complaints. All druggists have it for sale.

THE WATER WORKS WAR.

CRIES OF "OUTRAGE" AND CHARGES OF JOBBERY IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER.

Contractors Under Hot Discussion—The Man Who Did and the Man Who Didn't "Get the Job"—To Make Rigid Investigation—Interesting Bits of Debate—Routine Work of the Session.

Cries of political jobbery were raised in Plainfield's Common Council chamber, last evening, for probably the first time in the city's history. The ordinary business of the meeting had been nearly concluded, and the session has already lasted nearly two hours, when Councilman Hetfield, Democrat, introduced a resolution seeking to cancel the contract made a short time ago between the Council and Mayor of the city and Rudolph Hering, a New York engineer, for the supervision of the construction of local water works. Mr. Hetfield is a new Councilman, and Mr. Newhall, a Republican holding over from last year, asked for reasons for the proposed action, and wanted to know what the city would do if the resolution was carried. Mr. Hetfield's reply was fearlessly out spoken. He held that the amount agreed to be paid to Mr. Hering for his share in the construction of the works ($5,500) was too much. Moreover, he had been reliably informed that Mr. Hering was totally inexperienced, had never before constructed waterworks and knew nothing whatever about the operations for which he had contracted. He left, it was alleged, all the important details to incompetent assistants, and concerning the waters obtained from the experimental wells rendered analyses which chemists had subsequently privately pronounced untrue. Other engineers, he continued, stood ready to construct the works for a less amount, engineers who were competent, which Mr. Hering was not.

"All that is being done," he stated, "is the boring for water and the testing of the supply. This is experimental work and will take some time. Meanwhile the city can procure another engineer.

"The contract gives us the right to dispense with Mr. Hering's services at any time, and if there arise a dispute as to compensation for work actually performed a provision for arbitrators may be followed."

Mr. Newhall, who was chairman of the Water Committee of the last Council, and whose Committee deliberated at sixty-three meetings before finally rejecting all other bids and accepting that of Mr. Hering, warmly denied that Mr. Hering was incapable.

"He is thoroughly competent" — he stated. "From personal investigation I know him to be worthy of every confidence. His integrity is unimpeachable; he is in every way honorable; as a hydraulic engineer he had no superiors among those who applied to construct our works. The statement that he has given us false reports—I care not what its source—I boldly denounce as false itself. I doubt if Mr. Hering's equal could be obtained to fulfil this contract for a less sum.

"It is true that various offers to work at comparatively low monthly or yearly salaries have been made, but I believe, and I think that the last Council agreed with me, that any arrangement based on the prices offered by others would cost more in the end than Mr. Hering's.

"Complications would certainly arise if this step were taken. There would be great disagreement. Owing to the heavy cost of the early work, a larger amount would be claimed than monthly proportions of the entire contract-sum would seem to warrant.

"The imputation has been publicly made that false reports have been sent in. In answer let me say that I believe that by allowing the contract to stand the best interests of the city will be served."

Councilman Dunham asserted that Mr. Hetfield's charge as to Mr. Hering's not visiting Plainfield was false, but Mr. Hetfield insisted that though an occasional call might be made Mr. Hering nevertheless did not give the matter his own personal supervision as he ought. Furthermore—he added—cheaper and better bids have already been presented—notably by Mr. J. J. Henderson of New York.

Mr. Newhall promptly introduced correspondence which recently had passed between Mr Henderson and himself. Mr. Henderson—who, while Mr. Newhall was ill, seemed to have caused to prevail among the other members of the Water Committee the erroneous impression that Mr. Newhall had favored his application—at first had asked for a yearly salary of $5,000 till the completion of the works. Subsequently this figure was lowered to $3,600, but this did not include the expenses covered by Mr. Hering in his contract, and there was no assurance, nor any apparent likelihood, that the work would not extend through a period of at least several months more than one year, if not through the second year. So far as Mr. Newhall and his Committee had been able to discover, there was no indication of any familiarity on the part of Mr. Henderson with hydraulic engineering, and on looking up Mr. Henderson's references no evidence could be procured save that Mr. Henderson was a "good, honest bridge-builder," or could put substantial roofs on buildings. From none of the 32 railroad companies to which he referred had come any word that he knew aught of hydraulics, and he finally had admitted his ignorance. He was willing, however, to "study up," and he had friends who would "assist in deficiencies." Other friends would be glad to have him [illegible] he could build a dam piers; so why couldn't he put in operation a system of suburban water works?

Mr. Hetfield demanded for the city an engineer who would do better work for less money and give it his own supervision.

Mr. Rushmore retorted that the Council and the people wanted more facts from the gentleman and less "vague information." The people would demand better reasons than had been adduced for cancelling the contract.

Amid considerable discussion Mr. Rushmore succeeded in getting in a motion to table the resolution. The motion was seconded by Mr. Newhall. President Moffett called for "remarks." A contest of words ensued as to the parliamentary propriety of argument on a motion to table. It resulted in the calling of the ayes and nays. The resolution was tabled by a majority of one. A Republican, Councilman Smith, voted with the Democrats.

Ayes—Councilmen Dunham, Jenkins, Johnson, Newhall, Roberts, Rushmore—6.

Nays—Councilmen Gallup, Hetfield, Moffett, Smith, Spangenberg—5.

A resolution was subsequently presented by Mr. Newhall that no action should be taken towards cancelling the Hering contract till a public meeting of citizens and Council had been held, the Clerk to issue a ten-days' notice for such a meeting.

"This"—said Mr. Newhall—"is not to defeat the plan which seems to have been set on foot, but is to prevent cancelling the contract and incurring the consequent penalties without having consulted the public just as it was consulted at the outset, through the medium of printed copies of the proposed contract and through public meetings, as to the erection of the works and the making of the bond."

Here he might have stopped, but he didn't.

"I certainly hope," he continued, glancing towards Councilman Smith, and waving his hand impressively towards Councilman Roberts, "that inasmuch as this looks like a party measure those who recently have seemed to cling to the enemy will step over again to the fold from which they were elected good Republicans. Our venerable friend [Mr. Roberts] has set an example. Is not our other friend [Mr. Smith] with us?"

There was a low murmur. Mr. Hetfield was on his feet in an instant, declaiming against dragging politics into the discussion.

"If politics put Hering in," he said, "let's put him out."

"Mayor Male," he continued, "is dissatisfied with Hering. He thinks his work and charges an outrage. He told me so personally. What, in the face of his objections, induced him to sign this contract, I know not. Perhaps politics did. It does sometimes. I don't know Hering, but I judge he must be a Republican. Is this a Republican job? Let the sun shine in. Let the people see."

Mr. Hetfield reported conversations with prominent taxpayers and was corroborated by other Councilmen in saying that a considerable portion of the public considered itself outraged by the Hering "job."

Mr. Smith interjected a disclaimer that he had ever left the Republican fold. He was always a Republican. This, however, was a case for right, not politics.

Mr. Newhall, responding to Mr. Hetfield's address, said that the reason the Mayor had changed his mind as to the "outrage" was because his misapprehension as to the amounts for which the different competitive engineers had offered to build the works had been corrected.

Mr. Dunham said that he too had talked with the Mayor about the contract. To him the Mayor had expressed thorough satisfaction.

Mr. Hetfield said that the Mayor must be in his dotage, or else his memory was uncommonly bad. It was only because of what the Mayor and the people had said to him that he had introduced his original resolution, and the speaker wanted it to be understood that he did not cast any reflection on the integrity of any person, but believed that the City ought to have an engineer that would give the construction of the Water Works his personal supervision. And there were no politics in the matter, the resolution being offered for the best interest of the City.

Mr. Newhall thought that the venerable Mayor had been criticised enough, and after further comment it was agreed to defer action for two weeks.

ROUTINE WORK OF THE SESSION.

The routine work of the session began with the customary roll-call, showing all members present. The minutes of the meeting of February 7, were read by City Clerk Coward and were approved as read.

Petitions for electric lights on West Second street near Elmwood place, on Irving place between Seventh and Eighth streets, and on New street between Third and Fourth, were referred to the Committee on Public Lights.

A petition asking for a correction of the sidewalk grade in front of Hand's new building on West Second street, was referred to the Committee on Streets.

WHERE OUR WATER IS PUREST.

"Report of Progress, No. 1," from Rudolph Hering for the Plainfield Water Works company, was read. It gave details concerning the best wells driven and the quality of water obtained. Experiments to determine the quantity procurable from the best locality thus far found—that Northeast of the city, beyond Leland avenue—were about to be made. In the Leland avenue neighborhood the best results of any ha[illegible] tory work was expected. By chemical tests the water was very good, while that from near the mountain in other tested localities came from beneath red shale, was impregnated with iron and was unsatisfactory.

The report was received and filed. The "iron" statement is one of the things disputed by Mr. Hetfield.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR—FIRE AND POLICE.

The resignation of Eugene A. Laine as First Assistant Fire Department Engineer was presented and accepted, and Mayor Male's appointment of J. Erwin Waters as his successor was confirmed.

Eugene A Laine and Joseph Cooney were recommended by the Mayor for regular police duty and were appointed. Chief Carey was authorized to procure regulation suits and outfits.

The report of the Tax Collector, John Johnson, showing for the month receipts of $2,728 65, of which $775 50 was for school purposes, was received and referred to the Finance Committee.

The report of City Treasurer Alex. Titsworth, showing a balance on hand of $16,770.10 took a similar course.

PAUPERISM, ILLEGITIMACY AND WIFE-DESERTION.

The annual report of Overseer of the Poor, J. Oakley Nodyne, was presented. It showed that during the year $3,922 29 had been expended on the city poor. 71 families had been aided. The Overseer regretted that because the legal punishment was so small the number of cases of infants who were likely to become public charges was on the increase. Cruel and wilful desertion by husbands was also an alarming and growing evil, and because of its growth the pauper roll was visably lengthened. The laws were too lax; the punishment was inadequate. Both matters needed thorough legislative revision.

CHIEF CAREY'S $200 PRIZE.

The quarterly report of City Judge W. R. Codington showed that out of the 29 prisoners, 24 had been fined, 2 had been committed to jail and 2 had been discharged; on one sentence had been suspended. There had been collected in fines $569, of which $400 had been from Michael Watson for the illegal sale of liquor. Of this $400, $200 had been given to Chief Carey, complainant in the case, as prescribed by law.

The Committee on Fire and Public Buildings reported favorably on Albert Hedden's petition to erect on East Fourth street a building covered with corrugated iron and tin, and it was granted.

The Street Committee reported that Melissa U. Angleman's petition concerning the opening of Sanford street, was outside of its jurisdiction.

The Water Committee reported the receipt of $1,000 from the Water company on account. The money was, by resolution of Mr. Newhall, ordered paid in to a special Water Fund at the City National Bank, where all other similar moneys are to be deposited.

$200 TO PUNISH LICENSE OFFENDERS.

By resolution of Mr. Hetfield, the sum of $200 was appropriated for use by Tunis J. Carey, Chief of Police, in detecting and punishing all illegal liquor selling, whether by licensed or unlicensed parties.

DR. JENKINS PRESCRIBES FOR THE TOWN CLOCK.

Councilman Jenkins reported that the Methodist church trustees desired the town clock in their edifice repaired and kept in running order. As it was the city's clock he moved that the Committee on Fire and Buildings investigate as to the cost of repairs. The motion was amended so that the committee would report to the Council before making expenditures and was adopted.

Mr. Dunham said that he knew of a man who could produce testimonials from numerous persons, which it was his business to repair such clocks as this, which was not an old clock, only a new one out of gear, and he (the repairer) could put it in good shape. Mr. Dunham's man has tinkered with the Trinity clock in New York and may be trusted with the Front street timepiece.

HIGH LICENSE ON BEER WAGONS.

An ordinance to amend the ordinance providing for the licensing of "quart" houses where beer may be sold to be drunk off the premises was introduced, passed on second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised. It raises the license fee from $100 to $250, and provides heavy penalties It compels all drivers of beer wagons to carry a certificate that they are licensed and to show it on demand. Mr. Jenkins alone opposed the ordinance.

The disputed bill of J. H. Wilson for crushed stone was returned by the Committee on Streets and referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances.

The Council adjourned till Monday night March 17, when street railway and other matters will come up, and when the public will join with the Council in making a rigid investigation of the Water-Works question.

Some weeks ago, THE PRESS disclosed the secret that a committee in search of a successor to Dr. Cuyler of Brooklyn, had been to Plainfield listening to the Rev. Wm. R. Richards. The item was of much general interest, as Dr. Cuyler's church, now that the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is dead, is the most important in all respects in all Brooklyn. The New York and Brooklyn papers, however, enlarged upon the facts stated in these columns, and said that Mr. Richards had received the call with an offer of $6,000 a year, but had declined. Mr. Richards writes THE PRESS today: "No such call has been extended."

Indigestion

Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

WASHINGTON TOPICS

An Important Decision by the Supreme Court.

WHERE A CITIZEN CANNOT SUE.

The Senate Confirms the Nomination of Mr. Warmoth.

The Long and Short Clause—Farmers in Politics—The World's Fair Committees Invited to Chicago—Adventists Opposed to Sabbath Observance—Mr. Charles Tupper Calls on the President.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Supreme Court to-day rendered an opinion in the case of Bernard B Hans vs. the State of Louisiana. It is said that from ten to twelve million dollars are involved in the case, the decision of which turns upon the important constitutional question of the right of a citizen to sue his own State. It is said this question has never been decided. Hans is the owner of a considerable amount of consolidated bonds of the State of Louisiana.

The State Constitution adopted in 1879, however, partly repudiated the agreement. Hans, who is a citizen of Louisiana, brought suit to have the new State Constitution declared invalid so far as it impaired the contract between the State and the bondholders, on the ground that it violated the Constitution of the United States.

The State set up the plea that it could not be sued by one of its own citizens without its consent, and the Circuit Court deciding the question in favor of the State, the case comes here for final decision. Justice Bradley in his opinion affirms this judgment.

Appropriations for Public Buildings.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds has reported favorably bills making appropriations for public buildings as follows: Vermont, St. Albans, $40,000. New Jersey, Hoboken, $15,000; Paterson, $70,000. Delaware, Wilmington, $100,000. Virginia, Norfolk, $200,000. West Virginia, Martinsburg, $75,000. New York, Newburg, $100,000. Massachusetts, Haverhill, $75,000; Taunton, $75,000. Pennsylvania, York, $80,000. Maine, Lewiston, $75,000.

The Montana Contest.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Mr. Jenks, counsel for the Democratic claimants in the contest for the Montana seats in the United States Senate, said the only thing he would file with the committee in support of the argument presented for them was a copy of the recent decision in the Silver Bow case which was determined in favor of the Democratic contestant and which is thought to have a direct bearing on the Senate contest.

Farmers in Politics.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Georgia delegation in the House have had notices served upon them that their re-election will be contested by an organized opposition party. They have received letters that the Farmers' Alliance of Georgia intends to put a candidate in the field in each Congressional District at the next election, and that none of the names of the present delegation from Georgia will be found on the Alliance ballots.

The Committee Invited to Chicago.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The members of the World's Fair Committees of the House and Senate are considering an invitation that has been tendered them to visit Chicago with a view to looking over the available sites for the World's Fair and to discuss the financial matter connected with the proposition. No action has been taken by the committee on the invitation.

Warmoth Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The vote in the Senate on confirming the appointment of Mr. Warmoth stood—yeas, 39; nays, 14. Gov. Warmoth received the votes of the Republican Senators in the Chamber except those of Sherman, Farwell and Wilson (Ia.) Seven Democrats, led by Mr. Eustis, also voted for confirmation.

A Young Woman Shot.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Miss Lilian Moore was shot while walking on Rhode Island avenue by Harry G. Frankland, a man aged about 32 years, because she had refused to listen to his addresses. Five shots were fired, one taking effect in the forehead, one in the left wrist and in the fleshy part of the left arm. The wounds are not dangerous.

A Brief Prize Fight.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Jack Collins, the middleweight champion pugilist of Delaware, and Mike Reidy, of this city, fought for a prize of $300 near Mount Vernon, Va., The mill was brief. In the second round Reidy punished Collins so badly that he failed to come to time and Reidy was given the fight. Time, 7 minutes, 23 seconds.

TEN-CLUB SCHEDULE.

The Indianapolis League Team is Not for Sale This Season.

CLEVELAND, O., March 4.—The city is full of baseball men to-day, and everybody is anxiously awaiting to see what will be done by the League. The Schedule Committee held a meeting in the Weddell House parlors but what was done will not be divulged until this afternoon. It is hinted, however, that a ten-club schedule was adopted. A Brotherhood schedule was laid before the committee by President Nick Young, who had received it from Secretary Brunell of the Players' League, but no attention was paid to it The League schedule will be made up just the same as if the Brotherhood had no existence.

It is pretty well settled that there will be no reduction of the number of clubs composing the League circuit this season. President Brush, of the Indianapolis club, when asked if he had any intention of selling out his team, said: "I have not. I shall stay in the League this season if any of them do. It may be that the Brotherhood could be fought harder with eight than with ten clubs but I don't feel like sacrificing my interests now for somebody else. I have a good club—one that will stand well up in the race—and I don't intend to give it up. This is the season, above all others, that Indianapolis ought to be in the League."

NEW JERSEY LAWMAKERS.

The Annual Appropriation for the State Labor Bureau Passed.

TRENTON, N. J., March 4.—The Senate passed the annual appropriation of $4,000 to the State Labor Bureau and also the bill allowing any charitable institution to possess property not exceeding $500,000 and to change its place of business.

The House bill giving the Board of Freeholders power to fix the director's per diem was indefinitely postponed.

Senator Wyckoff introduced a bill prohibiting attorneys-at-law from practicing in courts where they have jurisdiction as justices of the peace.

In the House the following bills were introduced: Making all railroad tickets good until used. Authorizing the trustees of the School Fund to loan $250,000 at 3 per cent. interest to cities for the erection of school-houses. Authorizing the Governor to appoint land surveyors and commissioners of deeds. Giving the Essex Road Board power to modify all assessments when one has been set aside by the courts.

Griffith's Attack on Sessions.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., March 4.—Frank L. Griffiths, who "caned" ex-Congressman Walter Sessions on the street in this city two weeks ago, alleges that the cause of the trouble was not an old lawsuit, as Mr. Sessions gave out to the press, but domestic reasons prompted him to the act. He says that for several years the ex-Congressman had been trying to get Mrs. Griffith to leave her husband and while at Washington proposed to the woman that she get a separation from Griffith and he would secure her a Government position. It is for this reason, Griffith says, that he attacked and beat Sessions.

Non-Union Switchmen on Strike.

PITTSBURG, March 4.—The switchmen employed in the Pennsylvania and Chartiers yards of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad are on strike for an advance in wages. They demand an increase from $1.90 to $2.00 for day and $2.20 for night work. No attempt was made to move freight trains to-day and considerable difficulty is experienced in getting passenger trains out on time. The strikers are all non-union men. President Newell is in Europe. The local officials claim that they have no discretion in the matter and cannot concede the demand.

A Drunken Man's Brutal Act.

BOSTON, March 4.—Frank B. Keith, who says he resides in Worcester, entered the house of Capt. Griffin, of Hook and Ladder Company 8, on Tyler street, while intoxicated, and demanded some soup. On being refused, he knocked Mrs. Griffin down and beat and kicked her. She was the only member of the family in the house at the time. Keith was frightened away by some one knocking at the door. He was afterward captured. Mrs. Griffin's condition is alarming.

Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 4.—The Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of this State is holding its 17th annual session in this city. PANIC IN A SCHOOL.

A Fire in Bayonne, N. J., Arrested by a Teacher's Coolness.

BAYONNE, N. J., March 4.—A panic took place among the 600 scholars in Public School No. 2, caused by fire breaking out in the primary department. On seeing the smoke and hearing the school bell ringing for the Fire Department, several children rushed to the windows and attempted to jump out. The scholars were, however, restored to order and dismissed.

The fire was caused by an over-heated flue in the heater, which set fire to the wood work. The flames were extinguished by Miss Barnett, the teacher in the class-room, before the arrival of the firemen. The parents of the children flocked to the school as soon as they heard of the fire, expecting to find their little ones in the flames. No one was injured, however.

The Strike May be Settled.

NASHUA, N. H., March 4.—The committee of strikers and that of the Nashua Company have not yet reached a conclusion, and will have another conference on Tuesday. It looks now as if matters were to be adjusted satisfactorily, although there is some radical difference of opinion on several contested points.

THE BURIED MINERS

All Hope of Saving the Unfortunate Men Abandoned.

THE MINE IS BEING FLOODED.

Wives and Children Moaning About the Mouth of the Shaft.

Still Hoping that the Entombed Men May Have Reached a Place of Safety—If Alive They Will Be Drowned by the Flood—It is Believed that the Water Will Reach the Fire To-Night.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 5.—Are they alive? Is is possible that the eight unfortunate men locked in the South Wilkesbarre coal mine by a barrier of flame yet survive? Those are questions which every person in this city has been asking to-day, and no one is able to answer with absolute certainty. Many old miners are of the opinion that the men were suffocated by smoke in less than an hour, while others contend that there is yet hope for them.

Not since 1876, when five men entombed in the Sugar Notch Shaft were dug out alive, after five days of almost superhuman effort, has this neighborhood been so greatly excited by a mine disaster.

One of two things is regarded as reasonably certain—the unfortunate men either attempted to fight their way back through the smoke and flames in the rock tunnel and died in the effort, or they have found their way through an unused and blockaded opening into the workings of the upper or Hillman vein, and are now lying their blocked in by the fire and absolutely out of reach of the rescuers until the flames can be extinguished.

All night long the mouth of the shaft was surrounded by groups of men and boys. In the engine-house some twenty or thirty men and boys were gathered, employes of the colliery for the most part, who in low voices discussed the accident and the chances of rescuing the men. In the midst of this sorrowing throng a woman with a shawl thrown over her head suddenly entered. She looked from one to another, until she found some one she knew. He was a rough-looking miner in his working clothes, his face all black with his lamp still lighted on his cap. The imperfect light of the lantern barely made his face visible, and as the woman faced him he seemed to shrink back before her gaze. A few hurried, hoarsely whispered questions by the woman, and as many sorrowful shakes of the miner's head was all that passed between them, and then, with a sob that started tears to the eyes of all present, she turned to the door. As she opened it and staggered down the rough wooden steps these words she moaned out: "My boy! my poor, poor boy!" told of the agony tearing at her heart.

She was the mother of Thomas McDonald, and she was not the only woman who kept watch and waited all through the piercing cold night around the dark mouth of the pit. Almost in every group was some female figure, a wife, a mother or a sister, or some one whom one of the younger men buried behind the wall of flame 600 feet below ground had hoped to make his own ere long. All of these were in tears, and choking sobs were frequently heard, but there were no passionate outbursts, there was no frenzied grief, for hope was not all gone.

All day long the streams of water were pouring down the shaft, and after the return of the last rescuing party no further attempt was made to reach the imprisoned men. It is believed that by this evening the water will have reached the fire, and that before very long after that the flames will be so much subdued that some exploration of the Hillman vein workings may be made.

WILL COST A MILLION.

A Scheme on Foot at Johnstown to Change the Course of Stoney Creek.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 5—A scheme is now being considered as to the advisability of changing the course of Stoney Creek for over a mile, in order to acquire a large amount of land. The plan is to dig a channel over the Suphes farm, about three-quarters of a mile above the town, which would shorten the course of the river about a half mile.

It would do away with the feeder dam, and the ice harvest in this place would be ruined, as the reservoirs around town do not furnish enough ice to supply the people.

If the project is carried through there will be no water whatever between one part of Kernville and Johnstown proper, while parts of the Fifth and Sixth wards of the new city will be on both sides of the river.

To carry the scheme through it would necessitate the tearing down and rebuilding of two bridges. The cost will be $1,000,000, while the saving of land affected thereby will amount to 100 acres. Many people favor the project, while the increase of land would not be so great. There is no doubt, however, that if the plan is carried out as proposed that it will be very beneficial to Johnstown.

THE STRIKE SPREADING.

The Switchmen May Tie Up the Entire Pittsburg and Lake Erie System.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 5.—News was received at the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad depot that a large number of switchmen and brakemen at Youngstown, O., had joined the striking Pittsburg switchmen.

A conference was immediately called in the office of the master of transportation and the trouble threatening the road was discussed. It was decided to make all possible efforts to get men to fill the places of the strikers.

Only three sections of freight went out from Pittsburg on the road yesterday. Should the strike spread further it will tie up the entire Pittsburg & Lake Erie system.

Big Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Fire at 302 Broadway last night caused $300,000 damage, as follows: Baton & Eaton, umbrellas and parasols, $100,000; M. & C. Mayer, hosiery and gloves, $100,000; Wm. Harvey & Co., smokers' articles and ivory goods, and the Brown Comb Company, together, $75,000; A. C. Baupoine, building, $25,000. Several firemen were injured by a falling ladder and others were overcome by the smoke, but recovered.

Organ-Builder Prince Dead.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 5.—George A. Prince died at his home in this city after an illness of five weeks. Mr. Prince was born in Boston in 1819. He removed to Buffalo in 1836 and went into the music business and rapidly established a world-wide reputation as a manufacturer of organs. Mr. Prince leaves a wife and one daughter, and also two sisters, Mrs. E. P. Dorr and Mrs. W. P. Jones, of Cambridge, Mass.

Rubber Works Resume Operations.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., March 5.—The works of the Para Rubber Company which have been shut down since December 18 started up the calendar and mixing departments to-day employing some 150 operatives. It is expected that the other rooms will soon be in operation. The cut-down proposition which the operatives have signed reduces their wages from 10 to 15 per cent.

War on Liquor and Tobacco.

POUGHKEEPSIE, March 5.—The Young Peoples' Christian Endeavor societies of this city are making war against whisky, tobacco and Sunday trade. They have induced many men and women to sign an agreement not to patronize any stores which do not close Sundays, except drug stores. The women members of the societies also promise not to associate with men who use whisky or tobacco.

Death of Dr. John J. Crane.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 5.—Dr. J. J. Crane, one of the wealthiest and most prominent citizens of this city, is dead, aged 70. For many years he was in charge of one of the largest hospitals in New York and was considered one of the leading physicians in the city. He leaves a fortune estimated at from two to four millions.

Sickness and Desolation.

BALTIMORE, Md. March 5.—Since last Christmas three children of Mrs. Gordy, of Pitteville, Wicomico County, have been ill with diphtheria. Last night her house was burned to the ground driving the family into the bitter air. The eldest, aged 17, died, and the others are in a precarious condition.

Governor Green is Vice-Chancellor.

TRENTON, N. J., March 5.—Chancellor McGill verified the rumors of the past month by appointing ex-Governor Green Vice-Chancellor to fill the vacancy existing under the law passed last winter authorizing the appointment of two additional Vice-Chancellors.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 5.—Colonel Thomas L. Watson, of Bridgeport, commanding the Fourth regiment, has accepted his appointment as Brigadier-General of the State militia vice Graham, removed. He will probably announce his staff this week.

Lured Liked Preller.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 5.—The arrest of J. Burchell and William Pelly, in connection with the case of Frederick C. Bent ell, found murdered in a lonely marsh near Princeton, Ont., is opening up a dark and diabolical plot to lure Englishmen to this country for robbery.

The Newspaper Correspondent in a Prostrated Condition.

A Court of Inquiry to Try Commander McCalla—The New York-New Jersey Bridge Project—Russia Invites an American Writer to Visit Siberia—Another Woman Lawyer to Practice.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Latest reports seem fully to justify the uneasiness as to the condition of ex-Congressman Taulbee, who was shot in the head by Mr. Kincaid, correspondent of the Louisville Times a few days ago on the steps of the Capitol. All efforts to locate exactly the situation of the bullet have failed. Five or six surgeons are in attendance.

One of the chief obstacles in their way arises from their inability to use anæsthetics, because of a predisposition on the part of the patient to heart trouble. Another obstacle lies in his extreme nervous despondency.

From the first moment when he was removed to the hospital, he has not ceased to declare that his wound was fatal and that he would surely die, although the surgeons have been unable to discover any necessarily fatal termination from the course which the bullet pursued. Notwithstanding all this, it is said that Mr. Taulbee is calling upon God to forgive him and declaring that he will surely die.

Mr. Kincaid is very nearly in as prostrated condition as his adversary. He remains within call of his lawyer to surrender himself at a moment's notice whenever called upon.

Court of Inquiry to Try McCalla.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Commander Bowman H. McCalla, in command of the United States steamship Enterprise, was at the Navy Department and had an interview with Secretary Tracy and Commodore Ramsay. In view of the charges that have been published in the newspapers in regard to him he made a formal request for a court of inquiry to try the matter. The court was at once ordered to convene on March 11 at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. It will be composed of Rear-Admiral F. A. Kimberly, Commodore W. P. McCann and Captain O. F. Stanton. Lieutenant Perry Garst has been designated to act as Judge Advocate.

The North River Bridge.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The project of constructing a bridge over the North River between New York and Jersey City was thoroughly discussed before the House Committee on Commerce by Representatives McAdoo, Bayne, Cummings and J. K. Cowan, of Baltimore, and Mr. Lindenthal, the well-known bridge engineer. The members of the Commerce Committee seem to be more favorably disposed towards the proposition than they formerly were. Most of them think the project a good one and necessary but do not want to place their sanction on it until they are convinced that it can be carried out.

Meeting of Arbitrationists.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The annual meeting of the International Christian Arbitration and Peace Society was held here last night in the Church of the Covenant. Justice Harlan, of the Supreme Court, presided. Secretary Windom, Postmaster-General Wanamaker, and a great number of people prominent in political, public, diplomatic and social circles were present. Dr. Boardman, of Philadelphia, president of the society made the address of the evening, which was attentively listened to by an audience of enthusiastic arbitrationists that filled the church.

Favors Postal Telegraph Service.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads listened to a strong advocate of Postmaster-General Wanamaker's bill for the establishment of a limited postal telegraph service. The gentleman was Mr. D. H. Bates of New York. He said he represented a number of men who were prepared to build telegraph lines provided the rates in the Postmaster-General's bill would be remunerative. He had been thirty years in the telegraph business, five of which had been spent in the government telegraph service.

Diplomatic Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The East got the lion's share of the diplomatic appointments just made by the President, receiving three out of the four. Herbert Wolcott Bowen, of New York city, son of the editor of the Independent, goes as United States Consul to Barcelona; Frederick W. Catlin, of Brooklyn, a brother of Gen. I. S. Catlin and brother-in-law of Secretary Tracy, goes as Consul to Munich, and William Burgess, of New Jersey, gets a similar billet at Tunstall.

A Mill Owner in Financial Trouble.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 5.—A. J. Chace, the proprietor of the Augustus Chace Wyoming Mills is in trouble, and attachments have been placed on the property. The liabilities are said to be about $80,000. The assets will probably exceed that amount.

Dropped Dead of Heart Failure.

GENEVA, N. Y., March 5.—John B. Dixon, aged about 75 years, a prominent nurseryman and tile manufacturer of this village, dropped dead of heart failure in the Lehigh Valley Railroad coalyard.

The Best Job Chief Carey Has Undertaken.

Of the seven boys arrested for breaking and robbing freight cars on the side track at Church street, Sunday, five are still held. They will probably soon be taken to the county jail.

As The Press said some months ago, "Plainfield is cursed with the toughest and wickedest gang of young boys in the State." Chief Carey proposes to break up their ranks and send them where they will have the restraint their parents do not exert over them at home.

A Collection of Rare Art.

The loan collection is still on exhibition at the Art Gallery, and will remain during the week. Those who have not seen it should improve the first opportunity. Such a chance to see the work of some of the best artists in the World is rare in Plainfield. The Art Committee have reduced the price of admission to 25 cents during the remainder of the exhibit, so that all may have a chance. Remember that the proceeds go to increase the library, and so benefit the public.

A North Plainfielder Granted a Patent.

Mr. G. Q. Dolliver of 17 Manning avenue, North Plainfield, has made arrangements with Mr. Louis Klein, the cabinet maker of 79 East Second street, to make an extension table to agree with patents which he received a short time ago. The object of this table is to do away with loose leaves and to have one with leaves and all combined. It can be made of any shape and length, and when closed it will be no larger than an ordinary table.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Seeley Edsall left Plainfield for a trip to Washington, yesterday.

Mrs. Charles X. Hutchinson of Madison, N. J., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Petrie, of East Sixth street.

Miss Lottie Mills of Patchogue, L. I., who has been a guest of Miss Milligan of West Fourth street, for the last few days, returned home yesterday.

Mr. Louis Dunavan, formerly of this city, but now of Patchogue, L. I., returned home yesterday, after a few days' visit with his parents on West Second street.

Dr. Rudolph M. Titsworth is lying very ill of pneumonia at his home on East Front street. He was taken on Sunday evening, and his condition today is the occasion of much anxiety.

At the last gathering of the Monday Afternoon Club, Mr Krehbiel lectured on the Nibelungen tetralogy. Mr. Venino assisted Mr. Krehbiel by interpreting upon the piano Wagner's grand music.

Mr. James Evans, an employee of the Potter Press Works of this city, started on an extended trip to Denver, Col., for the benefit of his health. His many friends will therefore miss him, as he has made himself very popular among his fellow acquaintances.

There was quite a large attendance at the funeral of Henry Kline in the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday. The Rev. Mr. Richards preached the sermon. Kline had been the faithful sexton of the church for many years, and was its pensioner at the time of his death.

To quote a universal expression of opinion, "The Court of Chancery and the people of the State are to be congratulated on the appointment of so able a lawyer, so upright a citizen and so energetic an official to the vacant Vice Chancellorship as ex-Governor Robert S. Green."

A VARIED VOCAL.

What To-Morrow Evening's Concert Will Be.

To-morrow evening in Music Hall, will be given the second of the series of subscription concerts by the Plainfield Choral Society. The programme to be rendered will be particularly pleasing in every way. There will be much variety, and the music as a whole will be "lighter" in character than usual.

Two of the numbers will be arrangements by Mr. Fitzhugh himself. One, Strelezki's "Dreams," is fresh from the publisher's hands and has never been sung before. In fact, it was arranged by Mr. Fitzhugh especially for the Plainfield Choral Society. The other of the leader's compositions, is a quartette for male voices.

The soloists of to-morrow evening will be Mrs. Sarah Baron-Anderson, the greatest of New York's contralto's, and Mr. Wm. Ward Stephens, pianist. At the next concert the Messiah will be sung with full orchestra. Miss Alice Holmes, Mr. Elmer Runyon and Mr. Wm. R. Richards were elected into the Society, last evening.

A Somervillian in Irons.

Mr. Otto Schwab of the U. S. man-of-war "Enterprise," arrived in New York last Friday on that vessel. He is one of the most popular young men of the crew, and has high testimonials for good seamanship. He is a resident of Union Village, where his numerous friends will give him a hearty welcome home. Several of the officers and crew of the above-named vessel were found to be in irons, under the hatches, the crew for insubordination and the officers for cruelty to some of the crew. One of the officers who was in irons was Lieutenant Kline of Somerville.

Iron Discovered in Washingtonville.

Mr. Theo. Zeller of Washingtonville, while quarrying out stone for building purposes recently, had his attention attracted to some substance in the soil that was lodged in between the stone. On examination it was found to contain bright specks, indicating ore. By the advice of friends he sent some of the specimens to the State Geologist at New Brunswick, who assayed it and found it to be iron ore of a good quality. If in sufficient quantities it would pay mining costs and more. Mr. Zeller will probably feel inclined to pay costs in the enterprise.

Probably Not So.

The Deaf-Mutes' Journal, published in New York, says: "Smiling Pat. Gately has signed to play with the Brooklyn Association the coming season, at a salary of $1,050 a year."

As Gately's work in the box last season for the Crescents, was not, as a general thing, to be depended on, the price named above is far beyond his worth.

No Citizens' Meeting to be Held.

The meeting of citizens of North Plainfield to nominate township and borough officers, that was advertised to be held to-morrow evening, has fallen through. No one would "father" it.

—Members of Plainfield Cornet Band are requested to report at Headquarters at 12:30 P. M., Thursday, March 6, in full uniform. By order of the President. Rehearsal on Wednesday night at 7:30.

GARROTED IN HIS SHANTY.

Old Flagman Perry Attacked by a Robber and Left Unconscious.

Old Sam Perry, says a New York paper, is a flagman whose station is in the deep cut near Fanwood, N. J. His business is to see the track is kept clear, and he lives in the little shanty the railroad company has erected upon the bank. It is a lonely life for the old man, but he has learned to know the engineers and firemen who speed the trains through the gap, and they wave their hands out of the cab windows at him as he waves the white flag at their approach.

The few visitors are mostly tramps and peddlers, who from motives of economy, or because they haven't the money, use the company's highway as a footpath.

It was late Monday night when a rumble announced the approach of a train, and the old man, lantern in hand, went out to signal "all right." It was a coal train, and as it passed the figure of a man dropped to the ground from the side of one of the empty cars.

Perry does not like tramps, and when he saw this one he climbed the bank and went into his shanty. He had just placed the lantern on the table and bolted the door when there came a knock.

"Who's there?" asked the old man.

"It's only me," replied the tramp. "I want a drink of water."

There is no water here," said Perry. "Go down to the spring at the bottom of the bank and you'll get all you want."

"Open this door —— quick," yelled the man, as he battered the wood with his fist. "You'd better open it or I'll smash it in."

The old man shrunk back to the corner of his little room, so stricken with terror that he could not utter a word.

"Open up, d'ye hear?" repeated the tramp, as he brought his feet into play and fairly shook the shanty with the force of the blows. Presently the wood began to splinter and crack, and in a minute the door was burst in.

The old man in the corner saw all this by the flickering light of the lantern on the table. He saw a figure, strong and athletic looking, with a face the outlines of which were concealed by a few weeks' growth of beard, advance toward the corner where he tremblingly crouched.

He heard a voice demand that he give up his money. He had $42—his month's wages—in his pocket, but he denied the existence of it. Then, the last thing he remembers, a pair of strong, muscular hands reached out, and, clutching his throat, contracted slowly. The lantern on the table seemed to dance up and down before his eyes; then its outlines became indistinct, and for a brief while he saw a queer, indistinct light bobbing and shooting about the room, which finally went out altogether.

The cool morning air coming through the broken door revived the old flagman at daybreak. He was in a bad way and could hardly move. His neck was purple in ridges and his face bore evidence of the beating he had received. His money was gone and a chest in the room had been smashed open and rifled.

A track walker found him and sent out an alarm for the garroter. A great deal of excitement prevails, and there is likely to be trouble if the man should be caught.

The Next Music Hall Attraction.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" has grown into a household word on both sides of the Atlantic, and Mrs. Burnett's beautiful story has become familiar to almost everybody. Its details need not be given at this time. Tommy Russell has become identified with the character of the Little Lord. The play possesses all the elements of popularity, and one does not wonder at the wholesome triumph that it has achieved wherever it has been produced. The stage can do no better work than to supply its patrons with this class of entertainment. The lesson it teaches must be productive of good results.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be produced at Music Hall, on the evening of the 12th instant.

A Boom for Justices of the Peace.

The following is reproduced from the Home News of New Brunswick:

"Plainfield having returned to its license system, after a year of no license, it now draws $700 from each hotel and saloon, but finds it necessary to have two additional policemen to maintain order under the new conditions. The justices of the peace may now anticipate a boom in their business."

The Boys' Brigade.

The Hope Chapel Boys' Brigade is rapidly increasing in membership. At present there are thirty names on the roll call at the drill on Monday evening. It is to be hoped that the membership will continue to increase.

SEWAGE IN PLAINFIELD.

Extracts From a Proposed Law That Will Provide the City's Necessity by Assessment and Bonds.

Assemblyman Snyder has introduced "by request" in the House of Assembly at Trenton, "an act to provide for drainage and sewage in cities of this State." The bill is numbered "308," and THE PRESS is permitted to publish the following extracts from it:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any city in this State to provide for and cause to be constructed sewers and drains, or a system of sewage and drainage, or either of any of them, in the manner herein provided.

"That the common council of such city may, if they think it expedient, from time to time, cause to be made by competent engineers and mechanics, surveys, plans and estimates of any work which may be contemplated under the powers given by this act.

"That it shall be lawful for such common council, by ordinance, whenever in their opinion the public good requires it, to order and cause sewers or drains, or a system of sewers or drains, to be constructed in any part of said city under the provisions of this act, and, if necessary, to acquire, by purchase, and to take and appropriate any lands and real estate that may be needed for that purpose, upon making compensation to the owner or owners thereof as in hereinafter provided; the ordinance shall specify with particularity the streets to be sewered or drained.

"That in addition to the land that it may be necessary to take for the purpose of laying drains and sewers, it shall be lawful for the common council to acquire by purchase or condemnation in the manner herein mentioned, any other land either within said city or beyond its limits that may be needed for sewerage purposes.

"That in case the common council shall deem it expedient to collect the sewage of such city or of any part thereof, and to deodorize, utilize, consume or dispose of the same by sale or otherwise, wholly or in part, it shall be lawful for said common council to purchase lands in the corporate name of the city, and to erect all necessary buildings, works and machinery thereon, and to take and appropriate for such purpose any lands and real estate upon making compensation to the owner or owners as hereinafter provided.

"That whenever any ordinance shall be passed by the common council directing the construction of any improvement under the provisions of this act, all further acts and proceedings which it may be necessary to take in order to complete said improvement, and all orders relating thereto, may be by resolution and not by ordinance.

"That no ordinance for the making of such improvement shall be acted upon by the common council until public notice shall be given in a newspaper published or circulating in said city of the intention of the common council to cause such improvement to be made, and to that end it shall be the duty of the city clerk, by direction of said council, to give such notice; the notice shall briefly describe the improvement, and request such persons as may object thereto to present their objections in writing at the city clerk's office, at or before the expiration of ten days from the date of the notice, or to the common council at its first meeting held after the expiration of said ten days; and said council may, at such meeting or afterwards, proceed to consider and pass such ordinance, notwithstanding any objection.

"That after the passage of such ordinance it shall be the duty of the common council to appoint by ballot from amongst themselves a committee to be called "the committee on sewers," which shall have charge of the work under the supervison of said council, and which shall in all things proceed as the council may by ordinance or resolution ordain; such committee shall from amongst themselves elect a chairman, who shall approve in writing all bills or vouchers involving the disbursement of money before the same is paid, and each member of such committee shall be entitled to dollars a day for every day's actual service as a member of such committee, of which service he shall make affidavit before he shall be entitled to be paid; all work, before it is accepted, must be approved by the engineer in charge of the work and by said committee.

"That immediately upon the completion of the work, or of a definite part thereof, the common council shall, by resolution, ascertain the whole amount of the costs, damages and expenses of making and constructing drains and sewers, or a system of sewerage or drainage, or any part of such system, so far as completed; and they shall, without delay, apply to the circuit court for the appointment of three disinterested commissioners to make a just and equitable assessment thereof upon all the owners of lands and real estate peculiarly benefitted thereby, which front on the improvement, in proportion as nearly as may be to the advantage each shall be deemed to acquire.

"And be it enacted, That to provide for the difference between the costs and expenses of the improvement, including all incidental expenses, and the amount of the assessment, the common council shall after the assessment has been confirmed issue the bonds of the city, which may be registered or coupon bonds, payable in the manner hereinafter provided.

"That the common council shall raise by tax in each year, as other moneys are raised in said city, such sum of money as may be necessary to pay the interest on the notes and other obligations of the city, including, when necessary, interest on such of its obligations as may be payable out of the proceeds of assessments, and also the principal of such bonds.

"That said common council may also, in lieu of issuing bonds of the city, pay the costs and expenses of any improvements authorized by this act with money to be raised by taxation, after the work has been determined upon by ordinance, as other moneys are raised in said city; provided, that the sum so raised shall not in any one year exceed twenty-five thousand dollars.

"That no provision of any act which prohibits the pollution of any of the waters of this State, used to supply any aqueduct or reservoir, or which are distributed for public use, is intended to be hereby repealed, and this act shall not be construed to authorize the discharge of sewage into fresh water in such manner as to defile a source of public water supply.

"That this act shall take effect immediately."

A funny story is going the rounds of a young lady who found a horse-shoe, and wishing for good luck placed it under her pillow in company with her false teeth. In the morning in the hurry of dressing she substituted the shoe for the teeth and wore it for some time before the mistake was discovered. This story was told a young lady, and with great astonishment in her voice she exclaimed: "And never washed the shoe!" She was evidently more surprised over the lack of cleanliness than the size of the girl's mouth.

EVIDENTLY DOES NOT LIKE CHICAGO.

The City and its Municipal Officers Gets a Setting Out by a Resident From Here.

To the Editor of The Press:—I am not a cat and do not contract an unreasonable affection for localities, but I have been in Chicago a good deal lately, and familiarity has bred its proverbial result. I have not much admiration for "the town," still I acknowledge and avail myself of the manifold advantages conferred by residence in the city. But this town sickens me; it is envious, conceited, braggish and blind. It hates Gotham as bitterly as an Anarchist hates a washtub, and longs to be confessed and called the representative American city. If I owned Chicago, I'd give it away. I would never have it on my consience that I cheated a man by selling it to him. Chicago is away below par. To begin with the city is controlled not wisely. Her Aldermen are said to be as crooked as a dog's hind leg. Her police are utterly unable to catch anything but a street car.

Chicago is rightly named—the word coming from the Ojibway shikagoak, or place where there are many skunks. The streets are as dirty as a city dump, making one wish the town could be towed out into the lake and washed three times a week. The pavements as well as sidewalks are of wood, like the heads of the municipal officers. The atmosphere, were the weather a little colder, could be cut and marketed as ice. The river is a vast open sewer, exhaling infection and death. So meagre are the facilities for internal transportation and so few the possible extensions, that Chicago cannot take care of her present population. Surface roads are crowded beyond their capacity, while elevated roads are only a vague aspiration.

True, she can claim a large inhabitation, since she was shrewd enough to annex all the adjacent region to swell the census of 1890, but the figures will be valueless beyond the mere fact as no natural growth will be shown. Her claim to be the great centre of the beef slaughtering industry is also true and ought to be conceded, for every time a Chicago girl puts on a new pair of shoes a steer dies. Delightless parks and dolefuller mansions abound, and what Ben Jonson called "those itinerant tempters of ignorant girls" who are induced to purchases they can ill afford, swarm on the streets. One of the most stinging disgraces of this corporation is total lack of ambulance service. The sick and the criminal, the injured and the vile, are taken to hospital and jail in the same open wagon. The most popular book here is the Dictionary.

The dude is not original, but a cheap, second-hand edition of his Eastern confrere. He is so soft you could run a boiled parsnip through him anywhere.

OSCAR.

Mr. Harrington Tells About Another Conspiracy.

THE THUNDERER IN A NEW ROLE

Telegrams Produced that Affect Attorney-General Webster.

A Statement that Archbishop Walsh Gave Mr. Harrington the Information—Young Lincoln's Condition—A Great Victory for the Liberals—Cowboys Startle Rome by Subduing Wild Horses.

LONDON, March 5.—Mr. Timothy Harrington, with the object of proving that while the commission was sitting a conspiracy was in progress, in which members of the Ministry were deeply involved, to obtain perjured evidence against the accused Parnellites, read telegrams sent to agents of the Times in America referring to Miller and Sheridan. He asked the Attorney-General if he had seen any of these telegrams.

Mr. Herrington proceeded to read other telegrams to show that even after Attorney-General Webster had apologized for the forgeries, the Times had endeavored to procure evidence through Sheridan to establish the authenticity of the letters. He declined to say how he had obtained possession of the telegrams unless a committee of inquiry were granted, when more telegrams would be forthcoming.

Sir Richard Webster answered that he had not.

"Then," said Mr. Harrington, "you have been betrayed by your colleagues. A gross injustice is done if your name was connected with this matter without your knowledge."

The Standard this morning says that Archbishop Walsh discovered the key to the cipher telegrams which were read by Mr. Timothy Harrington in the House of Commons last night and announced his discovery to that gentleman.

Colored Men Take the Best Boats.

LONDON, March 5.—Later details about the loss of the steamship Quetta while bound for London from Cooktown show that the negro members of the crew took possession of the best boat and refused to allow any one else in her. The other boats, with the only survivors, landed at Adolphus Island, three miles from where the steamer went down. They were subsequently taken off by the steamship Albatross.

Four Persons Killed.

LONDON, March 5.—There was great excitement over the news that the Scotch night express from London collided with an engine at Carlisle, driving the engine a long distance. The express did not leave the track, but the first two carriages were telescoped. Four persons were killed. The accident was due to the slippery condition of the rails, which prevented the brakes from working.

Great Liberal Victory.

LONDON, March 5.—An election for Member of the House of Commons was held in the northern division of St. Pancras to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. W. C. Baillie, Conservative. Extraordinary efforts were made by both parties. The count showed that Mr. Bolton, Liberal, received 2,657 votes; Mr. Graham, Conservative, 2,549.

Cowboys Subduing Wild Horses.

ROME, March 5.—Buffalo Bill's cowboys gave an exhibition of subduing some wild horses yesterday which was witnessed by 15,000 persons. The horses are the the property of the Duke of Sermonato and have been hitherto regarded as untamable. The animals were rendered entirely tractable in a remarkably short space of time.

Mitchell Challenges Slavin.

LONDON, March 5.—A great sensation was created in sporting circles by the announcement that Charley Mitchell wanted to fight Slavin, the Australian champion. The offer is that he will box Slaven with gloves for a limited number of rounds, the winner to get a $5,000 purse.

Rioters Killed in Portugal.

LISBON, March 5.—A serious riot took place at Setubal. The military were called out to disperse the rioters and restore order. They fired into the crowd, killing two and injuring twenty others.

An Administrator Suing for Damages.

BRISTOL, R. I., March 5.—There is now on trial before the Supreme Court here a damage suit for $20,000 brought by the administrator of the estate of Chas. Newman against the Heresdoff Co. Newman was a fireman on the yacht "Say When," which exploded her boiler Dec. 8, 1888, while in Bristol Bay undergoing a trial for speed. Newman was seriously scalded by the explosion and died soon afterward.

Nominations by Gov. Abbett.

TRENTON, N. J., March 5.—Gov. Abbett sent the following nominations to the Senate: For Quartermaster-General of the State, Richard A. Donelly, of Mercer; for Law Judge of Essex, Andrew Kirkpatrick; for State Prison Inspector, George A. Heaney, of Hudson; for Harbor Master at Elizabeth, John Driscoll, of Union.

A Stove Manufacturer Disappears.

PITTSBURG, March 5.—David Harris, who was the first president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, disappeared Saturday and his friends are getting very uneasy about him.

The Republican League Convention.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 5.—The National Republican League Convention met again at 10 o'clock to-day. Cincinnati will in all probability be selected as the next place of meeting.

A Society Beauty Married.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Miss Mabel Wright, the noted beauty and society leader, was married to Fernando Ysnaga. The couple sailed for Europe.

Young Lincoln's Condition.

LONDON, March 5.—This morning young Lincoln was in the same critical condition and little hope was entertained that he would live.

RAGING WATERS.

The Ohio River Over Fifty Miles Wide at Cairo.

CAIRO, Ill., March 5.—The people in this vicinity are considerably agitated on account of floods. The Ohio River is now over fifty miles wide at this point. It extends from the Cairo levee which holds it banked up forty feet above the lower water mark in Kentucky till it strikes the hills there, forming one solid sheet of water except for the narrow strips of rock-bound earth upon which the Mobile and Ohio and Illinois Central railroads run south. A mile below here it joins the Mississippi, which in turn extends into Missouri another fifty miles, making the combined width of the two rivers over one hundred miles.

The current is terrific and brings great quantities of heavy drift which makes navigation perilous.

At Paducah, Ky., fifty miles up the Ohio, there is much uneasiness. The city is not protected by levees, as Cairo, and in 1882 was flooded to the depth of six feet. Already the water has reached within a few feet of the door of the Richmond House, which stands on the river front, and the two great tobacco warehouses are flooded. Ten thousand hogsheads of tobacco stored in them were removed last week.

INVITED TO SIBERIA.

The Czar Sends an Invitation to an American Correspondent to Visit Russia.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Col. Perry S. Heath, the well known correspondent and author of "A Hoosier in Russia," has received an invitation from the Russian Government, and the offer of a "royal pass" to visit Russia and Siberia, and accompany the Duke Alexis, the commander of the Russian army, and heir apparent to the throne, on a tour through Siberia next summer.

The invitation is extended to Colonel Heath, so as to afford him an opportunity of inspecting and presenting to the people of the United States, and to the world, a true statement of the management of the Siberian prisoners and the exile system. Col. Heath has the invitation under consideration, and is disposed at the outset to accept it, but has not yet positively decided whether or not he will do so.

Orders from Railroad Commissioners.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 5.—In the matter of the collision at Oswego on the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad on January 30, by which one man was killed and several others injured, the Railroad Commissioners have ordered that the rear trainmen on all passenger trains be required to remain on the rear car, with instructions to be ready at all times to protect their car. The road is censured for employing so young an operator as that at Waverly.

Celebrating Robert Emmet's Birth.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Gov. Leon Abbett, of New Jersey, presided at a meeting in Cooper Union last night, held under the auspices of the Clan-na-Gael, to celebrate the 112th anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmet. He said he considered it a great honor to be chosen as their chairman, and made a speech eulogizing the Irish people and predicting their self government.

CHARTER ELECTIONS.

Result of the Vote in Several Cities in New York State.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 5.—The charter election here resulted in the election of Edward Mitchell (Dem.) for Mayor over Dr. J. K. Stockwell (Rep.) by 180. The Democrats elect four out of eight aldermen and four out of eight supervisors.

Mayor Parsons Defeated.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 5.—Mayor Parsons, after serving as Mayor of Rochester 14 years, was beaten by William Carroll, (Dem.), by 336 plurality. The victory of Carroll was a complete surprise to almost every one. Mayor Parsons has been bitterly assailed for alleged complicity in defaulting City Treasurer Davis' affairs, but though this may have hurt him, it was over confidence that beat him. Barnard (Dem.) was elected a member of the Executive Board.

The Vote in Auburn.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 5.—The charter election in this city resulted en the selection of Orlando Lewis and Y. K. Smith for Police Commissioners with the remainder of the city ticket by about 600 Republican majority. Alexander Stevens, (Rep.) for City Assessor, ran ahead of his ticket by about 1,000 majority.

Result in Newburgh.

RUMORED OF ROYALTY.

THE Sultan of Morocco reads the newspapers and subscribes to several published in Turkey, Egypt and Tunis.

PRINCE GEORGE, of Wales, is the only member of the English royal family who speaks the language of his country without a foreign accent.

EMPEROR WILLIAM, of Germany, who is fond of hunting, is obliged to use a short gun made especially for him, as he has the use of only one hand. He uses his rifle as he would a pistol.

THE King of Italy has given up smoking. He used to smoke all day long and got a disorder of the bronchial tubes in consequence. He now sucks toothpicks filled with camphor and is said to enjoy them.

THE Queen Regent of Spain has caused advertisements to be published in all the leading newspapers of her dominions, offering two prizes, $5,790 and $2,895, for the two best essays on the life of Christopher Columbus.

KING OTTO, of Bavaria, receives 1,331,044 marks, or a little over a million dollars, a year, from which $350,000 is deducted to pay off the debts of his predecessor, King Ludwig. How large those debts are may be inferred from the fact that it will take fifteen years to wipe them out entirely.

IT is made known that the Queen of England wears 7½ gloves; always black; with only four buttons. She uses about two dozen pairs a year, and they cost eight shillings and sixpence per pair. All of which is respectfully submitted to the consideration of an interested world.

THE Prince of Wales, who used to be a constant shopper, has had to give it up. All his purchases now are sent to Marlborough House or to Sandringham. He is very popular with the shopkeepers, never leaving a shop without raising his hat and "thanking them very much."

NEITHER Queen Victoria nor the Princess of Wales ever carries money about with her; and they are frequently subject to awkward and sometimes amusing contretemps in consequence.

HIS FIGHT FOR LIFE

Preparing for the Preliminary Trial of Isaac Sawtelle.

POINTS THAT WILL BE URGED.

The State Must Prove that the Body Found Was that of Hiram Sawtelle.

An Effort Will be Made to Force the Prosecution to Show Its Hand—Still Searching for the Head of Hiram Sawtelle—Strange Things Found in the Well. Police Officers Puzzled.

ROCHESTER, N. H., March 6.—Isaac B. Sawtelle's preliminary arraignment for the murder of his brother is to take place here next Wednesday.

Isaac's counsel proposes to make a fight from the start. One of them, James A. Edgerly, of Great Falls, told a reporter that they proposed if possible to make the Government show—first, that the body found in the woods of Berwick was that of Hiram F. Sawtelle beyond reasonable doubt; second, that if the body found was that of Hiram Sawtelle a murder was committed; third, that if a murder was committed, where and when and how was it done and whether in Maine or New Hampshire; fourth, that if a murder was committed in Maine of New Hampshire was Isaac B. Sawtelle the man who performed the act. In other words, they will attempt to make the prosecution show its entire hand to them.

It is quite likely that the justice will decline to permit this and will be satisfied with a probable cause to hold Isaac to the grand jury. The defense can make a fight on the question of identification and the place where the murder was committed. This is probably what will be done.

The party searching for the head of Hiram Sawtelle last evening pumped out the water in the well near where the body was found. They found a short piece of bagging, some rocks of the same kind as on a stone wall near by and a big piece of board similar to that of which an old shanty close by is built. A piece of wood was also found sticking up from the bottom. It was a white birch stick like that found near the body. The officers are puzzled regarding the strange presence of these things in the well.

BIRCHELL IS BRAVE.

He Faces the Crowd Dressed in His Best Suit of Clothes.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 6.—J. Rex Birchell, who figured in Canada two years ago as Lord Somerset, and who is charged with the murder of F. C. Benwell, a fellow Englishman, appeared in court dressed in the height of fashion and cool enough in spite of the staring crowd.

Chief Young of the Ontario police said that the keys of the murdered man's trunk, now in the Metropolitan Hotel in New York, had been found in Birchell's possession. He also testified that Birchell said he could not recognize Benwell's clothes from a photograph taken after death, while Pelly recognized them and said they were made of odd material, and his person could not be mistaken. The case was adjourned till the 12th.

Sick Mill Strikers Make Trouble.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 6.—One hundred employes of Sulzbach, Weinige & Co.'s silk mills at College Point are on strike because one of their number had been unjustly discharged. The strikers yesterday paraded the streets and prevented new hands from going to work. In the evening the factory windows were smashed with stones and other missiles. The factory is protected to-day by a sheriff's posse.

No Settlement of the Nashua Strike.

NASHUA, N. H., March 6.—The proposition submitted to the operatives of the Nashua Company by Messrs. Spalding and Caldwell was discussed at a meeting held in the forenoon. The proposition was that the operatives return to work at once, pending an adjustment of the matter. An agreement was not reached and the trouble is as far from adjustment as ever.

A Bishop on Trial.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The trial of Bishop Thomas Bowman, of the Evangelical denomination, commenced at Emanuel Church before a trial committee of fifteen ministers from the Pittsburg, Des Moines, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois conference. The charge is unchristian conduct, similar to that prefered against Bishop Esher at Shamokin. Bishop Bowman is East and ignores the proceedings.

Pittsburg Bucket Shop War.

PITTSBURG, March 6.—An open warfare has been begun between the members of the Exchange and the bucket shops here. The Exchange men say that the shops must go, as their operations are killing regular business, while bucket shop operators declare defiance as long as they can get Western Union quotations.

No Hope for the Imprisoned Miners.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 6.—Another rescuing party went into the South Wilkesbarre mine, but returned, reporting that no trace of the missing miners could be found. The officials have abandoned all hope of finding them and the mine is being flooded as rapidly as possible.

Found Dead in Bed.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Capt. A. S. Cloke, a prominent lawyer of Jersey City, was found dead in his bed at the Philadelphia Hotel in that city. Death resulted from natural causes.

VOTERS IN DEMAND.

Naturalized Aliens Who Will be Challenged at the Polls in Maine.

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 6.—An order was introduced in the board of aldermen to have stricken from the voting list five hundred names of voters whose naturalization papers were procured in the Biddeford or Saco Municipal Court. This action was brought about because of a recent ruling by Judge Webb of the United States District Court declaring that the Biddeford Municipal Court has no right to naturalize aliens. Some of those whose names are included in the list are candidates for ward offices at the city election.

The Republican Aldermen voted in favor of the order, but the Democratic majority defeated its passage. The five hundred will be challenged at the election on Monday next and an appeal made to the United States Supreme Court. The matter creates great excitement here. The balance of power lies in the list of voters whose names were submitted to the board of aldermen.

MINNICK RELEASED.

The Effort to Establish His Insanity a Failure and He is Discharged.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 6.—William Minnick, a citizen of Braddock, recently confined in Dixmont Asylum for Insane, under very peculiar circumstances, was before Judge White in Common Pleas Court, under habeas corpus proceedings, for examination as to his insanity by the court. A large number of witnesses, together with the accused, testified. The effort to establish Mr. Minnick's insanity was a failure and he was discharged from custody.

The case was first brought to public attention by Robert J. Cunningham, a newspaper representative, and owing to the prominence of the interested parties the case has excited widespread interest.

The Stuhr-McDonald Contest.

TRENTON, N. J., March 6.—The Senate Committee finished the recount of the Hudson County ballot cast in the Senatorial election on the contest of W. H. Stuhr against the present Senator, Edward F. McDonald. The official returns show that Mr. McDonald received 24,822 votes and Stuhr 16,502. The recount gave McDonald 24,743, which includes 1,744 "jokers" or fraudulent votes and Stuhr 16,898. If the committee throw out the precincts where fraud was detected it will still give McDonald a majority of 2,544.

Summer Drink Syndicate.

BOSTON, March 6.—An English syndicate is said to be making overtures for the purchase of the four firms in the United States now controlling the manufacture of soda water and beer apparatus, and the manufacture of extracts, syrups, and everything pertaining to the production of soda water and kindred beverages. The amount of capital involved is said to be between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000.

Pittsfield's School Difficulty.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., March 6.—The trouble in the High School has been settled by the Catholic pupils returning and all bringing excuses, which were accepted by recommendation from the School Committee to Principal Welch. The history class is going on with its work on the reformation, using different text books, including Myers' and Anderson's.

The School Trustee Resigns.

NEW YORK, March 6.—School Trustee Tinsdale, against whom charges of misconduct in office were pending, resigned his position to-day. The charges were brought by Principal Sutherland and Miss Lewis, a teacher, in regard to whom Mr. Tinsdale has made scandalous statements which are now being investigated.

Suicide of a Boston Military Man.

BOSTON, March 6.—Despondency owing to ill health caused John Brooks Parker to commit suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. He was prominent in the Massachusetts militia, and an aid-de-camp with the rank of captain on the staff of Brigadier General Peach, Jr., commander of the Second Brigade.

Sanitary Pottery Burned.

TRENTON, N. J., March 6.—The large sanitary pottery of Maddock Sons & Co. was burned last night. Loss $100,000. The adjoining pottery of John Moses was partly destroyed; loss $40,000. The insurance is partial. Thomas Boyd was fatally and ten other firemen less seriously injured by a falling roof.

The Judge Sends a Physician.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Dr. O. J. Ward, the medical expert who was sent by Judge Barrett to examine the bodily condition of Mrs. Mary A. Flack at Newburgh, reported that she was in ordinary good health and could attend court as a witness on the trial of her husband, Sheriff Flack, for conspiracy.

Didn't Know it Was Loaded.

BALTIMORE, March 6.—Albert Zhue, aged 14, residing in Franklinville, Carroll County, playfully pointed a gun at his five-year-old brother, making a joking remark as he did so. The weapon was discharged, killing the boy instantly.

The Engineer Was Rattled.

SARATOGA, N. Y., March 6.—Engineer Shurtlief lost control of his train going down the hill near Mechanicsville on the Fitchburg road, and fearing a wreck leaped from the engine. His neck was broken by the fall. The fireman stopped the train without damage.

Farm Property Burned.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., March 6.—Orsin Wright's house and barns in Franklin with a quantity of hay and 30 cows, were burned early in the morning. A house belonging to Sandford Crook was also burned. Cause unknown.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Gigantic Features of the Proposed North River Bridge.

ENGINEER LINDENTHAL'S PLAN.

Cables Four Feet in Diameter and Towers 500 Feet High.

A Large Petition Opposing the Sunday Rest Bill—Flowers for Senator Allison. Taulbee's Condition Not So Good—The Pan-American Delegates Not Favorable to Customs Union.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Engineer Lindenthal, who designed the projected bridge across the Hudson River at New York, explained to a sub-committee of the House Committee on Commerce the details of the proposed structure.

Mr. Lindenthal said that it has been his task for the past five years to convince the public, and particularly capitalists, of the feasibility of his plan of throwing a single span bridge 3,000 feet long across the Hudson River, a plan which no other engineer had the courage or ability to put forward. As a result of his work he had secured the endorsement of the American Society of Civil Engineers and had gotten the support of capital for the construction of a bridge which in itself would cost $16,000,000.

In conclusion, and in answer to questions, Mr. Lindenthal gave some interesting statistics relating to the bridge. Its central span would rise and fall eight feet owing to the changes of temperature. The anchorage would be half as large as the Capitol at Washington, and would contain fifty per cent. more masonry than the largest of the Egyptian pyramids. The cables would be four feet in diameter—the Brooklyn Bridge cables are fifteen inches—and the towers would be 500 feet high. The bridge proper would accommodate ten railway tracks. Foot passengers could be lifted up into its level by elevators in the anchorages, but if it was desired to provide for the passage of vehicles they would have to ascend the Palisades to reach its level.

Customs Union Not Practicable.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Pan-American Conference deems the adoption of a customs union as impracticable. They propose to recommend, however, to such of the Governments as may desire partial reciprocity, to make commercial treaties, with one or more of the American countries under such a basis as may be acceptable in each case. The minority report recommends the rejection of the whole subject.

Flowers for Senator Allison.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Two very handsome floral tributes were sent to Senator Allison by the employes of the Senate. One basket, composed of roses and violets exquisitely arranged, was fully four feet long. The flowers decorated Mr. Allison's desk for some time.

The Figures Cut Down.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The River and Harbor Committee of the House has finally agreed to allow in the bill it is preparing appropriations of 40 per cent on the government engineers' estimates. The last bill gave an allowance of 33 per cent.

Opposing the Sunday Rest Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—In the Senate Mr. Stockbridge presented petitions said to have 300,000 signatures of adult citizens of the United States against the passage of the Sundry Rest bill.

Taulbee's Condition.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Ex-Congressman Taulbee's condition is much worse to-day and more serious than it has been since he was shot.

Democratic Nominations in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 6.—The following nominations were made by the Democratic State Convention: For Governor, John W. Davis of Pawtucket; Lieut-Gov. W. P. C. Wardwell of Bristol; Secretary of State, E. D. McGuiness, of Providence; Attorney-General, Z. O. Slocum; State Treasurer, John G. Perry, of Kingstown. The platform endorses the principles of tariff reform as enunciated by ex-President Cleveland in his official utterances, and demand the abolition of customs tax on raw material; diversified industries should no longer be compelled to languish under the oppression of a war tax to enrich an overflowing Treasury and gratify the stupidity of unscrupulous legislators.

Advance in the Price of Rubber.

BOSTON, March 6.—A meeting of rubber boot and shoe manufacturers was held here, all the large concerns in the country being represented. A new schedule of prices was agreed upon for April 1 which makes practically a 10 per cent. advance over present prices on all grades of goods. The advance is due to the increased cost of crude rubber, and unless the latter declines there will probably be a still further advance of prices for manufactured goods.

The Freestone Cutters' Reply.

BOSTON, March 6.—The reply of the freestone cutters to the proposition made by the contractors will probably be ready to-morrow.

No Change in Saratoga County.

SARATOGA, N. Y., March 6.—The Board of Supervisors in this county stands the same as last year: Republicans 16, Democrats 4.

Fast Day in Maine.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 6.—The Governor has appointed April 17th as fast day.

—The Elizabeth Journal may improve also in its spelling by careful attention to the columns of THE PRESS. There is only one "r" in the name of Hering, the present supervising engineer of the Plainfield Water Works.

—A middle-aged man, a commercial traveler by occupation, was arrested in North Plainfield last evening, for creating a nuisance. Mayor Cooley subsequently ordered the man's release upon the payment of costs.

Mr. Staats will on May 1, open a Summer boarding house at Chatham, where he met with success last Summer.

—One of the handsomest homes in Washington Park, is for sale. Mr. E. J. Waring is going to give up his large establishment, sell his horses and also his residence place at the corner of Myrtle and Giraud avenues. The grounds extend over three acres laid out in fine lawns with fruit and shade trees

Remember that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has no equal as a specific for colds, coughs, and all affections of the throat and lungs. For nearly half a century it has been in greater demand than any other remedy for pulmonary complaints. All druggists have it for sale.

JOHN SPENCER'S FALL.

Was There Another Here to Blame Than He?

The sudden disappearance of John L. Spencer of Scotch Plains, under circumstances and leaving traces that mark him a defaulter and a forger, has been known to THE PRESS for some days but nothing has been said of it in these columns for his family's sake and because of the possibility that he might return and explain away the wicked look of things.

All such expectation, however, is futile now. He is without doubt an absconder and worse. Even his brother, Collector Newton Spencer of North Plainfield—who has the sympathy of all, and who has not lost one bit of the esteem of everybody because of his brother's faults—is obliged to confess that the evidence is plain and overwhelming. "John Spencer's forgeries" as they are called—although he had not the ability in penmanship to write his own name with care—have victimized principally the First National Bank of this city; while Freeholder Wm. E. Jones and Elias Allen who were joint executors with Spencer in the settlement of his father's estate, Joseph Cutter and others of Spencer's friends, are losers of amounts ranging from fifty to five hundred dollars obtained as loans or in other ways.

It seems probable that somebody has dragged Spencer into speculation that has brought financial difficulty; and probably that somebody assisted in drawing the forged notes. Spencer leaves a wife and adopted daughter. The amount of his defalcation is variously estimated at sums ranging from $5,000 to $20,000.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The wife of Mr. Edward Campbell of Orchard place, is confined to the house by illness.

Among those who are ill of scarlet fever in Plainfield just now, is the infant child of Mr. John Mortimer.

Mr. Townsend H. Fellows, baritone, of Albany, N. Y., will sing at the Vocal Society concert in Music Hall, this evening.

There was a large attendance at the late Isaac Brokaw's funeral this afternoon, the particulars of which will appear to-morrow.

It is reported that Mr. Frank Vosseller, formerly of this city, but now of Chicago, Ill., was recently married to a very wealthy lady of that place.

It is Dr. Randolph Titsworth who is lying ill of pneumonia at home on East Front street, and not Mr. Rudolph M Titsworth of Seventh street.

Mrs. Isaac Brokaw has received from Unity Lodge, No. 102, Knights of Pythias the funeral benefit of $100 together with the sympathy of the Lodge in her great loss.

Mr. Harry F. Moore of Grove street, was last evening elected a trustee of the Crescent League to fill the unexpired two-year term of Mr. A. W. Waldron, resigned.

Mr. Ed. Marble—to whose gratuitous efforts, earnest sympathy and unequalled ability, was due most of the success of the late minstrel entertainment by the Crescent League—has been presented by the members with a purse of $50.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Haynes, of this city, are grandparents now. A little girl was born last Tuesday to their son, John C. Haynes, at his home in Annandale. The child represents the fifth living generation. Her great, great grandfather is living hale and hearty at the age of 90, and she has one or two great grandparents and lots of other grandparents besides.

To-night's Programme.

The concert of the Choral Society in Music Hall, this evening, will prove the most popular of the series. The music selected is of a nature to more thoroughly please an audience in general.

The songs for ladies' voices will be, "The Angel." by Rubenstein, and "To Daffodils," by Foote. The male voices will sing "Rose Marie" and "Oft in the Stilly Night," by Fitzhugh. The part songs will include Strelezki's "Dreams," as promised in THE PRESS, arranged especially for the Plainfield Choral Society by Mr. Fitzhugh; and also Mendelssohn's XIIIth Psalm; "Lord Ullin's Daughter," by Jackson; "The Boatman's Goodnight" by Shira; "Sweete Floweres," by Walmisley; "Three Doughtie Men" by Pearson.

To Open With Pumpkin Pie and Beans.

The grand fair, or Household Bazaar, for which the ladies of the Crescent Avenue church have been working for months, will be held in the new chapel on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 27, 28 and 29. It will open on Thursday evening with a New England supper, and there will be various attractions every day, and music every evening.

Only Intended as a Joke.

Mr. Andrew Zeller of Washington Valley, drove down to this city with a party of friends, last evening, and about ten o'clock, when he was ready to return home, he found that the party had started off without him. He sought the police to have his friends arrested, but they were powerless to act in the matter.

GROWTH OF 72 YEARS

STORY OF AN OLD MEETING HOUSE.

The Re-opening of the First Baptist Church Suggests It.

The re-opening of the elegant auditorium of the First Baptist church last Sunday, says the Central Times has awakened in the mind of a life long member of the church some reminiscences of the former house of worship, which served the congregation for fifty years. He has furnished us with the story which will be found interesting to the members of the church and others just at this time, showing as it does how the glory of the latter house exceeds that of the former.

The original meeting house of the First Baptist church was built during the Summer and Fall of 1818. It was a frame structure 42x48 feet in size with 22 feet posts, all enclosed and covered with cedar shingles painted white, except the rear, which was brown and the roof of slate color. There were three doorways, and as many windows over them, in the front. All the windows of the house were without blinds or shades. The building stood partly on the same site of the present church with the gable end to the street.

The interior was equally plain, with whitewashed walls and half arched ceiling. There were fifty-five pews on the ground floor with high backs and doors, but no cushions. The pulpit was located in the front part and galleries extended on both sides. The room was heated by two iron box stoves, burning wood. The only illumination at night meetings was the old familiar light of other days, the plain tallow candles held in brackets on the gallery posts. There was no carpet on the floor, but clean white sand was sprinkled in the aisles.

The first alteration to this house was made in 1837 at a cost of $1,400. An extension of fifteen feet was added to the rear, making the building 63 feet long and affording sixteen more pews. The windows, hitherto unprotected, had "blind shutters" attached, and the whole building was repainted.

Before these improvements had been decided upon, the trustees were negotiating for an exchange with the Seventh Day Baptist society, owning a lot on the corner of Third and Centre streets, and upon which they were about to build a church. The First church offered its meeting house and half of the ground for the Third street lot and $2,500 cash. The proposition not meeting with approval from the Seventh Day people (by a difference of $500) the above changes were agreed upon.

The second alteration to the old church was made in 1843-4, and consisted in a thorough reconstruction of the interior and a complete transformation of the exterior at an expense of $2,350. A basement room was built under the rear of the house for use of the Sunday school, and for devotional services during week-day evenings. A colonnade was erected in front on a broad stone platform ten feet wide, the entablature being supported on four large square columns. Surmounting the pediment was a tower in which was hung a bell, still in service.

For ten years previous, the bell of the Classical Institute, on the opposite side of the street, had been used for calling the congregation together. To give the appearance of additional height, since the length of the building had been increased, a panelled balustrade three feet high was built all along the eaves of the house. The whole edifice, inside and out, was repainted at this time. The interior alterations entirely changed the appearance of the room. The pews were reversed to face the new pulpit placed in the rear of the house. The old pulpit was put down stairs in the lecture room, in the basement. The arched ceiling was removed for a flat surface and chandeliers were pendent therefrom, supporting solar lamps. Carpets were introduced into some of the pews and an occasional cushion at the occupant's expense. The box stoves were replaced by cylinder coal stoves, and two years later a hot air furnace was put in the basement for additional heat. In 1856-7 a new pipe organ was built in the church to the comfort and discomfort of many parishioners.

In 1861 the audience room was lighted with gas, and in 1864 the gallery seats reconstructed and rented, which was the last alteration made to the old meeting house until it was moved away a few years later to give place to the stone structure of today. The original building, erected in 1818, cost $3,500. The present church, completed in 1869, cost $75,000 and has had no extended repairs or alterations till these improvements of 1890.

A Religious Dedicatory Service.

The meeting of the Young People's Association of the Crescent Avenue church on Friday evening, being the first to be held in the new chapel, it has been thought best to postpone the regular Bible study one week and have a meeting appropriate to the new building The subject will be the XIIIth chapter of 1st Corinthians. Mr. W. D. Murray will lead. All are invited.

Stuck in the Mud.

A five-ton boiler which is to be used by the Plainfield Water Works company at its plant at Netherwood, got stuck in the mud while being transferred from a car at the freight house to the company's land, on Tuesday. The boiler finally arrived at its destination and will be placed in position as soon as the work on the new building will permit.

MR. SCHOONMAKER SAYS

FURTHER AGITATION OF THE STRIFE OF PAROCHIAL vs PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Does Bishop Wigger's Alleged "Order" Prove the Coercion of the Catholics?—The State Board of Education, However, Can Accomplish Nothing in the Matter.

It is represented says the Somerville Democrat, that the State Board of Education is about to suggest an amendment to the Constitution of New Jersey, so that Roman Catholics may exercise the same privilege that other citizens possess concerning the education of their children. This suggestion has received additional force by reason of the order recently issued by Bishop Wigger. The parishioners at Newark were informed that they must take their children from the public schools of that city, and send them to the parochial schools, under penalty of excommunication and denial of absolution in case of failure to comply with the command of the Pope. This order has been received with loud protestations of disapprobation from numerous Roman Catholic parents.

Mr. Francis X. Schoonmaker, who is one of the Trustees of the State Normal School, and by the statute, a member of the State Board of Education, made a speech at the Plainfield High School commencement last June, in which he announced the intention of the State Board concerning the proposed Constitutional amendment. This announcement excited a bitter personal controversy between Mr. Schoonmaker and the Rev. P. E. Smyth, pastor of St. Mary's parish in Plainfield, and also Superintendent of the Plainfield Parochial Schools. Father Smythe acknowledged the spiritual sovereignty of the Pope at Rome, and the temporal sovereignty of the Pope over all followers of the Roman Catholic church. Mr Schoonmaker sought to get the priest to declare, "that the Pope was the admitted dominant power over all good Catholics, and that at an important church crisis, his decree was more binding to Roman Catholics in America than were American governmental decrees themselves." He had been endeavoring to establish the fact that Roman Catholics, under whatever national flag, considered their first allegiance to be due to the Pope. Just as he was about to compel this admission, Father Smythe ceased his controversy, presumably through the orders of his Bishop. The father had already acknowledged that as "dutiful children of the church," Roman Catholics ought to patronize the parochial schools. He had not, however, acknowledged that a disobedience of the decree to patronize parochial schools to the exclusion of public schools, would be followed by rigid disciplining, extending even as far as excommunication and denial of absolution. The controversy, as far as it progressed, led to an expression of views by many Roman Catholics. "Some boasted that they could do as they pleased, but that the preference was invariably with the Roman schools; but there were more who protested that they preferred the public schools, but were afraid to indicate and to exercise that preference for fear of priestly wrath."

In a recent interview Mr. Schoonmaker said:

I hold that Roman Catholics are coerced into the compulsory sending of their children to the parochial schools, and into abstaining altogether from public school patronage. The Pope does not approve of sending children to public schools, because in them neither the spiritual nor the temporal sovereignty of the Pope is taught, while in the parochial schools the doctrine instilled into the pupils' minds is full of Papal sovereignty, both spiritual and temporal. From this mighty foreign potentate comes the edict, "Send none of your children to any but the parochial schools"—and the edict is obeyed. To my own personal knowledge there are many Roman Catholics who believe the public schools vastly superior to the schools of their own church. There is better grading, a broader and more careful selection of teachers with regard to their especial fitness to impart information, more thorough general instruction. They would like to avail themselves of the public school advantages, but they dare not. The results would be portentous of evil to their souls.

Mr. Schoonmaker also says that: "The proposed amendment to the State Constitution will seek to prevent coercion. It will give to all parents the right to exercise their liberty of conscience and of judgment by making it unlawful for any power, foreign or local, to use dictation or coercion, to enforce attendance at any particular school, or to compel absence from the public or other schools." The Constitution says that "the Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all the children in this State between the ages of five and eighteen years." Compulsory education is upon our statute books, but it extends only to the age of fifteen years.

The last clause of Article IX of the Constitution says, that "no amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the people by the Legislature oftener than once in five years." There are three amendments before the Legislature of 1890, and they are regarded as essential to the efficient working of the State Government. If any or all of them are passed at this session, they are to be submitted to the people at a special election, at least four months after the adjournment of the Legislature. It thus appears that the proposed amendment for school purposes could not come up for a popular vote before 1895.

We are not forcibly impressed by the proposed amendment. There is now liberty of choice for Roman Catholics. They have sent their children to our public schools because they are better than their own schools. Of what practical use can the proposed amendment become?

WHY WERE THEY DISCHARGED?

Freeholder Kyte Accused of Maladministration of Justice.

Justice George Kyte of Scotch Plains, a member of the Board of Freeholders of this county, is charged by an irresponsible New York paper with malfeasance in office.

The story is that Mrs. Benj. Buck of New Providence, went before Justice Kelly and made a complaint charging four young men of Scotch Plains with breaking and entering her house and with attempting to assault her. It is charged they beat her husband, who was trying to protect her, till he was insensible. The children in an adjoining room became almost frantic.

Saturday Mr. Buck, propped up in a carriage with pillows, was driven to Justice Kelly's office. He obtained a warrant and Tuesday Constable McGrath went to Scotch Plains and arrested three of the four accused. They demanded a hearing and were taken before George Kyte, a resident Justice. Mrs. Buck and her husband also appeared to press the complaint. The story goes on to say: "The Justice, without swearing one of the prisoners, ordered them discharged. Two of the young men are the sons of prominent residents of Scotch Plains."

"Resolved, That the President of this Board forthwith certify to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield that the amount or sum of twenty-five hundred dollars will be required in the year 1890 for the maintenance of said Library and Reading Room."

Coughing

IS Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."—Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

YOUNG LINCOLN DEAD

After Months of Suffering He Passes Away.

A LONG FIGHT FOR HIS LIFE.

The Remains to be Brought to this Country for Burial.

Serious Riot at Johannisburg—Pugilist Mitchell Arrested for a Murderous Assault—Boycotting British Goods in London—How Harrington Obtained the Key to the Cipher Telegrams.

LONDON, March 6.—The death of Master Abraham Lincoln has caused great sorrow among the American residents of this city. On receipt of the news the Queen sent to Minister Lincoln a message of sympathy and condolence.

For a time previous to his death the young sufferer was entirely free from pain. All the members of Minister Lincoln's family were present at the bedside.

It has been decided that the body shall for the present be entombed in a vault in London, where it will remain until such time as Minister and Mrs. Lincoln shall be able to accompany it to the United States for burial.

A funeral service will be held at the residence of Minister Lincoln tomorrow, at which no one will be present but intimate friends and the members of the American Legation. Mr. Lincoln is desirous that the strictest privacy and simplicity in conducting the funeral shall be observed. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln are bearing up bravely.

[Young Abraham Lincoln was born in Chicago in 1871. He was handsome, manly and intelligent. He was an intelectual lad and fond of books, though fond of outdoor sports also. His character was mature and he had that seriousness that was characteristic of his grandfather. He was deliberate in his speech and actions. He had much of the Lincoln temperament. The boy was never called "Abe." There was a sort of a reverent feeling in the family for the name "Abraham" which would not have suited for the familiar intercourse of the house, so he was called "Jack" by his father and mother and others who knew him. He was especially fond of the history of the late war and would lie on the floor of his father's library by the hour with an open book and war maps spread out before him studying the plans of the great battles, and he liked to discuss this situation or that in which General Grant or other officers had found themselves.]

President Harrison's Condolence.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The President has sent a message of condolence to Minister Lincoln.

TIRARD TO RESIGN.

What He Said and Speculations as to the Future Cabinet Possibilities.

PARIS, March 6.— The politicians are talking very freely of the expected resignation of M. Tirard and the dissolution of the Ministry.

It is currently believed that a Cabinet will then be formed by M. Meline, simply for the purpose of dealing with urgent matters of practical legislation, and that this will retire after serving its end, and will be followed by a permanent Cabinet under the premiership of M. Constans, the Minister whose withdrawal has stirred up all this fuss. The fact that M. Tirard has induced the Radicals in his Cabinet to retain office is considered a sign of the greatest weakness.

M. Tirard, at a meeting of the Customs Commission of the Chamber of Deputies, said he expected to tender his resignation in writing to President Carnot to-day.

Pugilist Charley Mitchell Arrested.

LONDON, March, 6.—Pugilist Goode, the middle-weight, who was recently defeated in a glove fight with Toff Wall at the Pelican Club, quarreled with Charley Mitchell, while drinking at the house of a well-known sporting man named Baird. During a clinch both men fell down a flight of stairs. Baird urged Mitchell to punch Goode, and Mitchell seizing a poker smashed Goode on the head twice, inflicting serious injuries. Goode is in the hospital and Mitchell has been arrested.

The McKinley Bill.

PARIS, March 6.—M. Lecomte, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, had an interview with M. Spuller, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in which he represented the disadvantage the French dry goods trade would suffer from the adoption by the American Congress by the "McKinley bill." M. Spuller stated that France, England, Italy and Switzerland had agreed to communicate with Washington in regard to the matter.

Serious Riot.

LONDON, March 6.—Advices from the Transvaal state that a serious riot has occurred at Johannesburg. President Kruger attempted to deliver a speech, but was prevented by the crowd, who organized a mass meeting, denounced the Transvaal Government and tore the flags from the Government buildings.

Harrington's Cipher Key.

LONDON, March 6.—Timothy Harrington denies the statement that Archbishop Walsh was chiefly instrumental in discovering the key to the cipher telegrams which he read in the House of Commons. It was Edgar Allen Poe's tale, "The Gold Bug," that assisted him in deciphering the telegrams.

Boycotting British Goods.

RIO JANEIRO, March 6.—Leagues have been formed among the merchants of Rio Janeiro, Bahia, Para, Santos and Pernambuco with the object of boycotting British goods in favor of American products.

Catholic Bank in Paris.

PARIS, March 6.—The announcement is made that a Catholic bank will be established in Paris very shortly. The institution has the sanction of the Pope and will have a capital of 2,000,000 francs.

Will Not Wait for the Election.

PARIS, March 6.—Le Temps has information from Rio Janeiro that the Brazilian Government has resolved to promulgate a new constitution without awaiting the election, assembling and action of a constituent Parliament.

The Valkyrie Only Waiting.

LONDON, March 6.—It is stated that Earl Dunraven is ready to sail the Valkyrie across the Atlantic if the New York Yacht Club will accept the challenge.

THE LEAGUE MAGNATES.

Baseball Men Don't Know Whether to Have a Ten Club League or Not.

CLEVELAND, O., March 6.—John T. Brush, of the Indianapolis Club, was in a state of suppressed excitement, as rumors were afloat that Washington would go out of the League and that his club would be compelled to follow.

Manager Leadley of Detroit said that his club would be willing to buy the Washington franchise and pay well for it, but he has no chance of being admitted to the League.

There seems to be an opinion that a ten team league would be unwieldy and that some one of the teams would be compelled to remain idle.

The magnates believe they have trouble enough on their hands now and have no desire to bring about a row.

The schedule given has created much dissatisfaction, especially to Cleveland. President Stern, of Detroit, called on Al Johnson and asked admission to the Brotherhood, offering to put up a $25,000 bond.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATION.

Both Branches Adjourn Until Monday After Passing a Number of Bills.

TRENTON, N.J., March 6.—The Senate passed a batch of bills before adjourning for the week, the most important being the one appropriating $25,000 to the State Industrial School for Girls, in order to secure a new building. Among the others were the following: Fixing the fees of comptrollers in cities of the first class; giving finance boards power to appropriate additional amounts for collecting garbage; extending to Hebrew organizations the benefits of the act for the incorporation of religious societies; repealing the act prohibitlng the shooting of English hare; allowing cities of the second class to add 15 men to their police force.

The House passed the following bills: Making it necessary for any organization using the streets of first and second class cities on which to parade to give notice to the Chief of Police of the route of parade; enlarging the territorial limits of the borough of Rutherford and setting the same off from the township of Union; House 174, providing that in townships where any voter lives four miles from the polling place an additional polling precinct shall be created; House 238, giving authorities of towns, boroughs or townships power to abate, revise, adjust and settle all arrearages of taxes and all sales for arrearages of taxes.

Carpet Looms to Stop Work.

BOSTON, March 6.—The intensity of the depression which prevails in the ingrain carpet making industry has resulted in a concerted effort by manufacturers to devise means for relief. A committee appointed some weeks since by the Manufacturers' Association has received sufficient support to warrant them in advising a stoppage of 25 per cent. of the looms now in operation for nine months. There is every reason to believe the recommendations will be put in execution. The first of April is mentioned as the date for shutting down, the time expiring December 31 next.

An Old Steamboat Captain Dead.

RED BANK, N. J., March 6.—Captain Henry B. Parker, one of the oldest steamboat captains in the country, died here of paralysis, aged 74 years. He had commanded many steamers running between this place and New York. During the war he was captain of the steamer Highland Light, which was chartered by the United States Government and transported troops and provisions on the Carolina coast.

Statistics of Strikes.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 6.—The State Board of Mediation and Arbitration will present their report to the Legislature to-morrow morning. It will be one of the largest reports ever issued, although the number of strikes has not been larger. A great deal of testimony is given so as to show the methods of procedure of the board. Some statistics as to causes of strikes and their final settlement are given, the report making nearly 500 pages.

Held for Stealing Diamonds.

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—Henry D. Lecato was held in $5,000 bonds for a hearing to-morrow on the charge of stealing about $10,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry from Sanford & Cook; of New York, for whom he was salesman here. About $1,200 worth of the missing goods have been recovered from loan offices.

Stove Works Destroyed by Fire.

TROY, N. Y., March 6.—Fire destroyed the Troy Company's Operative Stove Works in this city yesterday. The fire originated from an explosion of gas which tore out a corner of the building. A large number of stoves and patterns valued by the company at $75,000 are ruined. The building cost $10,000, and is insured for $7,000. The insurance on the patterns is $25,000.

The Vote in Erie County.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 6.—Complete returns from the county town elections show the election of 14 Democratic supervisors and 10 Republicans. This makes the full Board stand Democrats 29, Republicans 21. Last year it was Republicans 27, Democrats 23.

Killed by Dynamite Explosion.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 6.—By the explosion of a box of dynamite in a contractor's tool-house on Center avenue David Hayes was instantly killed, and William Soddy fatally injured. How the explosion was caused is not known.

No New Cases of Smallpox.

MERIDEN, Conn., March 6.—There are now only 14 cases of smallpox in Meriden, and all of the patients are recovering. No new cases are reported and it is believed that the worst phase of the threatened epidemic is over.

Mrs. Caroline Donovan Dead.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 6.—Mrs. Caroline Donovan, who presented $100,000 to the Johns Hopkins University and founded a chair of English Literature therein, is dead. She formerly lived in New York city.

Indicted for Grand Larceny.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Grand Jury of Westchester County has found an indictment for grand larceny against Mrs. Haight and her daughter Kate for stealing bonds from Rebecca Lyons of Peekskill.

FISTCUFFS AT ALBANY.

An Assemblyman and Correspondent Have Their Eyes Blackened.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 6.—There was a free fight at the Capitol last evening. William A. Carsey, of New York, with his son and others, attended the Senate Committee hearing on the Roesch Weekly-Pay bill.

They were set upon during the committee hearing, and later, while in the corridor, assaulted Mr. Dunham a correspondent, for having written disparagingly of them.

A general row followed, which ended by Assemblyman Rice knocking down young Carsey. During the row a number of spectators received a drubbing.

Assemblyman Rice and Correspondent Dunham had their eyes blackened. There were no arrests.

TURNING ON THE PRELATE.

Bishop Esher Meets With a Set-back at the Shamokin Conference.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 6.—At the Evangelical Conference the presiding elders submitted to Bishop Esher the names for the committee of thirteen on resolutions. The Bishop refused to make the appointments suggested and the conference then took the matter out of the Bishop's hands and adopted a resolution making the selection of the committee as presented by the presiding elders.

Turner Street Church, Allentown, was selected as the place for holding the next conference, on the last Thursday of February, 1891. The report of S. S. Chubb, treasurer of the conference, was read and adopted.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Utah Legislature killed the Australian ballot bill.

The remains of Minister Pendleton were taken to Cincinnati this morning. The funeral will be held on Saturday in that city.

Joseph Stanley, the Cleveland street railroad magnate, died from injuries received in a fall from one of his electric car last Friday evening.

John Kelly, of Buffalo, sentenced to Auburn prison for life for murder, was discharged on a special commutation by Governor Hill, having served nearly 19 years. Kelly is 65 years of age and was once sentenced to be hanged.

Ten suits against the City of Manchester, N. H., will be tried before the March term of the Supreme Court, which opens a week from next Tuesday. The damages set in the cases range from $7,000 to $15,000, and aggregate $80,000.

Rufus Wheatly, Deputy Clerk of the Peace of Sussex county, Delaware, committed suicide at Georgetown, Del., by taking chloral. He is said to have been implicated in some fraudulent transactions by which the County Treasury has been swindled out of about $1,000.

Amory Maynard of Maynard, Mass., is dead, aged 86. Mr. Maynard in 1846, with W. H. Knight of Saxonville, established in what is now the town of Maynard, a woolen mill, from which has developed the Assabel Manufacturing Company, which is one of the largest strictly woolen mills in the United States.

At the Buffalo Republican League banquet Mr. Morris Morey responded to the toast, "Buffalo's claim to a United States Senator." He made a strong argument in favor of Western New York receiving recognition by the selection of the United States Senator from that city.

Miss Annie Putnam, aged 40, committed suicide by hanging at Danvers, Mass. She had been always eccentric, avoiding company, and since the death of her parents, who were buried on the same day a few weeks ago, she had been despondent. Although worth probably over $20,000, she feared that she might become destitute.

There is a decrease in the rate of rise in the river at Cairo, Ill. The weather is cold and fair. Yesterday a small farm house and several head of drowned cattle passed down in the swift current. At Paducah the water leaves only a narrow strip of dry ground along the highest portion of the river front. The ferry landing and several warehouses are submerged.

A TERRIBLE WRECK

Frightful Accident on the Lake Shore Railroad.

A FAST TRAIN TELESCOPED

The Train Breaks in Two and Five Sleepers Crash Into the First Section.

Several Persons Killed and Injured—All the Cars Full of Passengers—One Day Coach Lifted Into the Air by a Pullman—Removing the Bodies to the Baggage Car.

BUFFALO N. Y., March 7.—A serious accident occurred last night on the Lake Shore Road seven miles west of this place.

The train, which left Chicago at 11:30 Wednesday evening, broke in two when running at a high rate of speed, and the rear portion of the train, composed of three heavy Pullman sleepers, crashed into the forward day coaches.

The rear day coach of the forward portion of the train was telescoped and the top of the Pullman coach was cut entirely off.

The forward portion of the train was stopped by Conductor Houghtaling, who pulled the bell rope. Most of those in the last day coach were warned of their peril in time to leave the car, but those in the first Pullman car had no warning, and were in the car when it telescoped one coach and was buried under another.

J. E. Minnie, who had his arm cut off, was placed on the engine which started at once for Buffalo to bring relief. It was two hours and a half before the physicians arrived, but a wrecking train came sooner and began the work of extricating the victims. The bodies taken out were placed in a baggage car.

The Killed and Injured.

The dead number seven, as follows: Mr. J. E. Stewart and Mrs. J.E. Stewart, Rochester, N. Y.; J. Swan, sleeping car porter, Salamanca, N. Y.; Mrs. J. D. Baucus, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., skull fractured. Three unknown.

The list of injured are as follows: H. T. Jaeger, Rochester; Charles J. Rice; Boston, leg sprained and chin badly cut; Rev. Thomas A. Hall, Buffalo, leg badly cut; F. A. Combe, New York, head and chin cut and both legs sprained; Julia Haley, Boston, cut in breast over left eye and head; George F. Allen, Buffalo, ankle sprained; Joseph D. Barnes and wife, Boston, the man not much, the woman fatally.

A great bonfire on the side of the track threw a lurid light upon the terrible scene. A passenger says the coupling was defective.

SNOW IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Railroad Traffic Suspended and Street Cars Stopped.

SCRANTON, Pa, March 7.—Snow has fallen here and all through Northern Pennsylvania to the depth of 18 inches, and is still falling heavily with no signs of abatement.

Traffic on the main line of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western over the Pocono Mountains, on the Jefferson branch of the Erie and on the Honesdale gravity branch of the Delaware & Hudson is practically suspended on account of the heavy drifts. All street-car traffic is suspended here.

Murdered His Brother.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—Dominick Taney killed his brother Michael by stabbing him with a sharp case-knife. The tragedy occurred in a house in the rear of No. 1,159 South Ninth staeet, where the brothers lived with their step-mother. Dominick, while under the influence of liquor, came into the house and began quarreling with his step-mother. On being reproved by Michael he became infuriated and catching up a table knife, slashed and hacked Michael until he fell dead. Dominick is under arrest.

A Ten-Club League.

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—It will be a ten-club League. After spending the day in a vain effort to induce Indianapolis to withdraw, the League magnates got together last night and adopted a schedule. The schedule leaves 14 actual open dates and nine days are spent in traveling, making a total of 23 idle days for each club. After the schedule was adopted the meeting adjourned and the delegates left for their several homes.

Captured by a Lottery Company.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A special from Atoka, I. T., says: The laws of the Choctaw Nation, as passed by the Choctaw Legislature, were made public yesterday. One of the laws provides for the establishment of a lottery, a certain percentage of the receipts going to the State Treasury. It thus seems that the Louisiana Lottery Company has obtained a footing in Indian Territory, and that it obtained the foothold while all eyes were turned on North Dakota.

Ashore at Scituate.

SCITUATE, Mass., March 7.—The Belgian steamer De Ruyter, Captain Webster, from Antwerp for Boston, came ashore at Lighthouse Point at 7 o'clock last night in a thick snow storm. The crew of twenty-seven men reached shore safely. The vessel has a general cargo consigned to Gill & Lootz, Boston.

Glasscock Signed by Chicago.

CLEVELAND, March 7.—A Chicago rumor reaches here that Jack Glasscock, the great short-stop of the Indianapolis Club, and young Rusie, the pitcher of the same team, had been signed by President Spalding for the Chicago League Club.

A CRUEL CANARD.

No Truth in the Reported Death-Bed Confession of John G. Henderson.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 7.—The sensational account published in two Philadelphia papers of a death bed confession, alleged to have been made by John G. Henderson, of his having murdered a Dr. Levering twenty years ago, are entirely without foundation. Henderson died four years ago at his home in Harrisburg.

His widow yearly visits her many relatives and friends in Lower Marion, where she and her husband were always held in the highest repute. No suspicion was ever breathed against their domestic felicity, and the whole story published was a cruel canard.

The Sensational Article that is Denied.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 6.—After 24 years the mystery surrounding the assassination of Dr. Joseph H. Levering, of Lower Merion, has been cleared up by the death-bed confession of John G. Henderson, who died in that place Tuesday evening.

The murder was one of the most noted of its day by reason of the sensational features surrounding it.

February 13, 1866, Dr. Levering was in the act of putting away his horses for the night, and while going out of the stable the report of a gun was heard from behind a stone wall, within ten feet of the door in which the doctor stood.

The unusual report of a gun within the yard of the dwelling aroused the family, and the lifeless body was found two minutes after the shooting.

Alarm and excitement drew a large crowd that evening, and every householder joined in scouring the neighborhood for the assassin, Henderson assisting his neighbors. An inquest was held, but without result.

On Tuesday, Henderson being sick and fearing that he was to die, called his family to his bedside and in the presence of the family physician confessed to killing Dr. Levering in cold blood. He described the tragedy minutely. Handerson expired a little before midnight.

He gave no reason for his bloody deed, and the confession has caused as much of an excitement as did the crime itself.

THE FIRE STILL BURNING.

Explosions Now Occurring in the South Wilkesbarre Shaft.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 7.—The situation at the South Wilkesbarre shaft to-day remains unchangad. It will be a week or more before enough water can be sent down to quench the flames. Slight explosions are occurring as the water rises, and more serious ones are expected later on.

The damage from fire, water and explosions will be enormous, and it will be a long time before coal can be mined at this shaft again.

Saved Their Lives by Jumping.

TRENTON, N. J., March 7.—A broken axle caused the wreck of the 7:15 a. m. extra freight on the Pennsylvania Railroad a short distance east of this city. The train was eastbound. Both tracks were covered with wreckage. The engineer and fireman saved their lives by jumping. The engine was badly damaged. The passengers were badly shaken up, and some were cut by fragments of broken glass.

A Young Woman's Attempt at Suicide.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 7.—Miss Rose Regan, aged 20, attempted suicide with laudanum, and is likely to die. She entered a convent some time ago, but was withdrawn by her parents because a tendency to consumption developed. Some thoughtless companions made severe comments upon this occurrence, and Miss Regan brooded over the matter until her mind became affected.

Violently Insane on a Train.

CANTON, O., March 7.—Last night a lady named Alexander, accompanied by her daughter, became violently insane on the east-bound express on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad. She was restrained with great difficulty and for her own safety was placed in charge of a physician of this city. The cause of the lady's insanity is not known. They were bound for Tyrone, Pa.

Prominent Men at a Mass Meeting.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A mass meeting at Chickering Hall in the interest of the New York Free Circulating Library was addressed by Grover Cleveland, Seth Low, Andrew Carnegie, J. H. Choate, J. C. Carter, and other prominent gentlemen. The good work of the library was commended, and steps were taken to extend the usefulness of the institution.

A Catholic Priest Sued.

HACKENSACK, N. J., March 7.—Mary Pironi, of Fort Lee, an Irish woman 76 years old, and the wife of an Italian several years her junior, has brought suit against the Rev. Patrick Corrigan, a Catholic priest of Hoboken, to recover property valued at $5,000 which, she alleges, Father Corrigan obtained from her by misrepresentation and fraud. Father Corrigan has put in as a defence a general denial of fraud, claiming to have purchased the property for $1,000, its value being about $2,500.

Convict Holzhay Shot.

MARQUETTE, Mich., March 7.—Raimund Holzhay, the notorious train robber, now in the penitentiary here for life, tried to murder a fellow convict last night and was shot and seriously wounded by the warden.

Rescued the Crew.

BOSTON, March 7.—The schooner stranded on Milk Island is the Abbott W. Lewis, from Boston for Portland in ballast to load with ice. The crew were rescued by the life-saving force.

A TILT IN THE HOUSE

Messrs. Cannon and Milliken Have a Duel of Words.

TALKING ABOUT PORK IN THE POT

A Dramatic Scene in Which Both Gentlemen Were Very Excited.

The President Contributes to the Actors' Fund—No Hopes for Taulbee's Recovery—Postmasters Appointed by the President—Senator Allison Defines His Position on the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—In the House when the bill was called up appropriating $300,000 for a public building at San Jose, Cal., it was attacked vigorously by Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, during which he criticised the action of the Committee on Public Buildings, and alluded to the "pork in the pot."

Later on Mr. Milliken, of Maine, chairman of the committee, said that if it were not for his friendly feeling toward the gentleman from Illinois, he would suggest that he had never seen a man attempt to impute to another man that he had "pork in the pot" who was not the first fellow to get his hand into the pot.

Mr. Cannon said he had criticised the committee, but not the integrity of its chairman, and he added, walking down toward Mr. Milliken: "If the gentleman in his zeal sought by innendo, or intimations, to allege that if it had not been for his friendly relations with me, he could urge aught against my character or otherwise, here and now, let us have it, Seth Milliken."

As Mr. Cannon uttered these words, he slowly approached Mr. Milliken, and as he finished his sentence, he tapped that gentleman on the shoulder. This raised a laugh all over the House. Throughout the colloquy both gentlemen manifested a good deal of excitement, which was ended by Mr. Milliken disclaiming any intention to insinuate anything against the gentleman, who was as nearly perfect, he said, as any man in the world.

After further debate, the San Jose bill was laid aside favorably and the committee rising, it, together with the preceding bills, were reported to the House.

Mr. Cannon made a vigorous fight against the Washington Postoffice bill, moving to adjourn, amid cries of "Dilatory motion" from the Democrats, and raising the point of no quorum amid shouts of "Filibustering" from the same source.

The Speaker counted a quorum and the bill was passed, as were the other bills reported favorably.

Appointments by the President.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The President has sent to the Senate the following nominations for Postmasters:

Connecticut—A. W. Converse, Windsor Locks; G. B. Cook, West Winsted; G. W. Bradley, Guilford; A. L. Benedict, Bethel.

New York—A. H. Bowman, Hopkinsville; W. E. Scripture, Rome.

New Jersey—J. H. Toms, Beverly.

Pennsylvania—Owen Fowler, Freeland; J. A. Gilleland, Allegheny; Mrs. Josephine Reid, Connellsville; A. D. Welty, Greensburgh; J. B. Emery, Williamsport.

Massachusetts—Frank W. Bullard, Westborough; Wm. A. Brown, 2nd Marblehead; G. H. Waterman, Framingham; W. J. Wallace, Norwood.

Vermont—F. Chapman, Woodstock.

Senator Allison's Tariff Position.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—It was published that Senator Allison had changed his views upon questions connected with a revision of the tariff and in consequence he was subjected to much questioning by colleagues in the Senate and others. The Senator said, in response to an inquiry: "I am, as I have been, in favor of the platform of the Republican party, which declares for protection to American industries. As to the matter of details of the tariff, they will be considered in the light of the demands of the present rather than those of the past."

Heavy Snow in the Mohawk Valley.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Heavy snow, accompanied by severe gales, is reported from Poughkeepsie, Newburg, Saratoga, Amsterdam, and various points in the Mohawk Valley, as well as from many points in Eastern Pennsylvania. Railroad traffic is considerably interfered with.

Delaware Peach Trees All Right.

WILMINGTON Del., March 7.—Snow fell briskly here, and fears were entertained that the peach trees would be injured. Reports from the peach growing district, however, show that no damage has been done.

Gives His Millions to His Son.

PITTSBURG, March 7.—Ex-Judge Thomas A. Mellon, of this city, aged and feeble, has filed a deed transferring his vast real estate, estimated to be worth $22,000,000, to his son, Andrew W. Mellon.

Snow Six Inches Deep.

EASTON, Pa., March 7.—Jersey Central trains were delayed by freight cars being off the track in this city in consequence of the snow, which is now six inches deep in the protected levels and is drifted five and six feet in many places.

Peach Trees Ruined.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 7.—The heavy snow and high winds here have killed the peach and other fruit blossoms. The rivers are very high, and a flood is feared.

Death of Mrs. Isaac P. Brown.

At her home on Broadway in this city, Mrs. Susan C. Brown died suddenly, yesterday, in the 80th year of her age. She was the wife of Mr. Isaac P. Brown. The funeral services will be held at the house, Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Interment Monday morning at Union, N. J.

The estimable woman died of heart disease as quietly as if falling asleep. She laid back in her chair, gave a slight gasp and passed away. She was of a particularly lovable nature and dear to the hearts of hosts of friends who unite with the bereaved husband in sincerely mourning her loss. Mr. E. P. Thorn is a nephew of the dead woman's.

People will not have a new cough remedy, when they know the value of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

She stood at the gate in the late Spring twilight, and when she said good-bye, she felt neuralgia kiss her rosy cheek; but she only smiled, for her mother had invested 25 cents in a bottle of Salvation Oil.

BAD WEATHER AND A COLD AUDIENCE.

Although Deserving a Better Fate, the Second Concert of the Choral Society Was Not as Successful as the First.

There was a larger chorus but a smaller audience at the second of the Choral Society's concerts, last evening, at Music Hall. Although every carriage, stage and other vehicle on wheels was brought into use, many were still kept at home by the bad weather under foot.

It was a cold, cold audience, too. Nothing was received with sincere rapture, and the main part of the applause came as a means of relief from those who were tired of sitting still. The selections merited greater favor, but possibly the majority of those present were not aware of the fact. The only part song of which a repetition was insisted on, was Pearson's "Three Doughtie Men." It was well rendered but not deserving of the only encore the Chorus received. But then, the words were so funny and their spelling so quaint.

The soloists included Mrs. Sarah Baron-Anderson, a woman of charming manners with a contralto voice of perfect purity and, in the lower tones especially, very rich. She was heartily encored, as was also Mr. Townsend H. Fellows, baritone. His first selection seemed to be a badly chosen one for the occasion. Yet one of the fair sex present whispered, "Let's encore him and maybe he'll sing something nice." Mr Fellows displayed a fine voice, even throughout, and of remarkable flexibility as shown by his perfect rendition of the encore piece of the second part.

Mr. William Ward Stephens was also well received. In his case as in those of the other soloists, the most pleasing selections were given as encores. His playing of Moszkowski's "Serenata" was charming. Mr. Stephens' soli included works of Liszt, Schumann, Gottschalk and Greig, so well rendered as to show his familiarity with and ability to interpret a wide range of piano composition. If there can be any fault found with Mr. Stephens, it is that he lacks at times that measured recurrence of accent that marks the character and expression of the music.

The songs of the Chorus were first, "Lord Ullin's Daughter," sung with expression and in which the attacks were rather good. Next was a five-part madrigal, particularly sweet but too quiet to be appreciated so early in the programme. Strelezki's "Dreams," arranged as a part song by Mr. Fitzhugh, was sung as well as possible, in true ballad style; but Mendelssohn's "Lord, How Long wilt Thou Forget Me?" was the most perfectly sung of the evening's selections. Mrs. Anderson rendered the solos effectively, the choral was very good and the fugue parts clear and well defined. The closing selection, "Boatman's Good Night," by Schira, was one of the best sung with the exception of the syncopated parts. The expression was excellent, but ability to sing a syncopation well must be born in one and cannot be inbred by a few rehearsals.

The part song for female voices, "To Daffodils," was commendably rendered; and if the rumor is true that it had only two rehearsals, it deserves unqualified praise. But the men in their part song, "Rose Marie," did not acquit themselves nearly so well. The parts were not well balanced and the intonation was bad. When it is noticed that the majority of the selections of the programme included in their words sentiments of death or supplications of the dying, the frigidity of the occasion will be thus accounted for by the frivolous. There can be no doubt, however, that in one particular the second concert far excelled the first. It was—the piano.

ISAAC BROKAW'S FUNERAL.

Impressive Services at the First Baptist Church Yesterday Afternoon—Interment Made in Evergreen Cemetery.

There were sad and impressive funeral services enacted at the First Baptist church at two o'clock yesterday afternoon over the remains of the late Isaac Brokaw for many years past Assessor of the Borough and Township of North Plainfield. The burial was made with military honors, members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., Jerusalem Lodge No. 26, F. and A. M., Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., and delegates from other secret societies all of which the deceased was prominently identified with, attending in a body. The Plainfield Cornet Band and the members of Winfield Scott Post, of which Mr Brokaw was Commander at the time of his death, marched to the house on Duer street, at half-past one o'clock and escorted the body to the church, where a large congregation was in waiting to assist, by their presence, in the services.

The pall-bearers were all Past Post Commanders including Dr. W. E. Mattison, Capt. Wm. Hand, J. A. Atwood, Wm. Addis, P. V. Z. Stryker and W. H. Wyckoff, the latter of Post No. 75 of Somerville.

The service at the house was of short duration, but at the church the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes paid a fitting and loving tribute to Mr. Brokaw whom he characterized as a man of sterling worth.

Dr. Yerkes first read the funeral service and then spoke feelingly of the growing grace of the departed, and of the steadily increasing strength of his faith. The last words of the dying man were: "I am tired now, and going to sleep. I may not awake again in this World. If not I will awake with Jesus." The subjects of the minister's remarks were, first, the "uncertainties" of this life, and then the certainty of the future for those who loved God and served him.

Among the floral designs was a Maltese cross from the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, Auxiliary to Winfield Scott Post; a broken column from the Free Masons; a floral G. A. R. badge and flag from Winfield Scott Post, with the words "Our Commander" inscribed thereon, together with a beautiful design from the Odd Fellows.

At the grave the services of the Grand Army were performed by acting Commander Chas. B. Stevens, assisted by Officer of the Day, I. McVoy. Three volleys were fired over the grave after which the mourners and members of the various societies departed.

Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

THE PLAINFIELD AUXILIARY.

Its Work for the McAll Mission During the Past Year.

The Plainfield Auxiliary of the McAll Mission, Paris, held its annual meeting in the Library, on Tuesday morning, March 4. After the regular monthly meeting, the officers retired from their places, and Mrs. G. Terry, Hon. Vice President of the Society, took the chair and conducted the elections, which resulted as follows: President—Mrs. A. Baldwin; Secretary—Mrs. C. S. Munn; Treasurer—Mrs. J. G. Foster; and a representation of 55 ladies as Vice Presidents and managers from the different churches in town

The retiring Secretary read the annual report. Some items in it may be interesting to our town's people, for this mission work is so largely represented by the churches that we claim for it a warm place in the hearts of the philanthropic workers. A vote was passed to publish the report in toto, but the ex-Secretary takes the liberty of sparing such an imposition both upon publisher and reader. This Auxiliary of the "mission populaire" in Paris, is in its 5th year. It is a "vine" planted by Madame le Gay, in October 1885, and was organized by Mrs. L. Myers, November 2, 1885. The wooden wedding is almost here, and it may be well, thus far in advance, to say, modestly to our patrons, that we have resolved to have all our weddings golden ones. So large gifts will be expected in gold next November.

From a first membership of 75, we have increased to 181. The first year the Society sent $280 to Paris. Last year we sent $461.19 and this year, only just missed of sending over $500. By our own individual effort, we have raised more this year—than any previous one—without any outside assistance—the sum is $364 50, as against $280 last year. The amount sent to Paris last year was greater, owing to a larger balance being on hand from the previous year, and owing to a collection of $142 being received from Crescent Avenue church, which this year we did nor get. Taking all this into consideration we feel proud of our effort, and say heartily that progress has been made.

We desire to express our thanks to the daily newspapers for publishing all notices and articles free of charge. Also for making reductions in work ordered by us. We want to thank the managers for the admirable, earnest work they have done during the year. We want to thank all who have encouraged us. As officers, we thank each other for the harmony and cordial feeling that has continually existed between us.

The French need help; the protestant element in France is not strong enough to give its adherents all the nourishment they need. We all must help them. England takes the lead in providing the Helm, which steers the Word of God straight on to victory and glory. We must take an oar, and while we listen to catch the music of all the Auxiliary oars, as they plash in the waters, sometimes calm, sometimes troubled, our aim is to drop them altogether, in unison, making the music that stirs men's souls, for it tells them they have a soul, and they have it to save.

"The greatest servants of humanity are those who by embodying a noble ideal of life, constantly reinforce the faith of those who are weaker in the possibility of such a life; reconcile them to the hard conditions of their own existence and inspire them with a faith which of themselves they could not achieve."

Robert McAll does this. His workers follow on. We, from our distance look with admiration and thankfulness and with our money are the wheel within the wheel which keeps the movements going.

Look longingly, lovingly, helpfully to Paris for the new year beginning today in this Auxiliary. Let this coming year's record be all that is included in service; purity, truth, love in us, to give to others purity, truth, love.

"Serve—Woman whom I love 'ere noon be high
'ere the long shadow lengthen at thy feet.
Work—I have many poor, O man, that cry; my little ones do languish in the street.
Love—'Tis a time for love, since I love thee.
Live—'Tis a time to live, man, live in me."

Mrs. W. L. PATTON.

Banquet on St Patrick's Day.

The "Friendly Sons of St. Patrick," a new society recently started in this city, has sent out the following notice with reference to the banquet to be given on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, March 17.

DEAR SIR: We presume you have heard of the movement made by our organization, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, to give a banquet on St. Patrick's night, in honor of our Patron Saint, and as this is the first attempt in this direction it is very important that we reach all the representative Irishmen and others who may assist us to carry out the programme in a becoming manner. The committee in charge assure us that the arrangements as far as completed are very encouraging and we extend a cordial invitation to you to join our body and assist us to accomplish the end in view.

A. E. KENNEY, President.
T. A. MCCARTHY, Secretary.

The Executive Committee includes the Rev. P E. Smythe, the Rev. John A. Stafford, P. Casey, Joseph Sillery, P. Kiely, J. C. Carney, John Sheehan.

Indigestion.

A recent attack of indigestion is easily cured if the right remedy is applied, but every medicine except HAMBURG FIGS is so disgusting to taste or smell that a person prefers to let the disease take its course, if the above laxative cannot be obtained. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

Washingtonville Waifs.

The quilting party and oyster supper given recently in aid of the Union Village church, by the ladies of the church, was a grand success, about $75 being realized from the enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson have returned from a pleasant visit with friends at Philadelphia. During their stay in the Quaker City, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson visited the "panorama of Jerusalem," and many other places of amusement.

Mr. Richard Rogers is among the latest who are suffering from the common complaint la grippe.

The recent fall of snow was not of sufficient depth to make the sleighing good in the valley. In fact the roads in this locality are worse now than they were before the storm.

It is said that there are five candidates for the office of Freeholder in Warren Township. The caucus and primary will be held on Saturday evening.

Tommy Russell Promised.

The first performance of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" in this city some weeks ago, was so great a success that it will be repeated at Music Hall, next Wednesday evening. The Plainfield public at that time were thoroughly pleased with the play and with little Wallie Eddinger who enacted the title role, and expressed their appreciation and satisfaction so completely that the management determined they should have their reward.

Therefore is it that arrangements have been made for the appearance in Plainfield of Tommy Russell, the premier Fauntleroy of them all. THE PRESS is assured that he will surely play at Music Hall, next Wednesday. So there is a great treat in store for the people, young and old. He is as far superior to Eddinger as can be imagined. The original company will also come, not one of which played here before.

Not That Kind of a Man.

SCOTCH PLAINS, March 7, 1890.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS: I desire through the columns of THE PRESS to deny the statement made in the New York World of March 6, that I was one of a party to assault a Mrs. Buck of New Providence, N. J., on the night of February 26, 1890, which case came up before Justice Kyte of Scotch Plains later. No such assault was made by me, or the parties with me at the time alleged, and no such charge was contained in the warrant issued for assault and disorderly conduct, as published. All I desire in the matter is to set myself right before the public regarding this misstatement of assault upon a woman.

GEORGE W. MARSH.

A Novel Church Entertainment.

One of the latest novelties in church entertainments says an exchange, is the shoe social. The ladies are all arranged behind a screen so that only their shoes can be seen by the men. The price generally ranges from 15 to 50 cents, and the purchaser has no idea whose shoes he has selected. But when he claims the purchased property he receives the wearer also and conducts her to supper, and supplies her with other delicacies as she will accept them. Of course, the size of the foot is not indicative of the capacity of the owner for storing away the delicacies.

Necessary to File Maps.

The plan of a dam at Seely's mills, Scotch Plains, showing flood gates and cross section of dam, has been filed at the Somerset County Clerk's office at Somerville. This is the only plan of this description on file, although, under the law of 1883, all persons building dams in which there are flood gates are required to file a map and specifications of them. No doubt many owners of such property have neglected to do this, and their attention is now called to this law, as it may save future litigation.

A New Church for Bound Brook.

Ground has been broken for the new Catholic church, which is to be built on the corner of Mountain avenue and Second street, Bound Brook. It is the site of the old church building, which has been removed, and will after a while be used for the school. The church will be a handsome white stone structure. It will cost about $20,000.

Justice Kyte's All Right.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In reply to the article in today's PRESS under the heading "Why Were They Discharged?" I would state simply because the complainant refused to press the charge.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE KYTE,
Justice of the Peace.

Fanwood, March 6.

Bound Brook to Have a New Lodge.

It is said that a Council of the Jr. Order of United American Mechanics will soon be instituted at Bound Brook. What is the matter with Westfield and Somerville in letting Bound Brook get ahead of them?

—The Christian Endeavor Union is the name of a new four-page journal published monthly under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Societies of the First Baptist and Seventh Day Baptist churches of New Market and the Presbyterian church of Dunellen, and circulated free.

Avoid Appearances.—A worthy gentleman, having an unusually red nose, was long suspected of being a tippler on the sly, by those not well acquainted with his strictly temperate habits. His unfortunate disfigurement was readily cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Assemblyman Ulrich Votes for the Weekly-Payment Bill.

When House bill 184, which provides for weekly payment of wages by corporations, came up, in the Assembly at Trenton, Tuesday, the Hon. John Ulrich of this city, asked that the bill be allowed to lie over. His purpose was, that as there were other bills of the same nature before the House, and to be presented, they might be considered together and the best individual features of each adopted. Then there would be no possibility of conflicting laws on the subject being adopted during the session.

But postponement was opposed. One Assemblyman said the bill was demanded by the labor organizations, who have petitioned for its passage. Another favored bi-monthly payments, but was willing to vote for a bill asked for by the laboring people. The bill was favored by Mr. Marsh of Elizabeth. The motion to lay the bill over was lost, and the bill was then passed, 44 to 6. Mr. Ulrich voted for the bill.

A Bloody Affray.

is often the result of "bad blood" in a family or community, but nowhere is bad blood more destructive of happiness and health than in the human system. When the life current is foul and sluggish with impurities, and is slowly distributing the poisons to every part of the body, the peril to health, and life even, is imminent. Early symptoms are dull and drowsy feelings, severe headaches, coated tongue, poor appetite, indigestion and general lassitude. Delay in treatment may entail the most serious consequences. Don't let disease get a strong hold on your constitution, but treat yourself by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and be restored to the blessings of health. The "Discovery" is guaranteed to cure in all cases of diseases for which it is recommended or money paid for it will be refunded.

Coughing

IS Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."—Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

A UNIONIST AMAZED

Major Sanderson Called to Order in the Commons.

HIS CHARGES AGAINST DILLON.

He Accuses the Home Ruler of Maiming Cattle and is Called a Liar.

The King of Dahomey Routed by the French—Several Female Warriors Killed—The Shah Gives a Grand Fete in Honor of His Daughter's Betrothal—Sympathy for Minister Lincoln.

LONDON, March 7.—Major Sanderson the leader of the Irish Unionists, in a speech in the House of Commons last night, expressed himself as amazed at the recklessness of the Times in accepting the evidence of Pigott.

Nobody, he said, would hang a dog on Pigott's evidence. If the commission had gone further back, he thought, they could have made a much stronger report. In the course of his remarks Major Sanderson accused John Dillon of maiming cattle, whereupon a Parnellite member shouted "Liar."

Major Sanderson then asserted that the Parnellite members had made speeches intended to shield them from criminal responsibility and for this statement he was called to order by the Speaker.

A LUCKY PAGE.

The Shah Gives a Grand Fete Over His Daughter's Betrothal.

The decorations for the festivities rivalled the splendors described in the "Arabian Nights."

There were thousands of beautiful women dancers, and showers of coin were thrown among the poor people and scrambled for.

The Shah gave his page a magnificent estate near the capital and has caused a decree to be published bequeathing the Imperial curse to any of his descendants who attempted to deprive the page of his property.

A FRENCH VICTORY.

The King of Dahomey Defeated With a Loss of 400 Men.

PARIS, March 7.—News has been received from Senegal that the forces of the King Dahomey attacked the French troops at Kotonou and were again defeated, losing 400 killed.

Among the dead left on the field by the retreating blacks were several Amazons of the King's Guard. The French loss was nine killed. It is reported that the Portuguese have surrendered six Frenchmen to the King of Dahomey, and it is feared that they have been massacred.

Sympathy for Minister Lincoln.

LONDON, March 7.—Lord Salisbury and his wife, the Duke of Marlborough, Earl Derby, Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, Lord Randolph Churchill, Mr. McKay and many other prominent persons left cards of sympathy at Minister Lincoln's residence, and a large number of wreaths and other floral pieces were also sent by friends.

Henry George in Melbourne.

LONDON, March 7.—A dispatch from Melbourne says Henry George was welcomed at Town Hall by the Mayor of the city.

Eloped With His Bookkeeper.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., March 7.—Mrs. Annie E. Smith was granted a divorce from her husband, Deacon Asher P. Smith, on statutory grounds. The deacon is sixty-five years old. He was, until recently, a shining light in religious circles in the little town of Lebanon, where he was a prosperous grain merchant. He is accused of eloping with Miss Josie King, his pretty bookkeeper, a fair-haired young woman of twenty summers. It appeared in evidence that the deacon and Miss King had skipped to parts unknown some time ago. The deacon sold out his business to his son, leaving a number of creditors in the lurch.

Died on His Wedding Day.

PORTLAND, Me., March 7.—George H. Watkins, of the publishing firm of Brown, Thurston & Co., of this city, was found dead in bed at the United States Hotel last night. He was to have been married to Miss Mary Bain last evening, and the guests were assembled to witness the ceremony when the fact of Mr. Watkins' death was made known to Miss Bain and the guests. The lady was prostrated by the shock.

Says He Was Slandered.

BOSTON, March 7.—Rev. A. Hanscomb, recently pastor of the High Street Free Baptist Church, of Lynn, has applied to the courts for redress against one of the deacons, who, he claims, has slandered him. The deacon is Evan R. Golder and the damage which he is alleged to have done is appraised by the pastor at $20,000.

He is Now a Millionaire.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 7.—Daniel D. Blake, of this city, has made a sudden jump from poverty to affluence. Mr. Blake is forty years old and a week ago he was a book peddler; to-day he is the sole heir to the estate of the late Sir Henry Blake, of England, and has £250,000 at his disposal. Mr. Blake will sail for England in May with his wife and daughter.

Sterling's Eight Wives.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 7.—Chas. W. Sterling, who has just been sent to the State penitentiary of Ohio for bigamy, was the most numerously married man in the West, he having wedded no less than eight women—three in Minneapolis, one in Milwaukee and four in points further east.

Will Minister Lincoln Resign?

SIX LIVES WERE LOST

Further Particulars of the Lake Shore Disaster.

HOW THE ACCIDENT OCCURRED.

The Air Breaks on the Severed Cars Refused to Work.

The Dead and Injured Taken to Buffalo. A Young Bride Killed and Her Husband Seriously Injured—A Baby's Miraculous Escape—Found Clasped in Its Dead Mother's Arms.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 8.—The accident to the through express on the Lake Shore road, which occurred near Hamburg, ten miles west of this city, was not less terrible than it was at first reported. The train containing the wounded and the bodies of the dead rolled slowly into the depot in this city. In the sleeper Auburn the wounded were made as comfortable as possible and physicians ministered to their wants. The groans of the wounded were heartrending and the scene, when the train reached the depot, was dismal in the extreme.

List of the Dead.

The list of the dead is as follows: Mr. J. E. Stewart, Rochester; Mrs. J. E. Stewart, Rochester; J. Swan, sleeping car porter, Salamanca; Mrs. J. D. Baucus, Saratoga Springs; skull fractured, died of injuries; John W. Flinn, Canton, Ohio, traveling agent for Lantz Bros. & Co., of Buffalo, and John T. Power, Pittsfield, Mass.

The Injured.

As correctly and completely as can be ascertained, the names of those injured, with the extent of their injuries are as follows: The Rev. Johnson Meyers, Cincinnati, cut in the head; E. A. Coombs, aged 58, head cut; W. H. Fisher, Boston bruises on chin and leg; Julia Healey, Boston, injured in head, fractured rib and fracture of right arm; J. C. Armstrong, Rochester, cut in head and neck; J. D. Baucus, Saratoga Springs, face and leg bruised; W. W. Branch, Charleston, W. Va., left arm broken; Charles Barch, New York, ankle sprained; F. Jaeger, Rochester, ankle sprained; L. F. Houpt, Buffalo, wrist badly cut; George E. Allen, Buffalo, leg badly sprained; Henry Rubrich, injury to knee; Julius Siegel, New York, injury to left arm; George S. Thompson, Rochester, slight sprain of leg; George E. Martin, Boise City, Idaho, bruise of chest.

A Sad Incident.

One of the saddest incidents of the accident was that which befell Joseph. D Baucus, a young lawyer of Saratoga Springs. A week ago he was married to a handsome young lady of Rome, N. Y. The happy couple had spent their honeymoon in the West and were returning home on the Salina.

When the accident occurred the lady was pinioned in the wreck. Her body was horribly bruised and her skull badly crushed.

Her husband was injured about the legs and head, but his pains were nothing compared with the agony he felt for his wife. He folded his arms about the dying woman's form.

"She's cold," he cried in despair, and he glanced up for a look of disapproval from the physicians who stood by.

"No, she's living yet," answered one of the doctors.

The devotion of the broken hearted husband was touching in the extreme. He refused to be led away and clung to the side of his unconscious wife, kissing her bleeding lips and urging the doctors on to further efforts.

But medical skill proved unavailing. The wife died as the train was slowly rolling into Buffalo.

Baby Stewart's Escape.

One of the strange incidents of the disaster was the escape of the 18-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stewart. When the shock came the child was clasped tightly to her mother's breast. Mother and father were frightfully mangled and died almost instantly, but when the child was found it was calling for "Mamma," unconscious of its mother's terrible fate. Among the other narrow escapes were those of Erie Passenger Agent Allen, Z. T. Jaeger and J. C. Armstrong, of Rochester, and Charles J. Rice, of Newton, Mass. They were pinned for 20 minutes in the wreck, dreading every moment lest the splintered car should take fire, and were finally rescued by Porter Waldron and Conductor West.

Who Was Responsible?

The responsibility for the accident has not yet been fixed: If the brakes had been in proper order they should have set automatically when the train broke. There was evidently negligence shown in not connecting the brakes properly, and Conductor Houghtaling might have used a little more discretion than to stop the forward section on a down grade. This action in him was criminal if he had any knowledge that the air brakes were out of repair. Superintendant Couch would say nothing about the accident further than that the conductor had been on the road 25 years, and was always regarded as a capable and efficient official.

Plain Talk From a Passenger.

L. F. Haupt, of the law firm of McLaughlin, Ewell & Haupt, of this city, one of the survivors, said, in speaking of the wreck:—"The cold truth is the train was not in fit condition to carry human beings from the time it left Cleveland. The train parted once before leaving the city. I spoke to the conductor about it and he assured me that everything was all right. At Dunkirk the train parted twice. The steam couplings were broken and the air brakes failed to act. A travelling companion and I discussed the question whether it would not be wiser to get off there and take another train. We did not like the idea of travelling in such a broken down outfit. But we took the chance and here I am. Many poor creatures did not fare so well."

TWO MEN KILLED.

Their Bodies Horribly Mutilated by a Blasting Accident.

NEWARK, N. J., March 8.—Patrick Mitchell and Patrick Fitzgerald, employed in the quarry of Thomas Nevins near Eagle Rock, East Orange, were yesterday instantly killed by a premature explosion of a blast which was being prepared by Fitz Christian. The bodies of the two dead men were horribly mutilated.

Christian, the man who was preparing the blast, was blown several feet away and severely injured about the head. He was taken to the Memorial Hospital. Both of the dead men were married and leave several children.

The explanation for the premature discharge of the blast is that some gritty substance became mixed with the powder, and while Christian was tamping the charge the friction ignited the powder.

IS IT KLEPTOMANIA?

Arrest of a Clergyman for Stealing Knives and Other Articles.

READING, Pa., March 8.—A great sensation was created here yesterday when it became known that Rev. M. L. Fritch, pastor of four reformed congregations in the county, and chaplain of the Berks County Almshouse, had been arrested for stealing knives and various other articles from the hardware store of Bard, Reber & Co., of this city.

The reverend gentleman was caught in the act yesterday, and reluctantly produced from his overcoat pocket a box of penknives, and made out an inventory of the goods he took from time to time.

He is fairly well off and has a most estimable wife and family. All the circumstances point to a remarkable case of kleptomania.

LIKE AN EARTHQUAKE.

Several Houses Wrecked and People Terrified by a Cave-in.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 8.—The suburb of Plymouth, known as Curry's Hill, was shaken as if by an earthquake at 3 a. m. Houses settled down about ten feet, and the terrified people ran into the streets clad in their night clothes, as they had been aroused from sleep.

The cave-in was caused by the falling of the roof of some abandoned colliery workings 450 feet below the surface. Several houses were wrecked and some took fire from overturned stoves, but the flames were extinguished.

A Dishonest Letter Carrier.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 8.—George W. Black has been committed to the County jail in default of $3,000 bail for robbing the United States mails. Black is a letter carrier of this city. For some time past numerous complaints have been made to the postmaster of mising letters and the case was placed in Postal Inspector Baird's hands. The latter mailed a decoy letter, and when Black was arrested the letter was found on his person. Other letters that he had abstracted were also found on him. He was taken before United Staes Commissioner Casady and remanded for a hearing.

Syracuse Selected by the A. O. U. W.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 8.—The Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen has adjourned. Syracuse was selected as the place for the next session. Benjamin Franklin, of Orleans County, was elected grand guide; P. A. Spitz, of East Bloomfield, inside watchman; W. R. Butler, outside watchman, and R. C. Hill, of Olean, grand trustee. Hon. Leroy Andrus, of Buffalo, was appointed legal adviser of the grand lodge, and Dr. Briggs, also of Buffalo, was reappointed grand medical examiner.

The Mowatt Will Case.

POUGHKEEPSIE, March 8.—The following judgments have been taken against the defendants in the Mowatt case: Theodore C. Mowatt, $17,812; Augustus W. Mowatt, $17,377; Wines B. Mowatt, $16,867; John W. Mowatt, $16,458; Hester C. McFarland, $16,794; Adelia Hopper, $11,096. These were sums obtained by the above named from Mary C. Mowatt and which the court declares must be returned to her.

Celebrated Her 101st Birthday.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Sands, widow of one of the "Old Defenders," celebrated her 101st birthday yesterday. She spent the day quietly at her home, No. 1031 Division street. The old lady is still vigorous and her memory is pregnant with events of the days long gone by. A large number of visitors called upon her during the evening.

Accused Officers Retaliate.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 8.—Under Jailer Henry Holland and Justice William Haywood, of Conshohocken, openly charged by the grand jury of Montgomery County with conspiracy in connection with the arrest of Steele, alias Morton, a hotel thief, are striking back, having entered suit for damages against Chief of Police Rodenbaugh and Detectives Frank P. Geyer and Wm. G. Hamlin.

Trenton's Many Incendiary Fires.

TRENTON, N. J., March 8.—The people here are aroused over the numerous incendiary fires, principally the pottery fires, that have occurred within a short time. The Trenton Association of Underwriters appointed a committee to confer with a committee from the Potters' Association, with a view of offering a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the firebugs.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Knights of Labor Advocate Postal Telegraph Service.

WANAMAKER'S PLAN OPPOSED

The Wade Bill Favored and Only Government Officials to Operate the Lines.

Senators Asked, Under Oath, Whether They Revealed the Proceedings of the Senate—Mr. Taulbee's Case Almost Hopeless—Chicago Claims to Have the Cash for the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Ralph Beaumont, representing the Knights of Labor, appeared before the House Committe on Postoffices and Post Roads and argued in favor of the passage of the bill introduced by Representative Wade, of Missouri, for establishing a Government postal telegraph service. Mr. Beaumont explained that he was a member of the legislative committee of the Knights of Labor.

The organization represented by him, he said, believed that the Government alone should operate the telegraph lines in the country. He sketched the attempts made by the Knights of Labor in the last Congress to have a similar bill passed. "But," he said, "the bill was placed on the calendar, and we found that the calendar was the 'Potter's field' of legislation."

Mr. Beaumont thought that the postal telegraph suggested by Postmaster-General Wanamaker was not a business proposition. He thought it was not wise for the Government to allow outside parties to operate the lines under Government control. Mr. Beaumont spoke of the great corporations of this country in vigorous terms. He disputed the arguments of Dr. Norvin Green before the committee that the Government had no right to take the telegraph lines away from the telegraph companies. The Government could get the lines and get them easily.

Dr. Green, said Mr. Beaumont, had stated that 30 per cent. of the receipts of the Western Union Telegraph Company came from stock gambling and baseball. If Mr. Butterworth, of Ohio, succeeded in getting through Congress his bill to prevent gambling in "futures" and if each of the baseball leagues succeeded in getting injunctions to prevent the other from playing then the Western Union Company would be ruined, if Dr. Green's statements were true.

Mr. Beaumont said Mr. Wade's bill proposed an appropriation of $8,000,000 for the first year. To put up the wires he had estimated would cost $5,585,570. His estimate did not differ greatly from those of the Western Union. Under the competitive system the Government could contract for the construction of its lines quite as cheaply as the Western Union could.

In answer to a question from Chairman Bingham as to whether it would be just for the Government to tax the people in order to make up the deficiency that would probably occur each year in the postal telegraph appropriation when only a small percentage of the people would use the service, Mr. Beaumont said that he believed the Government would be warranted in doing this. But whether there would be a deficit or not was purely a matter of conjecture.

Senators Purging Themselves.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Dolph Committee, investigating executive leakage, determined to call all the Senators before it in alphabetical order and ask them (under oath) whether they had ever revealed the confidential proceedings of the Senate. Mr. Aldrich was the first witness called. He took the required oath of purgation. He was followed by Senators Allison, Berry, Bate and Allen in their order. All of the Senators will be sworn.

A Batch of Baltimore Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The President sent to the Senate the following nominations: William N. Marine to be Collector of Customs for the district of Baltimore; Wm. D. Burchinal of Maryland to be Surveyor of Customs in the district of Baltimore; Milton G. Warner of Maryland to be Naval Officer of Customs in the district of Baltimore; C. J. Karsner of Maryland to be Appraiser of Merchandise in the district of Baltimore.

Burned to Death.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 8.—Ira S. Brown, aged 67, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the cottage of Policeman Isaac Fairbrother, in which he lived. Brown warned Fairbrother of the fire and helped him to save property. He lost his own life in returning to his attic chamber to save his own valuables.

Father and Son Killed.

VINELAND, N. J., March 8.—Two persons were killed by the morning northbound Cape May express on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The locomotive struck a wagon in which were James Lanigan and his 12-year-old son, killing both and the two horses attached to the wagon.

A Verdict of Not Guilty.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 8.—A dispatch from Uniontown says the jury in the case of Captain Cale Abrams, charged with the murder of Hon. J. M. Rowell, brought in a verdict of not guilty. In a personal quarrel months ago, Abrams picked up a cobblestone and struck Rowell, killing him at once.

Ball Players in Florida.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 8.—The Brooklyn League baseball team arrived here last night and will remain until April 1st.

DOING BUSINESS WITHOUT ADVERTISING IS LIKE WINKING IN THE DARK, YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE DOING, BUT NOBODY ELSE DOES.

BY THE WAY.

—Oh! for a Y. M. C. A. building.

—It is believed the number of pastoral changes in the Newark M. E. Conference will be unusually large this year.

—The thermometer was four degrees above zero at six o'clock yesterday morning—the coldest morning thus far this Winter.

—The Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., will hold a meeting of a literary character at the Association rooms, Monday night.

—Miss F. Walker will on Monday, March 10, return to her dressmaking parlor No. 61 West Second street, when she will be ready for Spring and Summer trade.

—Another car load of horses will arrive on Monday, consigned to J. Fosher, corner of Grant Avenue and Fourth street. See advertisement and posters on Monday.

—Mrs. Flemming of Fourth street and Richmond, whose boy was one of those arrested and held for breaking into a railroad car and stealing crackers, says the boy was at church and Sunday school at the time.

—The next Borough Council will have the appointment of two members of the Board of Health, one in the place of the Rev. T. Logan Murphy, whose term expires, and one in place of the late Isaac Brokaw.

—The delegates from out of town who were present at the Wetumpka Lodge entertainment, on Thursday evening, were entertained at Force's Hotel, and they were served with a banquet of which all were proud.

—As an evidence of the stagnation in the coal trade, it is said that the Jersey Central Railroad has 13,000 cars loaded with coal on the tracks, and that these cars made up as one train would reach nearly forty miles.

—A meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, was held last evening, and among the attendants were two post Department Presidents, namely, Mrs. J. B. Atwood of Brooklyn and Mrs. Elizabeth Work, of Old Bridge.

—Germs of scarlet fever, it is claimed were carried into a Rock View avenue residence in North Plainfield, by a box of candy sent through the mail. The germs it is alleged, developed, and several of the members of the family were laid up with the disease.

—Mr. John Tier told a representative of this paper that it was not until yesterday morning that Tier's lake was frozen over, and in some places the water could then be seen. Mr. Tier advanced a novel idea of making ice by filling his house with snow and then flooding it. This he will probably do, if the cold weather continues.

—The Elizabeth Journal is again the victim of fake reporting from this city. It published yesterday an account of "the narrow escape of a Plainfield family from death by asphyxiation," all of which never happened. Don't be stupid and stubborn, brother, but refer to The Press and publish nothing about Plainfield unless it appears in its columns. Then you'll be always right.

Democratic Primary.

The Democratic voters of North Plainfield Borough and Township are requested to meet at the school house, Monday, March 10, at 8 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating Township and Borough officers. By order of Chairman of Township Democratic Executive Committee.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

A service of song and prayer this evening at 7:30.

Sunday morning at 9:15. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at 73 West Front street.

"What shall I do!" the maiden cried. "He will be here to-night and my hands are chapped; however I have a bottle of Salvation Oil."

Old remedies under new names are being constantly introduced to the public, but Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup still maintains its pre-eminence.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

During the past few weeks fifty-seven persons have united with the Methodist Episcopal church in this city.

Mr. John Taylor of West Third street has been confined to the house for the past three weeks by rheumatism.

Mr. James Closson and family, and Mrs. Edgerton, have returned to their Summer home, after a Winter season in New York city.

It is with pleasure that The Press announces the fact that Councilman Emmon's wife of North Plainfield is steadily recovering from her recent serious illness.

Mr. Patrick Connolly of West Third street is lying very low from a complication of diseases. His condition is so bad that the physician in charge will not allow visitors in the room.

Gerald, the five-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. DeCourcy, of 66 East Second street, died this morning at three o'clock. The funeral will be held from the house to-morrow afternoon at half-past two o'clock.

Mr. Charles H. Potter of Westerly, R. I., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Robert Mitchell of No. 29 Grant avenue. Since his coming here Mr. Potter has presented his seven-year-old niece, a daughter of Mrs. Mitchell, with a handsome gold watch and chain.

Mr. Ed. Marble, of minstrel fame, begins today to drill the Class of '90 of Rutgers College in amateur minstrelsy. The performance will take place during the second week in April, and the members of the Crescent League of this city will probably go over in stages.

The out-going Councilmen in North Plainfield are Mr. Henry McGee and Mr. J. M. Bettman. They have both looked as much to the borough's interests while they were members of the Council as any one connected with it. It is understood that Mr. McGee will be nominated for re-election.

The trustees of Dr. Ketcham's church have engaged Miss Blanche Fellows, whose singing was so much admired at the concert given upon the occasion of the first public display of the new organ in the church. She is a sister of Mr. Fellows who sang at the Choral Society concert of Thursday evening last. She will sing regularly hereafter in the church choir.

Dr. Randolph Titsworth died at his home on East Front street at ten minutes before twelve o'clock this morning. The cause was pneumonia, and the sickness of a few days duration. He took communion at Trinity Reformed church last Sunday morning, and in the evening was in consultation with Dr. Rebecca Page over the case of Mrs. Amy Moore who has since died. Doctor Titsworth was seized with chills on his return home but did not send for a physician until the next day.

A large number of the members are already in the field with a big boom for Mr. Charles A. Reed as President of the Crescent League. He is the most popular man in the club and will undoubtedly be elected by a flattering majority. President Kieb insists that his resignation of the office shall be accepted, although the members say "No" and have laid the matter over. Mr. Kieb argues that a Plainfield club of one hundred resident members, should have a Plainfield man at its head.

Killed By the Cars.

Daniel Gill, a young man about twenty-one years of age, who was employed by Mr. C K. Compton, the baker and confectioner, of West Front street, was killed by the cars while on the way to his home at Netherwood, about 9:30 o'clock last evening, his skull being crushed in and the left leg entirely severed from the body.

Although there were no eye-witnesses to the accident it is supposed that the young man attempted to board an East-bound coal train, drawn by Engine No. 366, when he slipped and fell under the wheels with the above result. The body when discovered, was taken to the freight house on a stretcher, and later Morgue-keeper Patrick Casey took charge of the remains.

The young man was the second oldest son of a widowed mother who, with her five children, three sons and two daughters, occupy a house near the Netherwood station. The oldest son works at Seguine's livery stable and a younger brother works for Frank Day. The County Physician has been notified of the accident.

The City the Worst of the Violators.

The Press threw a stone yesterday at a certain city officer who allowed the snow to remain on the walk in front of his premises in direct violation of a city ordinance. But it seems the stone hit other city officers besides the one in mind, for the same reason.

Everyday some dozens of the people ask why the police—who they say have nothing else to do—don't compel the violators of the ordinance to clean their walks. Such inquirers don't seem to know the police in that particular.

The iciest, slushiest, filthiest piece of sidewalk in the whole city, is always to be found on Park avenue right in front of the Station House.

Young Men Wanted.

Mr. James McGee will conduct the young men's Gospel and song service at the Y. M. C. A., rooms, to-morrow afternoon at 4:15. Special music has been arranged in addition to the usual hearty singing. These meeting are largely attended and full of interest. Every man in Plainfield is invited.

OLYMPICS AND CRESCENTS MEET AT LAST.

The Former Win Both Games on Their Own Alleys.

There was blood on the moon last night, when the Crescent and Olympic bowling teams of this city met for the first time and rolled two of the scheduled games of the Central League Tournament. The Olympics won the first with bells on, as the score below shows, but the second game they only snatched from the grasp of the Crescents after a hard pull.

Naturally the Olympia alley, where the match was rolled, was crowded with rival partisans and a few ladies. The latter were choked with smoke and deafened with whistles and yells. Mr. Isaac Seeley, captain of the "Mondays," acted as umpire and called two fouls on Haven and one on Howe. Messrs Stevens and Emerson scored on the board for the Olympics and Crescents respectively, while Stover and Demarest kept the books.

The first game through the failure of Howe to uphold his reputation and the hard luck of Teel, was most disastrous for the Crescents. In spite of his two unfortunate fouls in the first game, however, Haven put up the highest score of all and also attained the top average of the evening. When the second game began there was determination in the way the Crescents went to work. They took the lead at the start and were 60 pins ahead on the third frame. But the Olympics were determined also, and when it was told that a friend of the Crescents had wagered $125 against $50 that the Olympics would lose, the latter started in to pull themselves up the hill. On the seventh frame they were still 53 behind, but on the next got within 18 of the leaders. On the ninth frame the Crescents led by only 8, and on the wind up Collier by doubling up the strikes won for the Olympics by two pins.

The scores were:

The North Plainfield Election.

This evening the Republican voters of North Plainfield will meet in the public school building on Somerset street, and make their nominations for borough officers as follows: A Mayor, to serve one year; two Councilmen for three years each; three Commissioners of Appeal for one year terms; a Collector for one year; one Freeholder for two years, and a Judge and two Inspectors. The amount of money to be raised for borough purposes, and also for repairs to the streets, will then be decided upon.

At the coming election there will also be voted for: One Judge of Election in each district, two Inspectors and two Clerks, besides a Township Clerk, one Freeholder, an Assessor, Collector, Overseer of the Poor, a Justice of the Peace, one Town Committeeman, three Commissioners of Highways, three Commissioners of Appeal, three Constables and four Pound-Keepers.

A Small Fire.

Between five and six o'clock last evening, fire was discovered in the one-and-a-half story frame building, situated in the rear of and adjoining Mr. Daniel Sommers' barn and wagon houses on Peace street. The fire burned briskly and when the firemen arrived, in response to a general alarm sent out, the upper portion of the building was enveloped in flames.

Chief Doane and his assistants directed the movements of the firemen, and in a short time the fire was under control. Gazelle Engine No. 1 took water from the well at Park avenue and Second street, while No. 2 Engine was located along the raceway at the foot of Stiger alley.

The building was used for storage purposes, but most of the movable material was taken out and conveyed to a place of safety. The structure belonged to Mr. Robert Meeker. It was damaged to the extent of about $150.

Sanitary Bureau, New York City.

Dr. Cyrus Edson of the New York Health Department, prescribes Speer's Port Grape Wine in his practice as the purest and most reliable wine to be had, and his opinion is endorsed by his assosciates, as will be seen from the following letter:

New York, December 9, 1887.

The Speer N. J. Wine Co.,

Gentlemen: Having used your Port Wine to a large extent in my family in cases of sickness and found it to be all that was recommended of it by my family physician, I desire to purchase it by the dozen bottles.

Respectfully yours,

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST.

"HE DID EXACTLY RIGHT."

Mr. Marsh is so Fortunate as to Receive the Approval of an Editor From Somerville.

(From the Unionist-Gazette.)

Counselor Marsh of Plainfield was before a justice of the peace as a defendant last week. He had turned out of his office a man whom, he says, insulted both an employee of the office and himself.

We do not know just what are the precise facts in the case, but, if they are as Mr Marsh states, he did exactly right in the premises.

It ought to be understood once for all, by everybody, that a man's office, as well as his house, is his castle against every one but the sheriff; and the only right another person has in it is by leave of the party who owns the place. The incomer is there upon his good behavior. If he raises a disturbance, or uses insulting and offensive language, he is to be asked to leave; if he will not go, hands may be laid upon him in other than apostolical fashion, and he may be put out. The law is well settled that the owner of any premises may use as much force as is necessary to remove therefrom one who has no right there; and if the intruder resist the attempt of the owner of the house to turn him out, he is guilty of assault.

When the case of Mr. Marsh came before the justice, the justice dismissed it with the quiet remark that if he had been in the Counselor's place he would have done likewise. He had a correct conception of the law, at least.

An Old Law Firm Dissolves.

The old-established law firm of Gilhooly & Marsh, at Elizabeth, dissolved partnership yesterday after an existence of nearly ten years. The firm consisted of ex-Judge Gilhooly and Assemblyman Fred C. Marsh. As Mr. Marsh has just been chosen City Attorney, and the ex-Judge is President of the City Council, they could not very well, as a law firm, retain these places with propriety. This is said to be the chief reason for the dissolution, which was by mutual consent.

A Bloody Affray.

is often the result of "bad blood" in a family or community, but nowhere is bad blood more destructive of happiness and health than in the human system. When the life current is foul and sluggish with impurities, and is slowly distributing the poisons to every part of the body, the peril to health, and life even, is imminent. Early symptoms are dull and drowsy feelings, severe headaches, coated tongue, poor appetite, indigestion and general lassitude. Delay in treatment may entail the most serious consequences. Don't let disease get a strong hold on your constitution, but treat yourself by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and be restored to the blessings of health. The "Discovery" is guaranteed to cure in all cases of diseases for which it is recommended or money paid for it will be refunded.

A Startling Platform.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—A despatch from Atlanta, Ga., says: President Livingstone, of the Farmers' Alliance, who is a candidate for Governor, puts himself on a novel and startling platform. He proposes that all candidates for Congress be required to pledge themselves in favor of putting crops in bond, the Government advancing 80 per cent. of their value. He also advocates the governmental control of all railroads.

Chicago's Claims.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Chicago representatives in the World's Fair matter were before the sub-committee of the House Committee on the World's Fair, and discussed the details of the bill. They said that Chicago had a guarantee fund of $5,000,000 ready, and no excessive Government appropriation, such as had been reported, was needed.

Taulbee's Case Almost Hopeless.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Ex-Congressman Taulbee's condition has changed but little since last night. This morning his case was considered as almost hopeless, with only a bare possibility of his recovery.

Pulled the Attorney-General's Nose.

BISMARCK, N. D., March 8.—Representative Walsh yesterday pulled Attorney-General Goodwin's nose in one of the corridors of the Capitol for having mentioned his name in connection with the recent lottery scandal. Goodwin made an effort to retaliate. There are reports that a duel will grow out of the affair, but it is not generally believed that the Attorney-General, though not lacking in courage, will attempt to get even according to the code.

THE BAILIFF'S BODY

Stolen from a Churchyard and the Police Baffled

SENSATION IN CORK, IRELAND

The Head of a Supposed Traitress Sent to Moscow's Governor-General.

Believed to Have Been Murdered by Nihilists — Three Villages Destroyed by Earthquakes — Abraham Lincoln's Funeral—Portugal's Minister Leaves England at Once Dissatisfied.

LONDON, March 8.—A tremendous sensation has been caused in Cork by the discovery that the body of the late Bailiff Markham had been stolen from the Kilteman churchyard, where it was interred. Markham was absolutely boycotted during the last ten years of his life for the conspicuous part he had taken in evictions, and for that period was under police protection. In fact the man was so generally and thoroughly detested by the Nationalists that the police are wholly unable to direct suspicion of participation in the robbery of his grave against any particular person or persons.

FIENDISHLY KILLED.

A Woman's Head Sent to Prince Dolgoroukoff of Russia.

LONDON March 8.—A dispatch from Moscow says that a parcel containing the head of a woman was recently left at the residence of Prince Dolgoroukoff. The parcel contained a note saying: "This is our first exploit. We will soon outdo Jack the Ripper." The crime is attributed to the Nihilists, whom the authorities believe murdered the woman for betraying their secrets.

Search was made, and the remainder of the body was discovered cut in pieces and packed in two sacks.

The corpse is believed to be that of a Nihilist traitress. A large number of arrests have been made.

Abraham Lincoln's Funeral.

LONDON, March 8.—The funeral services over the remains of Abraham Lincoln were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Gibson of Chicago, only the members of the American Legation being present. The remains were conveyed to the catacombs in Kensol Green, where they will temporarily repose. The floral offerings were numerous, the coffin being completely hidden by a bank of flowers.

No Satisfaction from England.

LONDON, March 8.—It is asserted that the Portuguese Minister has failed to secure any modification of England's attitude in his negotiations with Lord Salisbury and will return to Lisbon at once. The popular feeling against England in Lisbon is extremely menacing, as the result of the Minister's failure.

Will Support the Government.

LONDON, March 8.—It is said to-day that all the followers of Mr. Chamberlain, with the exception of Mr. Caine, will vote with the Government on Mr. Smith's motion, and that the rider to be offered by Mr. Jennings will receive the support of himself and the Churchill contingent only.

Villages Destroyed by Earthquakes.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 8.—Severe shocks of earthquake have occurred in the Government of Kutais, Asiatic Russia, by which three villages were destroyed.

GOV. ENGLISH'S WILL.

New Haven Charitable Institutions Receive Large Amounts.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 8.—The will of the late ex-Gov. English gives $20,000 to the New Haven Hospital; $20,000 to Yale College for a chair of mathematics; $10,000 to the Yale College library; $5,000 each to the New Haven Orphan Asylum and St. Francis' Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum; residence, furniture, plate and personal property to the widow, and the remainder of the estate, valued at about $2,000,000, to the only son, Henry F. English. It is understood that there was an ante-nuptial agreement that the bulk of the estate should go to the son, the second wife waiving her rights.

RECEIVED BY MAIL.

The Bloody Ear of a Negro Woman Sent to an Editor.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 8.—The city editor of the Evening News received in his mail a letter containing the bloody ear of a negro woman cut off close to the head. The letter said:

Make a notice of this in your paper, and it may help the late owner to recover her lost property. If not called for forward it to Senator Quandler at Washington.

The letter was signed "A Drummer." There is no clue to the writer.

Indian Skeletons Exhumed.

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J., March 8.—A gang of laborers while excavating in this place exhumed four frames of human skeletons. The discovery caused considerable excitement in the village, and many persons flocked to the place to view the human bones. The skeletons are believed to have been buried a great number of years, and have the appearance of the bones of Indians. It is believed that the place where the bones were found was an Indian burial ground.

Embarrassment Over a Deadlock.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 8.—The action of the House in tabling the appropriation bill because it contained a provision for the State Home and School, whose superintendent is charged with cruelty to children, leaves the State without money for current expenses. Considerable embarrassment will result to courts and various institutions. Over $600,000 is involved in the deadlock, and no further action can be taken until next week.

Wissmann's Expedition.

ZANZIBAR, March 8.—The expedition under command of Major Wissmann and all the German officers belonging to it have started for Saadani, the strongest position held by Bwana-Heri's forces.

WHINED LIKE A DOG.

Bitten by a Cur Mrs. Pope Dies from Fear of Hydrophobia.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 8.—A most distressing death from hydrophobia occurred at Dunellen. Mrs. Sarah R. Pope, mother of Elias R. Pope, recently confirmed by the Senate as postmaster of Plainfield, was the victim. She was bitten by a pet dog in December last and the wound was cauterized at the the time and afterward healed.

Mrs. Pope, who was 78 years old, suddenly conceived the idea that she would die of rabies. She was prostrated with nervousness and exhibited all the symptoms of hydrophobia, barking and frothing at the mouth. Dr. Paine, of Plainfield, and Dr. Gaston, of Dunellen, were called in. Their diagnosis encouraged the belief that it was a case of emotional hydrophobia brought on by terror of the real malady.

The pet dog was killed and the old lady grew worse. Although enfeebled by age, she suddenly became possessed of almost superhuman strength, and it required several persons to restrain her while afflicted with spasms of fear. Nothing could remove from her mind the impression that hydrophobia would result from the bite, and while in one of her hysterical periods she gave forth sounds similar to the whining of a dog, and shortly afterward expired. Mrs. Pope had lived in Dunellen for 60 years, and was widely known for her piety.

SAVORED OF SLAVERY.

Judge Thayer's Severe Criticism on a League Contract.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—The first test case in a Pennsylvania court between the League and Brotherhood of baseball players came up here in the suit of the Philadelphia League Club against Hallman.

The plaintiffs were represented by George Tucker Bisham and Col. John F. Rogers of this city and George F. Duysters, of New York. Hallman was defended by the giant of the Philadelphia bar, John G. Johnson, and Colonel John M. Vanderslice and Alfred G. Moore. The case came up before Judge Arnold and Judge-Thayer, who handed down a decision in the famous Metropolitan Club injunction five years ago.

In the course of the argument one of the judges remarked that the contract savored strongly of slavery. The case was taken under advisement.

Homes in Vermont for Swedes.

MONTPELIER, Vt., March 8.—Final arrangements have been completed by Hon. A. B. Valentine, Commissioner of Agricultural and Manufacturing interests, for settling a dozen Swedish families this coming spring at Vershire. The Citizens' Committee offer the new settlers farms of from 75 to 100 acres each at prices ranging from $2 to $5 per acre, and also agree to loan $25 in cash and furnish a cow for a stipulated period to each family. The farms contain good buildings and orchards, and the soil is productive.

The Benwell Tragedy.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 8.—There seems now to be no doubt as to the guilt of Reginald Berchell for the foul murder of Frederick C. Benwell. The sympathy of the people is with his wife, however. There is really no evidence against her and the Attorney-General has ordered Mrs. Burchell retained here until he considers her case. She will not be locked up at the police station, but allowed to remain at the hotel under guard.

Cold Weather Along the Hudson.

RONDOUT, N. Y., March 8.—The thermometer registered 14 degrees below zero yesterday, and 28 below at several points in the Catskills. The weather is the coldest of the season. Ice is forming rapidly. The river is closed from Stuyvesant north to Albany, the ice being three inches thick. Ice a foot thick is being cut in the Catskills. It is reported that peach buds in the fruit belt were nipped.

A Train Conductor's Narrow Escape.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 8.—W. H. Hubbard, conductor of an accommodation train running between here and Bridgeport, was thrown from the train by an unknown man at a point near Milford. A brakeman saw Hubbard roll down an embankment and stopped the train. The conductor was not seriously injured. His assailant escaped.

Election Day a Legal Holiday.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 8.—The House passed a bill making election days legal holidays after a protracted debate, in which the supporters of the measure claimed the holiday was wanted by the working people, while the opposition argued that it was useless legislation in the absence of any penalty for non-observance.

$1,071,000 for Supplies.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 8.—The Supply bill reported to the Assembly appropriates $1,971,000. Last year's bill, as passed, appropriated $2,243,000. The Governor cut it down to $1,698,000.

NEW COTTON MILLS.

A Pennsylvania Community Excited Over an English Syndicate's Purchase.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 8.—There is no more excited community in this State to-day than that which composes the population of the little hamlet of Lenover, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, Chester County, located between the tows of Parkesburg and Atglen.

The cause for the excitement is the purchase of six fine farms by an agent of an English manufacturing syndicate for the purpose of erecting thereon two mammoth cotton mills and such a number of dwelling houses as will be required to accommodate the employes, which number, it is said, will exceed 2,000. The properties purchased are those of N. Manle, James L. McClellan, Thomas W. Henderson, David Ferree, Byron Gibney, Joseph Gilson and Edward Heston. They are situated in West Salisbury and Highland townships, in a beautiful little valley.

NO ESCAPE FOR HIM

Burchell Now in the Shadow of the Gallows.

HOW MANY ARE HIS VICTIMS?

Suspected of Other Crimes Besides the Murder of Benwell.

An Officer Says the Evidence Against Him is Strong—Sympathy is With Mrs. Burchell, Although the Coroner Found Her Guilty With Criminal Knowledge of the Benwell Murder.

NIAGARA FALLS, March 10.—There is now but little doubt that Burchell is more of a villain than was at the time of his arrest supposed. The story from Woodstock, Ont., is thought by many to be the true solution of the mystery there, and is as follows:

Some two or three years ago a young Englishman, Neville H. Pickthall, went to Woodstock, and about a year ago purchased a farm six miles south of there and about four months ago married the daughter of his minister.

On February 10 last, Pickthall raised $1,000 on a mortgage on his farm and left here, saying to his wife: "I am going to double this money before I come back."

He was seen at Niagara Falls that night, and said he was going to New York to meet his sister.

The testimony in the Burchell examination showed that he reached New York and there met the Burchells. Since then no trace of him has been found and no word has been received from him.

His disappearance caused a stir at the time, and the police sent descriptions of him all over the country.

The theory now is that he was enticed to New York by Burchell with the expectation of making a large sum of money, and that he was put out of the way for the money he carried with him.

A search of Burchell's baggage will be made for anything that might give a clew to Pickthall's fate.

Burchell on close examination is not the prepossessing man he has been reported as being. He has a cold, restless blue eye, that never meets your gaze fairly and squarely, and when he moves there is a spring in his step that is suggestive of the feline race.

Mrs. Burchell, the wife of the suspected man, is still at Baldwin's boarding house, in Clifton, under the close guard of Officer Grisdale. When the verdict of the coroner's jury was announced, Saturday, finding that Benwell came to his death at the hands of Reginald Burcell, and implicating the wife as having guilty knowledge of the crime of its commission, Chief of Police Young wired to the Assistant Attorney-General for instructions as to the disposal of Mrs. Burchell. It was then thought that she would have to be taken to the jail at Welland, where her husband is confined. The Attorney-General, however, telegraphed to keep her under surveillance at Clifton until after the adjourned session of the preliminary hearing before Magistrate Hill on Wednesday.

When a reporter visited Baldwin's boarding house yesterday Mrs. Burchell was sitting in a rockingchair beside one of the parlor windows, in an utterly listless posture. Her eyes were red from recent weeping, and there was that about the woman's whole appearance which bespoke a spirit utterly broken. She looked as if she would have liked to have spoken of her troubles, but Officer Grisdale was too watchful for that. He utterly refused to permit the reporter to approach his prisoner.

"Nobody can speak to her," said he, and nobody has or will until the preliminary investigation is concluded.

The sympathy here is strongly with Mrs. Burchell and all seem to think she is innocent of any connection whatever with the crime or crimes of her husband.

Government Detective Murray, in an interview, said he has the strongest case of circumstantial evidence he ever had, and when presented it will be impossible for Burchell to escape the clutches of the law. This is not the first, second or third young Englishman lured to this country by him, he says, and before the case is finished the fate of all of them will be cleared up.

The Ice Harvest on the Kennebec.

GARDNER, Me., March 10.—It is estimated that the ice housed on the Kennebec river up to to-night is 1,036,000 tons. Of this amount 90,000 tons is ice left over from last season. The total product, according to a careful estimate, will be 1,500,000 tons. This does not include ice cut above the dam at Augusta, which it is estimated, will be 30,000.

The De Ruyter Still Aground.

SCITUATE, Mass., March 10. — The steamer De Ruyter remains in the same condition. She is full of water and badly iced. Some of her hatches have gone. A tug and one lighter are alongside, but nothing has been removed yet except the sailors' clothing. It looks like a change of wind to the eastward which would wrench the vessel badly.

A Fire Kindled by Burglars.

SHARON, Pa., March 10.—Burglars ransacked the Emmet House at Wheatland, and then set fire to the place. A number of boarders escaped with nothing on but their night clothes. Flames destroyed the hotel and two frame buildings.

A Rare Book Sold.

LONDON, March 10.—A Bible printed in an Indian language at Cambridge, Massachusetts, in 1661, was among the rare books in a collection just sold at auction here, and fetched $510.

DESTITUTION IN THE DAKOTAS.

An Appeal for Assistance Made Through the Red Cross Society.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The reports of destitution in North and South Dakota caused an investigation to be made by the Red Cross Society, and the following from Commissioner of Agriculture Helgesen, of North Dakota, is given out by the Red Cross Society. The communication is dated Grand Forks, Feb. 21:

"There are probably 5,000 to 6,000 people dependent and a good many more who have provisions for themselves, but need feed for stock. Considerable help has been received from St. Paul and Minneapolis, also from Chicago, and from several States East and South, but thus far only enough to temporarily relieve the needs of the destitute, and much more will have to be solicited from time to time."

Commissioner Helgesen accompanies his letter with a paper which contains an appeal to the public signed by the commissioner, as follows:

"The suffering for want of provisions, clothing, fuel, and feed for stock in several counties of North Dakota, is unprecedented in the State and needs some explanation.

"Good reasons at first rewarded our farmers; every acre was turned over for harvesting in 1888. All appeared well until August of that year when a severe frost, a thing unknown before, killed the ripening grain. It did much damage in the older end better portions of the State, but it entirely destroyed the newer sections. The hardy men did not lose their courage, but hired out to neighbors, thereby earning the money necessary for the seed and living of 1889. The unprecedented drouth of last year was doubtless felt most severely of anywhere in the West in the fields and families of the newly settled portions of both North and South Dakota. This second entire failure in some sections left many people completely destitute.

"While nearly the entire State suffered from drouth, only seven or eight counties need much assistance. In these counties there are not less than 5,000 people dependent wholly or in part on outside help until they can raise another crop, and a still larger number will need some assistance for stock. Most of them have hay, but horses and oxen will not be able to work sufficiently to get in the spring crops unless they have grain.

"The supplies heretofore receive are far from meeting the demand and provisions are urgently needed. The counties are well organized and supplies are distributed through the County Commissioner.

"All contributions, whether money or provisions for clothing, should be forwarded to said commissioner at Grand Forks, where the proper division will be made."

A SWEEPING CHALLENGE.

McAuliffe Ready to Fight Any Man in the World for from $1,000 to $10,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The latest sensation in sporting circles is Joe McAuliffe's challenge, accompanied by $500, in which he agrees to meet any man in the world under Queensberry rules to a finish, for any sum from $1,000 to $10,000, Jim Corbett preferred. Towards the latter McAuliffe's animosity knows no limit, and he makes an exception in Corbett's case, when he says that he will meet Jim in private or public with hard or soft gloves for anything from a pint of peanuts to $10,000.

Corbett the other day stated in a card that he would pay no attention to challenges for at least six months.

Corbett left for the East Saturday night. He was given a reception Friday night by his many friends who presented him with a magnificent diamond pin, a diamond locket and a beautiful gold watch and chain.

Election Contests at Kingston, N. Y.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 10.—At the charter election last Tuesday the board of inspectors for the Fifth ward declared Patrick J. Brennon, Democratic candidate for Alderman, elected by one majority over Henry Beck, an independent candidate endorsed by the Republicans. In the Fourth ward the inspectors declared Daniel J. Halloran, (Dem.) elected by two majority over Enoch Carter, (Rep.); returns to that effect have been filed with the City Clerk. All the candidates have retained counsel and contests over both seats will begin to-day when the Common Council meet as a canvassing board. Beck is one of the present Aldermen from the Fifth ward. Lively times are expected.

Detroit's Baseball Plans.

DETROIT, Mich., March 10.—The directors of the Detroit Baseball Club are working on a scheme to have the Brotherhood put ten clubs in the field, one here and one in St. Louis. Anything reasonable will be offered. Failing in this they will try to build up the International League, holding their franchise to prevent the League getting the players. If all other schemes fail they will turn the team over to the Brotherhood and offer them free grounds. Detroit has $25,000 on hand and a good team.

Duryea Deserts the Brotherhood.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 10.—James Duryea, the pitcher, has deserted the Brotherhood and signed with President Stern of the Cincinnati club. Duryea left Cincinnati on Friday, presumably to join the Brotherhood team at Savannah, Ga., but came instead to St. Louis. He met President Stern here and signed a three years ironclad contract to play with the Cincinnati club at a salary of $4,000.

Parnell Will Prosecute Another Paper.

LONDON, March 10.—Mr. Parnell will prosecute the Exeter Gazette for copying the alleged forgeries printed in the Times, and continuing the publication thereof.

CAMDEN'S MYSTERY

Interest in the Murder of Annie Leconey Revived.

ANOTHER CLUE OBTAINED

And an Arrest Likely to Occur in a Short Time.

A Conversation Said to Have Been Overheard Between Three Negroes That is Thought to Have a Bearing on the Murder—Murray and Lingo Two of the Three Negroes Referred To.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 10.—Interest in the murder of Annie E. Leconey, for which her uncle, Chalkey Leconey, was tried and acquitted, has been revived by a sworn statement made by Charles Thompson, of this city, which may lead to the arrest of another person on a charge of committing the murder.

Thompson's statement which has been reduced to writing is now locked up in the safe of Mr. Grey, the lawyer who defended Leconey.

In the statement Thompson says that a few nights ago he was in Merchantville and entered a barroom there, when he met Garrett Murray and Francis Lingo, the two negroes who were arrested soon after the murder and kept in custody for some time. Thompson says that the two negroes, after keeping up a whispered conversation for some time, walked over to the station and waited until a train arrived. A colored man, of stout build, got off the train, and was greeted by Murray and Lingo, who addressed him as "Sam." The three men walked to the end of the platform, and in the darkness engaged in an earnest conversation.

Thompson says that he followed the negroes, and heard Murray ask "Sam" how much money he had got for the job.

"Sam" replied: "I got $180."

Murray and Lingo then asked "Sam," according to Thompson's statement, if it was not about time that he made a settlement with them. "Sam" replied that he had left the money in a safe place.

It is said that the officers have got a clew to the identity of "Sam," and his arrest may be expected at any time.

A HEAVY SENTENCE.

Eighteen Years and a Fine of $126,452 for a Defaulting Auditor.

LEBANON, O., March 10.—"Al" Graham, former Auditor of Warren County was sentenced, on his plea of guilty to the indictment charging him with embezzling the funds of the county to the amount of $63,211. To the sixteen other indictments for receiving payment on false vouchers he pleaded not guilty. He made a statement to the court in which he implicated Treasurer Coleman, who was sentenced a few days ago. He said that when he left Lebanon, Coleman proposed to him to buy off the investigating committee, and he said he had just 15 cents. Coleman gave him $300, which he used in his flight. The court sentenced him to be imprisoned for eighteen years and to pay a fine of $126,452.

A Defalcation in Newark, N. J.

NEWARK, N. J., March 10.—A rumor is current that the Aqueduct Board, a commission appointed to look after the water supply of Newark, have discovered an extensive defalcation in the department. Several thousand dollars have mysteriously disappeared, according to the report, and suspicion is directed against the son of one of the commissioners, who holds an important position in the office. The books are now being examined, and it is said that if the amount of the shortage, when it is definitely ascertained, is not made good, an arrest will at once be made.

Beaten By Drunken Ruffians.

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—Andrew Smith and Archibald Hendrie while walking along an up-town street at 1 o'clock Sunday morning were set upon and severely beaten by a gang of five ruffians, who had a keg of beer and had become intoxicated. Both men were struck on the head with the brass spigot from the keg, and Smith's skull was crushed in. The injured men were taken to the Episcopal Hospital, where Smith's injuries were pronounced to be of a fatal character. Three of the attacking party have been arrested.

Blew the Top of His Head Off.

ASHLAND, Pa., March 10.—John McCafferty, a young man residing at Centralia, was shot and mortally wounded by Daniel Faust, who resides with his wife and another couple between here and that place. McCafferty, it is alleged, attempted to force an entrance into the house notwithstanding the threats of Faust, who was inside. When the door gave way Faust fired, blowing the top of McCafferty's head off. Faust has given himself up.

KILLED A SISTER OF CHARITY.

The Murderer Commits Suicide After He Had Been Arrested.

MOSCOW, March 10.—The body of a sister of charity named Piatnizky, well known for her many charitable deeds, was found cut into small pieces in a sack which was sewn up and thrown into a semi-retired spot, where detection was only a question of a few hours. The head was rudely cut from the trunk, and found wrapped in a cloth in another quarter of the city.

The crime was fastened upon a young medical student named Belsowsoff, who was arrested, and immediately committed suicide. No reason is known for the deed.

It now states that "The first ball game of the season in Plainfield will be played on April 13th." It is presumed that April 13 is meant, yet that date is a Sunday.

VERY SUDDEN DEATH.

A Prominent North Plainfielder Passes Away After Only an Hour's Warning.

Nathaniel J. Martin, aged 72 years, died at three o'clock this morning, at his home, 72 Somerset street. He ate a hearty supper last evening, went to bed in his usual good health and fell asleep calmly.

His wife was aroused about two o'clock by her husband's sufferings. He complained of a terrible pressure about his heart, and of his inability to breath freely. Dr. Tomlinson was summoned but the unfortunate man was dead within an hour after he was taken ill, conscious to the last.

He was a large fleshy man, and has had similar attacks before. Heart failure is given as the cause of death. He leaves a wife, one son and a daughter. No man was more highly esteemed in the community, and no family has more cause to feel the loss of father and husband, than his. The funeral will be held at the house, Thursday at twelve o'clock noon.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Rev. Dr. Huribut preached in the Wilson Memorial chapel last evening. His subject was, "Your Life is Hid."

Miss Ellen E. Niles, one of the corps of public school teachers, entertained a number of her friends, Friday evening.

Mr. Edward Searing of Madison avenue, has been confined to the house for a week past, by a severe strain to his back, which he sustained recently.

Mr. Charles P. Leggett officiated as organist at Trinity Reformed church, yesterday, during both services, in the absence of Mr. Arthur L. Titsworth.

The funeral of Mr. A. T. TenEyck, took place from the late home of the deceased at Samptown on Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment was made in the Samptown cemetery.

Saturday, at the home of her parents, 408 Plane street, Newark, occurred the death of Mabel A., only child of Robert P. and Anna E. Rever, and granddaughter of Mr. J. J. Sharp of this city.

Mr. Lemuel Wm. Serrell, of this city, consulting and constructing, mechanical and electrical engineer, has issued a business pamphlet full of interesting and instructive information regarding electricity, fuel, steam and power. Mr Serrell is the designer of the machinery now manufactured by the "C. & C." electric motor company, and until his resignation some months ago, was Superintendent of the Daft Co.

Counselor McClure is one of the principal "hustlers"—and at the same time a most effective worker—for Charles A. Reed as President of the Crescent League The latter, if he took into consideration his own preferences and the demands on his time of his large practice, would decline, but his friends won't let him. When Mr. Howard Emerson or any other as fit and popular a man is mentioned for President, Counselor McClure jumps up and down and swears that nobody's worthy of being even thought of for the office "alongside Deacon Reed."

A Brooklyn paper of last Thursday had this to say in its account of the Amphion Society's concert of the night before: "The baritone solo was sung by E. A. Swalm, a well-known church singer of the Eastern District. It was a dainty number, the serenade of the lover being accompanied by a faint chorus of male voices, and it was admirably sung both by soloist and chorus. Mr. Swalm is careful not only with his music, but with the enunciation of his words as well, so that all of his text is easily to be followed." Mr. Swalm is a son of Mr. Wm. Swalm of this city, and for many years was a resident and business man of Plainfield.

Sorry It's Not So.

(From the Chronicle.)

The Plainfield Press a few evenings since printed the following item of news:

The Central Railroad has decided to erect a new freight house West of Bound Brook, nearly opposite the round house. The contracts have been given to local builders. The old freight house will be torn down and the site turned into a yard. It is rumored that the company will build a station near the new freight house.

Station Agent Frech of Bound Brook knows nothing about this and it is a rather improbable story. Likely it arose from the fact that the Philadelphia and Reading company is about to build a freight house at Bound Brook crossing, where the Lehigh Valley crosses its tracks.

Almost An Accident.

When the 8:27 train for New York left the Plainfield station last evening, two females attempted to board the train, which was then well under way. One of them succeeded in reaching the platform, but her companion was less fortunate, and the foremost of the two jumped from the train and just escaped being run over by the timely arrival of one of the railroad employes, who happened to be near at hand.

It is said that the women were on their way home, and that they came from Westfield.

To-morrow's Election.

The borough election will take place to-morrow, and some exciting times are predicted. It is understood that a citizens ticket is to be put in the field, with either the names of Mr. John H. Jackson or Mr John H. VanWinkle for Mayor, and Mr. Fred. Slater for Councilman.

PLAINFIELD WHEELMEN NEWS.

As Contributed to the "Bicycling World" by Captain F. L. C. Martin.

The mammoth fair held by the Plainfield Bicycle Club on February 20, 21, and 22, is now a thing of the past. An unqualified success to the tune of about $1,100 crowned the efforts of the members. The fair was held in the new gymnasium recently erected by the club. The walls were handsomely and artistically decorated with costly rugs, portieres, bric-a-brac, Japanese lanterns, etc., the large and exquisite open fireplace added much to the attractiveness of the room, which presented a scene of grandeur. A bevy of Plainfield's beautful young ladies was in attendance at the various booths. During each session a musical concert was given by the Murray Brothers performing on a variety of instruments, and by Mr. Mecklem (a New York banker,) on the harp, and his daughter, on the saxophone. Miss Mecklem is a pupil of Le Fevre. She is only fifteen years of age, but has already developed musical talent of the highest order. A brilliant future evidently awaits her.

A large number of costly articles were disposed of by chance, prominent among which was a Columbia Safety Bicycle, won jointly by Messrs A. L. C. Marsh and F. L. C. Martin, and a handsome diamond ring, won jointly by Messrs Thos. S. Burr and the inevitable A. L. C. Marsh, who also captured several minor prizes. The billiard room in the club house was converted into a phonograph concert hall, and added considerably to the amusement of those present, besides netting very good returns. The shooting gallery, under the supervision of Messrs R. F. Murray and E. B. Ryder, proved another good source of revenue. A handsome souvenir badge made by Mr. R. H. Radford, one of the members of the club, composed of the club colors, cardinal and old gold, was presented to each lady assistant, and also to the chairman of each committee.

The members are very much indebted to their lady friends for the manner in which they worked, and the magnanimity they displayed by their donations, and are arranging to give a reception in their honor at an early date, as an evidence of the appreciation of their kind services. The Almanac Programme, a 36-page edition issued in connection with the fair, is a very interesting production, and reflects much credit upon the ingenuity of the editor, Vice President Thos. S. Burr, who was ably assisted by his daughter, Miss Helen.

At the last monthly meeting of the Hudson County Wheelmen thirteen new members were elected, which carried the membership just over the century line, and for the first time in the history of the club. They now have the largest membership of any of the cycling clubs in the State, followed closely by the Plainfield Bicycle Club with 95 members. The Plainfields held first place for a short time only, but claim that they will "get there" again, and at no very distant day.

The New Chautauqua Center.

Correspondence to THE PRESS from Buffalo says: "The central office of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle—that organization which has made Chautauqua a household word in the United States—has just taken commodious quarters in the Tucker Building in this city. More than a year ago Bishop Vincent, Chancellor of Chautauqua, became a resident of Buffalo, and partly in consequence of his presence here and partly for the sake of securing a more central headquarters the offices were removed from Plainfield, New Jersey.

"Under the new arrangement a consolidation of interests has been effected which cannot fail to strengthen greatly this wide-spread educational agency. The Chautauqua text-books under a new contract made at the last meeting of the Chautauqua Trustees will be published at a much cheaper price and in connection with The Chautauquan magazine at Meadville, Pa.

"Thus all the departments will be within easy communication and all under the general oversight of the Chancellor, whose interest and enthusiasm have not abated one whit since his election as Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church."

Democratic Primary To-Night.

The Democratic voters of North Plainfield Borough and Township are requested to meet at the school house, this evening, at 8 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating Township and Borough officers. By order of Chairman of Township Democratic Executive Committee.

—The pastor of the different churches have been requested by the census authorities to compile the births and deaths in their congregations from June 1889 to June 1890.

"Hurrah!" said a little girl, "Im not to be kept in because of that horrid neuralgia. My mamma has bought a bottle of Salvation Oil."

—It is said that a certain city official allows the snow and ice to remain on the sidewalk in front of his office, while private residents are being notified that they must remove the snow or be fined.

Captain Morrison and Mr. Titsworth Speak Last Night.

There was a fair attendance in Reform Hall last evening. President Harper occupied the chair, Chaplain Honeyman conducted the devotional services, and the choir, under the leadership of Mr. King, with Miss Alice Smith as accompanist, rendered the music.

The first speaker was Mr. Alexander Titsworth, who in well chosen language extolled the blessed fruits of temperance, right action, the value of true friendship, home happiness, and the saving results of religious faith and living. He was followed by Captain George D. Morrison in a similar strain of opposition to the liquor evil. Captain Morrison vividly portrayed his ocean experiences, drawing therefrom moral lessons of great interest, and spoke in detail of both sea and land sharks, the last named being venders of intoxicating drink who seek the ruin of many a poor sailor. Deep religious sentiment pervaded the remarks of the Captain, and he urged as the only anchor of hope and preservation an abiding dependence upon the Lord Jesus. Both speakers commanded unbroken attention. The meeting closed with a touching prayer from the lips of Captain Morrison.

Plainfield's Roads are the Best.

Mr. Richard M. Stites, Civil Engineer and City Surveyor for Morristown, recently wrote to Street Commissioner Geo. M. Angleman of this city for some "points" concerning street work, which Morristown is sadly in need of. In his letter Mr. Stites says: "I must say, your roadbeds in and out of Plainfield are all that could be desired, from what I saw in riding over and examining them last year.

Take it in Time.

A man who presents an appearance of debility, whose countenance is anxious, and who is subject to spells of faintness, is liable to sudden death from heart disease. Let him take DR. FLINT'S REMEDY before it is too late. Descriptive treatise with each bottle; or address Mack Drug Co, N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

Man, Woman or Child, Don't Miss It!

The company that will give "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at Music Hall, Wednesday evening, is the original cast, not one of which appeared here before. Tommy Russell will play the title role. Just think of it!

"'Little Lord Fauntleroy' is called a play merely for the purpose of classification, but it is rather an idyl of the home in prose, and presented in dramatic form. It is a beautiful poem of childish love, truth, and purity, charming in its simplicity, fascinating in its gentleness and grace of motion, touching in its sincerity and fidelity to nature, and appealing to the tenderest feelings and purest emotions of man and woman with a force which is irresistible, and which is productive of results not to be lightly estimated. In these days of sensational melodrama, the loud and vulgar farcical comedy, so called, and those questionable plays which deal with certain phases of the marital relation, it is a positive relief, a joy not to be undervalued, to sit within the influence of such a dramatic composition, to breathe deeply in the purity of its atmosphere, and to feel the heart-strings throbbing responsively to its every delicate touch. It is easy for the critic to be extravagant in treating a work of such rare merit and unusual character, and as the opportunity is not often afforded him—more the pity—he may be excused if he pile thick and fast upon each other adjectives of commendation."

The State Convention.

The twenty-first annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the State of New Jersey will be held at Morristown, March 13 to 16, inclusive, and a large number of delegates and others interested will be present from this city. Among the prominent speakers and association men who will be there, are the Rev. Henry Spellmeyer, D. D., James Bridie, Edwin F. See, William S. Sloan, Prof. W. R. Newton, Robert E. Spear, and Dwight L. Moody.

Among the topics to be presented for discussion will be those pertaining to district work, social work, progressive work, in Bible and training classes, financial support, educational work, and avenues of extension and development.

The Bible readings conducted by Mr. James Bridie, and the addresses by Mr. Moody, and the presentation of work for and by college men by Mr. Spear promises unusual usefulness and interest.

Parlor conferences will be held in the private homes of citizens of Morristown for the following classes of delegates: 1st, for Presidents and Directors; 2d, for college delegates; 3d, for railroad delegates; 4th, for members of district trict committees, and 5th, for delegates interested in boys' work. And at each one of these conferences topics pertaining to the special work of these departments will be discussed.

The Best Way to Build Sewers in Plainfield.

The proposed bill now before the Legislature as published exclusively in THE PRESS last week, providing a way whereby any city of New Jersey can build a system of sewerage by assessing the property owners and bonding the city, is not the act that has been prepared and drawn especially for the City of Plainfield. That act has been completed and revised by Corporation Counsel Marsh, as instructed by the Common Council, with an eye blind to any provision except for the people's interest. It is to be presented this week in the House by Assemblyman Marsh, at the request of the Common Council, and will be published in these columns.

Peach Blossoms and Sleigh Bells.

The many Westerly people in this city, and also the many Plainfielders who have friends there, will be interested in the following bit of news from that place:

"As people were whisked along the Potter Hill road out of this village in their fancy cutters this week a very curious thing they beheld in the yard of Joseph F. Stillman—a peach tree laden with pink and white blossoms, whose fragrance perfumed the road. The snow was 12 inches deep, ponds and roadside pools were frosted, and the temperature was 15°. Mistakenly the tree had bloomed in the sunny weather of a week ago, and was bound to keep up appearances."

Please Bear This in Mind.

The law regarding newspapers says "if a person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publishers may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not."

More Than Some Churches Raise in a Dozen Years.

The offering in the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday morning, was for the Board of Foreign Missions for work in heathen lands. The collection amounted to over one thousand dollars.

—Information in regard to the Y. M. C. A. State Convention to be held at Morristown, March 13 to 16, may be obtained at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, or from Messrs W. D. Murray or C. T. Kissam of the State Committee, and Mr. Stephen Cahoone of the District Committee.

It Stands Alone.

There are many blood medicines advertised, but only one that is backed up by its manufacturers with a certificate of guarantee, and that one is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is warranted to benefit or cure in all diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. It cures all skin, scalp and scrofulous affections, sores and swellings, salt-rheum, tetter and kindred ailments.

THEY OPPOSE THE SCHEME.

New England Servants Not in Favor of Immigrating Southern Negroes.

BOSTON, March 10.—The report of the organized effort which is at present being made to induce an exodus of Southern colored people to New England is not viewed with pleasure by either the black or white help now in this section of the country and it is threatened by some that a secret boycott will be placed in several places where large numbers of servants are engaged.

The intention of the promoters of the immigration movement is to have whole families come on—the women as servants and the men for laborers—and he says the purpose is to colonize them throughout New England in the same way that Vermont is encouraging the immigration of Swedish families.

Mr. Stillman B. Pratt says the people of this section have within a few years found out that the women of the negro race make the best servants that can be had, and there is a constantly increasing demand for them from all parts of New England.

Mr. Pratt says the local authorities of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts have promised to deal liberally with them, and that as soon as the proper time shall have arrived the word will be spoken which will start a considerable exodus from the Southern States.

VICTORY FOR SALOON KEEPERS.

The Supreme Court Decides Against the Mayor of Camden, N. J.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 10.—Saloonkeepers here are in high glee on account of the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Irving Herman vs. Mayor Pratt.

Hermann kept a saloon in this city and was arrested under an ordinance passed by the Excise Commission in accordance with the Wert's Law on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

He had a license regularly granted by the board, for the sale of liquor in quantities of less than one quart, but it was charged that he sold liquor to be taken off the premises.

The Supreme Court in an opinion handed down by Justice Van Sickle says: There is no prohibition in the ordinance of sales by less measure than one quart to be taken from the premises. The defendant had license, as was shown on the trial, to sell by less measure than one quart to be drank on or about the premises, and thereby fully complied with the requirements of the ordinance. He has done no act in violation of the ordinance, and therefore the conviction is declared illegal and is set aside.

DEATHS.

TITSWORTH.—In this city, March 8, Randolph Titsworth, M. D., aged 67 years. Funeral services from his late residence, 106 East Front street, Tuesday, March 11, at 2:30 P. M. Interment private—at the convenience of the family.

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON.

"WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE YOUR LIFE OVER AGAIN?"

An Able Discourse from the Text "All That a Man Hath Will He Give for His Life," Job ii, 4—Don't Look to the Past, but Gaze Forward Into the Future.

BROOKLYN, March 9.—The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., preached in the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, this morning, to an overflowing congregation. After expounding appropriate passages of Scripture he announced his subject to be: "Would You Like to Live Your Life Over Again?" His text was Job ii, 4: "All that a man hath will he give for his life." He said:

That is untrue. The Lord did not say it, but Satan said it to the Lord, when the evil one wanted Job still more afflicted. The record is: "So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord and smote Job with sore boils." And Satan has been the author of all eruptive diseases since then, and he hopes by poisoning the blood to poison the soul. But the result of the diabolical experiment which left Job victor proved the falsity of the Satanic remark: "All that a man hath will he give for his life." Many a captain who has stood on the bridge of the steamer till his passengers got off and he drowned; many an engineer who has kept his hand on the throttle valve or his foot on the brake until the most of the train was saved, while he went down to death through the open drawbridge; many a fireman who plunged into a blazing house to get a sleeping child out, sacrificing his life in the attempt, and thousands of martyrs who submitted to fiery stake and knife of massacre and headsman's ax and guillotine rather than surrender principle, have proved that in many a case my text was not true, when it says: "All that a man hath will he give for his life."

But Satan's falsehood was built on a truth. Life is very precious, and, if we would not give up all, there are many things we would surrender rather than surrender it. We see how precious life is from the fact that we do everything to prolong it. Hence all sanitary regulations, all study of hygiene, all fear of draughts, all waterproofs, all doctors, all medicines, all struggles in crisis of accident. An admiral of the British navy was court martialed for turning his ship around in time of danger and so damaging the ship. It was proved against him. But when his time came to be heard he said: "Gentlemen, I did turn the ship around and admit it was damaged; but do you want to know why I turned it? There was a man overboard, and I wanted to save him, and I did save him, and I consider the life of one sailor worth all the vessels of the British navy." No wonder he was vindicated. Life is indeed very precious. Yes, there are those who deem life so precious they would like to repeat it, they would like to try it again. They would like to go back from seventy to sixty, from sixty to fifty, from fifty to forty, from forty to thirty, from thirty to twenty. I purpose for very practical and useful purposes, as will appear before I get through, to discuss the question we have all asked of others, and others have again and again asked of us: Would you like to live your life over again?

The fact is that no intelligent and right fearing man is satisfied with his past life. We have all made so many mistakes, stumbled into so many blunders, said so many things that ought not to have been said, and done so many things that ought not to have been done, that we can suggest at least ninety-five per cent. of improvement. Now would it not be grand if the good Lord would say to you: "You can go back and try it over again. I will by a word turn your hair to brown or black or golden, and smooth all the wrinkles out of your temple and cheek, and take the bend out of your shoulders, and extirpate the stiffness from the joint and the rheumatic twinge from the foot, and you shall be twenty-one years of age and just what you were when you reached that point before." If the proposition were made I think many thousands would accept it. That feeling caused the ancient search for what was called the Fountain of Youth, the waters of which taken would turn the hair of the octogenarian into the curly locks of a boy, and however old a person who drank at that fountain he would be young again. The island was said to belong to the group of the Bahamas, but lay far out in the ocean. The great Spanish explorer, Juan Ponce de Leon, fellow voyager with Columbus, I have no doubt felt that if he could discover that Fountain of Youth he would do as much as his friend had done in discovering America. So he put out in 1512 from Porto Rico and cruised about among the Bahamas in search of that fountain. I am glad he did not find it. There is no such fountain. But if there were and its waters were bottled up and sent abroad at a thousand dollars a bottle, the demand would be greater than the supply, and many a man who has come through a life of uselessness, and perhaps sin, to old age, would be shaking up the potent liquid, and if he were directed to take only a teaspoonful after each meal would be so anxious to make sure work he would take a teaspoonful, and if directed to take a teaspoonful would take a glassful. But some of you would have to go back further than to twenty-one years of age to make a fair start, for there are many who manage to get all wrong before that period. Yea, in order to get a fair start some would have to go back to the father and mother and get them corrected; yea, to the grandfather and grandmother and have their life corrected, for some of you are suffering from bad hereditary influences which started a hundred years ago. Well, if your grandfather lived his life over again and your father lived his life over again and you lived your life over again, what a cluttered up place this world would be, a place filled with miserable attempts at repairs. I begin to think that it is better for each generation to have only one chance and then for them to pass off and give another generation a chance.

Beside that, if we were permitted to live life over again it would be a stale and stupid experience. The zest and spur and enthusiasm of life come from the fact that we have never been along this road before and everything is new, and we are alert for what may appear at the next turn of the road. Suppose you, a man in mid-life or old age, were, with your present feelings and large attainments, put back into the thirties or the twenties or into the teens, what a nuisance you would be to others and what an unhappiness to yourself. Your contemporaries would not want you and you would not want them. Things that in your previous journey of life stirred your healthful ambition, or gave you pleasurable surprise, or led you into happy interrogation, would only call forth from you a disgusted "Oh, pshaw!" You would be blase at thirty and a misanthrope at forty and unendurable at fifty. The most inane and stupid thing imaginable would be a second journey of life. It is amusing to hear people say: "I would like to live my life over again if I could take my present experience and knowledge of things back with me and begin under those improved auspices." Why, what an uninteresting boy you would be with your present attainments in a child's mind. No one would want such a boy around the house; a philosopher at twenty, a scientist at fifteen, an archæologist at ten and a domestic nuisance all the time. An oak crowded into an acorn. A Rocky mountain eagle thrust back into the egg shell from which it was hatched.

Beside that, if you took life over again, you would have to take its deep sadness over again. Would you want to try again the griefs and the heartbreaks and the bereavements through which you have gone? What a mercy that we shall never be called to suffer them again! We may have others bad enough, but those old ones never again. Would you want to go through the process of losing your father again or your mother again or your companion in life again or your child again? If you were permitted to stop at the sixtieth milestone or the fiftieth milestone or the fortieth milestone and retrace your steps to the twentieth, your experience would be something like mine, one day last November, in Italy. I walked through a great city with a friend and two guides, and there were in all the city only four persons, and they were those of our own group. We went up and down the streets, we entered the houses, the museums, the temples, the theatres. We examined the wonderful pictures on the walls and the most exquisite mosaic on the floor. In the streets were the deep worn ruts of wagons, but not a wagon in the city. On the front steps of mansions the word "Welcome" in Latin, but no human being to greet us. The only bodies of any of the citizens that we saw were petrified and in the museum at the gates. Of the thirty-five thousand people who once lived in those homes and worshiped in those temples and clapped in those theatres, not one left! For eighteen hundred years that city of Pompeii had been buried before modern exploration scooped out of it the lava of Vesuvius. Well, he who should be permitted to return on the pathway of his earthly life and live it over again, would find as lonely and sad a pilgrimage. It would be an exploration of the dead past. The old school house, the old church, the old home, the old play ground either gone or occupied by others, and for you more depressing than was our Pompeian visit in November.

Beside that, would you want to risk the temptations of life over again? From the fact that you are here I conclude that though in many respects your life may have been unfortunate and unconsecrated, you have got on so far tolerably well, if nothing more than tolerable. As for myself, though my life has been far from being as consecrated as I would like to have had it, I would not want to try it over again, lest next time I would do worse. Why, just look at the temptations we have all passed through, and just look at the multitudes who have gone completely under. Just call over the roll of your schoolmates and college mates, the clerks who were with you in the same store or bank, or the operatives in the same factory with just as good prospects as you, who have come to complete mishap. Some young man that told you that he was going to be a millionaire, and own the fastest trotters on Westchester turnpike, and retire by the time he was thirty-five years of age, you do not hear from for many years, and know nothing about him until some day he comes into your store and asks for five cents to get a mug of beer. You, the good mother of a household and all your children rising up to call you blessed, can remember when you were quite jealous of the belle of the village, who was so transcendently fair and popular. But while you have these two honorable and queenly names of wife and mother, she became a poor waif of the street, and went into the blackness of darkness forever. Live life over again? Why, if many of those who are now respectable were permitted to experiment, the next journey would be demolition. You got through, as Job says, by the skin of the teeth. Next time you might not get through at all. Satan would say: "I know him now better than I did before and have for fifty years been studying his weaknesses and I will weave a stronger web of circumstances to catch him next time." And Satan would concenter his forces on this one man, and the last state of that man would be worse than the first. My friends, our faces are in the right direction. Better go forward than backward, even if we had the choice. The greatest disaster I can think of would be for you to return to boyhood in 1890. Oh, if life were a smooth Luzerne or Cayuga lake, I would like to get into a yacht and sail over it, not once, but twice—yea, a thousand times. But life is an uncertain sea, and some of the ships crash on the icebergs of cold indifference, and some take fire of evil passions, and some lose their bearings and run into the skerries, and some are never heard of. Surely on such a treacherous sea as that one voyage is enough.

Beside all this, do you know if you could have your wish and live life over again it would put you so much further from reunion with your friends in heaven? If you are in the noon of life or the evening of life you are not very far from the golden gate at which you are to meet your transported and emparadised loved ones. You are now, let us say, twenty years or ten years or one year off from celestial conjunction. Now, suppose you went back in your earthly life thirty years or forty years or fifty years, what an awful postponement of the time of reunion! It would be as though you were going to San Francisco to a great banquet and you got to Oakland, four or five miles this side of it, and then came back to Hoboken or Harlem to get a better start; as though you were going to England to be crowned and having come in sight of the mountains of Wales you put back to Sandy Hook in order to make a better voyage. The further on you get in life, if a Christian, the nearer you are to the renewal of broken up companionship. No; the wheel of time turns in the right direction, and it is well it turns so fast. Three hundred and sixty-five revolutions in a year and forward, rather than three hundred and sixty-five revolutions in a year and backward. But hear ye! hear ye! while I tell you how you may practically live your life over again and be all the better for it. You may put into the remaining years of your life all you have learned of wisdom in your past life. You may make the coming ten years worth the preceding forty or fifty years. When a man says he would like to live his life over again because he would do so much better, and yet goes right on living as he has always lived, do you not see he stultifies himself? He proves that if he could go back he would do almost the same as he has done. If a man eat green apples some Wednesday in cholera time and is thrown into fearful cramps and says on Thursday: "I wish I had been more prudent in my diet; oh, if I could live Wednesday over again," and then on Friday eats apples just as green, he proves that it would have been no advantage for him to live Wednesday over again. And if we, deploring our past life and with the idea of improvement long for an opportunity to try it over again, yet go on making the same mistakes and committing the same sins, we only demonstrate that the repetition of our existence would afford no improvement. It was green apples before, and it would be green apples over again. As soon as a ship captain strikes a rock in the lake or sea he reports it, and a buoy is swung over that reef and marines henceforth stand off from that rock. And all our mistakes in the past ought to be buoys warning us to keep in the right channel. There is no excuse for us if we split on the same rock where we split before. Going along the sidewalk at night where excavations are being made, we frequently see a lantern on a framework and we turn aside, for that lantern says, keep out of this hole. And all along the pathway of life lanterns are set as warnings, and by the time we come to mid-life we ought to know where it is safe to walk and where it is unsafe.

Beside that, we have all these years been learning how to be useful, and in the next decade we ought to accomplish more for God and the church and the world than in any previous four decades. The best way to atone for past indolence or past transgression is by future assiduity. Yet you often find Christian men who were not converted until they were forty or fifty, as old age comes on, saying: "Well, my work is about done and it is time for me to rest." They gave forty years of their life to Satan and the world, a little fragment of their life to God, and now they want to rest. Whether that belongs to comedy or tragedy I say not. The man who gave one-half of his earthly existence to the world and of the remaining two quarters one to Christian work and the other to rest, would not, I suppose, get a very brilliant reception in heaven. If there are any dried leaves in heaven they would be appropriate for his garland; or if there is any throne with broken steps it would be appropriate for his coronation; or any harp with relaxed string it would be appropriate for his fingering. My brother, you give nine-tenths of your life to sin and Satan and then get converted and then rest awhile in sanctified laziness and then go up to get your heavenly reward, and I warrant it will not take the cashier of the royal banking house a great while to count out to you all your dues. He will not ask you whether you will have it in bills of large denomination or small. I would like to put one sentence of my sermon in italics, and have it underscored, and three exclamation points at the end of the sentence, and that sentence is this: As we cannot live our lives over again, the nearest we can come to atone for the past is by redoubled holiness and industry in the future:

'Tis worth a wise man's past of life,
'Tis worth a thousand years of strife,
If thou canst lessen but by one
The countless ills beneath the sun.

If this rail train of life has been detained and switched off and is far behind the time table, the engineer for the rest of the way must put on more pressure of steam and go a mile a minute in order to arrive at the right time and place under the approval of conductor and directors.

As I supposed it would be, there are multitudes of young people listening to this sermon on whom this subject has acted with the force of a galvanic battery. Without my saying a word to them, they have soliloquized, saying: "As one cannot live his life over again, and I can make only one trip, I must look out and make no mistakes. I have but one chance and I must make the most of it." My young friends, I am glad you made this application of the sermon yourself. When a minister toward the close of his sermon says: "Now a few words by way of application," people begin to look around for their hats and get their arm through one sleeve of their overcoats, and the sermonic application is a failure. I am glad you have made your own application and that you are resolved, like a Quaker of whom I read years ago, who in substance said: "I shall be along this path of life but once, and so I must do all the kindness I can and all the good I can." My hearers, the mistakes of youth can never be corrected. Time gone is gone forever. An opportunity passed the thousandth part of a second has by one leap reached the other side of a great eternity. In the autumn, when the birds migrate, you look up and see the sky black with wings and the flocks stretching out into many leagues of air, and so today I look up and see two large wings in full sweep. They are the wings of the flying year. That is followed by a flock of three hundred and sixty-five and they are the flying days. Each of the flying days is followed by twenty-four and they are the flying hours, and each of these is followed by sixty and these are the flying minutes. Where did this great flock start from? Eternity past. Where are they bound? Eternity to come. You might as well go a-gunning for the quails that whistled last year in the meadows or the robins that last year carolled in the sky, as to try to fetch down and bag one of the past opportunities of your life. Do not say: "I will lounge now and make it up afterwards." Young men and boys, you cannot make it up. My observation is that those who in youth sowed wild oats, to the end of their short life sowed wild oats; and that those who start sowing Genesee wheat, always sow Genesee wheat. And then the reaping of the harvests is so different. There is grandfather now. He has lived to old age because his habits have been good. His eyesight for this world has got somewhat dim, but his eyesight for heaven is radiant. His hearing is not so acute as it once was and he must bend clear over to hear what his little grandchild says when she asks him what he has brought for her. But he easily catches the music raised from supernal spheres. Men passing in the streets take off their hats in reverence and women say: "What a good old man he is." Seventy or eighty years all for God and for making this world happy. Splendid! Glorious! Magnificent! He will have hard work getting into heaven because those whom he helped to get there will fill up and crowd the gates to tell him how glad they are at his coming until he says: "Please to stand back a little till I pass through and cast my crown at the feet of him whom having not seen I love." I do not know what you call that. I call it the harvest of Genesee wheat.

Out yonder is a man very old at forty years of age, at a time when he ought to be buoyant as the morning. He got bad habits on him very early and those habits have become worse. He is a man on fire, on fire with alcoholism, on fire with all evil habits, out with the world and the world out with him. Down and falling deeper. His swollen hands in his threadbare pockets and his eyes fixed on the ground, he passes through the street, and the quick step of an innocent child or the strong step of a young man or the roll of a prosperous carriage maddens him, and he curses society and he curses God. Fallen sick with no resources he is carried to the almshouse. A loathsome spectacle, he lies all day long waiting for dissolution, or in the night rises on his cot and fights apparitions of what he might have been and of what he will be. He started life with as good a prospect as any man on the American continent, but there he is a bloated carcass, waiting for the shovels of public charity to put him five feet under. He has only reaped what he sowed. Harvest of wild oats! "There is a way that seemeth right to a man, but the end thereof is death." Young man, as you cannot live life over again, however you may long to do so, be sure to have your one life right. There is in this august assembly I wot not, for we are made up of all sections of this land and from many lands, some young man who has gone away from home and perhaps under some little spite or evil persuasion of another, and his parents know not where he is. My son, go home! Do not go to sea! Don't go to-night where you may be tempted to go. Go home! Your father will be glad to see you, and your mother, I need not tell you how she feels. How I would like to make your parents a present of their wayward boy, repentant and in his right mind. I would like to write them a letter and you to carry the letter saying: "By the blessing of God on my sermon I introduce to you one whom you have never seen before, for he has become a new creature in Christ Jesus." My boy, go home and put your tired head on the bosom that nursed you so tenderly in your childhood years. A young Scotchman was in battle taken captive by a band of Indians and he learned their language and adopted their habits. Years passed on, but the old Indian chieftain never forgot that he had in his possession a young man who did not belong to him. Well, one day this tribe of Indians came in sight of the Scotch regiments from whom this young man had been captured, and the old Indian chieftain said: "I lost my son in battle, and I know how a father feels at the loss of a son. Do you think your father is yet alive?" The young man said: "I am the only son of my father, and I hope he is still alive." Then said the Indian chieftain: "Because of the loss of my son this world is a desert. You go free. Return to your countrymen. Revisit your father that he may rejoice when he sees the sun rise in the morning and the trees blossom in the spring." So I say to you, young man, captive of waywardness and sin! Your father is waiting for you. Your mother is waiting for you. Your sisters are waiting for you. God is waiting for you. Go home! Go home!

A SCHOONER BURNED AT SEA.

The Crew Rescued and Landed Yesterday at Gloucester.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 10.—The fishing schooner Grace Choate, from Portsmouth, arrived last evening, having on board Capt. Horatio H. Lawson and six men of the schooner Lizzie L. Small, of New York, who were rescued from a boat yesterday, 15 miles southeast of Thacher's Island. The cabin stove during the morning set fire to the Small while all her crew were on deck, and the flames were soon beyond control. The stern of the Small burned off, and she filled and rolled over. The captain lost a considerable sum of money.

No Smallpox Scare at Meriden.

MERIDEN, Conn., March 10.—The dispatches sent out from here regarding smallpox are misleading and injurious. Visitors, except for such dispatches, would never think that there was a case of smallpox here. The stores, factories, places of amusements, etc., are running as usual, and there is nothing in the conduct of the people to indicate that there is any alarm felt. There are only three cases here that could possibly convey the disease, and these are isolated in the town hospital, located on a farm two miles from the factories and the centre of population.

Buffalo Bill Hissed in Rome.

ROME, March 10.—"Buffalo Bill," during his exhibition on the Compagna, Saturday, offered a sum of money to any outsider who should succeed in riding a certain horse. Some peasants succeeded in riding the animal, but payment was refused on the ground that they had not mounted within the required time. The audience were indignant, and roundly hissed the managers. The show opens at Florence to-day.

Stocking Jersey Streams With Trout.

BELVIDERE, N. J., March 10.—Twenty cans of trout fry from the State Fishery have just been shipped to the Water Gap and other points nearby. There are 50,000 young trout in the lot. The work of stocking will be closed June 1. It is estimated that by the date named 1,500,000 young trout will have been distributed among the various streams in Northern New Jersey.

An Actress Becomes a Raving Maniac.

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 10.—A special from Nashville, Tenn., says: Mrs. Chas. Bailey, an actress, who recently arrived in this city from St. Louis, was arrested on the streets Sunday a raving maniac. It required the combined strength of three men to take her to jail. Her father, who is said to be a wealty citizen of Greensburg, Pa., has been notified.

Chinese Imperial Soldiers Deserting.

LONDON, March 10.—A large number of the soldiers of the Imperial guards in Formosa (China) are deserting on account of their pay being in arrears. They are joining the rebels, which enables the latter to make a vigorous stand. Reinforcements are being sent by the Government.

Promised to Marry a Negro Woman.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Mary Belle Tardy, a mulatto 21 years old, has instituted a suit for breach of promise against Dr. Maurice B. Early, a white physician of this city. The woman says Early betrayed her under promise of marriage.

ENTOMBED IN A MINE

Terrible Catastrophe in a Colliery in Wales.

160 LIVES PROBABLY LOST

The Explosion Came While Three Hundred Men Were at Work.

Eight Horribly Mutilated Bodies Taken from the Pit—Gas and Flame Prevent the Rescuers from Pushing the Search. Appeals for Help Coming from the Entombed Men.

LONDON, March 11.—A terrific explosion occurred in the Morse colliery in Glamorganshire, Wales, which, it is feared, will be attended with great loss of life. Over 300 miners are entombed. About 200 have been rescued from the workings nearest the main shaft. Most of them were uninjured, but several were fatally hurt.

The explosion is attributed to the sudden change in temperature in the pit, caused by the admission of a warmer current of air.

Owing to later heavy falls of debris, the explorers are prevented from penetrating the works, which are pervaded by choke-damp. Now and again a body is being brought to the surface, but the work of recovering the corpses is slow.

Eight bodies, horribly mutilated, have been taken out of the pit. It is rumored that the rescuers have heard appeals for help coming from the entombed men, but the rescuers are unable to push their search because of the gas and flame which confront them.

A late estimate makes the number of dead 160.

NO IMPORTANT CHANGES.

The Brotherhood Schedule Committee Considers Complaints About Dates.

CLEVELAND, O., March 11.—The Schedule Committee of the Players' Baseball League held a meeting in the Weddell House and considered complaints that had been made by the different clubs about the dates assigned them.

Secretary Brunnell said after the meeting was over that no important changes had been made. "We have given Chicago two or three more Saturday games in Boston and New York," he said. "That is about all. As far as the schedule as a whole is concerned, it remains practically unchanged. The Western clubs will play in the East on Decoration Day and the Eastern clubs will be in the West on the Fourth of July."

AN EXCITING ELECTION.

Officers Arrested One Another and a Serious Riot Was Feared.

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 11.—The election in this city was the most exciting ever known here, and everyone wonders that it did not result in greater trouble. At one time it was feared that the militia would have to be called out.

The sheriffs were all Republicans and the policemen all Democrats. They arrested one another and others until it seemed as if everybody would be in jail before nightfall. All the prisoners have been released on bail. Several persons attempting to vote on alleged defective naturalization papers were among them.

Biddeford Democratic.

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 11.—The following is the result of the election: For Mayor—Staples (Dem.) 1,211, Lord (Rep.) 837. The Democrats carried every ward.

Augusta Republican.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 11.—Mayor Samuel W. Lane was re-elected, and the city government is Republican from every ward.

The Flack Conspiracy Trial.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The second day of the Flack conspiracy case began this morning before a large crowd in the Court of Oyer and Terminer with Justice Barrett on the bench. Sheriff James A. Flack, his son William L. Flack and lawyer Joseph Meeks, against whom indictments had been found for conspiracy to procure a divorce from Mrs. Sheriff Flack, were all early on hand. The work of selecting a jury is proceeding very slowly.

A General War Coming.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Count Lewenhaupt, Secretary of the Swedish Legation at Washington, is at the Palmer House. He said it looked as though there would be a general European war in the spring, with Germany and Italy against France and Russia. In view of the fact that the Swedish fortress of Carlscrona would be an objective point, he said means would be taken to protect it, as Sweden could muster an army of 400,000 men in four days.

A Murderer Captured.

MALONE, N. Y., March 11.—George King, who is wanted here for the murder of Eugene Vannesman, on June 1, 1889, was captured at a lumber camp near Tacoma, Wash., and was brought to Denver last night. The prisoner is about 26 years of age. He is charged with having killed Vannesman, a popular citizen of Malone, in cold blood and without any reason whatever.

Will Mrs. Birchell Suffer?

WOODSTOCK, Ont., March 11.—New and sensational developments are constantly cropping out in connection with the Benwell tragedy. Under the laws of Canada a wife cannot be made accessory after the fact, therefore Mrs. Birchell cannot be punished for shielding her husband, even if it is proven that she [illegible]

A SQUEEZE IN READING.

The Stock Advanced Nearly 5 Per Cent by a Bull Pool.

New York, March 11.—The big squeeze in Reading stock is said to have been caused by the fact that I. and S. Wormser, who have been acting as agents for the bull pool in that stock, were called upon by the pool to give the numbers of the certificates they claimed to control. No satisfactory answer being given, it is said, the pool transferred its interests to Moore & Schley, and called on the Wormsers to transfer all Reading pool stock to that firm. The Wormsers are said to have been short 30,000 shares for the pool and 30,000 on their own account, and were forced to enter the market as heavy buyers. Two per cent. was paid for the use of stock for one day, and there was an advance of 4 3-8 per cent.

LEVEES BREAKING.

Great Damage Will be Done by the Swollen Mississippi.

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—Reports from the lower Mississippi say that the flood in the river has become alarming. The whole of the river front, from the crevasse above Arkansas City to the Louisiana line is flooded. The whole of the Tensas basin of Louisiana, consisting of four or five parishes, is covered by water.

The river at Arkansas City is forty-seven feet five-tenths on the gauge, four-tenths above high water mark, and is still rising. The present outlook is that there will be at least a foot more of water and that there will be heavy loss of property. There was a break in the levee six miles above Arkansas City yesterday afternoon. People along the levee are panic stricken and are leaving their homes.

FOUGHT FOR HER LIFE.

The Partly Decomposed Body of a Woman Found in a Cellar.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The partly decomposed body of a well-dressed woman, about 25 years old, was found in the cellar of No. 3 Eldridge street. The head was cut and bruised and tied up in a cloth. A pair of gold rings were in the ears. The murder was probably committed several days ago.

The features indicate that the woman was of the Hebrew race. The whole body is terribly bruised, as if by kicks. The nose and jaw are broken and the skull fractured. Shreds of human skin clinging to the finger-nails indicate that the woman fought hard for her life.

Crotty Sentenced For Abduction.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 11.—Alfred M. Crotty, the Brooklyn drummer, who was convicted here of abducting Lida E. Bennet by inducing her to run away with him upon a promise of marriage, was sentenced to pay a fine of $550 or stand committed in the Elmira Reformatory for two years. Crotty became acquainted with Miss Bennet last September, told her he was a single man, and induced her to leave her home, promising to marry her. He has a wife and two children in Brooklyn.

Reducing the Rate of Interest.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 11.—The petition of the New York Clearing House against the bill reducing legal interest in this State to 5 per cent. was presented in the Assembly by Mr. Bradford Rhodes. It makes the following points: No other State has a lower rate than 6 per cent. and this State would be at a disadvantage. The change would divert capital from New York and impair our commercial status. It would be a blow to savings banks and their patrons.

Justice Patterson Selected.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Judge Jacob Patterson was elected Chairman of the Republican County Executive Committee vice Judge Solon Smith, who announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Smith opposed Mr. Platt in the matter of the World's Fair bill, and it is understood that he would have been defeated if he had aspired for re-election.

Tessie Covert's Betrayer Held.

JAMAICA, L. I., March 11.—The inquest on the death of Miss Tessie Covert, daughter of Village Trustee Covert, was held last evening. The jury decided that the young girl's death was caused by malpractice, and held John Melville Bassett responsible. Bassett was taken to the Long Island City jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Two Men Killed by a Train.

FREEPORT, Pa., March 11.—Two Austrians named Perio Silyak, aged 40, and Pero Sastara, aged 33, were killed on the Winfield Branch Railroad. They were caught in a slide from the hill which covered them, and before their companions could get them out they were lifeless.

A Dinner to Captain Ward.

NEW LONDON, Conn., March 11.—Fifty representative citizens of Norwich gave Captain Ward, of the steamer City of Worcester, a complimentary dinner at the Crocker House, taking this method to assure the captain of confidence in him, and to exonerate him from blame in the recent accident to the steamer.

Brotherhood Players Going South.

BOSTON, March 11.—The members of the Boston Players' League team have been ordered to report at New York next Saturday to leave for Savannah by steamer in company with the New York Brotherhood team.

Eight Years for Hanson.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 11.—Frank Hanson, the young German, who last week brutally outraged a seven-year-old girl, was sentenced to eight years imprisonment.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Favorable Report on Pennsylvania's War Claims Bill.

AN APPROPRIATION OF $3,447,945

To Pay Damages Sustained by Citizens from Union and Confederate Soldiers.

Secretary Windom Will Not Recede from His Position on the Immigrant Landing Question—Mr. McAdoo's Liberty Island Bill Passed—The Latest World's Fair Bill—Taulbee's Case is Hopeless.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The House Committee on War Claims authorized a favorable report on the bill introduced in the House by Mr. Maish to authorize the payment of damages sustained by citizens in the State of Pennsylvania from Union and Confederate troops during the late war.

The bill appropriates $3,447,945, payable to the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, to provide for the payment of these claims.

The bill passed the committee by a vote of 6 to 4. The minority will probably submit a report opposing the passage of the bill.

THE WORLD'S FAIR BILL.

Designating a Federal Commission to Take Sole Control.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The Chicago committee who have been in consultation with members of the World's Fair Committee for several days past have presented a completed bill, providing for holding the Fair in Chicago, to Messrs. Hitt and Springer of the sub-committee in charge of the bill. The bill is really the joint compilation of the sub-committee and the Chicago delegation.

It was the original intention of the Chicago people to place the management in the hands of a National Commission and the local incorporators but in this bill the National Commission is given full charge of the project, including the power to allot sites for buildings and to appoint the juries of award.

The Commission is to consist of 100 members. The Governor of each State is authorized to nominate two members, one from each of the two principal parties to be appointed by the President, and the President is given further authorization to appoint one member from each of the Territories and the District of Columbia, and eight members at large. The date of holding the Fair is left blank in the bill and will be decided on the next meeting of the full committee.

Mr. Candler has given notice that he will request the House to change the date from 1892 to 1893.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Action of the House Committee Investigating the Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The House Committee investigating the charges against the Civil Service Commission held a meeting at which it was decided to have printed the evidence already taken.

When this has been accomplished the committee will give an opportunity to Messrs. Hatton and Ewart and the Civil Service commissioners to make arguments, if they so desire. After the arguments have been completed the committee will make a preliminary report of its findings on the charges as they affect the the commission as at present organized.

It will then continue its investigation into the general workings of the Civil Service system and if desirable may take further evidence on the charges already inquired into, as these charges may affect the former commissions.

Important Decision.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The United States Supreme Court rendered a decision affirming the judgment of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of the Bells Gap Railroad Company against the State of Pennsylvania. The railroad in this case under a State law was taxed on the face and not on the market value of its bonds, and this it was contended was a violation of the constitution inasmuch as it denied them the equal protection of the laws. In the decision prepared by Justice Bradley the court holds that there was no unjust discrimination. The presumption is that corporate securities are worth their face value.

Assistant Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The President having signed the bill providing for an Assistant Secretary of War, there is considerable speculation as to who will receive the appointment. Rumor does not seem to have settled very definitely on any one as yet. The two names most frequently mentioned are those of Frank C. Partridge, Secretary Proctor's private secretary, and Assistant Surgeon F. C. Ainsworth.

Secretary Windom Determined.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—A petition from New York city, numerously signed, was presented to Secretary Windom, protesting against the selection of Bedloe's Island, New York Harbor, as an immigrant station. Secretary Windom said Bedloe's Island had been selected after much care and consideration and he saw no good reason to change his determination to locate the immigrant station there.

To Secure Safety in Handling Trains.

BOSTON, March 11.—The Grand Council of the Steam Railroad Men's Protective Union has petitioned Congressman Lodge to introduce and advocate in Congress a bill to secure greater safety in handling trains, including provisions for safety couplers, train brakes, guard rails on cars and shorter hours.

There were present: Grand Regent Douglass, Supreme Representative Charlock, Grand Vice Regent Tompkins, Grand Secretary Alberts, Grand Guide Drummond, Grand Trustee Kallman. Deputy Grand Regent Kerr and Past Regent Nixon of Pioneer Council, Jersey City.

A flash light photograph of the group of handsome and representative men assembled there, was taken, after which the forty set down to a collation at the City Hotel, with Regent Conklin presiding. Among the speakers were Past Regent Rodman, Past Regent Leonard, and all the grand officers.

Attacked By a Highwayman.

Charles Barber was seized by a highwayman on West Fourth near New street, last evening between eleven and twelve o'clock. He grabbed Barber fiercely by the collar of his heavy coat and demanded his "money or his life." It was very dark and Barber could not make out whether the assailant was white or black. Being unarmed he could only struggle to escape.

The highwayman pulled Barber's coat off his back, but slipped in the mud and fell. Barber says he "Thought a good run was better than a bad stand," so he made tracks for the home of Dr. Rushmore by whom he is employed. The doctor upon opening the door found Barber shaking with excitement, entirely out of breath and covered with mud. The case was reported to the Chief of Police.

TAIL-ENDERS 1ST.

The Crescent Bowling Team Drop Two More Games in the Central League Tournament.

A man by the name of "Jim Fancher" of Fanwood, stood on the platform of the railroad station at Westfield, last evening, and swore the members of the Plainfield Crescent League "couldn't bowl a little bit." The crowd around him were all Plainfielders and members of the Crescent League, yet but one disputed the assertion and he quietly withdrew when asked for proof to sustain his objection.

The trouble all arose because the Crescents had just been bowling in such hard luck on Gale's alleys at Westfield, as to lose two games to the Mondays. Fancher had lost his money on the Crescents, and they had lost all heart because of their disappointment and were ready to agree with anything that he said about them. But they feel better now, and Thursday night on their own alleys, the Crescents propose to win both games back again from the Mondays. Probably VanEmburgh, Emerson, Haven, Theirs and Rogers will be the contesting team then.

Everything was against the visiting team last evening. The alleys are lighted by lamps that shine only on one side of the pins, and only those at home can tell which of the front three is the king pin. Reed, on whom so much always depends, had the most unfortunate breaks, and bad luck attended Howe and Haven. The Mondays wound up the first game in splendid shape, and rolled a beautiful game in the second. Ex-Captain Ike won the first game by doubling up strikes in his last frame, while the last four frames in the second game by Grand Stand Dilts were the finest of the evening, netting him 80 pins. South Paw Stitt, the best bowler in Westfield, and Cy Wilcox also done themselves honor in the second game.

Assessor Julius Cæsar Marsh acted as umpire, but was so busily engaged in giving out pasters to the Republicans who wanted to vote for his reelection, that he never saw a foul. The pin boys had struck, so the irrepressible John Peiffer, aged 70, and his irrepressible son, aged 17, set 'em up, The scores were as follows:

CRESCENT.		MONDAY.
VanEmburgh	152	Cohen	128

THE BI'S NEW BOSSES.

They Will Blow the Boys Off, and All Hands Will Tender the Young Women a Reception, Later.

At a regular meeting of the Plainfield Bicycle Club held last evening, two more members were elected, and the officers nominated at a caucus on the first of March were chosen for the ensuing year as follows:

President—Townsend Rushmore.
Vice President—Thomas S. Burr.
Secretary—Geo. C. Martin, Jr.
Treasurer—Harold Serrell.
Trustees—Dr. J. H. Cooley, A. L. C. Marsh, F. L. Kirchoff, Roger F. Murray, James H. Hallock.
Captain—F. L. C. Martin.
First Lieutenant—J. E. Erickson.
Second " —Stanton M. Smith.
Color Bearer—L. E. Waring.
Bugler—Geo. C. Martin, Jr.

The gymnasium committee reported that the apparatus had been ordered and would be ready for use in about two weeks. A motion was made to tender an entertainment or reception in honor of the young women who so generously donated articles and assisted at the recent fair. The Trustees were authorized to arrange whatever they thought best in the matter.

On Saturday evening the newly elected officers will give a "spread" to the members, in the club house. It is said that the menu will be most elaborate.

Plainfield is Too Well Known.

Plainfield is a city of about 9,000 inhabitants. But it has no location upon the large map published in 1888 by the U. S. Land Office. This map, says a Somerville paper, is presumed to locate every notable place in this country. "What is the matter with our sister city?"

WILL IT PASS?

A LAW PROPOSED TO HELP THIS CITY OUT OF A DIFFICULTY.

It Was Drawn by City Attorney Marsh and Introduced by Assemblyman Marsh as Instructed and Requested by a Committee of the Council—Its Provides for Sewers Built by Private Capital and at no Cost to Any Citizen not Using Them.

The act which Assemblyman Fred. C. Marsh, of Elizabeth, introduced in the Legislature of New Jersey, at Trenton, last evening, at the request of a committee of the Common Council of this city, has for its object to enable Plainfield to authorize a corporation formed for the purpose, to put in a system of sewerage without expense to the city.

Upon the bill being introduced and its title read, it was referred to the committee on judiciary of which Assemblyman Marsh is a member. Assemblyman Ulrich, who is the representative of this district, and a resident of this city which the bill is meant to particularly apply to, objected to the reference ordered. He wanted the bill placed where he could get at it in the interest of his constituents. Thereupon by a vote of the House, the bill was taken out of the hands of the committee on judiciary and placed in the hands of the committee on municipal corporations of which Mr. Ulrich is a member.

A proposed bill already before the House of Assembly, as already published in THE PRESS, provides for a system of sewerage in cities to be built by the cities and paid for by assessments and the issuing of bonds. The bill introduced by Assemblyman Marsh for the Plainfield Council, provides a way for the granting of a franchise for the purpose to private capitalists, and the corporation so to be formed is to derive its revenue solely from those property owners—and no others—who may chose to contract with the corporation for the use of the sewers.

To enable the corporation to carry out the purposes of its organization, the power to condemn lands is necessary, and is provided for in the bill. The act contains further provisions as to how many shall be requisite to form the company, how the directors shall be chosen, what officers may be appointed, what the capital stock shall be, how the pipes shall be laid, how the preliminary examinations, levels, etc., may be taken, and when the work shall be begun and completed. The act further provides that the consent in writing of the corporate authorities shall be obtained before any company can be incorporated thereunder, and authorizes the annexation of conditions to the granting of such assent, which conditions are made operative and binding upon the corporation, its successors and assigns.

Such is the general outline of the provisions of the act. The scheme is practically indentical with that adopted by the Legislature in 1876 with respect to water works. In drafting the proposed act, City Attorney Marsh adopted the scheme of the above because it was fair to assume that the latter, having stood unrepealed on the statute books for fourteen years, can have no very serious objections.

Plainfield is free from debt, and its citizens are opposed to the issuing of bonds. Water works are about to be constructed by a private company, under the act of 1876 referred to above, and the Council desire to have sewerage introduced on a similar principle, and, if possible, at the same time, so as to avoid tearing up the streets again.

The bill which is numbered 370, is entitled, "An act for the construction, maintenance and operation of systems of sewerage in cities, towns and boroughs."

Opposition is already heard of from certain quarters—where and why, THE PRESS is just now bound in honor not to disclose. If necessary for its passage, the proposed act can be limited to cities, and if still further limitation should prove necessary, it could be provided, as Governor Abbett so universally desires, so as to take effect in such cities only as should first approve of the act by a popular vote.

THE PRESS does not desire to be misunderstood—the proposed act has not been submitted to the Council, but the committee was instructed to have such an act drafted and submitted to the Legislature without further action on the part of the Council.

The full text of such sections of the proposed act as are of most importance to the public in general, are as follows:

"Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any number of persons, not less than seven, a majority of whom shall reside in this State, may form a company for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating a system of sewerage in any city, town or borough, in this State, for the purpose of supplying said city, town or borough and the inhabitants thereof with an adequate means of disposing of sewerage.

"Sec. 2. That such persons desirous of forming a company for such purpose shall make, sign and acknowledge, before some officer authorized to take such acknowledgment of deeds, a certificate in writing, which shall state the corporate name adopted by the company, the amount of the capital stock, the term of its existence, the number of directors, the names of those who shall manage the affairs of the company for the first year, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and the name of the city, town or borough in or for which such sewerage system is to be constructed, and the business of the company carried on. Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State together with the consent in writing of the corporate authorities, if any, of the city, town or borough in which such sewerage system is to be constructed.

"Sec. 3. That when such certificate and consent shall have been filed as aforesaid, the persons who shall have signed and acknowledged the same, and their successors, shall be a body politic and corporate, and shall have power as such to build, erect, alter, repair, enlarge and maintain all necessary works and apparatus within or without said city, town or borough, and to lay down all such pipes and conduits for sewerage at such times and in such places as shall be necessary and proper to enable said corporation to carry into effect the purposes of its incorporation.

"Sec. 4. That it shall be lawful for such corporation to enter upon any and all lands in the neighborhood of the borough, town or city which it is intended to supply with such system of sewerage and to make all such preliminary examinations, explorations, measurements and levelings as may be necessary and proper for its corporate purposes, doing thereby as little damage as possible to the owner or owners.

"Sec. 12. That such company be and they are hereby fully authorized and empowered to lay their pipes beneath such public roads, streets, avenues and alleys, as they may deem necessary for the purposes aforesaid, free from all charge to be made by any person or persons, or body politic whatsoever, for said privilege; provided that said pipes shall be laid at least three feet below the surface of the same, and shall not in anywise unnecessarily obstruct or interfere with public travel, or damage public or private property; and provided that the consent shall be obtained of the corporate authorities, if any there be, of any town through which the same may be laid.

"Sec. 13. That the said company may contract with property owners and others for the use of said system of sewerage for such price or prices, or quarterly or annual rents, and such restrictions as they may think proper.

"Sec. 14. That such company shall commence the construction of the proposed system of sewerage within six months from the date of their organization, and shall complete the same within two years from the date of commencement.

"Sec. 15. That it shall be lawful for the corporate authorities of any such city, town or borough to annex to the consent referred to in Section 2 of this act, any condition or conditions upon which such assent is granted, and if said certificate be filed, there shall be annexed thereto and filed therewith said condition or conditions, or a copy thereof, and such filing shall be conclusive evidence that said corporation has assented to said condition or conditions, and the same shall be deemed and taken to be binding and operative upon said corporation, its successors and assigns.

The primary was called to order by Mr. E. C. Morse, who said that he had issued the call as chairman of the Township Executive Committee at the solicitation of voters. He didn't know but what he had exceeded his authority; if he had he hoped to be forgiven; "to err was human; to forgive divine."

After reading the call Mr. Morse was chosen chairman, with Mr. S. C. Shann, secretary.

Messrs Wm. Pangborn and Wm. Van Winkle acted as tellers during the evening. The same officers acted for both Township and Borough meeting.

The only nominations over which there was any strong contest were for the offices of Township Assessor and Borough Freeholder. For Assessor John Vetterlein received 46 votes and Chas. Lyman 41 For Freeholder Wm. S. Campbell received 27 votes, Andrew Love, Sr., 19; Jacob Voehl, Sr., 13, and Joseph Blatz, 9. The nominations of Vetterlein and Campbell were made unanimous.

At the close of the primary, Chairman Morse made a brief but rousing speech exhorting the Democrats to stand and work together, and expect success, which was sure to come if the true spirit of unity and energy were shown.

It Stands Alone.

There are many blood medicines advertised, but only one that is backed up by its manufacturers with a certificate of guarantee, and that one is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is warranted to benefit or cure in all diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. It cures all skin, scalp and scrofulous affections, sores and swellings, salt-rheum, tetter and kindred ailments.

Coughing

IS Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."—Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

SEXTON'S SENSATION

He Says Lord Salisbury Wrote Pigott a Private Letter.

BALFOUR DARES HIM TO READ IT.

Mr. Gladstone's Amendment Rejected by a Vote of 339 to 268.

The Jennings Amendment to be Taken Up To-Night—Terrific Encounter Between Turkish Troops and Brigands—A Clergyman Sent to Prison for Stealing. Revolution Threatened in Chili.

LONDON, March 11.—The House of Commons agreed to a motion made by the Right Hon. W. H. Smith, the Government leader in the House, to resume the debate on the Government motion asking the House to accept the report of the Parnell Commission.

Mr. Sexton, resuming the debate, protested against the placing on the records of the House the judges' distorted and perverted view of the evidence submitted to them. The Conservatives, he said, were bound to accept Mr. Gladstone's amendment as an act of moral restitution.

In the course of his speech Mr. Sexton said he had in his possession a letter, marked "private," from Lord Salisbury to Pigott.

Mr. Balfour declared that it was a vile calumny to insinuate that Lord Salisbury was connected with the forgeries. He dared Mr. Sexton to publish or read the letter.

Mr. Sexton said he was ready to submit the letter, together with others, to a committee of inquiry.

Mr. Balfour, continuing, denied that the Government assisted the Times to procure evidence in America. He accused the Parnellites of witholding from the commission every source of authentic evidence. The Government made no charges against the Parnellites, and he failed to see why the Government ought to apologize.

The Times had been guilty of culpable credulity, but the Parnellites were not less guilty in allowing suspicious circumstances to point to their sympathy with, rather than to their abhorrence of crime.

Finally Mr. Gladstone's amendment was rejected by a vote of 339 to 268. Mr. Jennings' amendment will be taken up to-night.

The Canon Stole a Trunk.

LONDON, March 11.—On the trial to-day at Bristol of the case against Canon Bayne, charged with having stolen a trunk from the platform of the railway station, the defendant admitted his guilt but said that he was mentally weak. The court sentenced him to four months imprisonment at hard labor.

A Revolution Threatened in Chili.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, March 11.—The native laboring class in Chili boldly threaten the Government with a revolution unless an immediate check be put upon the immigration pouring into the Republic from foreign shores, which, they claim, tends to keep down the wages of unskilled labor.

Turks and Brigands Meet.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 11.—A terrific encounter between Turkish troops and a band of brigands has taken place at Klassona. The Turks succeeded in dispersing the brigands, but lost twenty killed in the fight, while the brigands lost only six.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Township Elections To-Day Keep Many Members Away from Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., March 11.—This is the ninth week of the session. Members came here in force last night, but there are many empty chairs to-day on account of the township elections.

Senator Roe introduced a bill to do away with the publication of the laws in the newspapers and substituting 20,000 pamphlets for public distribution. Senator McDonald introduced an act amending the law for the establishment of mutual loan, homestead and building associations. He offered another providing that roads formerly owned by a turnpike company leading to a bridge owned by the county shall be acquired by the county. Senator Martin introduced a bill providing that after 1892 the provision of the Aqueduct Board act allowing $30,000 shall be discretionary.

In the Assembly Mr. Klotz had a bill passed providing that the license fees collected in towns and boroughs be turned over to the respective clerks. Another bill introduced by Mr. Bertram came up on third reading. It gives Common Pleas Courts power to transfer a license from house to house as well as from person to person. Mr. Shorpell's bill for the preservation of clams and oysters in Maurice River Cove and Delaware Bay went through unopposed.

Robbed a Police Captain's House.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 11.—A robber made his way into the house of Police Captain Brant here early in the morning, entered the captain's bedroom, cut a pocket containing $15 out of Mrs. Brant's dress, and took several dollars out of her husband's waistcoat, which hung at the bedside. Mrs. Brant awoke and aroused her husband, who sprang out of bed, grabbed his revolver, and pursued the thief, who meanwhile had run down stairs. The captain chased him into the parlor, where he thought sure he had him cornered, but the burglar leaped clean through a window, demolishing it, and thus effecting his escape.

On Trial for Slander.

MCKEESPORT, Pa. March 11.—McKeesport Methodists are agitated over the Rev. R. B. Mansell's case, the hearing of which is now going on. The leading prosecutor is F. S. Coursin a member of the church for 20 years. He is backed by other prominent citizens who are outspoken against Mr. Mansell. Rev. W. Cox, of the East Ohio Conference, is acting as judge, and a jury of ministers has been elected. The principal charges preferred against Mr. Mansell are lying and defamation of character. He is accused of circulating a story to the effect that Mr. Coursin swore.

Big Advance in Coffee.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Coffee advanced 7-8 points on cables reporting excitement in Rio de Janeiro, and confirming the statements of a great shortage in the world's visible supply.

EIGHT LIVES LOST.

A Mother and Her Seven Children Roasted to Death.

MONTREAL, March 11.—A heartrending fatality occurred at Cote St. Michael, a flourishing little country parish, about five miles from this city, by which a whole family, consisting of a mother and seven young children, were literally roasted to death.

After starting the fires about 5 o'clock in the morning Quesime Collerette proceeded to the outhouses to look after the cattle. He had not long been engaged in this work when he was startled by a cry of fire, and rushing out found the whole house in flames. Regardless of danger, he rushed into the burning structure and made a desperate effort to rescue his wife and seven children.

His efforts, however, were vain, as the fire had secured too great a headway, and Collerette himself was rescued from the flames more dead than alive. Within a short space of time the house was reduced to ashes, and all that remained of the inmates were a few charred bones. Collerette was fearfully burned, and was removed to a neighbor's house, where he now lies in a very precarious condition.

A can of kerosene oil, which was left standing near the fireplace, undoubtedly exploded and caused the terrible disaster.

BIRCHALL'S HEARING

The Alleged Murder of Benwell in Court To-Day.

EVIDENCE THAT CONFRONTS HIM

The Contents of the Two Trunks that Were Left in Bond.

The Full Correspondence Between Birchall and the Murdered Man—The Letters in Possession of the Chief of Police. The Prisoner Beginning to Show Signs of Insanity.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 12.—The hearing of Reginald Birchall, charged with the murder of F. C. Benwell, commenced this morning before Magistrate Hill, at Clifton Court House, and in all probability will be concluded by to-morrow evening, although there is a bare possibility that the session may last another day. The wheels of justice revolve slowly on the Canada side. Magistrate Hill's court is not provided with an official stenographer, and as a consequence the Justice is compelled to take the evidence in long hand.

Birchall was brought to court in custody of Government Detective Murray, and Douglas Raymond Pelley and Mr. Helmouth, Mrs. Birchall's counsel, came down at the same time.

Mrs. Birchall was present of course. She is very much brighter than she has been since her husband's arrest. The cheering news which was imparted to her to the effect that her father was on his way to Canada filled her with new hopes and restored the color to her cheeks in some measure.

As for the evidence which will be produced at this hearing it is promised that it will be both new and sensational. The contents of those two trunks which Benwell left in bond at Clifton station, and to which Birchall always referred whenever Pelley asked him how Benwell was going to get on at the new barn without any clothes, will be produced in court. One of the trunks contains a kit of carpenter's tools and the other a few articles of outside wearing apparel of the very coarsest description, showing that Birchall was guilty of a lie when he told Pelley that Benwell could have all the clothes he wanted by merely sending for these two trunks in bond.

One of the most interesting features of the evidence to be produced will be the correspondence between Benwell and Birchall in reference to the farming scheme in Woodstock. The full correspondence which Birchall and Benwell exchanged will, it is thought, throw some additional light upon this mysterious affair. These letters have not yet been produced in court, but are in possession of Chief Young.

The prisoner is begining to show signs of insanity. He mutters to himself and traces imaginary characters in space with his fingers. He refuses to shave himself, and is beginning to grow careless about his dress.

NEW JERSEY ELECTIONS.

Successful Candidates in Several Towns of the state.

NEWARK, N. J., March 12. — Orange elected a Republican Mayor for the first time in 20 years. The Democrats retain a majority in the Board of Aldermen.

ELIZABETH, March 12.—The Republicans carried Union County in the township elections and Freeholders in Cranford, Clark, Fanwood, Linden, Springfield, Westfield and New Providence, which, with the members who hold over from Elizabeth, Plainfield and Rahway, will make the next board stand: Republicans, 11; Democrats, 6.

PLEASANTVILLE, March 12.—The following union ticket was elected in this city: Mayor, James L. Risley, re-elected; Councilmen for three years, Richard L. Risley and Gideon H. Adams; for one year, Daniel L. Leeds; Assessor, Richard M. Sooy; Collector, John F. Ryon, re-elected; Freeholders, Lemuel Conover, N. Disbrow and John T. Lake.

TOMS RIVER, March 12.—Ally Ayers and A. W. Irons, Democratic candidates for Assessor and Collector, were elected.

New President for Swarthmore College.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., March 12.—William Hyde Appleton, Ph. D., was elected president of Swarthmore College to succeed Edward H. Magill, resigned. Dr. Appleton is a graduate of Harvard University, and has been professor of Greek at Swarthmore since 1871.

Work for Legislators.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 12.—To-day important hearings will be had before committees. Among them will be a hearing on the State care for the indigent insane. In the evening the Senate Cities Committee will give a second hearing on the High License bill.

Jack Lyman Knocked Out.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 12.—Jim Kennard, the St. Paul "Kid," and Jack Lyman, of New York, fought last night at the Arlington Athletic Club for a purse of $400. Lyman was knocked out in the 22d round and the fight awarded to Kennard.

They Vote for Revision.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 12.—The Presbytery of Jersey City, by a vote of 24 to 14, decided in favor of a revision of the Westminister Confession of Faith and rejected the conclusions of the committee appointed several months ago to submit a report on the question.

The Central Conference Adjourns.

YORK, Pa., March 12.—The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical Church finished its work and adjourned to meet in March, 1891, at Berwick, Pa.

BABY M'KEE'S FUN.

She Touched the Button and Called Out the Fire Department.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Baby McKee set Washington in wild commotion. There was a hurrying of policemen, the frantic run of fire engines and a rush of people to the White House. In a few minutes great streams of water were reaching high into the air, huge volumes of smoke were ascending to the heavens from the White House grounds, a bright red ladder was thrown to the top of the Executive Mansion, while a great throng of people crowded around the iron fence of the White House grounds.

The innocent cause of all this commotion looked down from his mother's arms upon the busy firemen below in strange bewilderment. Baby McKee had touched one of the auxiliary connections of fire-alarm box No. 157. It was 10:18 a. m. when the President held his fond grandchild in front of the auxiliary alarm box and told him to touch the button. Within five minutes the entire department responded, and the time was considered remarkably good.

Heretofore no fire-alarm box has been located in the Executive Mansion and the danger of delay in case of fire being emphasized by the Tracy disaster connection with the general city system was decided upon. The nearest box has been in the Treasury Department and in case fire occurred at night it would have taken at least ten minutes to turn in an alarm. Now it can be done in as many seconds.

A PATHETIC SCENE.

Blind Children in an Institution Ask for Better Food.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—A pathetic occurrence took place in the office of the principal of the Institution for the Instruction of the Blind in this city.

A dozen blind girls presented themselves as a committee from the pupils, asking that the quality of food be improved. There have been many complaints about the asylum food, and this was a last desperate step of the girls to have the grievance remedied. The ages of the girls ranged from 17 to 24 years. Some of them have been in the institution for a number of years.

A month ago the boys of the asylum forwarded a complaint to Gov. Beaver in which they stated that the meat furnished would not be given to any animal, many of the pupils going to dinner day after day and eating nothing but bread and water.

Steps have been taken to have the affairs of the institution thoroughly investigated.

Farms Submerged.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 12.—The country for miles in this State is under water and hundreds of people whose houses are in the river bottoms have been driven out and have sought refuge in the highlands. Hundreds of farms in Missouri, Illinois and Kentucky, comprising thousands of acres of the richest farming lands in the country, are completely submerged. Several families are living in boat-houses or upon rafts, while in other instances, where the houses are built on slight elevations, or knobs, as they are called, the people stick to them with water all around and in very many cases the lower floors are under water.

Granite Firms Organize.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 12.—Representatives of nearly every granite firm in the State met at Westerly and formed "The Granite Manufacturers' Association of Rhode Island," with the object of "mutual benefit and protection." The association will act in harmony with the recently formed Granite Manufactures' Association of New England. A resolution was adopted that the present state of the trade does not warrant an increase in wages.

Immigrants to Take Strikers' Places.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Eider has just arrived here with 927 immigrants, and over 80 per cent. of them have come to work in the mines. The majority of them are Hungarians and Silesians. They are going to work in the mines near Pittsburg. The men were well posted, and they did not give the authorities a chance to retain them. The Emigration Commissioners will take action in the matter.

A Bank to Discontinue Business.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 12.—The stockholders of the Union Bank, by a vote of 3,583 to 515, decided to wind up the affairs of the bank. This is the bank from which teller Charles A. Pitcher stole all the cash in June, 1888. He is now in a Canadian jail. The bank recovered nearly all the cash and securities that Pitcher stole, but the affairs have not been in a flourishing condition for some time.

Narrow Escape of Ice Cutters.

RONDOUT, N. Y., March 12.—Last night 25 men narrowly escaped drowning in the Hudson near here. They were engaged in cutting ice for Hepner & Goodsell, at Steep Rocks Cove, when the large field on which they were at work became loosened and floated out into the channel. The men on shore rapidly obtained boats and rowed out to their rescue. All were saved. The tools were lost.

Two Pugilistic Battles.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 12.—Jack Williams and Charles Cowd, featherweights, fought at the Gladstone Club last night, Cowd winning in the 17th round, by completely knocking out his man. A fight between Jack Falvey, champion of Rhode Island, and George Mickle, of Taunton, followed. Falvey was awarded the contest in the 7th round on a foul.

Death of Rev. John P. Cowles.

BOSTON, March 12.—Rev. John P. Cowles, for many years a professor in the Oberlin (Ohio) College died at Ipswich, aged 85.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The New Tariff Schedule Nearly Completed.

SOME OF THE CHANGES MADE.

The Internal Revenue Tax on Tobacco Will be Abolished.

Taulbee's Death and the Imprisonment of Kincaid—A Bill to Have the People Elect Senators—Decision Against the Landing of Chinese Merchants—The President's Family to Go South.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The McKinley bill is practically completed, and early next week, in all probability, it will be presented to the House.

The wool schedule, over which there has been a great controversy, has been adjusted. Wools of the first and second class are to pay a duty respectively of 11 and 12 cents per pound. Carpet wools valued at less than 12 cents per pound will pay 3 1-2 cents, and those invoiced at more than 12 cents will pay 8 cents per pound. Washed wool will pay twice the duty imposed on unwashed; scoured wool, first class, three times, and third class, two and a half times the duty on unwashed.

The duty on steel rails will be fixed at about $13 per ton.

Among the most important changes in the agricultural schedule will be a doubling of the duty on barley and hay. The duty on beans and peas will probably go to 40 cents per bushel and potatoes to 25 cents. Eggs will pay 5 cents per dozen duty and apples 25 cents per bushel. The tariff on hides will probably be placed at 10 per cent. ad valorem.

The sugar schedule has not yet been determined, though it is said that the duty will be placed at least at 50 per cent., and a bounty of 1 per cent. to the producer.

The internal revenue tax on tobacco, except cigars and cheroots, will be abolished.

TAULBEE'S DEATH.

Kincaid in a Distressed Condition and Physicians With Him in Jail.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—As soon as the news of ex-Congressman Taulbee's death reached police headquarters an officer was sent to Kincaid's room. He was awakened and taken to the police station.

When Kincaid learned of Taulbee's death he was completely prostrated. After being removed to jail two physicians were sent for and are now with him.

Taulbee's death was expected for several days, but, while still a chance for his life, the physicians thought it advisable not to permit him to make an ante-mortem statement of the circumstances surrounding the shooting. He died, therefore, without making any statement, and the case against Kincaid will rest entirely on the testimony of himself and two eye witnesses of the tragedy. One of these eye witnesses was Samuel Donaldson, of Tennessee, formerly doorkeeper of the House of Representatives, who has refused to make any statement for publication. The other witness was a boy who cannot be found.

Kincaid and Taulbee had had an encounter some time prior to the shooting and Kincaid claims that he armed himself in fear of danger from a future encounter with Taulbee; that Taulbee had warned him to arm himself, and that Taulbee insulted and attacked him on their second encounter, rendering his resort to the pistol necessary.

Mrs. Harrison to Visit Florida.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President; Mrs. and Miss Wanamaker, Mrs. Russell B. Harrison, Mrs. Colonel Wilson, of Philadelphia; Miss Robinson, of New York; and Mrs. Hammond, of Trenton, N. J., will leave Washington to-morrow morning in the private car of J. H. Inman, president of the Richmond & Danville Railroad, for a trip South. Mr. Russell B. Harrison will accompany them. Friday will be spent in Charleston, S. C., and the party expect to arrive at St. Augustine, Fla., in time to attend the dedicatory services of the new church erected by Mr. Henry M. Flagler as a memorial to his son. After several days' sightseeing in Florida the party will return to Washington by way of Atlanta and Chattanooga. This will be Mrs. Harrison's first trip south of Washington.

The People to Elect Senators.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Mr. Mitchell introduced in the Senate a resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution to make the election of Senators by the "qualified electors" instead of the Legislature of each State.

Chinese Merchants Cannot Land.

WASHINGTON, March 12. — Attorney-General Miller has decided that under the law Chinese merchants cannot land in the United States in the absence of certificates prescribed in the Chinese Exclusion act.

New York Socialists Celebrate.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Socialists of this city and vicinity celebrated the Socialist victories in the recent German election by a meeting at the Cooper Union last night, at which S. E. Shevitch, Prof. De Leon, Hugo Vogt, Paul Grotnow and others spoke. Resolutions were adopted congratulating the workingmen of the whole world on the spread of Socialistic ideas and the triumph of popular rights over military despotism and capitalistic oppression.

Business Paralyzed in Cairo.

CAIRO, Ill., March 12.—About one-half of this city is submerged and business is paralyzed, the only means of communication being by boat.

BY THE WAY.

—Oh! for a Y. M. C. A. building.

—Ex-Postmaster Ritchie was defeated for Freeholder in Fanwood Township, yesterday, by over 100 votes.

—Flags on all the school houses of the State will cost just $80,000, so an expert figures. It is patriotic, but costly.

—The election in Cranford yesterday resulted in the election of Mr. George Littell, Republican, as Freeholder, by a majority of 40 votes.

—Union Township with about 500 voters only polled 114 votes yesterday. Mr. Geo. W. Doty, Democrat, was reelected Freeholder by 36 majority.

—Branch No. 8, E. B. A., have secured Hand's Amphion Hall, for a grand ball on the evening of April 17. The music will be furnished by Cappa's celebrated band.

—The roadbed on East Fourth street, between Park avenue and Peace street, is in a very bad condition, and the Council could wisely expend a small sum of money to put that thoroughfare in repair.

—With yesterday's issue, the firm of Cook & Hall after twenty-six years connection with the Elizabeth Herald, turned over the entire establishment to The Herald Publishing Co. The principal owner of the paper is now said to be Prosecutor Wilson.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Louis Melville Evans, son of the late ex-Mayor Evans of this city, and Mrs. Evans, have gone South for a month's trip in their yacht "Sandamona."

Senator Miller was heard to remark at the Westfield polls, yesterday, that he had probably cast his last vote in New Jersey. Regret at his loss to this county, especially, will be universally shared with The Press by everybody.

The property at the East corner of Broadway and Sixth street, occupied by Dr. Utter and belonging to the Lee estate, has been purchased by Mr. J. Wesley Johnson who now owns the entire frontage on Broadway from LaGrande avenue to East Sixth street.

Mr. David P. Arnold was the purchaser of the homestead property sold today at the West corner of Seventh street and Arlington avenue. The price was $6,400, besides which the buyer will pay to the city about $200 of back taxes that are a lien on the property.

Ex-Councilman Marsh Fighting for a Firm of Brewers.

Mr. F. E. Marsh of this city, yesterday morning appeared before Vice Chancellor VanFleet at Newark, and made a motion to dismiss the bill filed by Charles Weiss against the Enterprise Brewing company, to have said company enjoined from giving a deed to the Home Brewing company, who recently purchased their brewery, until they pay him the commission he claims to be due him on such sale.

It appears that Weiss claimed to have a contract with the company for the sale of the brewery, which the company denies. Mr. Marsh asked for the dismissal of the bill for want of equity. The Vice Chancellor, while admitting that there was no equity in the bill, gave counsel for Weiss until 2 P. M., today to amend his bill.

A Valuable Piece of Pottery.

Mrs. Wilson Fulper of North avenue, has on exhibition in Messrs Woolston & Buckle's store a very valuable piece of pottery known as a rose jar. The jar is about eighteen inches high, of Mosaic design and contains over two thousand separate pieces of chinaware, glass, etc., all of which are put together with putty. Some of the china in pieces came from Postmaster-General Wanamaker's own table. The jar is considered more valuable from the fact that some of the pieces are over one hundred years old. It can be seen in Messrs Woolston & Buckle's show window for a few days longer.

THE LAST EARTHLY TRIBUTE.

Beautiful and Impressive Funeral Ceremonies Over the Late Dr. Titsworth.

All that was mortal of the late Dr. Randolph Titsworth was laid away to rest yesterday afternoon, when funeral services were held at the family home on East Front street. The remains occupied a beautiful casket in the room formerly used as an office by the doctor. The house was thronged with mourners. The services were opened by the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, with whom, at the Trinity Reformed church, the late Dr. Titsworth was a most earnest worker. After reading appropriate passages of Scripture, Mr. Schenck asked the privilege of departing from the usual form of ceremony and delivered an impressive eulogy on the deceased. His remarks were a most fitting tribute and contained high encomiums on the character and life of the departed, as a man, as a physician, as a husband, as a father, as a Christian. He was followed by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, who addressed a brief homily to the living. He drew from the manner of living of the deceased lessons appropriate for those left behind, and closed with a most beautiful and affecting prayer, making touching reference to the daughter unable, on account of illness, to be present, and the aged mother, with stopped ears and sightless eyes, awaiting patiently her call to join her first born and other loved ones with the Master.

When the remains were exposed to view every one made a solemn circuit of the coffin, and gazed for the last time at the features of the departed. There was a sound of great sobbing, and many tears were shed. Among those paying their last respects were many of our first citizens and many brother physicians of the deceased. After the services the remains were taken to Hillside cemetery, where they were interred in the family plot.

The casket was doubly beautiful in its simplicity. The covering was of black cloth, and instead of separate handles a long silver bar ran along each side. The silver plate bore the simple inscription Randolph Titsworth.

The only floral emblem laid on the casket was a large cluster of calla lilies—one of the most beautiful, loveliest and purest of symbols.

The pall-bearers—chosen before death by the late Dr. Titsworth—were Messrs B. A. Hegeman, Sr., P. P. VanArsdale, O. W. Dunham, Geo. L. VanEmburgh, W. D. W. Miller and A. L. Force.

The mother of the late Dr. Titsworth is still living, at the age of 88, in Piscataway.

AN ASTROLOGIST DEAD.

A Renowned Fortune Teller of North Plainfield Now Knows Her Own Future.

Mme. Benard, known to all the old residents of the city and borough, died at her home on Harmony street, North Plainfield, Monday, in her 74th year. She is widely renowned as a fortune teller, and scores of the young women, especially, of this vicinity, have had their future revealed by her.

For almost twenty years under her name has appeared an advertisement in the Constitutionalist, thus worded: "Astrologist, residence—Harmony street, North Plainfield, fourth house from Somerset street, left hand side. Information imparted as regards present and future events, likewise marriages, journeys, law suits, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. She converses in English, German and French. My husband is a first-class Cooper, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, etc., cheap for cash."

The funeral will be held at her late home, 29 Harmony street, to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock.

THE POST OFFICE MUST GO.

A Saloon in the Present Location Disqualifies it for Occupancy by the Government.

The United States Attorney General's opinion received by Postmaster Force, recently, is to the effect that as a saloon has been opened in the building now occupied by the Postoffice in this city, the Government will be a tenant no longer. Yesterday Inspector Parham came to Plainfield, looked into the matter and decided at once that another location for the post office must be found.

In another column appears the Government's advertisement for sealed proposals of buildings properly furnished for the purposes of a postoffice. Blanks on which to make bids may be procured by applying to Postmaster Force. The Government will undoubtedly select the best location and building offered. Better facilities in many ways are now necessary to accommodate the growth of the office since Postmaster Force's term, and especially for the free delivery system established in Plainfield by him.

A PIONEER IN HOMŒOPATHY.

Biographical Sketch of a Busy, Useful and Successful Life.

Dr. Randolph Titsworth, whose funeral, as recorded elsewhere in this paper, occurred yesterday afternoon, was one of the pioneer physicians in the practice of homœopathy, and his career, though at times a hard battle against many obstacles, was throughout one of thorough usefulness and continuous success. He was born February 26, 1821.

His paternal ancestors were of Welsh origin, the Titsworths of New Jersey being descendants of five brothers who emigrated from Wales and became early settlers in the State. His paternal grandfather, Lewis, was a farmer, and at different times resided at Spottswood and New Market, Middlesex county, where he reared a family of ten children. His maternal grandfather, Isaac F. Randolph, a wealthy and influential citizen of New Brooklyn, was a descendant of the Fitz Randolphs, early settlers in Woodbridge.

Abraham, son of Lewis Titsworth, was during his early manhood a merchant tailor at Metuchen, subsequently a farmer, and died at New Brooklyn in May, 1868, at the age of seventy-three years. He was highly esteemed as a citizen for his integrity in all his relations. He was a member of the Seventh Day Baptist church, and for several terms served as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas. His wife, Juliet Fitz Randolph, survived him and in 1882 was eighty years of age and had born him eight children—Dr. Randolph, the subject of this sketch; Mary Ann, wife of Daniel Rogers of Metuchen; Caleb S., a lawyer and ex-Judge of the city of Newark; Julia E., wife of David L. Randolph of New Brooklyn; John Howard, a farmer in Pardee, Kansas; Isaac Lewis, deceased; Amanda, widow of Wm. B. Maxson, of Plainfield, and Thomas Stillman, deceased.

Randolph Titsworth's early education was received in the schools at home, and his preparatory course at the High School at Shiloh, N. J., and at DeRuyter, N. Y. In his efforts to obtain an education he was obliged to depend on his own resources, and unassisted pecuniarily he worked his way, struggling against obstacles incident to straitened circumstances, until he finished his schedule of preparatory studies.

In 1847 he began the study of medicine with Drs. E. T. Richardsnn and J. G. Loomis, of Syracuse, N. Y., but soon afterwards Dr. Loomis was appointed to the chair of Obstetrics in the Homœopathic College at Philadelphia, and Dr. Titsworth accompanied him, continuing his studies with him in the College until his graduation in 1853. Prior to this he practiced about a year in the College, and for some time had charge of the dispensary department. At this time the practice of medicine by what was termed homœopathy was in its infancy, and only here and there could be found an exponent of the new theory. In what is now Union county there was only one, Dr. Green of Elizabeth, and in Middlesex county also there was only one homœopathic practitioner, Dr. Robinson. Dr. Titsworth settled in Plainfield in the Spring of 1853, and was the first in that section of New Jersey to invite the people to examine the new departure in the practice of medicine. He found only two families ready to receive it willingly, but with that earnestness and zeal which characterized his entire professional career, and with full confidence that it required only time for the more intelligent and thinking public to give credence to this new theory, Dr. Titsworth, by his skillful and scientific treatment of cases coming before him, gradually won his way to a place in the profession as a worthy exponent of homœopathy, although he was opposed at every step by doctors of the regular practice. Through this pioneer and his associates, this new school of medicine rapidly developed its theory before the people and made a new era in the theory and practice of medicine. The results today are too well-known to need recounting here.

Dr. Titsworth will long be remembered as the founder of homœopathic practice in and about Plainfield; during his more than thirty years' practice in the neighborhood his quick perception in the diagnosis of complicated cases of disease, and his devotion to his patients, had won him an enviable reputation and placed him among the first in his profession in the State. His practice was continuous since he first settled in Plainfield, with the exception of one year, 1861, which he spent traveling for his health in the West, and some three years that he practiced in New York city.

Early in life Dr. Titsworth identified himself with membership in the Seventh Day Baptist church, but since his residence in Plainfield he was a member of the Trinity Reformed church and had served as both deacon and elder. He was a member of the American Institute of Homœopathy, and of the State Homœopathic Medical Society, founded in 1853, for which he served as treasurer during the first two years of its existence.

In 1844 he married Miss Lucinda L., daughter of Samuel Caldwell of Pompey, N. Y., a native of Massachusetts. She died in May, 1875, leaving one child, Josephine, wife of Wm. M. Runyon of Plainfield. His second wife, who survives him, was Miss Isabella L. Bragg of White House, N. J. He married her in July, 1879.

EXEMPT FIREMEN.

The Exemptions Allowed by Law and How Obtained.

The New Jersey State Firemen's Association having had many inquiries from all parts of the State as to when an active fireman becomes exempt and as to what exemptions are allowed by law and as to how they are obtained, has prepared information that will be of interest to Plainfield firemen.

An active fireman becomes exempt from jury and militia duty under State law, where he is a member of a company incorporated under the act of 1876, page 286, amended in 1877, page 220, after serving seven years. There is no other State law fixing when a fireman becomes exempt. Exempt certificates are granted under local rules, ordinances or custom, and they vary in cities, towns and villages. A bill drawn by the counsel of this association is now pending in the Legislature fixing seven years' service as the period to make exempts. To obtain the exemption from jury duty, under the act of 1877, a certificate signed by the President of the company, showing that seven years has been served by the member claiming exemption, must be filed with the Clerk of the county in which the exemption is claimed.

By the act of 1888, page 479, all active firemen under supervision or control of Common Council, Township Committee, Fire Commissioners or other governing body, are exempt from general and special poll tax, and from State, county, and municipal taxation, upon real or personal property or both, to the amount of $500, where the same is assessed against them by the authority of the corporation under the control of which they are doing fire duty, and all exempt firemen are entitled to the same exemption at the place where they have served and become exempt. Under that act a list of all active and exempt firemen must be made by the clerk of the city, borough or township, or such other municipal or other officer having charge of the records, showing what persons are active or exempt firemen, and that certificate must be given to the assessor before the time of assessment closes, which is by State law the twelfth of August, but earlier in cities and towns. A like copy must be given to the collector or receiver of taxes also. The chief of each fire department or such officer as has control of the records, should see that the certificate is made out, certified and delivered to the assessor and collector.

By the act of 1889, page 19, exempt firemen are entitled, upon the production of a certificate under the hand and seal of the Clerk of any county in this State, setting forth that the exempt certificate of any such exempt firemen is duly filed in the office of such Clerk, to the same exemption anywhere else in the State that he may move to, that he would have where he became exempt. An exempt fireman is also entitled to relief from the local relief fund in the place of service in which he became exempt, and if the exempt firemen form an association they will be entitled to send representatives to the board of representatives of the local relief association in like manner as the various companies send representatives now.

Tommy Russell and the Original Company.

Is there in modern fiction a more pure and lovely creation than the "Little Lord Fauntleroy" of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett? So exquisitely sweet and tender, so redundant with delicate dainty touches of ideal boyhood as he is, that one feels that the little Lord is the boy he has hoped all his masculine childfriends might be. * * * It will be seen that so meagre a story could furnish but a slender basis for a complicated plot or for particularly strong dramatic situations, yet the authoress has contrived to fashion a most highly interesting succession of delightful scenes which will long linger in the mind and cause the spectator to turn again and again to behold their unique beauty and freshness. * * * To sum up, "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is a lustrous sketch in a superb setting.

The dramatic version of Mrs. Burnett's beautiful story will be presented at Music Hall again, this evening, Tommy Russell appearing as the "Little Lord," with the original New York company none of whom were seen here in the play before.

Week-Night Worship.

For many years it has been the custom of a few house holders in North Plainfield to open their homes for week-night meetings of religious worship. Like all such movements, time brings changes and improvements upon the quaint old method. Recently the "Gospel Band;" a new feature, have taken charge of these meetings and imparted new life and activity, especially in their singing and knowledge of Scripture truth.

Last evening one of these meetings was held at the residence of Mrs. Voehl. The room was full, and the singing with the aid of instrumental music, was especially helpful. The scripture was briefly handled as an educator, and the result of all was especially evidenced in the expressions of strong desires for spiritual advancement

THE throes of inventive genius have resulted in the birth of another scheme for utilizing the power of Niagara. The last project exploited contemplated transmitting the power of the Falls to New York City, through an electric cable about the size of a barrel and at a roughly-estimated cost of $15,000,000 a mile for plant and operating expenses.

THE most important link in the National highway between the North and South has just been completed in a span of steel stretching from the wooded shores of Illinois across the Ohio to the green slopes of Kentucky, a span of nearly four miles, the longest metallic bridge in the world except the famous Tay bridge so often quoted as a marvel of engineering skill.

CHURCHILL'S ATTACK

Lord Randolph Bitterly Arraigns the Government.

CHEERED BY THE PARNELLITES.

The Amendment Condemning the Course of the London Times Rejected.

No Hope of Rescuing the Entombed Miners—The Czar Receives Threatening Letters from Women—Le Caron Talks About Powderly—Herr Krupp Gives Half a Million Dollars to Workingmen.

LONDON, March 12.—A sensation was caused in the House of Commons last night by an audacious and powerful attack upon the Government and the Times by Lord Randolph Churchill. In the strongest terms he denounced the Times for the part it played with Pigott in connection with the Parnell forgeries.

From the inception of the commission, he said, he had watched the proceedings with feelings of sorrow and apprehension, which had grown stronger within him as the proceedings developed. The proceedings were vitiated throughout by their unconstitutional character.

He argued against the special action of the Government in creating a commission of three judges to fulfill the function of judge and jury for the purpose of trying men accused of criminal conspiracy. The Government had decided to place men who were their political opponents on trial on criminal charges without giving to them the protection which a jury would give.

The Parnellites cheered wildly as the young peer proceeded with his arraignment of the Government.

Continuing, Lord Randolph said the Government had selected the tribunal without giving the accused even the privileges which belong to criminals of selecting or challenging their own jury. Not within the century, he said, had any public man been tested as Mr. Parnell had been, and he appealed to the House to reject such unique and unprecedented proceedings. Nemesis, he said, had attended the Government in its adoption of such methods.

"What," he asked, "has been the result of this mountainous parturition? A reptile monster, Pigott. (Parnellite cheers.) What has been the result of all this skill and use of parliamentary instruments? A ghastly, bloody, rotten fœtus, Pigott! Pigott! Pigott!" (Vociferous cheers from the Parnellites.)

The Government in appointing the commission had violated the constitution. If the Government insisted upon its motion he (Churchill) would insist upon his right to condemn not only the Parnellites, but the Times, which had been found guilty of atrocious and unexampled libel and slander.

The amendment condemning the course of the Times was rejected by a vote of 321 to 259.

THE MINE HORROR.

Several Men Crawl Out and Report Heaps of Dead Bodies.

LONDON, March 12.—Four of the miners who were entombed by the explosion in the Morsa colliery at Glamorganshire, Wales, succeeded in crawling through a crevice between the roof of the mine and the debris.

They report that they passed over heaps of dead miners and express the belief that none of the other entombed men are alive.

The fire which is raging in the wrecked Morsa colliery is rapidly spreading to all parts of the mine, and the recovery of the bodies still entombed is regarded as hopeless. The latest estimate of the number killed is one hundred.

Le Caron and Powderly.

LONDON, March 12.—Le Caron, the British spy, is out in another fulmination against Mr. Terrence V. Powderly, or rather against the genuineness of the assertion made by that gentleman that he (Le Caron) approached the chief of the Knights of Labor during the Southwestern railroad strike in 1886, with a proposition to use dynamite as a weapon against the railroads. The letter which Mr. Powderly received, containing this suggestion and purporting to have come from him, Le Caron says, is a forgery, the origin of which he could trace if he were disposed to give to it a degree of attention which it does not deserve.

Lord Salisbury's Position on Labor.

LONDON, March 12.—Lord Salisbury, in his reply accepting the invitation of Germany to send a delegate to the coming labor conference, refused to in any way lend his influence to the promotion of the proposed legal restriction of the hours of labor.

The Czar Threatened by Women.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 12.—During the past few days the Czar has received many dozens of letters, all of which have come from women. These communications contain threats of death for flogging exiles in Siberia.

Herr Krupp's Philanthropy.

ESSEN, March 12.—Herr Krupp, proprietor of the extensive cannon foundry here, has given half a million of dollars for the erection of homes for workingmen and a training school for women.

The McKinley Bill Now Favored.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Chamber of Commerce rescinded its former condemnation of the McKinley Customs bill, and adopted a report favoring the measure provided a clause be inserted permitting questions of fact to be tried before juries.

The Pulaski House Burned.

PULASKI, N. Y., March 12.—The Pulaski House was totally destroyed by fire. The insurance only partly covers the loss. The proprietor's family barely escaped with their lives.

Horses Coming East.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—One hundred and three valuable horses were shipped to New York from Senator Stanford's Palo Alto stables. Thirty-two are colts from the stallion Electioneer. The entire lot is valued at $200,000.

Securing a Jury in the Flack Case.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The work of getting a jury for the trial of the Flack divorce conspirators was continued again this morning in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge Barrett. So far 10 jurors have been obtained.

THEIR FIRST SCHEDULE.

The New Players' League Map Out Their Season's Work.

CLEVELAND, O., March 12.—The Players' League Convention adopted a schedule and adjourned last night.

On the average their are forty dates in each town with which the schedule dates of the National League conflict. There was no effort to escape a fair fight, and the new league is on the top limb of success, so the leaders think.

The Dunlap case was taken up and acted upon, but the officials refused to have anything to say about it. It is safe to say that Dunlap will play in Cleveland this season.

The League decided not to meddle with the question of deserters or contract jumpers. The Mulvey case came up for action and it was decided to leave the matter to the Brotherhood.

The Playing Rules Committee, of which "Buck" Ewing is chairman, recommended that the $20,000 prize be distributed among the various clubs as prize money as follows: First, $6,250; second, $4,800; third, $3,500; fourth, $2,500; fifth, $1,750; sixth, $800; seventh, $400. The report was adopted. A handsome championship banner will be presented to the New York Club, emblematic of the championship of 1889.

THREE MEN INJURED.

A Passenger Train Runs Into a Freight Train at Greensburg, Pa.

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 12.—A passenger train on the Alexandria Branch Road, while backing, ran into a freight train, wrecking one passenger coach and a number of freight cars. Three persons were seriously hurt.

Their names are: Thomas Donohue, jr., manager of the company store at Crab Tree mines; F. Atkinson, a brakeman; Thomas Helman, a track foreman.

The passengers in the car, seeing that the collision was inevitable, jumped from the train and escaped injury. It is thought the injured men will recover.

Murdered by Isaac Jacobs.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The body of the woman found in No. 3 Eldridge street was identified as that of Sally Groenburg, aged 30 years, the divorced wife of Isaac Jacobs, the murderer. She was his second wife, and lived at 113 Chambers street. Sometime ago she was about to return to live with Jacobs, but the proposed agreement was not carried out. Nathan S. Levy, a lawyer, identified the body.

The Baeder Glue Company.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 12.—The affairs of the Baeder Glue Company, of New York and Pittsburg, which failed several days ago, are in a very much muddled condition. H. R. Kern, one of the New York partners, is in this city trying to unravel the mystery. He states that Louis C. Haughey, the Pittsburg member of the firm, acknowledges to having obtained large sums of money on notes to which he signed the firm's name.

Testing the Dynamite Guns.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—An unofficial trial of the dynamite guns of the cruiser Vesuvius was made. The cruiser was towed to a point in the Delaware river below Marcus Hook. The test was on the points of ranges, fuses and distances. Wooden bombs loaded with gunpowder were used and the test is reported to be eminently satisfactory. The official trial takes place next week. The regulation metal bombs will then be used.

An Insane Convict Commits Suicide.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 12.—An insane convict hung himself while the keeper's back was turned. When the coroner's jury sat it held blameless Dr. Allison and his attendants. The deceased's name was William Williams, and he was sent from New York to Sing Sing for burglary and transferred from Sing Sing to the insane asylum here about two years ago.

Went Into a Church to Die.

NEW YORK, March 12.—James Howell Jones, aged 24, took laudanum and went into a church on Fifth avenue to die. The sexton discovered him and called a physician, who took measures which removed him from danger. Jones said he could not get work and was tired of life. He was formerly bookkeeper for a steel firm at Pittsburg. His relatives reside in that city.

Fired Four Shots at His Wife.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 12.—George Ward, a spinner, fired four shots at his wife missing her every time, and then shot himself in the abdomen, but not seriously. His wife left him five weeks ago and has been staying at a farm house near town. Ward went to the house and after some words the shooting occurred. Ward is under arrest.

Death of Prof. Atkinson.

BOSTON, March 12.—Prof. William P. Atkinson, professor of English literature and history at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for many years, died of congestion of the brain. He was the author of many works of high merit, including numberless pamphlets, and had long been prominent as a lecturer.

Slocum Found Guilty of Murder.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The trial of James J. Slocum, the baseball player, for the murder of his wife, Ellen, on New Year's eve, closed last evening, the jury returning a verdict of murder in the first degree. On application of counsel sentence was suspended until Friday next.

Rochester's Postmaster Dead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 12.—Henry S. Hebard, the newly appointed postmaster of this city, died last night. Mr. Hebard was to assume the duties of the postmastership yesterday, but last week he contracted a severe cold which developed into pneumonia, the immediate cause of his death.

Arrested for Murdering Her Husband.

BOSTON, March 12.—Mrs. Mary Ronbero, an Italian woman, was arrested at her home, No. 2 Mechanic's Court, in the North End, charged with the murder of her husband, Angelo Ronbero, who died Sunday last, it is claimed, as the result of an assault upon him by his wife.

The Anti-Trust Law Unconstitutional.

ST. LOUIS, March 12.—The Missouri anti-trust law has been pronounced unconstitutional by Judge Dillon in the United States Circuit Court.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

The Body of an Unknown Man Found Near Penllyn, Pa.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 12.—The body of an unknown man was found early in the morning along the tracks of the North Penn Railroad near Penllyn.

His coat, vest and pocket-book lay not far away. The body did not look as if death ensued from a railroad accident, and the Coroner is making a thorough investigation. Papers found on the body indicate that the man was a Philadelphian, aged 65 years.

TWO MURDER TRIALS

A Great Crowd Assembles at the Sawtelle Hearing.

THREATS OF LYNCHING MADE.

One Man Waves a Rope Excitedly About His Head.

Hiram's Widow Gives Damaging Testimony—New Points Brought Out by Other Witnesses—Birchall Held for the Murder of Benwell—The Trial to Take Place in October.

ROCHESTER, N. H., March 13.—Over one thousand persons were present when court opened for the preliminary trial of Isaac Sawtelle for the murder of his brother. The accused murderer was brought into court amid great excitement, and considerable trouble was experienced in keeping the crowd in check.

The people gathered in the street outside the court and kept the old town echoing with their cries of "Rope, rope, rope," and a half drunken man ran about shouting excitedly:

"Isaac Sawtelle can't get out of this town alive to-night. All the courts in Strafford County and all the Boston detectives they can bring here can't save his life. We are after him to-night.

This man had a long clothes line, with a slip noose at one end, in his hands, which he waved excitedly about his head at times, to give force to his remarks. The more sober men who did not give way to their feelings so easy, have contented themselves in gathering on the street corners in crowds bigger than have ever been seen in this town, and discussing the feeling that is everywhere manifested against the prisoner.

The presiding Judge excluded all witnesses for the State from the court during the giving of testimony.

Mr. Kivell opened the case for the State by calling Jeanette, the widow of Hiram F. Sawtelle, who testified regarding the receipt of telegrams by her husband calling him to Rochester, also regarding the Sawtelle property which is supposed to have furnished the motive for the crime.

She described her husband's appearance when he left home and his conversation with Isaac when the latter returned from Rochester. Isaac declared: "So help me God I have not seen Hiram." After that he told conflicting stories regarding Hiram, promising to hunt him up. Hiram had stated that he would never submit to the giving of property to Isaac and would fight as long as he could. He wished it to remain in his mother's hands. He objected to the witness going to Rochester in response to a telegram from Isaac saying it was a scheme on Isaac's part. Isaac was invariably urging her to meet him out of the State.

Henry Rollins swore that he saw Isaac meet Hiram on the arrival of the afternoon train on Feb. 5. This evidence is valuable.

Henry Berry testified to selling a pick, shovel and axe to Isaac on Feb. 5.

Birchall Held for Trial.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 13.—J. R. Birchall was formally held here last night by Magistrate Hill for the Assizes at Woodstock, in October, on the charge of murdering F. C. Benwell on February 17 last. Mrs. Birchall was remanded for eight days, and will remain in the custody of an officer at Baldwin's boarding house in this village, where she has been since her arrest.

Birchall's coolness was astonishing. After the magistrate's decision he slipped his kid gloves on his dainty hands and his body guard slipped the handcuffs over them and led him through the crowd the most unconcerned appearing man in all the throng.

Old Umberger's Murderers.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 13.—Arrangements were made yesterday to transfer the Nicely brothers, the condemned murderers, from Somerset County to Cambria County while a new jail is being erected. These men were on trial for the murder of old Umberger on the day of the Johnstown flood and were convicted, but for some reason Gov. Beaver has never set a day for their execution. Some months ago they shot the deputy sheriff and broke jail and it is asserted that only the influence of wealthy friends keeps them from getting their deserts.

Salesman Leach's Body Found.

CHICAGO, March 13.—The body of Roland Leach, the missing traveling salesman of New York, was found in the Chicago River at the foot of Market street. The body after being taken ashore was searched. In the pockets were found a check for room 62, Palmer House, his gold watch and chain, a pocket-book in which was a 1,000 mile ticket, a match safe, a bunch of small tags and a certificate of accident insurance.

Big Judgments Against a Farmer.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 13.—Judgments aggregating $39,205 were entered against Peter S. Reist, a prominent retired farmer of Lititz. His total liabilities may reach $70,000. He is the owner of much real estate which may pay the indebtedness.

One Man Killed and Two Injured.

BALTIMORE, March 13.—Philip Geis, aged 20, son of Valentine Geis, was killed and John Matter and George Lauer seriously injured by the fall of a charcoal kiln they were erecting in Baltimore County.

Steel Works Burned.

NEWARK, N. J., March 13.—Hiller Brothers' steel works and Davis & Douglass' tool works were burned last night. Loss, about $13,000.

MARRIED HIS WIFE'S SISTER.

A Presbyterian Clergyman Overhauled by His Denomination for the Act.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 13.—United Presbyterian Church circles are much excited over the marriage of the Rev. Dr. R. B. Ewing, pastor of the Sixth Church, one of the wealthiest in Pittsburg, to the sister of his deceased wife. There is a United Presbyterian Church law which expressly forbids such marriages. Dr. Ewing does not profess to have been ignorant of the existence of the law, but contends that it has long been obsolete, and that an attempt to enforce it would disrupt the denomination.

So many of the members of his congregation differed with him, however, that at a congregation meeting last night he tendered his resignation as pastor. The case will go to the Presbytery, which will be asked to urge the General Assembly to repeal the law forbidding such marriages.

VERDICT FOR A GAMBLER.

Harry Phillips Found Not Guilty of Winning $14,000 Worth of Jewelry.

MONTREAL, March 13.—The jury in the case of Harry Phillips, on trial for obtaining by gambling from Von Reinholtz, a traveling salesman for P. W. Ellis & Co., of Toronto, $14,000 worth of jewelry, knowing it not to be the property of Reinholtz, brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The trial has excited unusual interest here, in the United States and Europe, as Philips is well known in sporting circles and at one time was the backer of John L. Sullivan on his European trip. The jury found that when Phillips staked his $10,000 in diamonds against jewelry he believed it to be the property of Reinholtz. Ellis & Co. received nearly all of the jewelry from Phillips.

Methodist-Episcopal Conference.

POTTSVILLE Pa., March 13.—The 103rd session of the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist-Episcopal Church opened here, Bishop Fitzgerald, of Minnesota, presiding. Among the questions that will be brought up for discussion and which is likely to elicit a spirited debate is the ratio of representation for laymen in the general conference. It was decided that this subject should be considered on Monday next when ex-Governor Pattison and others are expected to be present to represent the laymen.

Legislating Against Oleomargarine.

BOSTON, March 13.—In the House the bill forbidding the sale of oleomargarine as butter was passed by a vote of 142 to 22. An amendment was also adopted to the effect that nothing in the bill shall prevent the sale of oleomargarine in a distinct and separate form, and in such a manner as will advise purchasers of its real character, free from coloration, and from ingredients that cause it to look like butter.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—J. Frank Armstrong, who, for four years up to November last, was employed as bookkeeper by J. H. Billington & Co., was arrested charged with embezzlement from the firm of $12,000. The discrepancy in Armstrong's accounts was not discovered until after he had left the firm. His whereabouts were not known until he was arrested. The prisoner was held in default of $10,000 bail.

Rumor About the Alliance.

NORFOLK, Va., March 13.—There is a rumor current in shipping circles here that the United States steamship Alliance, which sailed from Hampton Roads on Saturday for China, has been run into by a sailing vessel, doing considerable damage to the Alliance and injuring several of her crew. There is no confirmation of this report at the Navy Yard.

A Manufacturing Company Assigns.

MERIDEN, Conn., March 13.—The Beecher Manufacturing Company, at a stockholders' meeting, assigned to ex-Mayor Doolittle, a very careful business man, for the benefit of its creditors. A meeting to confirm him in the Probate Court will be held on Monday. The creditors are pleased with the nomination and suggested that the trustee confer with Mr. Pratt regarding the future.

Bills Signed by Gov. Hill.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 13.—The following bills have been signed by the Governor: Authorizing the Seneca Electric Railroad to operate any portion of its line by electricity instead of steam. Amending the code of civil procedure so as to provide for the review of the commitment of children on appeal.

Davis' Shot Proves Fatal.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 13.—Matthew Cavanaugh died from a shot wound in the head, near the left eye, inflicted March 4 by Andrew J. Davis. The shooting occurred at Davis' house, in a row caused by Davis resenting Cavanaugh's attentions to his daughter. Davis is in jail, having been arrested soon after the shooting.

Disastrous Overflow Expected.

HELENA, Ark., March 13.—The river rose two inches in six hours, and stands at 43 feet 5 inches above low water mark. From the water in sight at Cairo it is a certainty that the river will go at least three feet higher here. It rained steadily here yesterday. With the rain of yesterday, which was general, a disastrous overflow seems almost positive.

Freestone Contractors Weakening.

BOSTON, March 13.—The freestone cutters of this city claim that the contractors are weakening. The firm that has the contract for the freestone carving on the City Hall in Cambridge has agreed to conform to the rules of the Freestone Cutters' Union, and their freestone cutters have been instructed by the union to return to work

A New World's Fair Bill is Being Prepared.

CHICAGO AFRAID OF NEW YORK

Postmaster-General Wanamaker Starts To-Day on His Trip South.

The Vessel Seizure at Tacoma—An Autopsy on Taulbee's Body—Kincaid's Condition Not Critical—A Vote on the Blair Bill Next Week—Ex-Congressman Webber Immigration Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The World's Fair bill which the special committee arranged last week, acting under the advice of the Chicago men sent here for the purpose, and given out on Monday, has been torn up, and the preparation of a new bill begun. It was stated by the special committee that the bill would undoubtedly be reported to the House on Tuesday last. It is now given out that owing to the inability of the Chairman to get a quorum of the committee together it is impossible to to say just when the bill will be brought into the House. It is not the absence of a quorum, however, that is responsible for the failure of the committee to bring in a perfect measure. The trouble is more serious, and the real impediment in the way of action is that there has been an entire change of programme on the part of the Chicago people, who profess to fear that the New York men are preparing some sort of a trap for them.

SEIZED A BRITISH VESSEL.

Held by a Tacoma Constable for Wages Due the Sailors.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The seizure of the British ship Craigend at Tacoma by a constable, may lead to international complications. The vessel arrived at Tacoma for wheat and the next day eighteen of her crew came ashore and refused to return, notwithstanding that they had signed articles for a two-years' cruise.

The captain was instructed by the British Consul at Port Townsend to treat the men as deserters.

The sailors then sued for their wages, and a Justice of the Peace sent a constable to take charge of the ship. The constable is still in possession of the vessel and refuses to permit her to be moved.

The British Consul at Port Townsend will go to Tacoma and demand the release of the ship.

The Taulbee Autopsy.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Dr. Lamb, assisted by Surgeon-General Hamilton, Dr. Bayne and Dr. Frederich held an autopsy on the body of ex-Congressman Taulbee. The ball was found wedged in the orbital cavity directly at the base of the brain and about two inches from the spot where it entered. The doctors state that Mr. Taulbee could not have lived under any circumstances. After the autopsy the remains were shipped to Mt. Sterling, Ky., where the interment will take place.

The Launch of the Newark.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Naval Committees of both Houses have accepted Mr. Cramps' invitation to attend the launch of the new cruiser Newark from Cramps' yard, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday next. Secretary of the Navy Tracy with a party will also be present. The entire delegation will leave Washington at 7:20 a. m. by the Pennsylvania Railroad. Miss Boutelle, daughter of the Chairman of the Naval Committee of the House, has consented to christen the Newark.

Mr. Wanamaker Goes South.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker left Washington to-day on his contemplated trip South; accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrison and several friends of the President and family. The party will be absent for ten days or a week in the South, and on their trip will visit Charleston, Savannah, St. Augustine, Fla., and on their return Atlanta, Ga., and Richmond, Va.

The Vote on the Blair Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Senate has agreed that at 2 o'clock on Thursday, March 20, the general debate on the Blair Educational bill shall close, that Mr. Blair be allowed until 3 o'clock to make a closing argument, and then debate on the amendments shall continue until the bill comes to a vote. Mr. Plumb has given notice, however, that he will call up the Silver bill next Monday and antagonize the Blair bill with it.

Superintendent of Immigration.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The President appointed John B. Weber, of Buffalo, N. Y., Superintendent of Immigration at New York, and Colonel James O. O'Beirne, of New York, Assistant Superintendent. While the matter has not been finally decided it is understood that the salary of the superintendent will be fixed at $3,000 per annum and that of assistant superintendent at $4,500.

$10,000 for an Indian Heir.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Senator Plumb introduced a bill appropriating $10,000 to be paid by the secretary of the Interior to Lucy J. Fruner, heir of Black Beaver, a Delaware Indian, for services rendered by him as a guide to United States troops in 1861.

Pensions for Ninety-Day Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Mr. Bliss, of Michigan, introduced a bill in the House granting a pension of $8 per month to the honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the war who served ninety days.

—The Elizabeth Herald, yesterday, republished accounts of two attempts at highway robbery in this city. One account which was true, is taken from these columns but without credit and printed as the Herald's own. The other, which was a fake, is credited to the irresponsible paper in this city that printed it. The Herald has learned that "If it's in THE PRESS it's so;" but if its in any other paper, don't accept the responsibility of it.

—With the thermometer at 70 degrees above zero, this thirteenth day of March, a woman in a sealskin cloak paused on Front street, greeted a woman with no wrap and a sunshade, and chatted about the horrid heat, and the blizzard anniversary, and the robins' early arrival, and the night-song of the North American Summer insects now heard in the land. And on the one side of the street crocuses nodded gaily, while on the other a bank of snow chillily oozed its frostiness away. Sich is life in these degenerate seasons.

Bad blood causes dyspepsia and dyspepsia reacts by causing bad blood So both go on, growing worse, until the whole system is poisoned. The surest means of relief for the victim is a thorough and persistent course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A HOUSEHOLD SAVED FROM DEATH.

Suffocation and Fire Averted by Prompt Action of Night Guardians.

Smoke was pouring from every nook and cranny of the building at Nos. 5 and 7 Somerset street when Nightwatchman Ben. Wright drew near the place at twenty minutes past three this morning. Rapping on the pavement with his long night stick, and shouting that a house was afire, Wright promptly summoned policeman Eugene Laine, and together the twain thumped away on the entrance doors till the inmates of the building were aroused. A lively scene verging on a panic followed, but the coolness of the two guardians of the city's safety soon restored presence of mind. Investigation showed that a large panful of clothes had been left to soak in hot water on a kitchen stove, that the water had all boiled away, that the top of the stove had become red-hot, and that in consequence the clothes had caught fire and smoldered and filled the place with smoke. The garments were just bursting into a blaze when Laine and Wright arrived with extinguishing buckets of water. The entire household must have been smothered in a short time, and a serious fire would have followed, as the flames could easily have communicated with woodwork.

The building is occupied by Rudolph Laurent, the watchmaker, and by policeman Giese's restaurant. The rooms over the restaurant were filled with members of the family and boarders, all of whom were severely choked.

Plainfield Cases in the County Court.

Ex-Mayor Rockfellow and the well-known firm of Davison, Silvers & Co., have been engaged in a law suit for the last six months or more. In the end the ex-mayor as usual "got there." The other side won in the lower Court, but yesterday on appeal Mr. Rockfellow carried his points and Judge McCormick decided in his favor immediately upon the conclusion of the arguments of counsel. The counsel were Craig A. Marsh for Mr Rockfellow, and Thomas H. Shafer for Davison, Silvers & Co.

The Court announced its decision in the case of Charles S. Guion, Executor Exceptant, vs. Levi Hetfield, Guardian, which was a contest as to whether a piano belonged to the estate represented by Mr. Guion, or to a young lady as claimed by Mr. Hetfield. The decision was in favor of Mr. Guion. Craig A. Marsh was counsel for Mr. Guion, and R V. Lindabury represented Mr. Hetfield.

The New Broom Sweeping Cleanly.

Street Commissioner Meeker has begun in a way to gratify the people, and he seems made of the stuff to keep it up. You can now cross North avenue for the first time in many weeks, without walking a block or so to a corner walk. The Commissioner tells THE PRESS that he will clean the principal business streets whenever they need it, if it is twice a week.

The late Street Commissioner was opposed to taking the mud off the streets—he said if he did the macadam would get worn out. The present Commissioner proposes to keep the streets free from mud and dust, and if the macadam is worn out he says he'll repair it. Instead of half-a-dozen at work on a job, Commissioner Meeker puts two at it and if they can't do it he will discharge them and give it to two others.

This is Merely a Rumor Yet.

For some time there have been murmurings of dissatisfaction within the membership of Mr. Cleaver's church, at the encroachment of the management of the Reform Hall property upon their leasehold rights. An indifferent regard for the evenings set apart for church worship, have done much to impair the practical work of the congregation, and at last they have determined to look about for other accommodation.

In all probability this congregation will secure the hall in the Chautauqua Building, where they will have full control.

They Were All Handsome, and Under 26.

The Crescent alleys were crowded with ladies on Monday evening, which has been set apart for them. About thirty ladies made scares ranging from 19 to 119.—Central Times.

It is more than unkind in the Central Times to intimate that the ladies at the Crescent alleys "made scares;" and it is wicked to state that these same ladies, whose appearance does not suit our fastidious contemporary, "ranged from 19 to 119."

Bound to Skip Rope Though the Heavens Fall.

A Franklin school girl was skipping rope merrily along West Sixth street this morning when she caught her foot, fell and struck her head on the pavement. She was stunned and remained insensible several minutes, but after resting at her home all the morning was able to slip out of doors and skip rope again this noon.

Miss Bessie H. Bodine, of Burlington, Vt., had a disease of the scalp which caused her hair to become very harsh and dry and to fall so freely she scarcely dared comb it. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave her a healthy scalp, and made the hair beautifully thick and glossy.

PLAINFIELD'S WATER SUPPLY.

The Tremendous Test That the "Underground Lake" Will be Put to.

Work has already been begun on the permanent plant of the Water Works company of Plainfield, at the location just North of Netherwood station. Six-inch wells are being driven, of which there are to be twenty.

As soon as five are completed, centrifugal engines will be put at work on them capable of pumping one million gallons in twenty-four hours. The pumps will be kept working night and day, and when all the wells are in use, four million gallons will be drawn from them every twenty-four hours.

Test tubes have been driven all over a territory of four square miles about the works. These will show if any lowering of the level of the water in them results from the continuous draft upon the wells. Contractor Moore is certain that in spite of the millions of gallons of water that will be pumped out, the supply below will not be affected in the least. The test tubes are expected to prove this.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ex-Councilman Wilton Fitz Randolph, formerly of this city, has been exonerated by the Southern Club, while Major William Hancock Clark has been expelled. A Baby-Carriage Runs Away.

Thumping noisily from step to step, and bounding from side to side of the narrow passageway, a baby-carriage whizzed down two continuous flights of stairs in a Park avenue dwelling this morning. The street-door was wide open and the carriage skated across the sidewalk and street and wrecked itself against a hitching post on the opposite side. The horses, though unused to such antics by peramb.ulators, did not resent the intrusion on their section of the thoroughfare, but the pedestrians, in spite of their being accustomed to dodging baby-carriages at all times, hopped wildly about and behaved in a manner most frantic t ill it was ascertained that the runaway vehicle was unoccupied. The handle of the carriage had slipped from the clutch of the little girl who had been hauling the carriage up-stairs.

Thirteen at Dinner With Contractor Moore.

Mr. Charles K. Moore, the contractor for the Water Works of Plainfield, gave a complimentary dinner at his home in Fanwood, Tuesday evening, after the votes were counted, to Freeholder Kyte and the other Republican candidates whom he had worked so strenuously and successfully to elect in the Township.

There were present thirteen, including the two "Mascots" of the day—Miss Madeline Robinson and Master James Moore II—and all the elected. Mr. Kyte and others responded in great shape to the toasts proposed for each by the generous hostess.

For example, we sell a cake of clear, perfumed soap for 10 cts., twelve for $1.00 (about 8c. each). Every cake warranted to wear "to nothing" without crumbling.

For those who prefer an opaque soap we have a PALM SOAP superior to any we have ever before handled.

GRIEF FOR A LOCAL JEHU.

A Plainfield Hackman Gets a Bill for $200 and a Threatening Letter.

One of Plainfield's hackmen has donned sackcloth and ashes because of the receipt of a bill for $200 and a letter demanding payment. The relentless creditor is Chas. W. Budd, the World's champion live bird shot, who claims to have lost, through the hackman's carelessness, first prize money in the big $400 purse at the tournament of the Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen, last Fall. Like other great sportsmen, Budd has always, ever since he started out to be a marksman, had a favorite gun, and when the weapon with which he is particularly skillful is absent he experiences a spirit of considerable homesickness and seems more or less at loss.

Budd traveled nearly three thousand miles, last Autumn, purposely to make big money at the Dunellen shoot, and when he appeared on the grounds with his old reliable weapon under his arm the sportsmen already assembled knew that he had come prepared to waste no powder but to bag every bird and capture consequent prizes. Everything went smoothly till the last day of the tournament. The smaller matches were shot off, prize money was divided, and Budd got his share. But thus far all had been small potatoes. The $400 purse was the great stake for which he was waiting. This was to be the attractive card of the final day, and the day before Budd began to dream of coffers of gold.

Twilight was settling down over the landscape. Scores of cooing pigeons were nestling together in the wicker-work crates, unconsciously awaiting the morrow's execution. Long lines of powder-smoke drifted lazily along the atmosphere and enveloped the Watchung mountains in their hazy folds. Champion Budd, with his record thus far clean, handed his gun to the driver of a Plainfield hack and stepped jauntily towards the cushioned seat behind. The hackman urged his fleet steed forward for Plainfield. His injunctions had been to get home soon and to take good care of the gun. Jealously he guarded the sacred weapon till the macadamized road was reached, but then he devoted his attention entirely to speeding and forgot his other charge. On West Front street there came a sudden swerve to avoid a passing carriage, and with a snap and clatter the gun fell from the driver's seat to the ground. Heavy wheels instantly passed over it and crushed out its usefulness forever. Stock was splintered; barrels were twisted; mechanism was ruined. Beautiful language floated out on the air, and champion and hackman parted to meet no more.

Next day Budd had to shoot with a strange gun, and in consequence his record was far from good. First money slipped from his grasp; second followed suit; and at last, despite his former prowess, he found himself "out" of the divide entirely. When he left for home it was with great strains of regret tugging at his heart.

The letter which has just reached the hackman is as brief as the hackman's face is long. The charge is made that the hackman deliberately planned the accident and ruined the gun as the result of bribery by an opponent of the champion. The hackman is inconsolable, but he will doubtless brighten up when he learns that Budd is an inveterate joker and in resurrecting the tournament affair is seeking only another avenue of sport.

Veterans Want the Monument Hurried.

The matter of erecting a soldiers monument in Plainfield is still in the hands of a committee and sub-committee of the G. A. R. Veterans speaking of the matter this morning expressed the hope that the project would soon be taken up for final action, as thorough success depended greatly on prompt measures. Several plans are still under consideration by the committees, who await the return of a leading officer to town before making final report to the Post. It is considered important that the ultimate plans be definitely announced, that subscriptions may be secured for the amount necessary for completion of the work. The time is drawing nigh when begins the egress of wealthy citizens for their Summer pleasure trips, and it is desired by those interested that final agitation of the matter soon be made. One point seems already to be determined, the monument—a handsome and costly structure—is not to be doomed to ornament some unseen spot, but will occupy the commanding site in the triangle in front of the Crescent Avenue church. For this result a measure of thanks is due to THE PRESS.

To Change Their Meeting Night.

The Young People's League of the First Baptist church, have changed the night for holding their devotional meetings from Sunday at 6:30 P. M., to Friday evenings at 7:30. They will hold a short meeting to-morrow night after which the annual election of officers will take place. Mr. Ernest Marx has consented to take the flash light of those present, which he was to have taken at their sociable several weeks ago, at which time he was detained at home by illness.

The young people of the church, congregation and Sunday school are most earnestly requested to attend the meetings and bring a friend with them.

Bid me discourse, I will enchant thy ear with remarkable tales of astounding cures of all sorts of suffering by Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Plainfield's Birds Win.

(From Yesterday's Elizabeth Journal.)

A cocking main engaged the attention of the breeders of "fighting stock" in this city last night. The main was held on South Front street, and was witnessed by a large crowd of local, Plainfield and Rahway sports. Birds from this and the two cities named were entered and some desperate and hard fighting was witnessed. The Plainfield birds took five out of the seven fights that took place. They were pitted against 'Port birds, who were easily defeated, as they were nearly all runaways and had no fight in them. Pat Tevlin's bird in a hard fought battle defeated a Plainfield cock.

This was the only local bird that won a bout. A Rahway entry also won a fight. Bob Walpool handled the Plainfield and Rahway birds and Pat Tevlin looked after his own and the 'Port birds. The betting was about even and it is rumored that a large amount of money changed hands. The out of town sports were highly elated over the success of their birds.

Homesick, But Resented Sympathy.

A lost dog was in town last night, sniffing wistfully at the skirts of passers-by and following all sorts of vehicles about. It finally lay down on the pavement on Front street, and a small crowd gathered about. Some volunteered the opinion that the animal was ill, and attempted to diagnose the case; others thought it hungry and sought to feed it; soothing hands were stretched forth, and expressions of pity were rendered; but of a sudden the dog made a snap, a snarl and a rush through the ranks of his sympathizers. The cry "He's mad!" was raised, and several of the younger element gave chase. The dog leaped into a country wagon and was driven home with his regained master.

The Political Complexion of the Somerset Board.

Branchburg—John N. Yawger, D.
Bridgewater—Hiram Rockafellow, R.
Franklin—J. C. Staats, D.
Hillsborough—Jno. S. Everett, D.
Montgomery—Jacob M. Vreeland, R., re-elected.
North Plainfield—W. E. Jones, R., re-elected.
Borough of North Plainfield—George Bulman, R.

Getting Ready for Memorial Day.

The members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., are already planning for an elaborate celebration of Memorial Day. At the regular encampment of the Post Tuesday evening, an entirely new Memorial Detail was appointed, consisting of Comrades I. L. McVoy, W. W. Coriell, H. C. Drake, and Wm. Day, of this city, and Samuel Reese of Westfield. At the same session Comrades John E. Stewart, George W. Moore and J. M. Atwood were appointed a detail to draft a set of resolutions upon the death of their late Commander, Isaac Brokaw. A copy of the resolutions will be presented to the widow of the deceased.

Victims of the Flowing Bowl.

Two prisoners appeared before City Judge W. R. Codington, this morning, in answer to the charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Each pleaded that it was his first offense, and appeared very contrite. One was fined $10, the other $5.

Other gentlemen who became boarders in the station-house, last evening, were too indisposed to visit the Judge this morning, and their cases will be held over till to-morrow.

Look Out For the Dunellen Women.

A despatch from New Brunswick says: "Mrs. Delia Langlob, of Dunellen, was lodged in jail here today, on a charge of attempting the life of her husband. It is said she assaulted him with sticks, tried to stab him with the household knives and forks, and although she did not inflict a fatal wound she made him tolerably miserable and scared him badly. Justice A. L. Storms committed her for the Grand Jury."

It is asserted that Booth and Salvini keep their voices clear by the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

AMERICA stands first among the nations of the globe in the manufacture of finished iron and steel products.

THE production of sorghum sugar in the United States last year amounted to 578 tons, as against 312 tons in 1888.

A MILLION dollars worth of the little Greek grapes called English currants come to us by way of England every year.

THE Kansas salt product last year amounted to 547,224 barrels and 19,056 tons not put in barrels. Total value, $448,238.

EVERY year shows a large increase in the shipments of Russian petroleum to England, while America remains nearly stationary.

THE number of failures in the United States the past year was larger and the liabilities greater than for any of the past five years.

THE production of pig iron in the United States in 1889 amounted to 7,604,525 gross tons, as against 6,489,738 gross tons in 1888.

ACCORDING to the New York Sun the amount of English capital invested in the purchase of American industrial plants last year was $205,505,000.

EXPERTS in the coffee trade estimate that consumers of coffee pay annually about $18,000,000 for ground peas, beans and rye. These adulterants are added to ground coffee.

THE Bureau of Statistics estimate the value of the poultry products of the country last year at $200,000,000. In addition to this, eggs were imported to the value of $2,500,000.

THE cigar-making industry of San Francisco is almost dead, because of Chinese competition, and goods from Pennsylvania are sold cheaper there than they can be made at home.

"THERE are four products of California," says a Pacific coast journal, "which will shortly command the market of this country and will seek outlets abroad. These are raisins, prunes, figs and olive oil."

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

TORIES HIT HARD

Seeking Means to Recover Lost Popularity.

LORD CHURCHILL DENOUNCED.

His Constituents Condemn His Speech in the Most Vigorous Manner.

Fighting the Flames in the Morsa Mine. The Amazon Leader Killed—Pugilist Mitchell Held for Trial—The Irish Land Tenure Bill Rejected—Hours of Work Reduced by the German Government.

LONDON, March 13.—Despite the contemptuous references of the Conservative organs of Lord Randolph Churchill's attack upon the Government, there is abundant evidence that the Tories were hit hard and still feel the effects of the shafts of the Tory Democratic leader. The comparatively small majority by which Mr. Caine's motion was rejected is another source of annoyance and apprehension, and altogether the Ministerialists are in an unhappy frame of mind in contemplation of the undeniable fact that they have lost ground.

In view of this state of affairs the Ministry is already casting about for some means of recovering the popularity which the party has forfeited by its course since the opening of the session, and it is stated that the Government will attempt to achieve that end by bringing in a bill placing tea and coffee on the free list.

Although the Government's course has greatly increased the chances of the Liberals in many constituencies hitherto controlled by the Conservatives, the effect of Lord Randolph Churchill's speech in the Tory stronghold represented by him has been much like that of a boomerang. To say that Lord Randolph's constituents are furious over his performance is putting it mildly. Scarcely one can be found amongst them who does not condemn his utterances in the most vigorous English at his command, and already the suggestion is rife to hold a mass meeting to denounce him, though the political managers will hardly permit so extreme a course.

MORE BODIES RECOVERED.

Gangs of Men Still Fighting the Flames in the Morsa Mine.

LONDON, March 13.—Nineteen bodies have been recovered from the Morsa mine. The flames are rapidly spreading and there is very little hope of recovering many more bodies.

Gangs of volunteers are at work trying to check the progress of the fire and reach the entombed men.

Fully three-fourths of the men were married and leave large families. Telegrams of sympathy have been sent by Queen Victoria, the Lord Mayor of London and others to the families of the victims.

Must Return Money to the Times.

LONDON, March 13.—Irish newspapers report that the officials of the Government who were summoned to London to give evidence on behalf of the "Times," before the Parnell Commission, have received a circular calling on them to refund to the proprietors of that paper any money which they were paid while in London exceeding 4s. per day, besides third-class expenses. They are allowed to make the repayments by installments and are threatened with dismissal should they refuse to comply.

Canadians May Get Angry.

LONDON, March 13.—The congratulations concerning the agreement between Sir Julian Pauncefote and the United States, regarding the Behring Sea difficulty, are deemed premature by the "Telegraph." In an editorial it says: The Canadians will never agree to any practical monopoly of those waters by the United States and it predicts that bloodshed will be the result of the latter Power's endeavor to enforce its claims.

The Amazon Leader Killed.

PARIS, March 13.—Dispatches from Wiydah announce that the King of Dahomey has retired with all his fighting forces to Lama. He has lost in the attacks on the French a total of a thousand men and women warriors, including the commandant of his Amazon Guard.

Hours of Work Reduced.

BERLIN, March 13.—The German Minister of War has ordered that the working hours of the men employed in the gun factories and other military works at Spandau be reduced to ten hours a day. Heretofore the men have worked thirteen hours.

Stanley's Movements.

LONDON, March 13.—Mr. Stanley will leave Cairo on the 20th inst, will land at Brindisi and proceed to Nice, where he will remain a week. Thence he goes to Brussels and London, where distinguished honors await him.

Charlie Mitchell Held for Trial.

LONDON, March 13.—Mitchell, the pugilist, was brought before the Police Court charged with assault on Chesterfield Goode, the feather-weight. He was remanded on bail of £500, which was furnished by "Pony" Moore.

Restricting the Liberty of the Press.

LISBON, March 13.—The Government will shortly issue a decree restricting the liberty of the press, whose utterances have been embarrassing to the Ministry and the cause of much of the public disorder which has prevailed.

Accession to the Monks of Chartreuse.

PARIS, March 13.—The latest accession to the ranks of the world-famed Monks of Chartreuse is the Abbe Chaffant, a son of the Senator of that name, and an eloquent and fashionable preacher.

The Land Tenure Bill Rejected.

LONDON, March 13.—In the House of Commons the Irish Land Tenure bill was rejected by a vote of 331 to 179.

Darkness Stopped It.

NEW ORLEANS, March 13.—The fourth and finest game of the series between the Brooklyn and Philadelphia Players' League teams ended in a draw on account of darkness, with the score standing three each. Nine innings were played.

THE NAVAL INQUIRY.

Lieutenant Ingersoll Testifies in Favor of Commander McCalla.

BROOKLYN, March 13.—When the Naval Court of Inquiry assembled to try Commander McCalla all the witnesses were placed in a room at the back of the court. Lieutenant R. E. Ingersoll of the Enterprise was the first witness sworn. He testified to various punishments inflicted on men by Commander McCalla. He said men were sometimes triced up to the Jacob's ladder in order to make them stand when drunk and that all punishment on board the ship had been in accord with law.

On July 6, 1888, at eleven o'clock in the evening, witness, who was in his cabin, heard a seaman making a great noise. He heard Commander McCalla repeatedly go out of his cabin and order the noise to be stopped. At last the Commander went forward himself. Witness heard his sword clanking on the deck. He followed the Commander and found him standing near John E. Walker, a second class fireman, who was in the hands of the ship's police. Walker swore at the Commander and used abusive language and was very violent. He was gagged with a bayonet, which was placed across his mouth and strapped there. After a little while it was removed. Walker again became violent and abusive, and Commander McCalla drew his sword and struck him across the shoulder, knocking him down.

Thomas Spaglich, John E. Walker and Otto Sixingiad were put in straightjackets for drunkeness and kept in them for seven or eight days. On another occasion ten or twelve men were ironed together and marched up and down the deck under a sentry. They were made to do this for about seven hours.

Lieutenant Lemley testified that there was a lack of system in the way punishments were meted out. He could not give particulars unless the ship's memorandum book were produced. On one occasion Commander McCalla shook his sword in the face of an apprentice named Meyer, who had been arrested for refusing to go down into a coal bunker and put out a fire. The commander said: "Now damn you, I'll kill you if you smile at me." Meyer was then taken away. He was not struck. He was not smiling at the commander at the time.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

A Number of Bills Passed and Both Houses Adjourn for a Week.

TRENTON, N. J., March 13.—The Senate passed the following bills and adjourned for a week: Prohibiting disinterring any bodies from May 1 to Nov. 1; appropriating $40,000 to erect additional buildings for use of the State Normal School for purpose of manual training; fixing the time of making statements of taxable property from third Wednesday in January to third Wednesday in April; authorizing Boards of Freeholders, with Township Committees, to change a road to avoid the expense of building and maintaining a bridge; providing for payment of salaries of clerks in the House committees at $300 each; authorizing municipalities to adopt as public roads certain roads heretofore dedicated to public use.

In the House Mr. Kalisch's Race-Track bill passed; also the bill authorizing second class cities to divide one or more wards and to form new wards therefrom, providing that no more than two wards shall be devided in five years.

Arrested for Bribery.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Indictments for bribery were found against Warden Keating and Deputy Sheriff McGonigal of Ludlow street jail. They were brought before Judge Fitzgerald in Part I General Sessions when both, through their counsel, pleaded not guilty and bail was fixed at $10,000 on each of the two indictments found against them by the Grand Jury. Warden Keating has resigned his office.

A Brotherhood Man Deserts.

BUFFALO, March 13.—George D. Meyers, the catcher, has consented to sign with Minneapolis. He was an ardent Brotherhood man, but objected to playing in this city, where he had been assigned. The St. Louis Association team worked hard for him, and Minneapolis men regard his acquisition as important.

Eva Hamilton Asks for a Pardon.

TRENTON, N. J., March 13.—Eva Hamilton's attorney has sent a petition to the Court of Pardons for a pardon for his client. It is the custom of Gov. Abbett to go to the prison and examine all applicants for pardon, and he will undoubtedly pay Mrs. Hamilton a visit within a few days.

A Notorious Resort Raided.

HOLYOKE, Mass., March 13.—A notorious resort run by colored people near Palmer's Run was raided by the police last evening. Ten unfortunate children were taken from the den, where scores of crimes have been committed. The place has been running for 20 years.

Subscriptions for the Providence Club.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 13.—At last night's meeting of the Providence Club, of the Atlantic League, it was shown that only $4,300 of the necessary $6,300 to start the season had thus far been subscribed. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday.

PROCURED BY FRAUD.

A Rich Young Lady Divorced from a Minister.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., March 13.—Judge McClean granted Flora Belle Jordick, daughter of W. W. Hafer, the richest man in this county, an absolute divorce from her husband, Rev. W. H. Jordick, pastor of the Lutheran Church at Frostburg, Md.

The divorce was granted on the ground that the marriage, which was clandestine, was procured by fraud. The couple were married under assumed names at Columbia in 1885 by Rev. E. C. Griffith, while Jordick was a student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary here. Jordick never acknowledged the marriage, and made no opposition to the divorce. The couple never lived together as man and wife.

FLOODS IN THE SOUTH

Water Pouring Through the Streets of New Orleans.

THE SITUATION IS CRITICAL.

The Highest Flood Level Ever Recorded Has Been Reached.

Water Flows Over the Tops of Levees. Danger in the Mississippi Bottoms. People on the House Tops at Poplar Bluffs, Mo.—United States Engineers Telegraph for Assistance.

NEW ORLEANS, March 14.—For the first time in the history of New Orleans the Mississippi River has overflowed the levee in front of the city and flooded several sections of the city.

The water reached 17 feet above low-water mark, being nine inches higher than the famous flood of 1874.

As early as 11 a. m. the river overflowed the sugar levee platform and created a panic among the sugar brokers. Hurried preparations were made and before any great loss had been sustained the sugar and molasses were moved on drays to secure quarters.

From Canal to Esplanade the levee front was soon under water, and in time nearly all the streets in the French quarter as far down as Orleans and out to Dauphine street. This gradually backed up to the north side of Canal street, when the river began pouring in a solid sheet over the levee from Canal to Gravier street.

All the north side of Canal street, the fashionable shopping quarter, was overflowed from Chartres to Bourbon, causing a complete cessation of business in all the large stores on that thoroughfare. Thousands of people flocked to the central portion of the city to view the spectacle.

The water in Canal street on the north side, as far as Rampart street, was up to the hubs of carriages. The water from Poydras street ran down and flooded portions of the south side of Canal street, but did not interfere with business.

It is probable the whole rear of the city will go under water, as the draining machines cannot handle the output from the river. In the Garden District, also, several of the streets are flooded.

The several railway depots on the levee have thus far protected themselves and most of the tracks.

The outlook is gloomy because of the rising rivers in the lower Mississippi delta and the recent heavy rains.

A Government relief steamer left to strengthen and watch the levees protecting Texas Basin in North Louisiana.

A crevasse occurred to-day at Cedar Grove sugar plantation, the property of the Citizens' Bank, 10 miles below the city on the left bank.

While the United States engineers are hopeful, many well-informed persons think that the entire cotton districts of the State and lower sugar district will go under water.

An Alarming Condition.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 14.—The rivers are in an alarming condition. The highest flood level ever recorded has already been reached at many points south of here, and will likely be attained from Cairo to the Gulf within the next five or six days. The rainfall of the past three days sums up a total of from two to three inches over the country lying west of the Mississippi to the Indian Territory and south of the Ozark range, and from two to five inches between the Ohio and Cumberland valleys.

People Driven to House Tops.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., March 14.—The floods are becoming greater. Rain fell again last night and the river is a great roving lake miles wide. No trains arrived from the North and three from the South are laid up here. A large county bridge across a branch of the Black river, one mile from this city, was washed away. Another in course of construction is also said to have gone out from farther up the river. Word has come in from several places where people are driven to the house tops and are in great danger. The rain has ceased but the weather is threatening.

People in Constant Fear.

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., March 14.—The real condition of affairs at this place has been suppressed. The water from the Sappington break has flooded the town and surrounding country, hundreds of horses and hogs and sheep have been drowned and the people are in constant fear of a break in the levee in front of the city, where the water yesterday was four inches upon the sandbags on top of the levee.

Engineers Want Assistance.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 14.—The United States Engineers stationed here have telegraphed for assistance. The United States steamer Emma Ethridge, now laying at Paducah, Ky., has been ordered to report here forthwith. Twenty thousand sacks have been sent to Greenville, Miss., which are to be filled with sand to strengthen the levees at that point.

Danger in the Mississippi Bottoms.

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 14.—The danger here is hourly augmented; the river is slowly but steadily climbing up. At the foot of Washington and main streets the levees can stand a rise of one foot without breaking, but a rise of three inches will flood the southern half of the city. Levees north of the city are stronger, but the force of the current is more damaging.

Acquitted of Murder.

LEXINGTON, Va., March 14.—The jury in the case of James Miller, on trial for the murder of Dr. J. H. Walker, at Brownsburg, several months ago, brought in a verdict of acquittal.

RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS.

An Increased Attendance at the New Jersey M. E. Conference.

MILLVILLE, N. J., March 14.—The second days' session of the New Jersey M. E. Conference was opened with a large increase in attendance of clergymen. The most important business was the annual report of the presiding elders of the New Brunswick, Trenton and Camden districts and the fiftieth annual report of the Pennington Seminary. The presiding elder's reports all showed large gains in church membership. Rev. E. A. Ballard, A. M. Hudson and J. B. Eward were granted supernumerary relations.

Dr. Hanlan, president of Pennington Seminary, reported that the institution is in a prosperous condition with 300 students. This is the semi-centennial of the seminary and the jubilee services are being held in this city to-day. The anniversary addresses will be delivered by J. M. Bulkley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate.

The Conference at Pottsville.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 14.—The second day's session of the Methodist Conference was opened with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. [illegible] J. Paxson. Rev. S. Barnes, who did not receive an appointment last year, addressed the conference on the subject and was assured of one this year. The committee on the charges against Rev. J. P. Duffy, of Philadelphia, reported that an investigation had been made, no prosecutor appearing. They therefore found no cause for further action. The case was therefore dismissed and Rev. Duffy's character declared cleared.

GOV. LADD RENOMINATED.

The Republican Convention of Rhode Island Completes Its Ticket.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 14.—The Republican State Convention assembled in Infantry Hall. Frank H. Harris, of Newport, was elected chairman.

The following were unanimously nominated for State officers; Governor, Herbert W. Ladd, Providence; Lieutenant-Governor, Daniel G. Littlefield, Pawtucket; Secretary of State, Samuel W. Cross, Westerly; General Treasurer, Samuel Clark, Lincoln; Attorney-General, Horatio Rogers, Providence.

These are the present State officers, with the exception of the nominee for Attorney-General.

The platform adopted endorses the Ballot Reform Law, congratulates the people on the success of President Harrison's administration, expresses admiration for Speaker Reed for the constitutional methods which he adopted, and congratulates the present Republican State administration.

Columbus Secures Lehane.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—The arbitration committee of the League and the American Association met here and the claims of the New York League and Columbus Association club to "Mike" Lehane's services were argued and finally decided in favor of Columbus. The testimony in the case of Bob Pettit, who is claimed by both the Milwaukee and New Haven clubs, was so conflicting that no decision was reached, and Zach Phelps was instructed to obtain a vote by mail on the question at issue.

Leconey Fails to Have Lingo Indicted

CAMDEN, N. J., March 14.—Chalkey Leconey, who was acquitted of the murder of his niece, Annie E. Leconey, went before the Grand Jury for the purpose of having Francis Lingo, his colored farm hand, indicted as the murderer, and to secure the indictment of Detective Patrick Gallagher and Garret Murray for perjury. The Grand Jury refused to indict either of them, and is doubtful if any indictment will be found against Lingo.

His Second Disappearance.

HAVERHILL, Mass., March 14.—George Osgood, whose second disappearance from St. Louis, leaving a wife and child, has caused much comment, formerly resided here. On May 7, 1881, he mysteriously disappeared. His rowboat was found next morning with his coat in it, and his young wife and friends, after a long search, made up their minds that he had been drowned. He moved in the best society here and was a church member.

A Pole-Vaulter's Fatal Accident.

WILLIAMANTIC, Conn., March 14.—Thomas Fenton, a member of the Young Men's Athletic Club, died yesterday from the effects of a singular accident of last Tuesday. He was practising pole-vaulting when his pole broke and one end penetrated his nose, passed upward and ruptured a blood vessel, causing hemorrhage of the brain.

Married 56 Years and Wants a Divorce.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 14.—Mrs. Elizabeth Upperman, 75 years of age, has filed suit for divorce against her husband George, two years her senior. They have been married 56 years, and are grandparents. They have not lived together for 10 years, and Mrs. Upperman wants to die a free woman.

Another Mine Abandoned.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 14.—Hot water and steam from the flooded South Wilkesbarre shaft is pouring into the Stanton mine. A door connecting the mines is supposed to have been burned away. The Stanton will have to be abandoned for the present. The extent of the damage is not known.

The Steamer De Ruyter Afloat.

BOSTON, March 14.—The steamer De Ruyter, from Antwerp for Boston, which went ashore at Scituate, March 6, has been pulled off.

The Saxton Reform Bill Passed.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 14.—The Saxton Ballot Reform bill was passed in the Assembly by a vote of 73 to 51.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Secretary Windom Before the Immigration Committee.

ARGUING FOR BEDLOE'S ISLAND.

Immigrants Should Land Under the Shadow of the Statue of Liberty.

A Private Soldier Sentenced to 99 Years in the Penitentiary—The President Indignant—Editor Medill for Senator—An Appeal by Mr. Wanamaker Denied—In Favor of Fractional Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Senate and House Committees on Immigration held their first joint meeting and Secretary Windom gave a statement of the reasons that had induced him to take charge of the landing of immigrants at New York. He said that the Ford Committee of last Congress in their report recommended that the national Government take charge of this matter. The reports of the manner in which operations at Castle Garden were conducted and of the condition of affairs there also seemed to warrant, if not demand a change.

The Secretary was asked why he had selected Bedloe's Island as the landing place for immigrants under the new arrangement. He answered that Governor's Island would have suited him just as well—in fact, it was examined by him with a view to locating the landing station there; but the military authorities objected to giving up control of the island, and he was compelled to look elsewhere. The Treasury Department had a foothold on Bedloe's Island, and it was, in addition, deemed the proper place to land immigrants, under the shadow of the Statue of Liberty. This island contained 13 acres. Five of them are devoted to the park surrounding the statue, and the remainder may be utilized for the necessary buildings for the accommodation of immigrants and the transaction of business. These buildings will be erected on the west side of the island, where they will not interfere with the view of the statue.

Senators McPherson and Evarts asked Secretary Windom why Ellis Island, where the powder magazine is now located, would not be a satisfactory site for the immigrant landing station. The Secretary responded that, in his opinion, it was too low to be used for that purpose. The Senators expressed the views of those opposed to the use of Bedloe's Island for the purpose in question. They said the statue had been presented to the United States by a foreign Government; its site had been located by an act of Congress, and by that action the United States dedicated the island, by implication, if not directly, as a park in which the statue should stand, and nothing else should be located.

Favor Fractional Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency discussed at some length the proposition to issue fractional paper currency. It seemed to be the sense of the committee that some action should be taken in the matter and a majority of members expressed themselves in favor of establishing a fractional paper currency in connection with the postal service. It was finally agreed that consultation should be held with the Postmaster-General and the House Committee on Postoffices and Roads, concerning the matter.

99 Years for Desertion.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Lewis Carter, colored private 25th Infantry, U. S. A., was court-martialed at Fort Snelling for assault, robbery and desertion, found guilty of all and sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary. A year ago a colored lawyer, Fred L. McGhee, of St. Paul, Minn., took the case, receiving proof that Carter was innocent of everything except desertion. President Harrison has now reviewed the case, issued an unconstitutional pardon to Carter, which takes effect May 25, and reprimanded the court-martial, which convicted him on little or no evidence.

Mr. Wanamaker's Appeal Denied.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Treasury Department has denied the appeal of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, from the assessment of duty at the rate of 35 per cent. ad valorem on certain linen imported by him at the port of Philadelphia and rewarehoused at New York. The ground upon which the appeal is rejected is that the statutory time had expired in which a protest should be filed.

Editor Medill for Senator.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—There is a report in circulation among Illinois politicians here that Mr. Joseph Medill is a candidate for the United States Senate, to succeed Senator Farwell. The story is discussed with much interest. It has been known for some time that Gen. Raum, the Commissioner of Pensions, had aspirations, but Mr. Medill's candidacy is a surprise.

Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The following nominations for postmasters were sent to the Senate by the President: Vermont—F. W. Childs, Brattleboro. Massachusetts—C. T. Drake, Stoughton. New York—John Waller, Monticello; Geo. G. Roe, Clyde. Pennsylvania—A. N. Brice, Sunbury; E. W. Davies, Athens.

General Greely's Warning.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Gen. Greely Chief Signal Officer, regards the present condition of the Mississippi River as so serious that he warns the population threatened by the flood that it is prudent for them to remove themselves and their cattle to the highest ground within reach.

THE MARKET NEVER BROKE.

YET IT WAS THE BIGGEST SALE OF ITS KIND EVER HELD IN THE CITY.

Over $35,000 Paid for Sarah Latimer's Stock in the Plainfield Banks, Yet It Was Only a Drop in the Bucket of $800,000 She Left in Bonds and Securities.

The largest sale of Plainfield bank stock ever known in this city, took place yesterday, in Laing's hall, but the big block of stock disposed of was a very small part of the assortment of gilt-edged certificates, first-class bonds and prime stock left by Sarah Mitchell Latimer when she died at her home on East Front street, a few months ago, worth over $800,000.

The executors had advertised the sale of 209 shares of First National stock and 68 shares of City stock, and some thought that throwing so much on the market at once by auction, would break the price. Yet, although it seemed so much and netted about $35,000, there was one simple little certificate left behind by the dead woman among a lot of others, that represented $140,000 worth of stock in the New York & New Haven railroad.

The sale attracted a gathering of old residents and investors, who owned collectively quite a heap of money themselves. There were present Abraham Dunlap, John Ross, Levi Hetfield, L. L. Martin, J. Frank Hubbard, Walter Scott, John Simpson, E. R. Pope, S. C. Peck, Wm. M. Stillman, R. M. Stelle, W. L. Gavett, Clayton Ryder, O. R. Stelle, A. B. Darby, Geo. F. Opdyke, H. F. Stites, W. K. McClure, A. G. Conant, C. K. Compton, Frank S. Runyon, J. F. MacDonald, Wm. H. Shotwell, Frank H. Gardner, J. B. Miller, Nelson Runyon, Chas. A. Reed, W. L. Hetfield, Frank M. Bacon, Wallace Vail, William S. Campbell and a hundred others.

The result of the sale was that the City stock showed an advance in price, and the First National a very slight fall. If THE PRESS is not mistaken, the last of the former sold brought 110, and when the Cora O. Meeker stock in the First National was sold it brought 135. But there was so large an amount of the latter sold yesterday, and so much less of the City, the natural consequence was a light drop in the First National. Worth had not so much to do with the price as is generally the case. Buyers bought what they wanted only, and if it ran a half-point over what they pleased, they simply stopped bidding and waited for another lot to be put up and knocked down at their own price.

Messrs E. R. Pope and F. H. Gardner watched the interests of the City National bank, and Messrs John Simpson and F. S. Runyon looked after the First National. The facile and fluent Gillies was he auctioneer, Executors J. F. MacDonald and Nelson Runyon were the bookkeepers, and Executor Wm. H. Shotwell was general manager. The terms of the sale were, ten per cent cash and the balance before noon of next Tuesday.

The first share put up was of First National stock, and the auctioneer inquired, "What am I bid for this one share with the privilege of taking ten at the same price?" Mr. E. R. Pope facetiously said "110," and Mr. George F. Opdyke in surprise raised it to 115. But it did not stay long there, being rapidly coaxed along one point at a time by Cashier Runyon. He could not get anyone to give more than 134, however, and had to take it at that figure himself. Nobody gave more during the whole sale, while Mr. Charles A. Reed bought some of it as low as 130⅞.

The first lot of City National was started by Mr. Pope at the same price as he offered for First National, and he, too, had to take it himself at his last bid, 116. Mr. Henry F. Stites, however, gave 117 for the next lot, but no one else did. The sale resulted thus:

The First National stock was bought by the following: F. S. Runyon, 6 shares at 134; Clayton Ryder, 30 at 134, 20 at 131½, 5 at 132½; A. B. Darby, 10 at 134, 10 at 132½, 10 at 131, 11 at 131½; John C. Welsh, 10 at 134; Henry F. Stites, 5 at 132½, 5 at 131½; O. R. Stelle, 6 at 134, 5 at 133; Charles N. Cole, 10 at 133½; P. P. VanArsdale, 5 at 132; Charles A. Reed, 10 at 132½, 11 at 132, 10 at 130⅞; C. K. Compton, 5 at 132½; W. L. Gavett, 5 at 132; A. G. Conant, 10 at 132; E. R. Pope, 10 at 131.

The City National stock was bought by the following: E. R. Pope, 30 shares at 116, 21 at 116½; Henry F. Stites, 10 at 117; F. S. Runyon, 7 at 116.

Aspiring Women of Mount Ararat.

The increase in Westfield's school census permits of the election of two additional trustees, and already a number of the women of Mount Ararat are in the field among the male candidates for the positions. As "Women, lovely women," white and black, have of late carried one or two elections effecting public school affairs in Westfield, there seems much reason for the little township's anxiety in the present case.

DID SHE KILL HER CHILD?

A Case of Alleged Infanticide Excites New Brooklyn Villagers

The dead body of an infant boy was found in the attic of Mary Hoffman's house at New Brooklyn, near Plainfield, yesterday. The story had reached New Brunswick that infanticide had been committed, and in pursuance of an investigation ordered by the Prosecutor's office, Detectives Chas. W. Oliver and W. A. Housell visited the place and discovered the corpse hidden away among the rafters.

The remains were considerably decomposed, but it is alleged that sufficient evidence was at hand to show that the babe had been killed by criminal neglect at birth. Miss Hoffman, whose age is thirty-five years, and who works in a mill at New Market, was charged with being the mother of the infant, and acknowledged the charge. She was promptly placed under surveillance till a warrant for her arrest could be procured. The warrant will probably be served at the conclusion of County Physician Riva's examination today.

The date of the birth is said to have been February 9. The supposed infanticide is thought to be one of a series of similar events, but this is the first time the corpse of the woman's alleged victims has been found. Guilt heretofore has been effectually covered up, but residents of the neighborhood claim that within the past few years Miss Hoffman has several times been implicated in like affairs. The detectives are engaged in securing evidence in this direction.

While admitting the parentage of the dead infant, the accused mother neither denies nor confesses to the charges made concerning the death of the newly-born babe.

The villagers are greatly excited over this case.

PROGRESS OF THE TOURNAMENT.

DEATH OF EBENEZER L. ROBERTS.

He Was the Architect of Music Hall, the Crescent Avenue Church, and Other Plainfield Buildings.

Ebenezer L. Roberts, a well-known architect, died yesterday from nervous exhaustion, at his home, No. 364 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn. He was a native of Middletown, Conn., and was born in 1825. He served his apprenticeship as a carpenter, and then passed through the building trade into architecture. In 1850 he went to Brooklyn and established himself in his new profession. Mr. Roberts soon became favorably known among a large circle and his business rapidly increased.

He was the architect of the residence at Park avenue and Seventh street, now the property of A. C. Baldwin, which Mr. Roberts occupied as his home for many years. He also drew the plans of Music Hall and the Crescent Avenue church, both of which being fitted with the "exhaust" system of ventilation which he invented.

His wife died last November and he leaves one daughter. The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at his home. The burial will be at Lyme, Conn.

WHAT OF OUR SEWERS?

IS PLAINFIELD'S FAIR FAME ENDANGERED IN THE SOLUTION OF THIS PROBLEM?

A Glance at Our Reputation Abroad, As Pictured by a Malarious Washingtonian—Loyal Citizens, Public Spirit, and Personal Spite—Important Issues Involved—What Will the Outcome Be?

A certain Washingtonian sought a residence in the East. The lack of sewers in Plainfield is all that deterred him from making his home in that delectable city, and though he was assured that he might easily be provided with all the regulation personal comforts and discomforts usually attendant on the presence of underground conduits, he steadfastly clung to his original resolution and refused to pitch his tent within the gates of the sewerless district.

His position in the Treasury Department at Washington was not the lucrative sinecure it was popularly supposed to be; the Washington climate had given him a chronic case of malaria; politics and life were uncertain: he was determined to make a change.

To a great metropolitan newspaper he sent an advertisement, which, though it made but a small showing among the manifold pages of the Sunday issue in which it appeared, was quickly spied and eagerly scanned by a large number of Plainfield residents.

The advertiser sought fields other than his present environment, and his first thought concerning the sought-for new locality had to do with its ability to provide him with food and lodging. He wanted board—good, solid board; board that would make him seem to be reveling in the lap of luxury, in return for a not exorbitant expenditure of good hard Treasury dollars. Board! What Plainfield household could not furnish it? What Plainfield dwelling would not take him in? It seemed as though the entire populace must resolve itself into a committee of the whole and shower hospitality on him. There were of course a few public buildings which were not offered him as hostelries; the library and post-office could hardly be considered as eager to afford him shelter, but from private dwelling to hotel and station house there were many places offering ample accommodations.

Who shall dare say how many responses the advertiser received from Plainfield? Who shall say how many he destroyed unread as soon as he deciphered the postmark? The one which he chose to answer was answered for probably peculiar reasons. Among the Plainfielders originally responding to the four-line newspaper notice was an ardent Jerseyman who took occasion to point with pride to Plainfield's beauty, culture, wealth and healthfulness. Ornate descriptions of the the city's attractions, contained in a printed slip prepared especially to convey to unenlightened foreigners information of New Jersey's most favored garden-spot, were forwarded to the man at Washington; and as this was the last copy of the circular in the possession of the Jerseyman he appended the request: "Kindly return this slip."

The slip was returned, and with it a terse note, scrawled in lead-pencil on a bit of government paper:

"The advertiser would not choose Plainfield as a place of residence. Irrespective of your report as to its healthfulness, it is known by all cosmopolitans to be (on account of its defective sewerage) one of the most unhealthy places in the United States. People may not die there, but they leave your city with the germs of disease, which cannot be eradicated, and die elsewhere."

This, then, was his idea of Plainfield! This the libel which he was probably engaged in circulating whenever opportunity afforded! The Jerseyman responded somewhat in this fashion:

"The respondent to the advertiser regrets that he misunderstood the advertisement, which he thought was for board and not sewers. He thanks the advertiser for returning the infamous falsehoods contained in the printed slip submitted and apologizes for attempting to beguile the advertiser into abandoning all hope and entering the gates of that dread cemetery, Plainfield. He hopes that in his search for a nice, morbid place to die the advertiser will be as successful as he deserves."

With this he inclosed a cartoon clipped from Life, representing a policeman hauling an interesting individual from a manhole of a sewer, the rescued party pleading "Put me back, please! I wrote 'As in a Looking Glass.'" This may not have been a particularly nice thing for the Jerseyman to do, but there are perhaps one or two loyal Plainfielders who will excuse him under the circumstances.

More correspondence followed. The malarious man sent from Washington vivid word-pictures painting lurid Plainfield scenes as they occurred to his fevered and fretful imagination. What an appalling array it was!—the host of happy, healthful people thronging to the peaceful city of homes and the subsequent myriads of unhappy, atrabilarious, diseased victims flocking away to other fields to die!

"The world has had its eye on Plainfield"—he said.—"It had been promised that here at last was an Elysium for the human race—that here sickness and sorrow would flee—that here was the original Eden before the fall."

"And Plainfield is an Elysium"—the man from Jersey answered.—"It is a city favored by nature and embellished by art.' No more delightful place of abode exists on earth. In Plainfield if in no other section of the world you may find yourself able to solve the problem 'How to be happy though alive.'"

"But"—and this was the crushing final answer—"you have no sewers!"

Sewers again! There were no sewers; it was true. The Plainfielder fell to pondering. Mankind outside the pale of Plainfield's civilization had become accustomed to sewers—could not, it seemed, exist without them. They could not understand how Plainfield without sewers could be any other than "one of the most unhealthy places in the United States." And even within the city itself some were predicting that unless sewers were built, and that right speedily, Plainfield would in time lose the right which she in reality held, of being called one of the most healthful of all healthful resorts.

Within the city public water-works were being builded. Within the city arose a cry for the construction of sewers at the same time. From without came such ugly reports as the malarious man at Washington was circulating. From within came alternate clamors and protests. "Tear up the streets no more than once!"—cried some.—"Give us sewers and water-works both together!"—was added.—"But"—a threatening voice arose—"let the sewers be paid for by only those who use them. Avoid any unnecessary tax; do not attempt to squeeze blood from those not benefited." It was in response to this last demand that a special bill was introduced in the Legislature. In the preparation of this bill much forethought had been spent. It was the production of time and brains. It was intended to relieve the public from all injustice in the erection of the proposed works. Surely this would have a successful passage promptly! But hold! The Philistines were upon the track! At the outset the safety of the bill and the prosperity of the public was threatened. Private grudges, personal spite, were the foes which suddenly loomed before the vision. And while the malarious man and his cohorts were seeking to heap derision and disgrace on the fair fame of New Jersey's loveliest city, and while Plainfield's inhabitants themselves were demanding a proper and thorough system of sewerage, petty malice was endangering the measure which had been prepared to bridge the question safely and keep health and prosperity in reign. Which would be the victor: the opposition which, though based only on just desires for proper personal consideration, was nevertheless powerful, or the public-spirited efforts to promote the greatest good to the greatest number? Would the opponents of the people's bill allow their thirst for personal gratification to stifle the promptings of their conscience, or would their inherent nobility of character gleam forth supreme and successfully urge them to join hands in the cause calculated to result beneficially for the common welfare? The press and the public look on with interest, and with an expectancy that has in it considerable anxious feeling await the result.

FOOLED HIS LADY ASSISTANT.

But They Could Never Have Lost "Jack" Otherwise.

Everybody that has lived here a dozen years knows Johnnie DeCamp who was bred, brought up and educated in Plainfield. He went West a few years ago, and the following is what the St. Paul Globe finds to say of him in last Sunday's issue:

"Jack DeCamp, now sole proprietor of the Robert street commission house, formerly doing business as Jerrard & DeCamp, is so rushed with business that he sometimes gives instructions to his young lady assistant to order goods at her discretion. Last week there was a gopher hunt up North a little way, and one of Mr. DeCamp's many friends in that locality, after about three thousand of the pests had been slaughtered, determined to play a little joke. He wired as follows:

J. DeCamp, St. Paul. Choice lot of gophers on hand; how many shall we ship you.

"The telegram was read by the young lady referred to, who didn't know a gopher from a buffalo. Stepping to the door of the office, she called out to DeCamp who was talking business in the storeroom, 'Say, do we want any gophers?'

"'Guess we'll take a few,' replied the Robert street hustler, mistaking the query.

"The dispatch, penned by fair hands and sent humming over the wire in return, must have paralyzed the sender of the first, for it read:

Send six dozen prime.

"Sure enough, next morning, along came a barrel of prime fat gophers. Explanations were in order. Everbody laughed until their sides ached, and DeCamp put up 50 cents to have the contents of that barrel hauled to the dump."

—House hunters are beginning their rounds.

A Memory of Early Days.

Bane of childhood's tender years,
Swallowed oft with groans and tears,
How it made the flesh recoil,
Loathsome, greasy castor oil;
Search your early memory close,
Till you find another dose:
All the shuddering frame revolts
At the thought of Epsom salts!
Underneath the pill-box lid
Was a greater horror hid,
Climax of all inward ills,
Huge and gaping old blue pills!

What a contrast to the mild and gentle action of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant, Purgative Pellets, sugar-coated, easy to take, cleansing, recuperating, renovating the system without wrenching it with agony. Sold by druggists.

The Moore Will Contest.

Surrogate Parrot, at Elizabeth, took testimony yesterday in the William Moore contested will case. The caveator, Mr. John Moore, of this city, son of the deceased, gave his evidence. His counsel is R. V. Lindabury. The hearing continued all day and was resumed this morning.

A Covering Bee.

Students of the Stillman High school had a merry time at a "Covering Bee" in the school building, last evening, when scores of nimble fingers clothed the new song books in stout paper covers. When the work was ended festivities were held, and the frolic was continued to a reasonably late hour.

Miss Bessie H. Bodine, of Burlington, Vt., had a disease of the scalp which caused her hair to become very harsh and dry and to fall so freely she scarcely dared comb it. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave her a healthy scalp, and made the hair beautifully thick and glossy.

—In the cage the average life of the canary is 12 to 15 years.

Unnecessary Misery.

Probably as much misery comes from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. HAMBURG FIGS were prepared to obviate the difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25c Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

A MULE is a four-footed quadruped whose joints are greased with lightning and whose limbs radiate in all directions. If a mule is running loose in a ten-acre lot it is quite as safe to be behind a large barn a mile or two away. Instead of leaving footprints on the sands of time the mule usually leaves them on the tenants of eternity.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

PUSHING THE TIMES.

Parnell Will Try to Get at the Origin of the Forgeries.

GLADSTONE WILL ASSIST HIM.

A Belief that the Times Holds a Sword Over the Government.

Another Exciting Debate Looked For. An Ulster Protestant to Succeed Mr. Biggar—Balfour Suffering from Overwork—Emperor William Refuses the Pope's Request.

LONDON, March 14.—The prospect of another exciting debate in the House of Commons is assured by the announcement that Mr. Parnell intends to move the appointment of a Select Committee to inquire into the origin of the forgeries published in the Times, and that Mr. Gladstone will second the motion.

The origin of and responsibility for the publication of forgeries being the one phase of the warfare of the Times against the Parnellites (presumably because of the large number of leading Tory officials and members having a hand in the matter), that the Government is determined to keep secret at all hazards, it may be assumed that the fight over the motion will be a hot one.

It seems to be generally taken for granted that the Times holds a sword over the Government, which, if the paper were abandoned to its own defense, would fall, to the permanent injury, if not total political destruction of many Ministers, peers and commoners, whose excessive zeal led them into indiscretions they now regret.

Refused the Pope's Request.

BERLIN, March 14.—It is stated that the Pope, after deciding to send a representative to the Berlin labor conference, intimated to the Emperor his desire that the Papal delegate should preside over the conference. To this proposition the Emperor refused to assent, hence the announcement that the Vatican will not be represented.

Washed Overboard.

LONDON, March 14.—Major-General Sir Howard Cranfurd Elphinstone, Comptroller and Treasurer of the Duke of Connaught's household, was washed overboard from the steamer Tangerio, near Teneriffe, and drowned. His wife and daughter were on board the steamer.

Parnell Recommends an Ulster Protestant.

DUBLIN, March 14.—Mr. Vesey Knox, an Ulster Protestant, has been recommended by Mr. Parnell to the electors of West Cavan as a candidate for Parliament to succeed the late Mr. Joseph G. Biggar.

Want the British Consul Expelled.

LONDON, March 14.—Mr. Balfour is suffering from the effects of overwork and will go to Eastbourne for a brief rest.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Two Workmen Torn to Pieces and Two Others Fatally Injured.

NEW YORK, March 14.—An explosion of dynamite occurred at the Brooklyn Water Works, near Rockville Centre, by which two men were killed and two fatally injured.

The dynamite was being used for blowing up tree-stumps on the line of the extension of the Brooklyn Aqueduct, half a mile east of Rockville Centre.

Two laborers who were walking near were blown to pieces, parts of their bodies being thrown in all directions. Two others were fatally injured.

The shock of the explosion created consternation. Many houses were shaken and a number of window-panes broken.

The names of the two men killed were Peter Stafney and Tom Baldwin. The injured men are Charles Smith and Dallas Raymond.

Rejoicing Over the Late Czar's Death.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Russian-American League held a meeting last night in commemoration of the removal of Czar Alexander II., on May 13, 1881. Samuel Gompers was to have presided, but sent word that illness detained him. H. O. Pentecost, L. Goldenberg, Edward King, Mrs. Johanna Grial and others spoke. Resolutions were adopted declaring the event of March 13, 1881, was the natural outcome of what Alexander II. had inflicted upon the people of Russia, and that the recent outrage in the Kara prison shows that the people have no mercy to hope from Alexander III.

A Brilliant Charity Ball.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 14.—The charity ball at the Ponce de Leon last night for the benefit of Mr. Flagler's Alecia Hospital was a brilliant affair. Among the participants were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McAuliffe in the Pink of Condition.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Jack McAuliffe, who is to fight Jimmy Carroll before the California Athletic Club shortly, is said by Billy Madden, his trainer, to be in the pink of condition. McAuliffe now weighs 138 pounds, and will be backed to win to the extent of many thousands of dollars. It is understood that the betting men in the California Club are wagering big money on Carroll.

THE NAVAL COURT.

Testimony in Favor of and Against Commander McCalla

BROOKLYN, March 14.—Lawyer Joseph H. Choate put in an appearance at the court of inquiry into the charges against Commander McCalla of the Enterprise. Junior Lieut. P. J. Worley, who had been attached to the Enterprise since October 4, 1887, said that on one occasion ten men were ironed together for five or six days. An apprentice by the name of Graham was, in his opinion, punished unjustly. He was put in double arms, and the executive officer afterward told the witness to release Graham, as he had been punished by the commanding officer under a misapprehension.

Dr. C. J. Herndon, surgeon on the Enterprise, said the only case of an officer striking a man which came under his notice was that of Walker. The wound was not serious. It was on the back of the head and was about an inch and a half long and disclosed the bone. He said that Walker's wound only required dressing once. The witness said that Captain McCalla's treatment of officers and crew was very courteous.

Assistant Engineer Bennett testified that Oiler Whalen was placed in irons, and afterward compelled to shovel coal as a punishment for the breaking down of the steam launch while Whalen was running it at Gibraltar. Armorer Kennedy was cursed on deck by Commander McCalla and relieved from duty for the accidental discharge of a revolver. Several men were put in straight-jackets for days, others were lashed to the Jacob's ladder.

Chief Engineer Entwistle testified to the various punishments already in evidence, but revealed no new facts. He denied that he had ever officially written about or reported any of the events of the cruise.

Ensign Kline testified to the punishment of men, and said the commander seldom or never investigated complaints. Witness admitted having written a friend during the cruise that he thought the ship was the most unhappy one in the service.

THE SAWTELLE TRAGEDY

The Coroner's Counsel Defeated in Trying to Secure an Adjournment.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 14.—A large crowd was again present at the Sawtelle murder hearing, but the proceedings were quiet and orderly.

The testimony taken was mainly in identification of Isaac and Hiram as the occupants of the buggy seen near Nutter's woods on the fatal day, and a repetition of the heretofore published stories relating to pistol shots, the blood-stained buggy and other matters circumstantially connecting Isaac Sawtelle with the tragedy, after which the State rested its case.

Counsel Edgerly, for the prisoner, moved a continuance until the 24th, as he was not ready to proceed. After a tilt between counsel the court ordered the defense to proceed.

Changes by the Board of Regents.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 14.—A meeting of the Board of Regents was held in the rooms in the capitol, Chancellor George W. Curtis, presiding. The Board agreed to change the name of Madison University to Colgate University in honor of a good friend to that institution. The Board also decided to change the name of the Albany Normal School to the New York State Teachers' College. The grade of the studies and the standard will be raised thirty to make it equal to any college in the country.

Cured by the King's Private Physician.

NEW YORK, March 14.—A cable dispatch from Dresden says that Miss Edison, daughter of Thos. A. Edison, has been discharged, cured of epilepsy, from the city hospital. A large fee in money was offered Professor Fiedler, the King's private physician, under whose care she was restored to health, but refused. He would only accept a silver table and a set of silver candelabra.

Refuse to Arbitrate.

BOSTON, March 14.—A circular has just been issued by the Freestone Contractors' Association informing the cutters that unless they accept the proposal for arbitration by March 17th the contractors will ignore the cutters' union and employ new workmen. The cutters, after receiving the notice, voted to adhere to their present position.

Baby Stewart Getting Better.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 14.—Mr. Conger, who has cared for Baby Stewart has received assurances that in all probability he will be allowed to adopt her, which he very earnestly desires to do. The orphan has been seriously ill for several days but is now much improved. The doctor says that she cannot be moved for three weeks.

Failure of a Dry Goods House.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The failure of Harbison & Loder, wholesale dealers in dry goods was a surprise to the trade. The members of the firm, Edward Harbison and Noah Loder, made a general assignment to Frederick J. Lancaster. The liabilities are between $300,000 and $400,000. The nominal assets exceed the latter amount.

Mrs. Tony Hart Dead.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Mrs. Tony Hart (Gertie Cranville) died last night at the Roosevelt Hospital. She had been ill since February. Mrs. Hart was an actress of considerable merit. She supported N. B. Curtiss in "Samuel of Posen" and was subsequently in Harrigan & Hart's company. She married Mr. Hart several years ago.

LAND UNDER WATER

Reports from All Along the Raging Mississippi.

WATER OVER TOPS OF LEVEES.

Great Damage Done in Several Places and Lives in Danger.

Men Working Hard but Almost Hopelessly—Women and Children Sent to Vicksburg from Mayersville — Alarm Along the Line of the Louisiana Levees. The Situation at New Orleans Improved.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—The levee at the Bourgeois Plantation, fifty three miles above the city, on the New Orleans side of the river, broke at 11 o'clock last night and in less than two hours the break was twenty-five feet wide.

The crevasse was caused by a break in a rice flume, the levee being four feet above high water. It was feared at first it could not be closed, but the Mississippi Valley Railway Company, a portion of whose track was washed away, feel certain that it can be closed by to-night.

The water if not checked would overflow several large sugar plantations and pass off into the Lakes Maunepas, Pontichartain and Borgne and thence to the sea in the rear of New Orleans. The break, if not closed, would lower the water at this point.

The situation here is slightly improved, although the water is still running over the levee from between Conti street and the French market.

The draining machines are run night and day, and, assisted by a strong northwest wind, are keeping Canal street free from water.

To-day the river is again rising and stands at 16 feet 8 inches above low-water mark.

The city authorities are vigilant, and gangs of workmen are raising the levee along the entire front.

The Signal Service predictions of still higher water during the coming 10 days cause a gloomy feeling.

There is alarm along the line of the Louisiana levees which guard almost the entire Teche sugar district. Help has been sent them.

The Louisianna Lottery Company gave $50,000 to assist in protecting the city from overflow.

People Panic-Stricken.

MAYERSVILLE, Miss., March 15.—The protection levee here gave way and the river came against the new levee, which is considered unsafe.

A panic seized the population, and many women and children were sent to Vicksburg by steamer.

Over 200 miles of levees are endangered and a general overflow is considered inevitable by the majority of experienced persons.

The latest reports from the upper levees indicate that a general overflow in Louisiana and the lower Yazoo Delta may be expected.

Extreme Danger in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 15.—The situation at Newport, Ark., at the confluence of the White and Black Rivers, is one of extreme danger. The water is within a few inches of the top of the levees that surround the town, and is rising at the rate of three inches an hour. The inhabitants are greatly excited. Should the levees break, the destruction to life and property will be terrible.

At Batesville all that part of the town through which the Iron Mountain runs is a foot under water, and the trains are abandoned.

Reports from the Black River Valley show that the lowlands are now under water at places so deep that tree-tops are alone visible.

Jacksonsport is under water from two to four feet.

Every house in Powhatan, the county seat of Lawrence County, is under water except the postoffice, which stands upon a hillside. Enormous damage has been done.

Terrible Suspense.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 15.—The flood situation grows more critical every hour. The torrent that is now sweeping toward the Gulf is fed by a hundred swollen streams on either side, and the suspense endured by the thousands of people living in the lowland is past conception. The prediction made several days ago that the present would more than equal any of the previous floods bids fair to be verified; the height of the river from Cairo to New Orleans is unprecedented, and its width in many places is 50 miles. It will require more than ordinary work to hold the levees.

The River Still Rising.

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 15.—Reports from all points in the levee district above and below, indicate that all is still safe this side of the river. The levees above will stand from three to five feet, and below two to five feet more water than is now to contend with. Rain has fallen for 54 hours, and the total fall exceeds five inches. The river here rose one and one-half inches in the past twenty-four hours and is still rising with the gauge indicating forty-three feet.

People Camped on the Hills.

BIRDSPOINT, Md., March 15.—This place is entirely submerged, and all of the people are camped on the surrounding hills. Over 100,000 acres of farming lands are under water, and the floods are increasing.

Billy Murphy Whips Tommy Warren.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—In the fight last night between Tommy Warren and Billy Murphy, of San Francisco, the latter won in the fourth round.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Railroad Workmen Killed While Removing a Large Rock from the Track.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 15.—A dispatch from Cumberland, Md., says: Between 7 and 8 a. m. a huge rock rolled down the mountain side and fell upon the West Virginia Railroad track in a "cut" between Chaffee and Blaine.

The work train with a crew of 12 men was dispatched to the spot to remove the obstruction and clear the track. A large cable was placed around the rock and attached to the engine that it might be dragged from the cut. All was nearly ready and the men were making a final adjustment of the rope when a great mass of earth came rushing down upon them from the steep mountain side and buried seven of the men from sight.

Their horrified companions rushed to their rescue and as speedily as possible exhumed the ill-fated ones. Two were dead when taken out, one has died since and three were seriously or fatally injured.

The dead are as follows: James O. Lambert, of Chaffee, Va., leaves a wife and family; Macheni J. Josephini, an unmarried Italian; Vernato Valleo, Italian, leaves a widow and family in Italy.

The injured were: Van Reed, of Chaffee, married, cannot recover; Marrianea Albinni, Italian, arm broken and ankle sprained; Jockoloni Cabanni and Josephini Francegole, Italians, were severely injured about the head. The injured Italians were brought to this city and are now under the care of the company's physicians.

SAILORS IN IRONS.

Important Testimony Given in the Mc. Calla Naval Inquiry.

BROOKLYN, March 15.—The Court of Inquiry into the cruise of the Enterprise examined a number of new witnesses. First Sergeant of Marines Michal Gallagher testified that when laying at Cronstadt, Russia, a number of drunken men were brought aboard ironed together because the sentry could not be responsible for so many men if separately ironed. They were kept ironed together at night, but separated during the day. The witness corroborated previous testimony concerning the gagging of Walker with a bayonet.

He said that most of the trouble aboard the Enterprise was caused by a "tough gang," of which Walker was the toughest. Bowen and Denmore were also bad cases.

Englishmen Buying Paper Mills.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., March 15.—Wm. Bertram, of Bertram's St. Katherine's Works, Limited, at Edinburg, Scotland, also a member of the Institute of Mechanical Engineering, and a practical paper maker, and Charles March and K. Young, expert accountants, are examining the books and plant of the Glens Falls Paper Mill Company for an English syndicate. They will also examine the plants at Palmer's Falls, Watertown and Rochester. The intention is to purchase a two-thirds interest in each of the above mills. The price to be paid for a two-thirds interest in the Glens Falls mill is $1,000,000.

Pool Selling on Races.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The General Term of the Supreme Court decided that pool selling on the races was legalized by act of Legislature in 1887. The decision was in a case where a man sued a racing association to recover winnings on a pool ticket. The defence moved to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the transaction was gambling. The lower court granted the motion, but the General Term reverses this ruling and orders a new trial.

The Lease Ratified.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 15.—At a meeting of stockholders of the Hartford & Connecticut Western Railroad Company the proposed lease of the road to the Central, New England & Western Railroad Company was ratified after the opponents of the scheme had filibustered five hours in the vain effort to defeat it. There were 19,409 votes, of which 15,503 were for and 3,906 against the lease. President Batterson, of the Travelers' Insurance Company, led the minority.

Journalists to Visit Virginia.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 15.—Mr. Frank A. Heywood, of Springfield, Mass., who is arranging for the visit of the New England Press Association to Virginia, in May, has sailed for Boston in the steamship Chatham. Mr. Heywood had very satisfactory interviews with Mr. Whitney, of the Merchants and Miners' Steamship Company, and General Passenger Agent Call, of the Baltimore and Ohio. This visit is expected to be of great advantage to the country North and South.

Six Prisoners Escape.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., March 15.—At 11:30 o'clock last night, six prisoners escaped from the Schenectady County jail in this city by sawing off the bars of their cells. Four of the men, John Griffin, James Podvin, John Casey and Patrick Mitchell, are under indictment for burglary and murder committed at Scotia, in this county, last fall. The telegraph and telephone are being freely used with a view to their recapture.

May Indict New York's Mayor.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A rumor is current that the present investigation of Ludlow Street Jail affairs by the Grand Jury is reaching out in an extraordinary fashion and that the outcome of the whole affair will be the indictment of Mayor Grant for the alleged collection of illegal fees while he was sheriff.

Citizen Train in Tacoma.

TACOMA, Wash., March 15.—George Francis Train has arrived here. He starts on a trip around the world Monday, taking the steamship Abyssia at Victoria.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Capitalists Ready to Establish a Postal Telegraph.

$7,000,000 WILL EQUIP A SYSTEM.

They Ask for the Right to Build Lines on Post Roads.

Senator Stanford's Scheme to Lend Money to Needy Persons—Chicago's New World's Fair Bill—Eulogies To-Day on the Late Judge Kelley—Kincaid to be Indicted for the Taulbee Murder.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Mr. J. M. Seymour, a member of the New York Stock Exchange and representing a number of well known capitalists, appeared before the House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads and said they were prepared to establish a postal telegraph at the terms and rates proposed in the bill prepared by the Postmaster-General, or a uniform rate of 25 cents per message.

These capitalists, he said, were the owners of a system of telegraphy by which with but few wires many circuits could be worked. They would ask the Government for the right to build and maintain lines of post roads to be exempt from federal and State taxation. It would require about $7,000,000 to equip a postal system under the terms of the Wanamaker bill. Mr. Seymour refused to give the names of the gentlemen he represented, but said they were capitalists of high standing and their offer was made in good faith.

STANFORD'S SCHEME.

The Senator at Work on His Plan to Loan Money to Needy Persons.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The resolution of Senator Stanford directing the Finance Committee of the Senate to inquire into the feasibility of the Government loaning money to needy persons on mortgage, which has been so sharply criticised, has been modified by him to some extent, but he has by no means abandoned the idea.

The Senator, who is a great fighter, has put a number of financial experts and constitutional lawyers at work in the preparation of an opinion as to the constitutionality and feasibility of enlarging his scheme so as to include the insurance of bonds upon the mortgages accepted by the Government, for the purpose of enabling men of small means to deposit their savings in the federal treasury. In other words, the Senator proposes a national savings-bank system. Then if the mortgages paid the Government two per cent. the holders of the bonds would receive one and a half per cent.

Chicago's New World's Fair Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The absence of members of the World's Fair Committee again prevented positive action. To the members that were present the Chicago people submitted a draft of the sort of a bill they would like to have adopted. What has already been said on their proposition to have the Fair postponed is said to have scared them, and their new bill provides for holding the Fair in 1892. They leave the question of postponement entirely to the committee and the House, and claim to be ready to go ahead with the project on the original date.

In Memory of Judge Kelley.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The eulogies upon the late Judge Kelley are being delivered in the House this afternoon. The following gentlemen are the list of speakers: O'Neill, Pennsylvania; Hallman, Indiana; Ex-Speaker Carlisle, Gen. Banks, Major McKinley, of Ohio; Mills, of Texas; Gen. Bingham, Professor Wilson, of West Virginia; Mr. Cannon, Mr. Mitchler, of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky.

Favorable Report on the Conger Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Sub-Committee of the House Committee on Agriculture have authorized a favorable report on the bill introduced into the House by Mr. Conger "defining lard and imposing a tax upon and regulating the manufacture, sale and importation and exportation thereof." The bill will receive the action of the full Committee at an early day.

Two Men Burned to Death.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 15.—Fire broke out in a large house, uses as a dormitory by Brown Brothers, contractors, at No. 6 Bridge, five miles east of here. There were over 50 men in the second story of the building when the alarm was given, and as the building was enveloped in flames a panic ensued. Two men named Morrissy and Kelly were enable to escape, and their charred remains were afterwards found in the ruins. A number of men were drunk during the night, and it is supposed one of them set the building on fire.

Run on a Bank.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 15.—There was a run on the Bank of the Real Estate Loan and Trust Company of Allegheny. It was caused by the failure of the Baeder Glue Company, in which the bank was interested. All day long depositors filed up to the window.

Died from His Injuries.

BOSTON, March 15.—Edward Johnson, a coachman, who was assaulted in a house on Kirkland street March 3, while trying to stop a quarrel between two women, died last night of his injuries. His assailants, Anna Jackson and James Brickley (both colored), are under arrest.

Mr. William H Drayton, who spent the last four years in business West, has returned to Plainfield and will enter into partnership with his brother-in-law, Mr. Depew, as insurance brokers.

—The local branch of the Independent Order of Odd Ladies is reported as in a flourishing condition. At the last meeting several new degrees were worked and a number of new members admitted.

—A telegraph despatch in a recent number of The Press stated that "Bishop Bowman, of the M. E. church, had been expelled." On the contrary, he was a Bishop of the Evangelical church, sometimes called the "Albright" church.

—Next Monday evening the Crescent team will bowl the Elizabeths on the latter's alleys, and on Tuesday evening the Fanwoods will bowl the Crescents in this city. The Olympics do no not bowl again in the Central Tournament until the 31st inst., when they go to Fanwood.

—Mr. Orie White of the Olympia bowling team, has surpassed his former record of 258, which has long been the highest in the city. Last evening in practice with others, he scored 261, making nine strikes, a spare in his fourth frame and a spare to wind up the strike in the tenth frame.

Will There Be a Woman Candidate Over the Brook, For School Trustee?

Next Tuesday evening in the school house on Somerset street, will be held a meeting of the voters of school district, No. 38, which includes North Plainfield, for the purpose of electing one trustee, receiving the annual reports, and ordering a district tax to pay the school expenses and the salaries of the teachers for the coming year. The amount thought to be necessary is $4,000.

There now being within the district over 500 children of school age, it is entitled to five instead of three trustees. The question of increasing the number will be submitted to the meeting, and if it shall be decided so to do, then an election will be held for the two additional trustees. The present board consists of H. K Carroll, James McGee and George F. Brown.

Doubted the Nativity of the Model.

"Impasto," a Plainfield correspondent of The Suburban, a New Jersey society paper, closes as follows his review of the recent loan exhibition at the Job Male Art Gallery: "From the studio of George Wharton Edwards comes 'A Holland Fisher-Woman,' a full-length study. A basket of fish is balanced on the head; the bosom is half bared; and beneath the skirt, which reaches quite to the ankles, a pair of Dutch canal-boat shoes thrust themselves obtrusively into view. The background is the bay; with a fleet of fishing-smacks, and a sandy shore with here and there an anchor buried in the sand. I drank my fill of the pleasure which this picture gives to every one who sees it, but when I turned away, and the spell was broken, I doubted whether Mr. Edwards found among the Holland fisher-women the beauty whom he has painted."

Not Much!

A Somerville paper says: "The Somerset Bowling Club of this place on Monday night defeated the strongest club in the League, the Elizabeth, by a score of 674 to 670. Somerville is not making a strong showing in the League, but there is consolation in the fact that the Crescents of Plainfield are 'wid us.'"

A FALSE ALARM AT MIDNIGHT.

Make an Example of the Man Who Dragged the Firemen From Their Beds.

At half-past twelve o'clock of last night, somebody in either the engine or truck house on West Second street, rang up the central office and said that John W. Murray's house, at Eighth street and Central avenue, was on fire. Chief Doane was telephoned to and a general alarm was rung.

The entire department turned out with great promptness. The Chief had no sooner reached the house reported, and examined it and the stable from the outside, when his men and apparatus were there too. But there were no signs of fire anywhere. Mr. Murray was awakened, but he could not even find a breath of smoke.

Effort should be made to discover who telephoned the false alarm, and an example made of the guilty one. It was fun for him, possibly, but not for the faithful firemen who were called out of their beds.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. C. J. Noel, of West Third street, is still quite ill but hopes ere long to be able to resume his attention to business.

Mme. Bernard, the North Plainfield astrologist, who died Sunday night, is reported to have left all her property to Mrs. Hess, who lived in the rear of her lot on Harmony street.

It is expected that the remains of the late Mrs. Burlingham, who died in Los Angeles, California, on the 6th inst., will reach this city to-morrow afternoon. Funeral services will be held in the First Baptist church, on a day to be announced in The Press, as soon as it can be definitely fixed.

An out-of-town paper refers to Julian Scott's portrait of Mayor Male, recently presented to the Art Gallery, in these words: "The coloring is subdued in tone, and there is a dignified strength and beauty in the painting, which is probably the best of Mr. Scott's portraits. It is the portrait of a friend by a friend, and full justice is done to the subject."

The Y. M. C. A., State Convention was called to order at Morristown, yesterday, by Vice President W. D. Murray, of this city, who returned to the citizens of that place the thanks of the delegates for so kindly receiving them, and he hoped the Convention would leave its mark of good upon them. The delegates were urged to get all the good they could, and to carry it home to their local associations.

A Methodist sociable was held in Vincent chapel last evening. There was a good attendance, though the evening was stormy. Mrs. P. Minturn Smith presided. The programme was very pleasing. Miss Edna Parks rendered several piano selections, and the Misses VanVliet and Morrison gave recitations. Solos were sung by Messrs W. B. Martin and Samuel Mitchell. Abundant refreshments were provided.

Peter Randolph of Westfield, died in Ogden, Utah, last Saturday, as reported exclusively in The Press. Mr. Randolph had for many years acted in the capacity of traveling salesman for a firm in New York. On his last trip he was delayed in an exposed locality by a washout, and contracted a cold that developed in pleuro-pneumonia. The body of the deceased arrived at Westfield yesterday noon, and the funeral services will take place next Monday at his late home on South avenue. His mother is a resident of New Market, and he will be buried in that vicinity.

The Bank Brings Suit.

The First National bank of Plainfield has instituted a suit against Aaron Allen, Elias Allen and William E. Jones, executors of the Spencer estate, and others for amounts ranging from $1,500 to $6,000. These amounts the bank is seeking to recover on notes which bear the forged indorsements of the victim of John L. Spencer's rascality. Spencer disappeared from Plainfield about a week ago and it is alleged that he manipulated forged notes to the extent of $25,000.—Press-Register.

Good Music Devotionally Rendered.

The evening praise services in Dr. Ketcham's church, are creating a great deal of interest not only among the congregation but in the way of attracting visitors. It is proposed to hold them once a month, and they are intended as an effort to have both congregational and choir singing which is intelligent and yet worshipful—good music devotionally rendered. One of these special services of song will be held to-morrow evening.

Tried to Wreck a Grocery.

Alex. Wilson came from Newark yesterday and found himself unable to stand the influence of Plainfield rum. On Fourth street he tried to wreck a grocery store, and was in the midst of his depredations when arrested.

The evidence showed that he had set the grocer's wooden water-pails floating about in the mud and that he had demolished various stores exhibited on the sidewalk. Judge Codington sent him to jail for 30 days.

Everywhere They Seek a Good Word From THE PRESS.

"Benjamin Flartey, dealer in confectionery, soft drinks, toys and tobacco," writes from Port Oram, N. J., that he is in the contest for a prize as the most popular news dealer and wishes The Press would say a good word for him.

Loss of life.—Thousands sink into an early grave for want of a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

A BITTER FIGHT PROMISED.

Mr. Hering Says he Will Spend a Fortune in Self-Defense.

Engineer Rudolph Hering threatens to make it an expensive operation for the city if he is thrown overboard in the water works question. He visited Plainfield Thursday and had an interview with several of the Councilmen, to whom he submitted proofs that since the signing of the contract less than two months ago he made nearly twenty visits to the scene of operations. This, he claims, was amply sufficient to cover all necessary personal supervision of the construction of the works, since he had a resident engineer constantly in charge during his absence.

Mr. Hering says that he will contest to the bitter end the opposition against him. His reputation, which he claims to prize more highly than anything else at stake, he will zealously guard, and in protecting it he will spend the entire fortune at his disposal. He cares but little, he is reported as saying, because of any loss of income within the power of Plainfield to threaten, but when his ability as an engineer is assailed, when his professional capacity is attacked, he will spend his last dollar in self-defense and will not permit himself to be beaten till his resources are entirely exhausted. He thinks that the courts will sustain him in seeking to prevent, for the reasons thus far advanced, the annulling of his contract with the city.

Mr. Hering will be in attendance at the meeting of Council and citizens next Monday evening, and may take an active part in the proceedings.

NEW BROOKLYN'S SENSATION.

Both Daughter and Mother to be Taken to the New Brunswick Jail.

The two women who probably know more than anybody else of the death of the infant found in Mary Hoffman's attic at New Brooklyn, Thursday, will probably spend to-night and future days in the Middlesex county jail at New Brunswick, until the Grand Jury has taken action in the matter of alleged infanticide and subsequent proceedings have been concluded.

Mary Hoffman, the acknowledged mother of the dead child, is the daughter of the late Wm. Hoffman, whose widow is highly respected among the villagers. Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Hoffman for the misfortune of her daughter's career, but the relentless detectives have sworn to statements tending to implicate both women in possessing guilty knowledge of the death of the babe.

The existing warrants, however, are not for infanticide, for no direct convincing evidence has yet been procurred that the suffocation of the infant was by design and not accident. Prosecutor Rice directed that since the charge of infanticide might not be sustained the arresting charge be simply for concealing the birth and death of an illegitimate child, which by the Crimes Act is punishable by fine and imprisonment. The women are to be taken to New Brunswick this afternoon. It is not expected that bail will readily be procured.

Another Pledge Signer Gained.

Captain George D. Morrison preached a sermon at Hope chapel, last evening, in which he congratulated himself that he was not a politician, and expressed his condemnation of the license Councilmen of Plainfield. Owing to the weather and the roads, the attendance was small.

The speaker had three subjects—the sea, the sailor and the Saviour. He related how he had been led to go to sea by the reading of a novel; how he had sailed round Cape Horn when only a lad of 17; and how through it all his faith in the Lord had been his comfort and his companion. The curse of strong drink he had seen in its most terrible aspects, and his warnings against it were most effective.

The meeting was closed, and the pledge offered and signed by a young lad in the audience.

A Verdict for Mr. Smith.

A suit to recover $145 was tried before Justice Nodyne and a Plainfield Jury of twelve men Thursday afternoon. The principal of the amount involved was $105, and the balance was $40 interest. The plaintiff was J. Smith of White House, who sued Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Pickle of Two Bridges, near Westfield, for the rental of a farm in 1883. An offset for more than the entire amount was presented by the defendants, but the Court ruled it out. The jury was out half an hour and returned a verdict of $105 for Mr. Smith.

A Young Woman Who Has Four Grandchildren.

Mrs. Gray of Spooner avenue, not yet thirty-five years old, and looking as young as a woman of ten years less, is the mother of eleven children, nine of whom are living. Two of her daughters are married and she is the grandmother of their four children.

Mrs Gray's mother, who is also living with her, is a young woman of 56, but a great grandmother. Mrs. Gray was married just as she entered her teens. She is a Scotchwoman by birth.

Education.

"You must educate the masses."
"Yes," the real reformer adds,
"You must teach them at Collier's
They will find the latest fads."

I have found out a gift for my fair. It is not a ring of gold, nor flowers for her hair, nor pearls for her white neck, but Salvation Oil for her sore throat. She's a singing bird.

For example, we sell a cake of clear, perfumed soap for 10 cts., twelve for $1.00 (about 8c. each). Every cake warranted to wear "to nothing" without crumbling.

For those who prefer an opaque soap we have a PALM SOAP superior to any we have ever before handled.

HONORS WERE EASY.

The Olympics and the Fanwoods Each Get a Defeat and a Victory in the Central Tournament.

The dignified five of Fanwood, including south-paw Fancher, came up to the Olympia alleys, last evening, and bowled Collier & Wilbur with their trio of colts. The first game was very closely contested and was only lost to the Fanwoods by an unfortunate foul of Force's in his seventh frame, and the failure of Moore to make a spare on his wind-up. The Olympics were headed until the eighth frame, and were one behind on the ninth, but they all pulled out, Wilbur made the top score, Collier wound up with a strike, Wyckoff and VanAlstyne with spares and the Plainfielders won by 11 pins.

In the second game the Fanwoods again took the lead, but did not lose it as before. They were never headed although White put up 175, and won by 25 pins. C. Teel of the Crescents, was umpire. The scores were:

THE DISPOSAL OF COMMUNION LEAVINGS.

Bishop Paret Insists That the Wine Shall be All Drank, and the Bread All Eaten.

Bishop Paret of Baltimore, has issued the following circular letter to the clergy of the Diocese of Maryland: Reverend and Dear Brethren—It was made my sacred duty to send to one of the reverend clergy of this Diocese a letter, of which the following is a copy.

Reverend and Dear Brother: After reflection, I think it my duty to repeat thus, in writing, the request I made of you officially, by word of mouth, at our interview yesterday. I assure you that it is in entire kindness to yourself I do so. I learned from your own statement that you had reserved and kept in a receptacle or enclosure above the altar, what remained of the consecrated elements after the Holy Communion. The law of the church is clear and very strong in commanding that if any so remain: First, it shall not be carried out of the church; and, second, that it shall be immediately after the benediction, reverently consumed by the minister and other communicants. Whatever your opinions may be as to the wisdom of such a law, or the desirableness of having it changed, until it is changed it is the church's law. It is part of "the discipline of this church," to which both you and I promised obedience when we were ordained, and it is a special duty bound upon me so see that it is observed. I do, therefore, with all affection, remind you of the law; and in fulfilment of my duty, and by authority of my office, require of you conformity to the church's clear command in this matter. I understood you distinctly yesterday to accept my judgment and admonition, and to say that you would conform to it; and I so understand now.

I now make known to all the clergy of the diocese my Godly admonition and Judgment as above set forth, and in earnestness of affectionate desire for them and for all blessings upon them and their work, I ask of them in fulfillment of their promise at ordination a glad and willing conformity to it.

WM. PARET,
Bishop of Maryland.

Professional Courtesy Gets Hackmen in Trouble.

Five hackmen appeared before City Judge Codington, this morning, charged with refusing to convey a passenger from the North avenue station to his home. The City Ordinance makes such refusal punishable by a fine of two dollars for the first offense, and five dollars for the second.

John Murray pleaded guilty. James Farley said that he was not one of the refusing number, and Policeman Grant made no charge against him. Patrick Lynch, George Belcher and Wm. Callahan pleaded not guilty and will have a hearing Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The accused say that the man was the regular customer of another hackman, who at the time was absent, and that professional courtesy forbade them trespassing on the trade of fellow-jehus.

A Memory of Early Days.

Bane of childhood's tender years,
Swallowed oft with groans and tears,
How it made the flesh recoil,
Loathsome, greasy castor oil;
Search your early memory close,
Till you find another dose:
All the shuddering frame revolts
At the thought of Epsom salts!
Underneath the pill-box lid
Was a greater horror hid,
Climax of all inward ills,
Huge and griping old blue pills!

What a contrast to the mild and gentle action of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant, Purgative Pellets, sugar-coated, easy to take, cleansing, recuperating, renovating the system without wrenching it with agony. Sold by druggists.

RAN OUR EARLY STAGES.

Lafayette and Other Great Men Among His Passengers—$25,000 Lost by the Enterprise.

A man who owned one of the first transportation routes through this section of the East has been visiting recently in Plainfield. His name is Col. D. Sanderson and his home is now at White House, N. J., but sixty years ago, when he was a young man of twenty-eight, his face was one of the most familiar in the Plainfield settlement. At that time he was the proprietor of a main stage line running from New York to Philadelphia, together with several smaller branches in New Jersey. The most important stage he drove himself, and he became quite famous locally for cutting down the time in transit across the State to a trifle less than two days. The number of his stage routes was seven, but in spite of this magic number, and in spite of the fact that the early Western stage routes made fortunes for their possessors, he in the East was unable eventually to avoide heavy losses, and when his stages stopped running under his name he found himself $25,000 out of pocket.

Those were days when even great men had to travel by methods which compared with today's swiftness seem slow. Col. Sanderson took pride in the personal superintendance of the trips of Lafayette, Jackson, VanBuren, Richard M. Johnson, Polk, Taylor and other of the country's famous men, to and fro between the two great cities.

In the election of President Taylor, Col. Sanderson took an active part. In 1824 he voted for Jackson, who was defeated, but in 1828 and 1832 he voted again and had the satisfaction of seeing his candidate elected.

Besides his stage routes, Col. Sanderson had charge of other enterprises. He was considerable of a hotel man, and was twenty-five years owner of the then celebrated Union House, at Elizabeth. In 1826 he was married to Esther O. Noe, who died childless thirty years ago. His present housekeeper is Miss Hattie Loree, a near relative of the wife of the late Dr. Titsworth.

When New Jersey was crossed only by stages the single trip fare was at first $7. Col. Sanderson reduced this to $5. He carried mail under governmental contract together with express matter and baggage.

ROUGH ON THE WINTER TRACKS.

Who Has Been Running Hickory Jim in the Two-year-old Class!

The bill to kill the Winter race tracks in New Jersey, by permitting racing for only thirty days in the year on any course, came up for final passage in the House Wednesday afternoon, and created a spirited debate. Kalisch, the introducer of the measure, made a long and effective speech for it, denying that the act would in any way legalize gambling.

Assemblyman Fred Voorhees of this county said the devil himself would be puzzled to give a good reason for the existence of the Winter tracks. The frequenters of these courses were of the lowest types of humanity, he held, but the law prohibiting gambling upon them could not be enforced owing to the grip that the associations had upon the officials of the counties in which they are located. The tracks that were maintained in Winter, he added, were run solely for the purpose of gambling. The sentiment of the State is against this kind of sport. At some of these tracks 18-year-old horses were run as two-year-olds, a form of cruelty that should be abolished without delay. Potts of Hudson and Nash of Camden opposed the bill, but it passed by a vote of 34 to 10.

THE FRENCH CRISIS

Downfall of Premier Tirard's Entire Cabinet.

A TRIFLING MOTION THE CAUSE.

President Carnot Will Ask M. Floquet to Form a New Ministry.

Introducing Rich Americans Into London Society—The Berlin Labor Conference—Gladstonians Carry the Election. King Humbert's Munificent Donation. Labor Troubles in England.

PARIS, March 15.—The adverse action of the Senate on Prime Minister Tirard's treaty with Turkey has caused the downfall of the Cabinet. The entire Ministry proceeded to the residence of President Carnot and presented its resignation.

M. de Freycinet, Minister of War in M. Tirard's Cabinet will probably form a new Ministry. It is rumored that M. Constans, who recently resigned from the Ministry of the Interior, and M. Ribot will hold portfolios in the new Ministry. It is also understood that Admiral Barbey, Minister of Marine; M. Faye, Minister of Agriculture, and M. Fallieres, Minister of Public Instruction, will remain in the Cabinet.

President Carnot held a consultation with M. Floquet. It is believed in some quarters that M. Floquet will be asked to form a Cabinet.

LADY MANDEVILLE'S PLAN.

The So-Called Countess to Introduce Americans Into Society.

LONDON, March 15.—The sensation caused by the publication of an offer of a lady of title to introduce Americans into the highest London society has been revived by the discovery of the identity of the so-called "countess." She turns out to be no less a personage than the well known lady Mandeville, formerly Miss Florence Yznaga, and sister to Fernando Yznaga, who recently married Miss Mabel Wright.

Lady Mandeville's plans were for Americans to provide themselves with letters of introduction from her ladyship's agents in the United States, to present them in London and then be introduced to her ladyship's bankers, modistes and circle of acquaintances. The Mandeville balance at the banks would be increased by gifts from the visitors and her bills at the milliners regularly paid by her proteges.

Programme for the Labor Conference.

BERLIN, March 15.—The proceedings of the International Labor Conference will be opened by the Prussian Minister of Commerce, Baron Von Berlepsch, who will welcome the delegates on behalf of the Emperor, and explain the details of the meeting. The alphabetical rule will maintain in the matter of the placing of the delegates, who will occupy seats marked with the initial letter of the country which they represent. The conference will convene in the main hall of Prince Bismarck's palace. It was there that the Congress of 1878 conducted its deliberations.

A Gladstonian Elected.

LONDON, March 15.—An election was held at Stoke-upon-Trent to fill the Parliamentary seat made vacant by the resignation of W. Leatham Bright. The poll resulted in the return of Mr Gower, the Gladstonian candidate, who received 4,157 votes, against 2,196 cast for Mr. Allen, the Unionist nominee. In the election of 1885 Mr. Bright, who stood as a Home Ruler, received 3,255 votes, and Mr. Corser, Conservative, 2,093.

The Parnell Report.

LONDON, March 15.—Lord Salisbury, in the House of Lords, gave notice of a motion approving the report of the Parnell Commission and thanking the Judges for their just and impartial conduct.

King Humbert's Large Donation.

ROME, March 15.—King Humbert has donated the sum of $200,000 for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of the Italian patriot, Giuseppe Mazzini.

Floods in Australia.

BRISBANE, March 15.—Owing to incessant rains, the river here has overflowed its banks and innudated the town. The damage is estimated at £300,000.

20,000 Engineers to Strike.

LONDON, March 15.—Twenty thousand men employed as engineers in Northeastern England have organized a strike for shorter hours.

Minister Reid Sails for Home.

PARIS, March 15.—Minister Whitelaw Reid sailed from Havre on the steamer Champagne for New York early this morning.

FOUR MEN RUN DOWN.

Terrible Accident at the Erie Railroad Tunnel in Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 15.—A terrible accident occurred last night at the west end of the Erie Railroad tunnel. A train dashed out of the tunnel at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The engineer saw before him walking on the track, a party of four men. Before he could alarm them the engine was upon them.

One of the men was killed, another was fatally injured. The other two men escaped injury in a mysterious manner, and they quickly disappeared.

The dead man was removed to the Morgue, and the injured man to St. Francis' Hospital. Neither of them have as yet been identified. They were well dressed and middle-aged.

Chief Detective Brown of the Erie Railroad was interviewed, but refused to divulge either the name of the engineer or the names of any of the men, if he knew them. The police were also unable to learn anything.

Birchall's Record at Oxford.

MONTREAL, Que., March 15.—Rev. Arthur Lusham, of St. John's Episcopal Church, who was at Oxford with Birchall, says the prisoner was a non-churchgoer, belonged to a fast, horsey set, paid none of his debts and when drunk often flourished a revolver.

Mill Operatives on Strike.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 15.—The operatives at No. 2 and No. 3 mills of the Atlantic Company, in Olneyville, struck against alleged excessive fines for imperfect weaving. About 450 hands are out.

ASSOCIATION PLAYERS.

An Emergency Fund Created by Each Club Putting Up $2,000.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 15.—The most important action taken at the meeting of the American Association baseball delegates was the adoption of a resolution requiring each club to deposit with the president $1,000 on or before May 15 and another $1,000 on or before August 1, the money to be held by him subject to the order of the Association. A fund of $16,000 will thus be created, and the idea is to use it as an emergency fund. Any club dropping out of the Association before the season closes will forfeit the money thus paid to the president.

Committees were appointed to arrange a schedule for the umpires and to confer with the railroads and hotels in regard to rates. The contracts of the several clubs with the telegraph companies were submitted and approved.

The delegates speak glowingly about the prospects of the coming season, and have no hesitancy in saying that the Association will prove stronger and pay better than either the Players' or the National League.

IVES WILL BE RELEASED.

The Napoleon of Finance Has His Bail Reduced to a Nominal Sum.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Holders of 95 per cent. of the indebtedness of Henry S. Ives & Co. have consented to settle for five cents on the dollar. It is expected that the consent of the remaining 5 per cent will soon be secured.

Judge Andrews, in the Supreme Court, granted a motion to reduce the bail of Ives and Stayner from $250,000 to $5,000 each in the civil action brought against them by the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad Company. They will probably be released from Ludlow Street Jail soon.

A citation has been granted, requiring the creditors to appear May 1 and show cause why the settlement should not be confirmed by the court.

Mr. Cromwell, assignee of the firm, says that $8,000,000 out of the $18,000,000 indebtedness has been paid off, and in view of the intangible and complicated character of the remainder the creditors consented to the settlement on a 5 per cent. basis.

SAWTELLE HELD.

Brother Isaac Will Have to Answer to the Grand Jury.

ROCHESTER, N. H., March 15.—Isaac Sawtelle was committed without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

His counsel stated to the court that he had expected that witnesses' expenses would be paid by the State; that the prisoner had been deprived of his money so that witnesses for the defence could not be summoned; that nearly all objections raised by defendant's counsel had been overruled, while those of the other side had been allowed.

He concluded by stating that in existing circumstances he would refuse to put in any more testimony here and would go to a higher court for his rights.

An Italian's Desperate Deed.

NEW YORK, March 15.—It is believed that the dynamite explosion at Rockville Center, Long Island, was caused by Macelle Destaffno, who was thawing out the ninety-one pound cartridges before the little roadside fire. He threw them into the blaze deliberately, in order to be revenged on a number of boys who were annoying him, although he must have known that his own life would pay the forfeit of his desperate deed.

Wrecked by a Landslide.

NEWARK, Ohio, March 15.—No. 5, a fast vestibule train on the Central Ohio division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, ran into a landslide a few miles east of here. The engine was thrown into the river and the fireman killed. None of the passengers were hurt, but they all received a severe shaking up. The engineer of the train and an engineer who was riding on the engine as a passenger, were seriously injured.

A Dead Baby Found in an Attic.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 15—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Miss Mary Hoffman and her aged mother, of New Brooklyn, owing to an investigation of the young woman's babe, which died under peculiar circumstances. The body was found in an attic where it had been since its death, February 7, at which time the mother claims it died while she was asleep.

A Memorial to His Wife.

CONCORD, N. H., March 15.—The well-known flour dealer of Minneapolis, Hon. George A. Pillsbury, who was formerly a resident of this place, has just given $30,000 to the Concord Hospital Association for a new building to be named the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital, as a memorial to his wife. Work on the new building will begin at once.

Leonard Defeats Faulkner.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.—Two thousand people last night saw Hugh Leonard easily defeat James Faulkner in a wrestling match for $500 under the auspices of the Buffalo Athletic Club. The first bout was Græco-Roman style, and was won in 20 minutes and 49 seconds. The second was catch-as-catch-can and was won in 16 minutes and 38 seconds.

His Brother Caused His Arrest.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Frank A. Diffendorfer, formerly of Lancaster, Pa., was arrested in Brooklyn charged by his brother with having misappropriated $69,000 of his father's estate. Diffendorfer will be taken to Lancaster to answer the charge against him.

No Mercy for the Rioters.

BALTIMORE, March 15.—The Navassa rioters, sentenced to be hanged March 28, through their attorney, applied to President Harrison for a commutation of sentence. The President referred the case to District Attorney Hayes, who declined to recommend mercy.

Mrs. Arthur W. Hamilton, died suddenly at her home in South Boston, Mass. The police discovered evidence to suspect that she had been poisoned, and arrested the husband. He says his wife died of alcoholism. An autopsy showed that she committed suicide by taking paris green.

Cablegrams received in New York state that the strike of the sailors at the English Welsh and Scotch ports had resulted in refusing orders for carrying passengers on any special dates. The steamships that were to sail as packets are now subject only to tramp orders. No vessel will leave on a schedule time while the strike lasts, except the mail boats.

Dr. Frederick A. Frickardt, of Bethlehem, Pa., one of the oldest and best-known practising physicians in East Pennsylvania, died of heart disease, superinduced by spinal neuralgia. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania when 20 years old and practised medicine for 60 years, about 40 of which were passed in Bethlehem.

The House Committee on Rivers and Harbors heard Representatives Flower, Tracey and Quinn upon the subject of improvements in New York harbors. Mr. Flower's statement embraced the entire subject of Hudson river and New York harbor improvements. He said that many persons who opposed river and harbor bills were unaware of the general benefit to the whole country of improvements that on their face seemed to be of local importance.

BOOMERS CHECKED

Called Back by the President's Proclamation.

TROOPS HELD IN READINESS.

A Small Number of Citizens Bid Defiance to the Law.

The Criminal Class Say They Will Take Forcible Possession—The Town of Willow Springs Organized—Female Boomers Have First Choice—Prairies Burned by Boomers.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The invasion of the "Cherokee Strip" by intrepid and ill-advised "boomers" has received a check. The over anxious settlers who, blinded by an unconquerable desire to secure the choicest morsels of land ahead of the more law abiding citizens, rushed headlong into the territory on the mere announcement that it had been opened to settlement from the fact that the bill had passed the House of Representatives, have been awakened to the reality by the President's proclamation, and many of them, footsore, weary, destitute and deluded, are now retracing their steps and expressing their intention to abide by the law.

It is true that a smaller number bid defiance to the authorities, and accompanied by the inevitable barnacle of the criminal class, which are always present on such occasions, declare that they will take forcible possession; but as troops have been ordered to the scene to enforce the President's proclamation it is not probable that their threats will have any serious results.

Thrilling narratives are told of the scenes caused by the burning of the prairies—presumably by the boomers—and the consequent stampede and loss of cattle, which may be considered the most serious chapter of this untimely invasion of the much coveted strip of land.

A New Town Organized.

WILLOW SPRINGS, I. T., March 17.—Neither the President's proclamation nor the order for troops to oust the boomers has yet been received here. Consequently more boomers are arriving. Many town site boomers are here, and considerable of a town has been laid off and surveyed. A large tent has been erected where the boomers met and organized the town of Willow Springs. The streets are to be laid out to-morrow, and town lots are to be secured by lottery. Two female boomers were accorded the privilege of making first and second choice of corner lots. A large lumber yard is to be erected, and building will begin at once.

Military in Readiness.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Secretary Proctor has telegraphed General Merritt to use troops if necessary in enforcing the President's proclamation in regard to intrusion on the Cherokee Strip.

THE SEAL CONTRACT.

The Government Arranges for the Protection of the Natives.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Secretary Windom has made public the exact terms of the lease to the North American Commercial Company for a term of twenty years from May 1, 1890, of "The exclusive right to engage in the business of taking fur seals on the Islands of St. George and St. Paul in the Territory of Alaska and to send a vessel or vessels to said islands for the skins of such seals."

The company agrees to pay an annual rental of $60,000, a tax $9.62 1-2 on each skin taken and shipped, and fifty cents for each gallon of oil sold.

The company is to deposit United States bonds of $50,000 face value as security for the rental.

The company is to furnish to the natives such quantity of dried salmon, salt and salt barrels, as the Secretary of the Treasury shall determine; eighty tons of coal annually; comfortable dwellings, to be kept in proper repair; school-houses and competent teachers eight months in the year; a house for religious worship, physicians and medical supplies, and all the necessaries of life for widows and orphans and the aged and infirm.

Payments are to be made on or before April 1 each year, beginning April 1, 1891.

The company is to furnish the natives employment and to give them just compensation therefor, and to bind itself to abide by the regulations of the Treasury Department and by any limitations on the right to kill seals that the Secretary of the Treasury shall judge necessary under the law for the preservation of the seal fisheries.

The number to be killed during the first year is not to exceed sixty thousand.

The agents of the company are not to keep, sell, give or dispose of liquors to the Indians.

The Secretary of the Treasury can terminate the lease on proof that its provisions have been violated.

Importation of American Cattle.

TORONTO, Ont., March 17.—At a special meeting of the Dominion Live Stock Association held here the question of the importation of cattle from the United States into Canada for shipment to the old country via Montreal was discussed. Several of the speakers were of the opinion that the importation of American cattle would occasion the spread of dangerous and infectious diseases.

Player Hallman Wins.

PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—In the Court of Common Pleas Judge Thayer decided that the "reserve rule" cannot be enforced. He refused to grant an injunction to prevent Hallman from playing with the "Players" and sustained the Brotherhood's demurrer to the League Club's bill.

FIVE MEN DROWN.

The Crew of a Sinking Schooner Take to a Yawl, Which is Swamped.

NORFOLK, Va., March 17.—The steamer Defiance arrived here last evening from Baltimore. Captain Burgess reports that on passing York Spit Lighthouse in the morning he saw a schooner ashore and sunk on the Spit near Northwest buoy. About the same time a yawl boat was seen containing five men leaving the sunken schooner and pulling for the lighthouse.

The wind was blowing with terrific force, and, as the boat approached the lighthouse, it was thrown against the iron piles and swamped and all five men were thrown overboard. The men grasped the iron rods of the pile in a desperate struggle, but the waves dashed over them with such fury that they were soon overpowered, and fell off and were drowned.

A short time afterwards a boat had been lowered from the lighthouse and a man was seen to descend a pile and jump into the boat, which, on getting loose, immediately drifted away. The Defiance promptly ran up along side the drifting boat and threw the man a line and he was hauled on board. He proved to be James B. Hurst, the second keeper of the lighthouse.

He stated that all five of the shipwrecked men were drowned in his presence, and he was unable to render any assistance whatever, on account of the violent seas washing over everything.

It is supposed the schooner is an oyster vessel, and was trying to run into East River, but is impossible to learn her name or the names of the drowned men.

MORE BREAKS.

Residents in Louisiana Parishes Warned. Property Likely to be Destroyed.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—A private dispatch says that the break in the Raleigh levee was 400 feet wide last night. Residents of Madison and Tenara parishes are warned. The water will go directly back about 10 miles into Bear Lake and thence by two outlets into the Tensas River, in the western portion of Tensas Parish.

The famous fertile Madison Parish will be overflowed and the extensive plantations of the Messrs. Richardson, Ashley and Waddill will doubtless be inundated. The break is about thirty-five miles above Vicksburg, on the Louisiana side.

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., March 17—The river was 48 2-10 feet last night and rising rapidly. Everybody is out and working on the levees.

Birchell Cool and Confident.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., March 17.—Charles Brick, who lives near Blenheim, visited the jail and positively identified Birchell as the man whom he met near the scene of the murder of Benwell, on February 19th, the day on which the murder is supposed to have been committed. Birchell has settled down to a life of reading, eating, smoking and ruminating, as he himself announces, and he simply astounds Jailer Cameron by his wonderful composure and the lightness of his talk and chaffing.

The Clan-na-Gael Convention.

CHICAGO, March 17.—The text of what is asserted to be the full call for a National Convention of the Clan-na-Gael, issued by the executive board of that organization, was published to-day. It reviewed the events in the history of the organization for the past two years and declares that it is better without the seceders who withdrew recently at Philadelphia than with them. The call states that the places of the four members of the executive committee who withdrew have been duly filled by the majority of the board.

McGowan Traced to Baranquilla.

ORANGE, N. J., March 17.—Frank McGowan, who mysteriously disappeared in February last, has been found at Baranquilla, United States of Colombia. The news of his whereabouts was brought to this city by Frank Folger, who accompanied McGowan on the Atlas line steamer Athos, in January last, to Baranquilla. He says that McGowan was an engineer on the vessel going there, and that when he last saw him he was spending his money in wholesale fashion.

Youthful Tramps Captured.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 17.—Five young Philadelphia boys were captured in this city, on their way south on a tramp. They had cat rifles and pistols, and an aggregate of eight cents with them. Their names are Aubrey Rank, 1526 North Fifth street; William M. Conway, 1737 North Tenth street; Alberta Rosenberger, 1819 North Seventh street; Michael C. Smith, 1705 North Tenth street and George Patterson, 1535 North Ninth street. The boys range from 13 to 15 years of age.

Lived With a Broken Neck.

WHITEHALL, N. Y., March 17.—An autopsy was made upon the body of Ransom Floyd, who was shot in Westport by a burglar five weeks ago. The result was a great surprise to Drs. W. E. Hattison, T. E. Delano and F. F. Labell, who conducted the examination. It was found that the old man had been living for five weeks with a broken neck. The inquest was adjourned until Wednesday.

Judge Bookstaver's Hearing.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Assembly Committee, which has in hand the investigation of Judge Bookstaver's conspiracy, has adjourned to await the conclusion of the trial at present progressing at the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Governor Goodell Ill.

CONCORD, N. H., March 17.—Governor Goodell is ill with nervous prostration. His friends are alarmed at the seriousness of his condition. His proposed trip to Washington with his staff has been abandoned.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

A Vote in the Senate on the Blair Bill Thursday.

ITS FATE IS PROBLEMATICAL.

The Senators from the New States Counted on to Defeat It.

Mr. Blair Says It Will Pass—The Admission of Wyoming Into the Union—A Bitter Fight Expected in the House Over the Election Contests—Preparing Kinsaid's Defense.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Senate is to continue the consideration of the Blair Educational bill during the week until Thursday, when a vote is to be had under the arrangement made during the last seven days. Mr. Plumb has threatened to antagonize the bill with some other measure, but it is not likely the Senate will agree to lay it aside.

The fate of the bill is problematical. Mr. Blair claims that it will pass by a small majority. Senators Aldrich and Faulkner, who have taken a great interest in the opposition to the bill, believe that there is a good majority against it. They are assured that several Senators who have voted for the measure in past years will vote against it at this time, and they are counting in the votes of the Senators from the new States to defeat it. Mr. Hawley is booked for a speech on the bill this week and Mr. Evarts will close the general debate. It has been agreed that on Thursday at 2 o'clock Mr. Blair shall be given the floor for an hour to make a final appeal in behalf of the measure and that debate on the amendments shall be conducted under the five-minute rule.

When the final vote on the Blair bill has been taken there will be a struggle for precedence among the friends of several important measures. The sub-committee having in charge the McKinley Undervaluation bill has been working hard upon it with a view to reporting it to the Finance Committee at the regular meeting to-morrow morning so as to get it into the Senate in time to antagonize with it any other measure which may claim the right of way after the Blair bill.

Among the other measures which will be pressed are the bill for the admission of Wyoming into the Union, the Pacific Railroad Funding bill, the Sherman Anti-Trust bill and the Hale bill for the increase of the naval establishment. The Montana election case will be reported to the Senate early next week and it will have right of way if the committee feels disposed to press it but it will probably go over for a week at least. The Urgent Deficiency bill, the first of the appropriation bills to reach the calendar, is now pending and it will be taken up before the end of the week and passed without much debate.

IN THE HOUSE.

A Bitter Party Struggle Expected Over Contested Election Cases.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Direct Tax bill, the measure that caused the long deadlock in the House last year, is to be brought up for consideration by the Judiciary Committee some day this week. The contested election case of Mudd vs. Compton from the Fifth Maryland district will be called up either to-morrow or Thursday if nothing intervenes. It will be pushed to a conclusion by the Republicans, who will seat Mr. Mudd. There is promise of another bitter party struggle over this case.

On Thursday the Election Committee expects to take action on the case of Bowen vs. Buchanan of the Tenth district of Virginia, and there is a chance that it will also be brought up in the House and be disposed of before the week has passed. There is a probability that the Pension Appropriation bill will be brought up for consideration and the outlook is for a busy week.

The Chickamauga Battle Field.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Inquiries have reached the War Department from various quarters asking whether there is any appropriation available to pay the expenses of veterans visiting the battle field of Chickamauga for the purpose of aiding in identifying the lines upon which they fought. There is no fund available for that purpose. Upon the passage of the Chickamauga Park bill, which is expected early in the summer, officers will be sent to the field to confer with all veterans who will gather there to assist in establishing the lines. Until then the time and expenses of visiting the field would be entirely wasted, since no one can be there to make an official record of the information gathered or to officialy mark points which might be designated by the visiting veterans.

Kinsaid's Defense.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—It is now understood that Senator Voorhees will be the principal counsel for Mr. Kinsaid when he is put on trial for the killing of ex-Representative Taulbee. Senator Voorhees has had several long consultations with Mr. Kinsaid, and has marked out the line of defense.

Made Sick by Corned Beef.

BRADDOCK, Pa., March 17.—Fourteen persons were poisoned in this city by eating beef that had been corned in a copper vat. Those who ate of the meat were seized with violent retchings and cramps. Among the victims are Robert S. Thornburg and his daughter Tillie, aged seven; Mr. and Mrs. John Feather, the 4-year-old daughter of Elijah Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Buck and their 3-year-old child; William Buck, William Fink and four other members of the latter's family. All are now out of danger.

A WELL-KNOWN PLAINFIELDER GONE.

Mr. J. Newton Jenkins Suddenly Expires About Half-past Three O'clock Yesterday Morning.

At his home, corner of Sixth and Washington streets, about half-past three o'clock yesterday morning, occurred the death of Mr. J. Newton Jenkins, a highly respected and universally esteemed resident of this city. Mr. Jenkins was forty-nine years of age, and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss, besides a host of friends and acquaintances who will sympathize with the bereaved family in this their sad affliction.

Mr. Jenkin's death was sudden and unexpected, even to those most intimately associated with him. On Saturday night he was in town making some necessary purchases and returning home he retired for the night apparently enjoying moderately good health. His death followed about half-past three o'clock, as above stated. The cause of death is thought to have resulted directly from an accident to Mr. Jenkins, while the latter was at work at Allentown a few days ago.

As a business man, Mr. Jenkins will long be remembered by those who knew him. He was perhaps the first man in this locality who attempted to remove brick buildings, and in this as in other respects, he was eminently successful. He was at the time of his death a member of the M. E. church in this city. He was also a member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., and of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum. Members of the latter named Council are requested to attend a special meeting in their hall to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at eight o'clock, to take action with reference to the funeral.

The funeral will take place from the house on Wednesday at ten o'clock A. M. The Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell will conduct the service, and interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery.

The funeral will take place from the First Baptist church, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Yerkes will officiate, assisted by others of the city clergymen.

Mrs. Isaac Dunn, of 24 West Third street, who would have been 70 years old on the 31st inst., passed quietly away, last evening, after an illness of several years although only confined to her bed for one week. Presentation to the Rev. Mr. Dilts.

At the close of the Sunday school session in the Park Avenue Baptist church, yesterday afternoon, an interesting and impressive presentation was made to the Rev. A. R. Dilts, the pastor, by the scholars in Miss Clara Whitfield's primary department. The scholars marched into the school room, and the Rev. Mr. Dilts was called to the platform, when Miss Ella Moore, a six-year-old pupil, presented him with a handsome umbrella, on behalf of the primary department.

The Rev. Mr. Dilts was visibly affected by the proceedings. He responded in a touching manner.

A Deserved Compliment.

Councilman Hetfield of this city went to Elizabeth on Saturday and proved the will of the late Amy L. Moore, who died on March 3, leaving an estate valued at from $25,000 to $30,000. The will will now be offered for probate, and Mr. Hetfield is named as the sole executor. The entire estate, according to the provisions of the will, goes to two nephews and two neices.

Mr. Hetfield is to be congratulated upon his appointment as sole executor of the estate.

The Bi Club Enjoys a "Spread."

The handsome club house and "gym" of the Plainfield Bicycle club, was crowded on Saturday night with the members, who had assembled to partake of the "spread" supplied by the newly elected officers. The evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner. Dr. J. H. Cooley put the "boys" through a half-hour's course of instruction in calisthenics. The Messrs Hallock rendered several excellent selections on the banjo and they were warmly applauded.

A Small Fire.

Mrs. Thos. Fahy, who resides next to Gazelle Engine house on West Second street, went to bed last evening leaving a fire burning on a hearthstone. When she awoke early this morning the house was found to be filled with smoke. She immediately gave an alarm, and Mr. Emil Scheidecker, who was passing at the time rushed in and extinguished the fire which was fast burning away the beams under the hearthstone. No general alarm was sent out.

A Remarkable Showing.

By the death of the late J. Newton Jenkins, Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum of this city loses its first member by death. The Council has been in existence for over seven years, and this fact alone is considered something remarkable, when it is remembered that the Council includes over one hundred members.

In the Interest of Sewerage.

The special committee of the City Council, with Mr. W. L. Hetfield as Chairman and Messrs Spangenberg and Rushmore, will go to Trenton to-morrow in the interest of the passage of the sewerage bill, now pending before the Legislature.

WHAT A MYSTERIOUS DIVINING ROD INDICATES WE LIVE OVER.

Contractor Moore Thoroughly Assured That Plainfield has an Inexhaustible Supply of Water Below.

The following mysterious and interesting matter connected with the establishing of water works in Plainfield, was last Saturday known only to the contractors, the "Russian diviner" and THE PRESS. The facts were exclusively the property of this paper, but were stolen from its office and published this morning in a New York paper with much other information relating thereto from these columns of the past week.

A few days ago there arrived in this city a Russian who possesses and manipulates a wonderful "divining rod." This instrument consists of a bit of queer mechanism, whose construction is a secret, attached by a twisted flexible wire to the hand of the "diviner." Extending before him the arm holding the "rod," the Russian walks stolidly about and is able, he claims, to detect infallibly the presence of any underground body of water. The instrument has been thoroughly tested in Plainfield's suburbs, and its accuracy has greatly puzzled those who have witnessed its operations. The Russian is seemingly entirely ignorant of the geological peculiarities of the locality, but during his circuit of the city and wandering about, in the presence of Contractor Moore and others, over the surface of the ground, his "rod" has invariably swayed violently to and fro with the direction of the hidden current wherever underground water existed, and has remained immutably indicative of barrenness of humidity, wherever nothing but solid earth has been found. All sorts of crucial tests have been made, but in every case the instrument has evidenced a perfect knowledge of all that it has taken the engineers weeks of hard labor to learn. Not only the presence of underground water is detected by the "rod," but by the peculiarities of the pendulum movements the Russian is enabled to tell, with remarkable exactness, the depth at which the water may be found. In an instant he possesses himself intuitively of all the information—and sometimes more—already in the control of those acquainted with the facts.

The Russian's own personality has caused an impression almost as profound as his method of divination. He is a remarkable individual, with keen restless eyes. He is already quite famous among the engineering guild, and has attracted the attention of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Croton Aqueduct people. His "rod" has told correctly where lay many artificial as well as natural underground currents of which he could have no possible knowledge. In a test conducted near Rahway he went over considerable ground where no water supply existed and where his "rod" never trembled, but suddenly coming to a spot where an iron water-conduit lay buried the instrument began to swing at a tremendous rate and kept it up as long as the hidden pipe line was followed. A neighboring brewer who had long been seeking vainly for good well water on his farm land, offered $100 for the use of the "rod" for one day, and as a result the Russian discovered a hidden sparkling, healthful, aqueous wealth not far from the brewer's house, but in a locality never before tested.

The "diviner" says that the subterranean water supply under Plainfield is so bountiful that New York City could receive its entire supply from it were the number of outlets large enough and the machinery ample. In corroboration of this statement, deep soundings and other tests have been made, and the area and depth of the "lake" have been pronounced most extraordinary. The "lake," however, might probably more properly be called a river, for it has a swift current and the subterranean stream runs over a bed of beautifully clean, smooth, rounded pebbles, of which Contractor Moore keeps emptying his pockets to those eager to possess the peculiar souvenirs.

Move that Freight House!

Petitions for the removal of the local freight house are being circulated among residents on the South side of the track. Signatures are freely given, and the Central Railroad authorities will soon be presented with documents in which Plainfield's best citizens strenuously urge a change of freight house site. Those who drive with private carriages to early trains often lose a great deal of valuable time and sometimes miss their train by being compelled to wait beyond the Peace street bridge while noisy engines and heavy cars are drilled back and forth above their nervous horses' heads. These people and many others want a Fourth street approach to the passenger station.

City Court Proceedings.

Hackmen Lynch and Belcher were this morning found guilty of violating the city ordinances in refusing to convey a passenger from the North avenue railroad station. In each case sentence was suspended.

Hackman James Farley was fined $3 for applying indecent epithets to hackman Burns. His defense was that Burns talked to him the same way. The cases were tried before City Judge Codington. Corporation Counsel Marsh forcibly presented the cases for the city.

REFORM HALL AGAIN CROWDED.

A Large Audience Listens to an Interesting Address by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis.

Reform Hall contained an appreciative audience last evening to hear the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church. Dr. Lewis commenced by quoting a sentiment of Macaulay, which he pronounced one of the grandest and most truthful expressions ever uttered: "That to build high you must dig deep," and from that he proceeded to state the essential needs of thorough temperance reform. The learned speaker minutely described the anatomical structure and physical actions of the human system, the effects of wholesome and unwholesome food, the exertions of nature to rebel against wrong usage, and finally, the poisonous results caused by alcoholic drinks of all kinds and in every manner, declaring, without fear of contrary proof, that alcohol was the substance of decay, and like all decayed matter was freighted with death and devoid of nutriment. Dr. Lewis in his usual pleasing style and close cutting argument commanded the attention of his hearers from the opening to the close of his instructive discourse.

President Harper insisted upon an increased attendance at the Thursday evening meetings. He stated that efforts were being made to render them of greater interest than heretofore, by the introduction of a programme of varied exercises, which would be inaugurated the present week.

He also gave notice that a public meeting would be held in Reform Hall, next Friday evening, the 21st inst., on behalf of the establishment of a Boys' Club, a work now being successfully carried forward by several of the philanthropic citizens of Plainfield.

The President further stated that there will be a mother's meeting held every Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the parlor of Reform Hall.

BOUGHT BY THE LEHIGH VALLEY R. R.

A $13,000 Real Estate Transaction at New Market.

The Mahlon Vail farm of 141 acres at New Market has been sold to a party named Schenck—the price is said to be about $13,000. It is learned upon good authority that the purchase is made in the interest of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, whose necessities upon the completion of their new line to Jersey City will require more room for rolling stock to be used in building up a new suburban route. The balance of the property will be placed in the market as building lots.

This is the farm which was assessed at $45 per acre and which was declared a 50 per cent. valuation. The recent sale proves the correctness of the claim that the assessment was unjust to the taxpayers.

A Plainfield Ex-Councilman Petitioning Congress for the Protection of Millions of Capital.

Lawyer Rowland Cox of No. 229 Broadway, New York, who lives on West Seventh street, this city, will soon forward a petition and memorial to William C. Simmonds, Chairman of the House Committee on Patents and Trademarks at Washington, advocating a strict international Copyright law, and upholding Chairman Simmonds in his present attitude on that question. The petition and memorial will be prepared by Mr. Cox.

The petition will be signed by the Rumford Chemical Works, Providence; F. De Barry & Co, New York; Park & Tilford; Brown Chemical Company, Baltimore; Sawyer Glue Company, Boston; Enoch Morgan Company, New York; H. M. Anthony, representing Procter & Gamble, New York; The Celluloid Company; The W. S. Kimble Cigarette Company, Rochester; W. T. Blackwell & Co., Durham; A. C. Myer & Co., patent medicines, Baltimore; Stachelberg & Co., New York; Habbuck & Co., London; Rosendale Cement Company.

A Webbed-foot's Four-months' Swim.

Either the ducks owned by Edward Thompson, of Basking Ridge, are remarkably well-fed and robust and are thus able to withstand a long siege of hunger, or else Mr. Thompson's cistern-water is prolific of bugs, animalcule and other duck-sustaining things, or else the Dover Iron Era has been indulging in romance.

The Era says that Mr. Thompson lost a duck some time last November. He had no idea where the creature had gone, nor any clue as to how it had vanished, till a few days ago he heard a weak quacking close to the house and on looking about discovered the missing biped in the cistern.

It is supposed that the duck entered through an opening under the piazza, and that after a comfortable dive and swim it found itself unable to get out. It had become very lean from its long underground and aqueous imprisonment, but was otherwise all right, and when released and fed went quacking noisily about the yard, a hero among its feathered brethren.

—The regular business meeting of the "Y" will be held in the rooms to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock. Those who have cards for the "Y. M. C. A. Building Fund" are requested to send them in at that meeting.

Is This Westfield's Bill?

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

Evidently the male voters in Union county are a little afraid to trust the women with the right to vote for school trustees, except under restrictions. By last year's law the number of school trustees might be increased quite easily, and it seems that the ladies in some districts were politicians enough to see that by working together they could get control of the board of trustees.

It was to prevent this that a bill was drawn, and passed by the house on Thursday, providing that no more than six trustees shall be elected for one thousand school children. The bill having previously passed the Senate is now in the Governor's hands, and will probably receive his signature.

Her Sanity is Questioned.

Rosina Moore, aged thirty-eight, was committed to the Union County Jail Saturday, from Summit for a medical examination as to her sanity. The woman seems to have developed a violent form of lunacy, and will probably be removed soon to the Morris Plains Asylum. She has a husband and three children.

She Broke the Engagement

Because she saw that he had ceased to love her. Her beauty had faded, her former high spirits had given place to a dull lassitude. What had caused this change? She was suffering from ailments. And so their two young lives drifted apart. How needless, how cruel! Had she taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription she might have been restored to health and happiness. If any lady reader of these lines is afflicted, let her lose no time in procuring the "Favorite Prescription." It will give her a new lease of life. Sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, of perfect satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE.

TREATMENT OF PARENTS THE SUBJECT OF HIS DISCOURSE.

"A Foolish Son Is the Heaviness of His Mother" the Text—Children Cannot Do Too Much to Honor Godly, Upright Parents.

BROOKLYN, March 16.—The following sermon was preached this morning by Dr. Talmage in the Academy of Music, in which his church is worshiping during the rebuilding of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, and which will continue to be so occupied until that edifice is completed. After expounding a chapter describing Absalom's carriage toward his father David, and the singing of an appropriate hymn, Dr. Talmage announced as his text the words, "A foolish son is the heaviness of his mother."—Prov. x, 1. He said:

PARENTS' SOLICITUDE FOR THEIR CHILDREN.

All parents want their children to turn out well. However poorly father and mother may have done themselves, they want their sons and daughters to do splendidly. Up to forty years of age parents may have ambitions for themselves, after that their chief ambitions are for their children. Some of the old time names indicate this. The name of Abner means "his father's lamp." The name Abigail means "her father's joy." And what a parental delight was Solomon to David, and Samuel to Hannah, and Joseph to Jacob! And the best earthly staff that a father has to lean on is a good son, and the strongest arm a mother has to help her down the steep of years is that of a grateful child. But it is not a rare thing to find people unfilial, and often the parents are themselves to blame. Aged persons sometimes become querulous and snappy, and the children have their hands full with the old folks.

Before entering my profession I was for three months what is called a colporteur. One day in the country districts I stopped at the house of a good, intelligent, genial farmer. The hospitality of such a country house is especially pleasing to me, for I was born in the country. This farmer and his wife were hard working people, but tried to make their home agreeable and attractive. The farmer's father, about sixty-five years of age, and his grandfather, about ninety, were yet alive and with him. Indeed, there were four generations in the house, for the farmer had little children playing about the room.

We gathered at the dining table. After the blessing was asked the farmer put some of the meat upon his plate and courteously passed it to me, when his father of sixty-five years of age cried out to his son, who was at least thirty years of age: "Why do you not pass the meat as you always do, and let us take it off the plate ourselves? you are trying to show off because we have company." Meanwhile his grandfather of ninety sat with his hat on at the table, his face unclean, and his apparel untidy. Still the farmer kept his patience and equipoise, and I never think of him without admiration. He must have had more grace than I ever had.

Because people are old they have no right to be either ungentlemanly or uncanny. There are old people so disagreeable that they have nearly broken up some homes. The young married man with whom the aged one lives stands it because he has been used to it all his life, but the young wife, coming in from another household, can hardly endure it, and sometimes almost cries her eyes out. And when little children gather in the house, they are afraid of the venerable patriarch, who has forgotten that he ever was a child himself, and cannot understand why children should ever want to play "hide and seek," or roll hoop, or fly kite, and he becomes impatient at the sound from the nursery, and shouts with an expenditure of voice that keeps him coughing fifteen minutes afterwards, "Boys! stop that racket!" as though any boy that ever amounted to anything in the world did not begin life by making a racket!

SOME PARENTS ARE NOT WORTHY.

Indeed, there are children who owe nothing to their parents, for those parents have been profligates. My lamented friend, good and Christian and lovely Henry Wilson, vice president of the United States, in early life changed his name. Henry Wilson was not his original name. He dropped his father's name because that father was a drunkard and a disgrace, and the son did not feel called upon to carry such a carcass all his life. While children must always be dutiful, I sympathize with all young people who have disagreeable or unprincipled old folks around the house. Some of us, drawing out of our memories, know that it is possible, after sixty or seventy or eighty or ninety years of age, for the old to be kind and genial; and the grandest adornment of a home is an aged father and an aged mother, if the process of years has mellowed them.

Besides that, if your old parents are hard to get along with now, you must remember there was a time when they had hard work to get along with you. When you were about five or seven or ten or twelve years of age what a time they had with you! If they had kept a written account of your early pranks and misdoings, it would make a whole volume. That time when you gave your little sister a clip; that time when you explored the depths of a jar of sweet things for which you had no permission; that havoc you one day made with your jack knife; that plucking from the orchard of unripe fruit; that day when, instead of being at school, as your parents supposed, you went a-fishing; and many a time did you imperil your young life in places where you had no business to climb or swim or venture. To get you through your first fifteen years with your life and your good morals was a fearful draft upon parental fidelity and endurance.

Indeed, it may be that much of this present physical and mental weakness in your parents may have been a result of your early waywardness. You made such large and sudden drafts upon the bank of their patience that you broke the bank. They were injured in the colt. It is a matter of only common honesty that you pay back to them some of the long suffering which they paid to you. A father said to his son: "Surely no father ever had as bad a boy as I have." "Yes," said the son, "my grandfather had." It is about the same from generation to generation, and parents need to be patient with children, and children dutiful to their parents. Taking it for granted that those who hear me today have had a good parentage, I want to urge upon all the young the fact that the happiness and longevity of parents much depend upon the right behavior of their children, and I can do this no more effectually than by demonstrating the truth of my text, "A foolish son is the heaviness of his mother."

HOME THINGS ARE BEST.

Perhaps some young man astray may be brought back by a thought of how they feel about him at home. A French soldier lay wounded and dying in the hospital at Geneva, Switzerland. His father, at home, seventy years of age, heard of his son's suffering, and started, and took the long journey, and found the hospital; and as he entered the son cried: "O father, I am so glad you have come to see me die." "No," said the father; "you are not going to die; your mother is waiting for you, and I am going to take you home; I have brought you money and everything you need." "No," said the soldier, "they give me here everything that is nice to eat, but I have no appetite, and I must die." Then the father took from his knapsack a loaf of rye bread, such as the plain people of his country ate, and said, "Here is a loaf of bread your mother made, and I am sure you can eat this; she sent it to you." Then the soldier brightened up, and took the bread and ate it, and said, "It is so good, the bread from home, the bread that my mother made!" No wonder that in a few days he had recovered. O young man, wounded in the battle of life, and discouraged, given up by yourself, and given up by others, the old folks at the country fireside have not given you up. I bring you bread from home. It may be plain bread, but it is that bread of which if a man eat he never again shall hunger. Bread from home! Bread from home!

DO NOT STAB THE FAMILY NAME.

Carrying out the idea of my text, I remark that a reckless or dissipated son makes a heavy hearted parent because it hurts the family pride. It is not the given name or the name which you received at the christening that is injured by your prodigality. You cannot hurt your name of John or George or Henry or Mary or Frances or Rachel, because there have been thousands of people, good and bad, having those names, and you cannot improve or depreciate the respectability of those given names. But it is your last name, your family name, that is at your mercy. All who bear that name are bound, before God and man, not to damage its happy significance. You are charged, by all the generations of the past and all the generations to come, to do your share for the protection and the honor and the integrity of that name. You have no right, my young friend, by a bad life to blot the old family Bible containing the story of the marriages and births and deaths of the years gone by, or to cast a blot upon the family Bibles whose records are yet to be opened.

There are in our American city directories names that always suggest commercial dishonesty or libertinism or cruelty or meanness, just because one man or woman bearing that name cursed it forever by miscreancy. Look out how you stab the family name! It is especially dear to your mother. She was not born under that name. She was born under another name, but the years passed on and she came to young womanhood, and she saw some one with whom she could trust her happiness, her life and her immortal destiny; and she took his name, took it while the orange blossoms were filling the air with fragrance, took it with joined hands, took it while the heavens witnessed. She chose it out of all the family names since the world stood, chose it for better or worse, through sickness and through health, by cradles and by graves.

Now, she put off her old family name to take the family name you now wear, and she has done her part to make it an honorable name. How heavy a trouble you put upon her when, by misdeeds, you wrench that name from its high significance! To haul it down from your mother's forehead and trample it in the dust would be criminal. Your father's name may not be a distinguished name, but I hope it stands for something good. It may not be famous, like that of Homer, the father of epic poetry, or Izaak Walton, the father of angling, or Æschylus, the father of tragedy, or Ethelwold, the father of monks, or Herodotus, the father of history, or Thomas Aquinas, the father of moral philosophy, or Abraham, the father of the faithful, but your father has a name in a small circle as precious to him as theirs in a larger circle. Look out how you tarnish it!

Further, the recklessness and dissipation of a young man are a cause of parental distress at a time when the parent is less able to bear it. The vicissitudes of life have left their impression upon those parents. The eye is not as clear as once, nor the hearing as acute, nor the nerves as steady, nor the step as strong, and with the tide of incoming years comes the weight of unfilial behavior. You take your parents at a great disadvantage, for they cannot stand as much as they once could. They have not the elasticity of feeling with which once they could throw off trouble. That shoulder, now somewhat bent, cannot bear as heavy a burden as once it could. At the time when the machinery is getting worn out you put upon it the most terrific strain.

At sixty and seventy years the vitality is not so strong as at thirty or forty. Surely they are descending the down grade of life swiftly enough without your increasing the momentum. They will be gone soon enough without your pushing them away. Call in all the doctors who ever lived since Hippocrates raised medicine from a superstition to a science, and they could not cure the heartbreak of a mother over her ruined boy. There may be, as some suppose, enough herbs on earth, if discovered, to cure all the ailments of the body; but nothing save a leaf from the tree of the heavenly Paradise can cure a wound made by a foolish son who is the heaviness of his mother.

FURTHER SUFFERING SAVED BY DEATH.

Perhaps it is a good thing that cruel treatment by a child abbreviates a parent's life; for what is there desirable in a father's life or a mother's life if its peace is gone? Do you not think death is something beneficent if it stops the mother's heart from aching and her eyes from weeping, and says: "You need not bear the excruciation any longer. Go and sleep. I will put the defense of a marble slab between you and that boy's outrages. Go now where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest!" At the departure of such mothers let the music be an anthem instead of a dirge. While you and I hear no sound, yet there are at this moment tens of thousands of parental hearts breaking. All care was taken with the boy's schooling, all good counsels given, and the equipment for a sober and earnest and useful life was provided, but it has all gone, and the foolish son has become the heaviness of his mother.

Much of the poignancy of the parental grief arises from the ingratitude of such behavior. What an undertaking it is to conduct a family through the ailments and exposures of early life! Talk about the skill demanded of a sea captain commanding a ship across the ocean! That requires less skill than to navigate a young soul in safety across the infantile and boyhood years. The sicknesses that assault, the temptations that entrap, the anxieties that are excited! Young man, you will never know what your mother has suffered for you. You will never know how your father has been in all their plans, in all their prayers, from the time your first breath was drawn to this moment's respiration. What they could do for your health, what they could do for your happiness, what they could do for your mind, what they could do for your soul, have been absorbing questions. To earn a livelihood for you has not always been an easy thing for your father. By what fatigues of body and what disturbances of mind, and long years of struggle, in which sometimes the losses were greater than the gains, he got bread for you, paying for it in the sweat of his own brow and the red drops of his own heart's blood! He looks older than he ought to look at his years, for it has been work, work, work. Many a time he felt like giving up the battle, but then he looked at your helplessness and the helplessness of the household, and then he nerved himself up anew and said: "By the help of God I will not stop; my children must have home and education and advantages, and a comfortable starting in the world, and I must get a little something ahead, so that if I am taken away these helpless ones will not be turned out on the cold charities of the world." Yes, your father has been a good friend to you. He has never told any one, and he never will tell any one, of the sacrifices he has made for you. And he is ready to keep right on until unto that hand that has been toiling for you all these years shall come the very numbness of death. You cannot afford to break his heart. But you are doing it. Yes, you are. You have driven the dagger clear in up to the hilt.

And your mother—I warrant she has never told you much about the nights when you were down with scarlet fever, or diphtheria, and she slept not a wink, or, falling into drowsiness, your first cry awakened her, and brought the words, "What is it, my dear?" Oh, if the old rocking chair could speak! Oh, if the cradle could only tell its story of years! And when you got better, and were fretful and hard to please, as is usual in convalescence, she kept her patience so well, and was as kind as you were unreasonable and cross. Oh, midnights of motherly watching, how can you keep silence! Speak out and tell that wandering young man the story that he so much needs to hear.

WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE OLD CRADLE?

By the bye, I wonder what has become of our old cradle in which all of us children were rocked! I must ask my sister when I see her next time. We were a large family, and that old cradle was going a good many years. I remember just how it looked. It was old fashioned and had no tapestry. Its two sides and canopy all of plain wood, but there was a great deal of sound sleeping in that cradle, and many aches and pains were soothed by it as it moved to and fro by day and night. Most vividly I remember that the rockers, which came out from under the cradle, were on the top and side very smooth, so smooth that they actually glistened. They must have been worn smooth by a foot that long ago ceased its journey. How tired the foot that pressed it must sometimes have got! But it did not stop for that. It went right on and rocked for Phebe the first, and for De Witt the last. And it was a cradle like that, or perhaps of modern make and richly upholstered, in which your mother rocked you. Can it be that for all that care and devotion you are paying her back with harsh words or neglects or a wicked life? Then I must tell you that you are the "foolish son who is the heaviness of his mother." Better go home and kiss her, and ask her forgiveness. Kiss her on the lips that have so often prayed for you. Kiss her on the forehead that so often ached for you. Kiss her on the eyes that have so often wept over you. Better go right away, for she will be dead before long. And how will you feel then after you realize it is your waywardness that killed her? Romulus made no law against patricide, or the slaying of a father; matricide, or the slaying of a mother, because he considered such crimes impossible, and for six hundred years there was not a crime of that sort in Rome. But then came Lucius Ostius and slew his father, proving the crime possible. Now do you not think that the child who by wrong behavior sends his father to a premature grave is a patricide, or who by misconduct hastens a mother into the tomb is a matricide?

The heaviness of parents over a son's depravity is all the greater because it means spiritual disaster and overthrow. That is the worst thing about it. In the pension regulations a soldier receives for loss of both hands or feet $72. For loss of one hand and one foot $36. For loss of a hand or foot $30. For loss of both eyes $72. But who can calculate the value of a whole man ruined body, mind and soul! How can parents have any happiness about your future destiny, oh young man gone astray? Can such opposite lives as you and they are living come out at the same place? Can holiness and dissipation enter the same gate! Where is the little prayer that was taught you at your mother's knee? Is the God they loved and worshiped your God? It is your soul about which they are most anxious, your soul that shall live after the earth itself shall be girdled with flames, and the flames, dying down, will leave the planet only a live coal, and the live coal shall have become ashes, and then the ashes shall be scattered by the whirlwinds of the Almighty.

RESPECT YOUR PARENTS, THOUGH THEY BE DEAD.

"But," says some young man, "my mother is gone; my behavior will not trouble her any more."

Oh that those lips had language! Life has passed With me but roughly since I heard thee last.

What! Is she dead! How you startle me! Is she dead? Then perhaps you have her picture. Hang it up in your room in the place where you oftenest look. Go and study her features, and while you are looking the past will come back, and you may hear her voice, which is now so still, speak again, saying: "From my heavenly home, my dear boy, I solicit your reformation and salvation. Go to the Christ who pardoned me, and he will pardon you. My heaven will not be complete till I hear of your changing. But I will hear of it right away, for there is joy up here when one sinner repenteth; and oh, if the next news of that kind that comes up here might come up regarding you, oh my child of many tears and anxieties and prayers!

Come, my boy, do you not hear your mother's voice? O my son, my son, would God that I could die for thee! O my son, my son! Young man! what news for heaven would be your conversion. Swifter than telegraphic wire ever carried congratulations to a wedding or a coronation would fly heavenward the news of your deliverance; and whether the one most interested in your salvation were on river bank, or in the temple, or on the battlements, or in the great tower, the message would be instantly received, and before this service is closed angel would cry to angel: "Have you heard the news? Out yonder is a mother who has just heard of her wayward boy's redemption. Another prodigal has got home. The dead is alive again, and the lost is found. Hallelujah! Amen!"

The Daily Life of an Actress.

Girls who long for the adulation, flattery and amusement commonly supposed to be inseparable from life upon the stage can profitably study the words of an actress who has succeeded in making a name for herself. "My life is very uneventful," she says. "It is full of hard and monotonous work. Excitement—yes, at night, when I am before the public! but for the rest of the day—no. At 9 o'clock in the morning I ring for my bouillon. After I have finished it I take a cold bath and then my breakfast. Unless I am due at the theatre for a long, tedious rehearsal of four or five hours, I attend to my correspondence, sorting and answering various letters. After that is finished and my household duties are looked after, I go for my constitutional walk of two or three hours. I eat no luncheon, and when I return from my exercise it is nearly time for my dinner, for I dine at 4:30 o'clock. After this meal is over I have just a little time to rest before the real business of the twenty-four hours begins. I must be at the theatre at 7:30 o'clock sharp. At midnight I am home again, and after supper I go to bed. Now, this is a fair sample of my life. Every hour has its duties."—Toronto Empire.

DEAD BY THE HOTEL DOOR.

Albert Vreeland's Funeral Delayed Because Murder Is Suspected.

MIDLAND, PARK, N. J., March 17.—Coroner Hering, of Westwood, was telegraphed for late at night to come here to take charge of a case of suspected murder. He was compelled to stop the arrangements being made for the burial of Albert Vreeland, a wealthy resident of the western part of Bergen County.

Mr. Vreeland was found in a dying condition early Thursday morning in front of the Midland Park Hotel, kept by Thomas Banta. David Vreeland, a son of the dead man, who was on his way from the town of Wortendyke to Paterson, was the one who discovered his father, then in an unconscious state from which he never rallied.

Banta claimed that Vreeland went to bed all right at his hotel on Wednesday night, and says that his guest must have gotten up in his sleep and walked out of the bedroom window on to a porch roof, whence he must have fallen about 15 feet to the ground, where he was found. Both Vreeland's eyes were blacked and one side of his face badly bruised.

Coroner Hering summoned a constable, swore in a jury and adjourned the inquest until next Saturday afternoon. The family and friends of the dead man, who had come to attend the funeral, were very indignant because of the interuption of the services. The family claim that Mr. Vreeland's death was accidental. Others say he was beaten into unconsciousness and then thrown out of the window.

BOILERS EXPLODE.

Bricks Hurled Through the Side Wall of a Residence.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 17.—The Howard street pumping station, a part of the Allegheny Water Works system, was completely wrecked by the explosion of a battery of 60 horse power boilers.

A. L. Armstrong, a son of Superintendent Armstrong, of the water works, was in the station at the time and was badly injured, but he managed to get out of the ruins and was found insensible in the street.

The ruins took fire, but the flames were soon extinguished.

Several bricks from the wrecked building were hurled through the side wall of the residence of John Cline, opposite the station, one striking in the room where Mr. and Mrs. Cline were sleeping and setting fire to the building. This also was extinguished without serious loss. The damage is $5,000.

As a result of the explosion the eastern part of Allegheny was without water.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Over Thirty Firemen Plunged Into a Burning Building.

THIRTEEN TAKEN OUT DEAD.

A Number of Persons Injured So Severely that They Will Die.

The Limbs of Men Seen Writhing While the Trunks to Which They Belonged Were Buried from Sight—Carrying the Bodies from the Ruins—Noble Work of Rescuers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 18.—Last evening fire from the furnace in the basement of the large publishing establishment of the Bowen-Merrill Company reached some paper, and in an instant the flames were carried by the elevator shaft to the fourth story. The building, a fine stone and iron structure fronting on Washington street, was stored with books and stationery of all kinds. This large stock was consumed and the building wrecked.

At 5:30 o'clock this loss of more than $150,000 on building and stock was followed by the falling in of the roof, which carried down more than twenty persons, including those who were working on the various floors. The fire at this hour had been driven to a corner between the ceiling of the fourth story and the cornice. Parts of the fire companies were on the roof working their way down to the fire. The roof seemed sound and the walls substantial, but suddenly the walls yielded.

A man threw up his arms and sank into the seething ruins below. Another man dropped and the whole rear roof, with 15 men on it, fell on the top floor where the fire was raging. Four men were on the upper floor under the roof. These were crushed beneath the grinding timbers and all the men hurled through the falling floor beneath, which gave way beneath the weight of the mass. One of the firemen on the top of the adjoining building ran to the front of the building and shouted to those below:

"For God's sake throw water into the upper windows. Twenty men are buried there!"

A Dreadful Scene.

Instantly ambulances were telephoned for, and presently the crowd below moaned under the portentious developments. The scene on the heap of debris immediately after the collapse was pitiable and dreadful beyond all power of description. The limbs of men here and there were seen writhing, while the trunks to which they belonged were buried out of sight. A ladder lay across the three men and was weighted down by tons of brick and timber. Another poor fellow, who was beyond all pain lay close beside his fellows, a shapeless and mangled mass. The ladder lay across the stomach of one man, who was screaming with agony, another man with a broken arm and a twisted body lay next to him.

As fast as willing hands could hurl away the bricks the weight was removed, but the ladder was too firmly held to yield. The man with the broken arm was dragged free and carried away. Under him, mute but breathing, appeared the upturned face of a poor fellow not seen before. The mortar and dust were cleaned from his lips, but he was buried so deeply that no immediate help could come to him. On all sides blackened and bleeding faces, distorted with agony of death urged the crowd who scaled the heap to assist them to redouble their efforts. The debris had fallen so that it lay with a valley-shaped surface, and this made the available space for work very small.

Discovering New Victims.

There was no place to deposit the materials dug from the bottom of the valley, except to throw them upon the sides of the depression from which they continually rolled down toward the center again. All the work of relief was thus carried on with great difficulty. One by one the men nearest the surface were extricated, but as the workers went down further they discovered new victims and the horror steadly grew. The forward part of the building still stood high and burning fiercely and threatened every moment to fall down and bury the brave rescuers, but they gave no heed to the peril. On either side the walls towered and seemed ready to fall, but there was no time to think of them. As fast as the men at work became exhausted, others stood ready and anxious to fill their places, so there was not a moment of delay in the labor of relief.

Every movement was filled with awful suspense, for all were thinking of friends who lay buried beneath them. Names which men inquired after were passed hurriedly from lip to lip, and people bent down to scan closely the blackened and scarred faces. Persons who had friends among the firemen, or among citizens who were supposed to have been in or near the fatal walls, became frantic as the day passed and they could get no word.

As the wounded were carried out of the ruins they were met with embraces and tears of joy, but when the still, broken forms were borne away, motionless and limp, then it was when the full sadness and horror of the calamity came upon the waiting crowd.

The Dead.

So far as they have been identified the dead are as follows:

Thomas Black, Andrew O. Cherry, superintendent of the fire alarm system: Peter Dougherty, George Faulkner, Ulysses Glazier, George Glenn, William Hinesley, Albert Huffman, William Huffman, Richard Lowery, Espey Stormer, George Stein, Henry Woodruff.

Big Damages Against a Newspaper.

BROOKLYN, March 18.—Ex-Assemblyman Daniel W. Talmadge has obtained a verdict of $20,000 damages against the New York World for libel.

FORCED INTO MARRIAGE.

A Brother-in-Law Draws a Pistol On an Unwilling Bridegroom.

KEYPORT, N. J., March 18.—William A. Paling was married to Miss Adelia Sacharat at the point of a pistol manipulated by the young lady's brother-in-law, named Moulton. Moulton found Paling in his sister-in-law's company and chased him down the street to Paling's house, where he informed the young man, who was scantily attired, that if he did not return at once, dressed as he was, to the Moulton residence and marry Miss Sacharat, he could expect to be punctured with pistol balls.

Paling begged for his clothes, but Moulton was obdurate, and forced Paling at the point of a revolver to march through the streets in his semi-attire to the girl's house. A minister was sent for and the two were at once married.

Both parties are well known in Keyport and are wealthy.

DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

The Pan-American Congress Will Adjourn Within Thirty Days.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The work of the Pan American Congress has so far progressed that adjournment is confidently expected within the next thirty days. Arrangements are being perfected for the trip through the south, which will end the official hospitalities of the United States to the delegates.

Senor Mendonca, of Brazil, one of the members of a committee appointed to devise and report a plan for expressing the grateful appreciation by the visiting delegates of the courtesies and hospitality extended by the U. S. Government and the delegates from the U. S. will submit to his colleagues his ideas on the subject. He will propose that the delegates from Central and South America inaugurate a movement for the erection in the City of Washington as a gift to the people of the United States, of a monument to commemorate the gathering of the first congress of all the nations on the Western Hemisphere.

The Old Indian's Record.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—There is no record of the birth of the Indian "Old Gabriel," who died at the county hospital, but when the Franciscan missionaries came to California more than a century ago "Old Gabriel" was a grandfather and, as far as can be learned by tradition, it is believed he was born about the year 1740 and had reached the age of 150 years at the time of his death. Gabriel never used liquor or tobacco and led a peaceable life. He had children and grandchildren by the score, but outlived them all and no direct descendants survive him.

Along the Mississippi.

VICKSBURG, March 17.—Assistant Engineer Thompson, who arrived at the crevasse last evening, said that no crevasse at any point along the line of the fifth levee district could occasion such serious results as the one at Raleigh. The steamboat Osceola, which took Capt. Willard Young, of the United States Engineers, to Greenville Saturday night, arrived last evening with a large quantity of material to be used in holding the ends of the levee and to prevent further caving and enlargement.

A Finish Fight Postponed

BLOOMINGTON, Ill, March 18.—The finish fight between "Billy" Myer and "Jack" Hopper, of New York, arranged for May 1 at Fort Worth, Texas, has been postponed to a date subsequent to Nov. 7, the date of Myer's finish fight with Andy Bowen before the West End Athletic Club, at New Orleans, La. This was done at Myer's request, the Streator lad fearing that some accident might possibly prevent his meeting the New Orleans light-weight.

Danger of Another Landslide.

TROY, N. Y., March 18.—There is great danger of another and greater landslide at the point where Saturday's occurred here, in which three people were killed. A new opening in Warren's Hill has been discovered. The bank is 200 feet high, and is cracked for 150 feet in length along its crest. Should it fall, it will do great damage. Residents in the vicinity have been warned to move. Some have gone, but others remain.

Another Fight Arranged.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Danny Needham, the St. Paul welter weight, who recently fought Patsy Kerrigan, of Boston, in the California Athletic Club auditorium, has accepted Coast Champion Billy Mahans' challenge and has deposited $500 with the sporting editor of a morning paper in this city. The match will probably be made by some club here in a day or so with a large bet on the side.

Old Soldiers Will Relieve Her Distress.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 18.—It was discovered here last evening that a widow named Payne, living at No. 204 Washington street with her widowed daughter in dire distress, was a sister of the famous Federal General, "Fighting" Joe Hooker. A movement is on foot to raise funds to relieve the family's distress, which will be contributed to by old soldiers of both armies.

A Popular Bank Officer Dead.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 18.—William H. Finch, late cashier of the Ulster County National Bank, and who had been connected with several local banks in various capacities since 1863, died last evening of consumption, at the age of 45 years. He was one of the best known and most popular citizens of Kingston.

The Situation at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 18.—The temporary levee erected along the river front will keep the streets clear of river water. No further disasters are reported. The Nita crevasse has checked business on the Mississippi Valley Railroad, as no trains are able to pass over the flooded portion of the track.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Tariff Bill Finished and Ready to Report.

REDUCTION IN SUGAR DUTIES.

It Will Decrease the Revenue About Thirty Millions.

The House Committee Discusses the World's Fair Bill—A Troublesome Section—Secretary Tracy Taken from the Despatch—Depression in Agricultural Interests—League Island's Future.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The House Committee on Ways and Means labored for four hours with the sugar schedule. Major McKinley contended for a reduction of about 50 per cent., Mr. McKenna of California desired the duty increased, while Messrs. Burrows, Gear and La Folette fought to make it free absolutely.

A compromise was finally reached, reducing the duty on grades up to and including grade 16 to 35 per cent. ad valorem, and over that grade 40 per cent. ad valorem. The average reduction is about 60 per cent. The 40 per cent. rate was fixed in order to provide sufficient protection for the refiners. It gives them an advantage of about two-tenths of a cent.

It is estimated that if this schedule becomes a law the revenue will be decreased by from thirty millions to thirty-five millions of dollars per year. The tariff bill complete will probably be reported to the full committee tomorrow. It will be presented to the House in all probability two days later.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The House Committee Discusses the Troublesome Sections of the Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—With the exception of one section, the World's Fair bill is ready to report to the House. This section, however, is not in a fair way to be disposed of easily. It concerns the financial plan on which the Fair is to be conducted, and it caused a long controversy at a meeting of the committee. Chairman Candler and Messrs. Hitt and Springer of Illinois; Belden and Flower of New York and Hatch, of Missouri, considered the troublesome section, but it soon became obvious that the committee could come to no agreement on it, and it was passed over for the present.

The eighth section, which provides for the time of holding the Fair, leaving blank the date, was also the cause of some discussion. Mr. Candler offered an amendment providing that a Quadri-Centennial celebration be held on Oct. 12, 1892, and the Fair the following year. Messrs. Hitt and Springer, Chicago's representatives, declined to vote on this amendment, and it was voted down; Messrs. Belden, Hatch and Flower in the negative and Mr Candler in the affirmative. Another amendment fixing the time of holding the Fair from April 30 to October 20, 1892, was offered and carried. An adjournment was then taken without action on the fifth section.

Depression in Agricultural Interests.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Mr. Voorhees offered a preamble and resolution in the Senate reciting the great depression under which agricultural interests are laboring, and resolving that it is the "highest duty of Congress in the present crisis to lay aside all discussion and consideration of mere party issues, and to give prompt and immediate attention to the preparation and adoption of such measures as are required for the relief of the farmers and other over-taxed and underpaid laborers of the United States." Mr. Voorhees gave notice that he would speak on the resolution to-morrow, and would suggest the remedy for existing evils.

Clerk Jones' Body Recovered.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The body of a white man was cast up by the tide on the bank of the eastern branch of the Potomac Sunday afternoon. It was badly decomposed but it has been identified to the satisfaction of the police as the remains of Benjamin A. Jones, the paymaster's clerk of the marine corps who disappeared in December last. Jones went away Christmas night. His wife received a letter the next morning saying that he would never return. His hat was found in the river on the day following. An examination of Jones' accounts developed a shortage of $3,600.

League Island's Future.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Congressman Harmer introduced his bill in the House directing that League Island be opened as a construction navy yard for the building and repairing of ships. The bill was accompanied by a long and interesting history of the station and a recital of its many advantages as a fresh water station.

A Young Girl Commits Suicide.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 18.—A young girl named Ella Coble committed suicide at Steelton. She was melancholy on account of her betrayal by a man whose name she gives in a pathetic letter to her parents.

Found His Body in the River.

OWEGO, N. Y., March 18.—The body of J. J. Vankleek, who disappeared from here March 11, was found last night in the river. There were no evidences of foul play.

Eloped With a Blacksmith's Daughter.

NEWARK, N. J., March 18.—John Mishler, a teamster, and Martha Ann Bogart, the daughter of a blacksmith, eloped from Hoboken and were married. Mishler earns $6 a week.

COUNCILMAN ROBERTS DESERTS "THE BIG 6."

He Was Open to Conviction, and Mr. Hering Wins the Fight.

A MEMORABLE MIDNIGHT COMMON COUNCIL MEETING.

Public Spirit, Personal Sincerity and Partisan Zeal Contrasted—An Earnest Discussion as to the Sacredness of Business Obligations—A New Scheme to Oust the Democratic Water Committee Appointed by the Chair and to Put in Power a Water Board of Republican Complexion.

Engineer Rudolph Hering will continue to supervise the construction of Plainfield's water works. The proposition to cancel his contract with the city was defeated by a vote of one majority. The ballot revealed Councilman Roberts back in the Grand Old Party traces, and the sudden pronounced Republicanism of his wavering vote prevented the victory which had been promised to Councilman Hetfield's resolution to oust Mr. Hering from his position.

Those who voted for the resolution were five—Councilmen Gallup, Hetfield, Moffett, Smith and Spangenberg. Against the resolution there were six—Councilmen Dunham, Jenkins, Johnson, Newhall, Roberts and Rushmore.

The meeting of the Council lasted till nearly midnight. It was attended by a large number of as representative citizens as have ever assembled in the Council chamber. Not a member of the Councilmanic Board was absent. From the outeet very interesting proceedings were expected, and after City Clerk Coward had read the minutes of the last meeting and Mr. Newhall had introduced a resolution that the rules be suspended, that the resolution having for its object Mr. Hering's removal be taken up, and that after the Councilmen had spoken on the subject the citizens be given a chance to have their say, the interesting proceedings began.

Mr. Hetfield thought that the citizens should be heard before the Councilmen. The citizens were present to give their views, that the Councilmen might vote in accordance with them.

Mr. Newhall held that the citizens ought not to be put to the embarrassment of speaking on the subject before the Councilmen had fully ventilated and explained the matter.

Mr. Hetfield urged that the citizens were to enlighten the Councilmen. Discussion was prolonged, but Mr. Hetfield failed to secure the passage of an amendment that the citizens speak first, and the original resolution prevailed.

When Mr. Hetfield's famous resolution was again before the Council there was a span of silence; then Mr. Newhall arose and opened the debate.

He had expected—he said—that the movers of such a resolution as this would take the floor and explain their reasons for offering it for passage. The Council and the citizens ought to be fully informed as to the nature of the charges brought against the engineer whose contract was to be cancelled. Going into the history of the entire water works question, Mr. Newhall showed that Mr. Hering had not been chosen to take charge of the construction until after most rigid examination the old Water Committee had satisfied itself that no better man, no better engineer, could be procured. The new Water Committee had come into power evidently prepared to block from its conception the Hering contract. A resolution similar to the present one had been prepared by Mr. Hetfield at a former meeting. When it was learned that the Mayor had signed the contract the resolution was laid aside. The resolution under discussion had been offered at the last meeting with the statement that its passage was justifiable because of Mr. Hering's incompetency, because of his lack of the experience necessary to fit him for being a competent supervising engineer, because of Mr. Hering's having neglected his duty in not being present in Plainfield so much as he ought, attending to the work of which he had charge, because of his incorrect statements to Council in his last report, because of extravagance and exorbitant fees. The burden of proof was on the indorsers of the resolution; they must prove the truth of their claims; they must prove the existence of every claim.

Mr. Newhall believed that the charges made against Mr. Hering were entirely unwarranted, and he was prepared to contradict anything which might be presented in support of them, but at present he would content himself with one or two brief explanations concerning matters which seemed to have been misunderstood. Regarding the alleged extravagancy of the contract with Mr Hering, he would say that the impression which had obtained in some quarters that Mr. Hering first made a proposition charging from $10,000 to $15,000 and that he subsequently reduced this price to $5,500 was without foundation in fact. The first and only proposition made by Mr. Hering was that he should receive three per cent. of the actual cost of the water works, this to include all preliminary work, or $5,500 for the works completed, with extra compensation for the preliminary work. The last Council chose between these two plans and agreed to pay $500 for the preliminary work. It was possible that this error had arisen because of confusion with figures brought prominently forward early last year, when something like $15,000 was estimated as the probable cost of water works and sewerage. He himself did not consider $5,500 an extravagant price for a man competent to fill the position to which Mr. Hering had been appointed. For this sum Mr. Hering agreed to give his personal services so far as necessary for the best interests of the city, in carrying out the contract with the water company. He agreed also to keep on the ground all the time a resident engineer and agreed when the work was pushed to place other engineers on the ground at his own expense if necessary. The compensation of $5,500 covered the entire time from the signing of the contract between the city and the water company to the completion and acceptance by the city of the works, whether it took one year, two years or three years. No other proposition made to the committee or Council last year had been so economical as this.

All through the contract, in section after section, matters of the most vital importance were left entirely subject to the final approval of the supervising engineer for the city. It was highly essential that so responsible a position as this should be filled by a man who could be trusted, one in every way competent to do the work, one beyond the possibility of fraud—and that was the kind of a man who held the position today. The contract was a solemn covenant, and that covenant it was proposed to cancel without any cause whatever.

Mr. Smith did not understand that Mr. Hering was bound to supervise the works beyond one year for $5,500, and the contract being read he insisted that the present appearance of things indicated that the building of the works would take more than one year, and that at the end of that period Mr. Hering would come forward and demand additional compensation for future work. Because Mr. Hering would probably ultimately receive more than the price set was why he favored cancelling the contract.

The first outside citizen to take part in the discussion was ex-Councilman Alexander Gilbert, who made a forcible address, supplementing it with a long list of of Plainfield's most honored citizens and taxpayers who wished Engineer Hering retained.

It is with reluctance—said Mr. Gilbert—that I appear to take part in the discussion on this pending resolution. I come in response to the general call of Council to represent a large number of citizens and taxpayers who have asked me to present their views.

I come to present my views as a business man, to look at this thing from a business outlook, to enter this discussion in a plain, practical, business-like manner, in opposition to the adoption of the resolution.

To a man who has a keen appreciation of the sacredness of a contract and of the good faith which animates both parties, this proposition is strange and startling. The contract is scarcely three months old. Its ink is hardly dry. No important work has been begun. Nothing has transpired to change the relations of the contracting parties. The same condition of things exists today that existed at the date of signing. Neither party gives proof of any violation, and why should the contract for no good and sufficient reason be abruptly and violently set aside? It is alleged that Mr. Hering is incompetent. I must say that the gentlemen making this charge must have been misinformed. I never met Mr. Hering. I have no personal interest in him, either direct or indirect; but when my attention was brought to this matter I inquired among business men and water works authorities, to ascertain his standing and reputation. I received but one answer—he is a leading authority in his profession; he is acknowledged to be a skillful and reputable hydraulic engineer of long experience; drainage and water supply are so closely allied that in becoming master of one he has become master of the other. He is thoroughly competent. He has considered all the important questions involved. That is the kind of a man we want. He stands between the water company and the city and sees that the city gets all to which it is entitled. His skill and knowledge fit him to perform exactly this kind of work. If human testimony is of any value he is preeminently qualified to continue in this position.

Again, it is claimed that the compensation is exorbitant. Mr. Hering at his own expense provides a resident engineer, a man of no mean capacity, who has himself occupied an official position such as this, a man who has all the experience necessary to see that the works are properly constructed and completed. The sum is not very exorbitant. At every step of progress skill, ability, experience, have to be utilized. The contract calls for a careful inspection of all specifications and plans; everything is subject to his approval. He must be familiar with the source and quality of the water, the quality of the materials, the machinery, the steam pumps, the boilers, the wells, the pipes, the grade of pipes—all call for experience, knowledge and skill. And, here is the man of skill and ability you want.

Professional men are not paid for their manual labor, but for their knowledge, ability, skill, brain power. You don't hire a lawyer and compensate him in carrying your case through the courts, for the pages of foolscap he has written or the number of law points he has hunted up, but for representing you properly before the courts. You call your physician in to attend a critical case. It is an hour of danger. He carries the patient safely through the crisis. When you settle his bill you don't pay for the number of miles ridden, or the number of hours spent at the bedside, or the number of grains of medicine. The professional skill has wrought a saving work; you pay for that. The architect is not paid for the number of sheets of paper used or the number of plans drawn. He is paid because he had the knowledge and ability to see that your work was properly done. So your supervising engineer is not to be paid for the hours he has spent in police duty, one day after another, inspecting every minute detail. He is to be paid for the professional skill and knowledge which shall enable him in the end to say gentlemen, your works are properly constructed, and I accept them on behalf of the city.

There is an element of danger in the costly litigation that might arise were the contract cancelled. The city may seem to have the option to cancel, but there may be a legal obstacle. The contract is to be judged by its letter. It was made in good faith by both parties. They solemnly pledge themselves to act honorably. The city has no more right to violate the contract than has Mr. Hering. The option of revocation clearly explains itself. If the works were abandoned by the company, or further work was refused, and it seemed that the city had no longer any need of an engineer, the contract might be terminated, but don't think that you can terminate it without good and sufficient cause. Mr. Hering has his rights under the contract.

When two men make a contract what is meant? That they will act in good faith. Good faith underlies all important positions in society. What higher term of praise than "His word is as good as his bond?" And when you say a man's contract is not worth the paper it's written on you consign him to everlasting infamy. The honor of the city is at stake. Its word is solemnly pledged. Is it not nobler and better faithfully to carry out the terms of the contract than to have this Council leave a record which would tarnish the fair name of the city?

At the close of his speech Mr. Gilbert read the citizens' petition, which set forth that the contract had been given most thoughtful consideration by the former Council, that after careful investigation Mr. Hering had been chosen as the most competent person to take charge of the supervision, that he had been identified with the work from the outset, that it was "a bad time to swop horses when crossing the stream," that the contract ought not to be terminated save for the strongest reasons, that Mr. Hering had as high a reputation as any hydraulic engineer in the United States, that he had drawn plans for and constructed many large works, that he had engineered Chicago's $25,000,000 water works and sewerage system; Philadelphia's $20,000,000 system; Atlanta's $500,000 system; and the systems at Ashville, N. C.; Toronto, Canada; and other places; that he was at present one of the Board of Engineers appointed by the President to improve the sewerage system of Washington, D. C.; that his work in the leading cities made him rank foremost at the head of his profession; that he is a man of faithfulness and integrity; that it would not be good economy to depose the best engineer in the United States for an inferior man when the best man's figure was as low as $5,500; that it would be a breach of faith and an unfair dealing to terminate the contract on a mere quibble over a loophole which was meant to provide for honest contingencies.

Mr. Joseph W. Yates thought that the supervising engineer should be a man of sterling integrity. If Mr. Hering was such a man why should he be removed?

Mr. W. P. Williams, who himself has had twenty-five years' experience with contracts, thought that the matter ought to be speedily settled so that the company should not feel a hesitancy and imperil their time-limit. Why was there this constant fault-finding? What meant this insulting proposition of inviting citizens to a meeting to consider a proposition to throw slurs on the good name and the financial status of the city? The indorsers of the resolution had no business to threaten the contract. It was a most inappropriate thing to clog the work whose speedy completion the people desired.

Ex-Councilman Lemuel W. Serrell had three questions in his mind: Whether Mr. Hering was competent; whether the amount of salary was too much; who desires the change? Astonished at the idea of cancelling the contract without cause, he had made careful inquiries. He had ascertained to his own satisfaction that Mr. Hering was eminently competent, and that the usual charges were from 2½ to 5 per cent. on the entire cost of the work. Who wanted the change? He couldn't find out. There was considerable outcry; what was the object? They were trying to get Hering out for no apparent purpose. What was under the surface?

You handle the first public works in Plainfield. You have an opportunity to make yourselves illustrious. I remember the feelings with which I read on a commemorative slab the names of the members of the Council who built the Croton works in New York. I hope to see the names of this Council carved on a tablet more lasting than stone because of duty done, the city protected, a lasting credit brought to the place. A contract plainly, honestly, judiciously drawn, as this is, ought not to be set aside till broken.

Editor Frost of The Engineering News paid Mr. Hering high enconium. Mr. Frost has dealings with all the engineers in the United States, and considered himself qualified to pass accurate judgement. In his opinion Mr Hering was the leading hydraulic engineer in the United States. He didn't know where the city could go to find as good a man for so small a salary. Mr. Frost kept a record of all the water works in the United States and published such record yearly. He kept a record of contractors. His knowledge of the building of expensive works to sell again told him that it was a very easy matter to make a loss of $5,500. Mr. Hering took all the responsibility, and asked small compensation. The rebuilding of water works was a larger business today than the construction of new works. Mr. Hering would build works which would not have to be altered—only enlarged—to accommodate growth of the town. Plainfield could never make a better bargain than she had made with Mr. Hering.

Ex-Councilman Rowland Cox was glad to hear Mr. Frost's testimony of experience. Mr. Cox had inquired of other engineering editors and contractors and had been told repeatedly that the city had secured a bargain. The more carefully the matter was investigated the more resplendent appeared Mr. Hering's position.

Gen. VanBuren wanted to know what was the object of having the citizens attend the meeting. He had heard nothing but speeches all on one side. It was about time to hear from those favoring the resolution.

"If there's a nigger in the fence"—he said—"trot him out!"

Ex-Councilman J. W. Murray endorsed Mr. Gilbert's full and fair presentation of the case. He wanted no procrastination. Now was the time to act, settle this matter and let the work of construction go on unhampered by suspense. He was satisfied with Mr. Hering's record. Mr. Frost's evidence was positive. The people wanted water at this end of the line. Let there be speed!

Finding all others through speaking, Councilman Hetfield broke his long silence. The citizens—he said—were here to tell the Council what they wanted done. It was not a question of $5,500. It was a question of finances beyond that—to what limit who could tell? Besides the $5,500 being paid by monthly salary, Mr. Hering had already received $500 for preparatory work and $300 for revising the work which he had not satisfactorily prepared. When the present Council had organized, Mr. Hetfield had made inquiries in New York, Philadelphia and other places as to Mr. Hering's competency to engineer water works, to judge whether or not he thoroughly understood his business and would honestly and fully protect the interests of the city. It was an important matter. The water works construction was entirely in the hands of the engineer. His duty was not a matter of being here occasionally. It was a matter of being here constantly, inspecting every pipe, every coupling. The engineer ought to have personal knowledge of and exercise personal supervision over every detail. Mr. Hetfield was not aware that any resident engineer was here at all. He understood that Mr. Hering's assistant was an aqueduct inspector from New York. He didn't know what an aqueduct inspector's duties were, but the New York World said that clerks, merchants and what-not could become such an inspector if he had "pull" enough. He didn't understand even yet that Mr. Hering had ever constructed water works. He had made recommendations, but he had yet to hear that his plans had even been carried out. Parties of whom he had inquired had recommended Mr. Hering as thoroughly honest and honorable; there was no better sanitary or sewerage engineer in the United States, but regarding water works he didn't rate with some other engineers.

Mr. Hering has not to my knowledge—Mr. Hetfield continued—ever exercised personal supervision over any waterworks. As a gentleman his integrity is doubtless unimpeachable, but do we want him to work through some one else? The only motive the Water Committee had in introducing the resolution was to have the contract go to a man who would give the matter his personal supervision, who would see that no inferior lead. pipes, couplings, hydrants, were used. Mr. Hering, he was informed, had made two visits to the works since the contract was granted.

He had greatly enjoyed the eloquent address of Mr. Gilbert. He had no doubt that the signers to Mr. Gilbert's petition signed it in good faith, but if they all had read it over before signing, it must have been out a good while.

As regarded Mr. Hering's salary, he had made investigation, and had found that an engineer of the highest recommendation would contract to do the work of personal supervision for $250 per month. Another engineer of high standing would do it for $200.

Concluding, Mr. Hetfield said he wished only to protect the interests of the city. If the Council could get a man to do the work for $3,000 it was their duty to save the difference. The contract distinctly stated that should the city so elect at any time it might cancel the contract by paying for the engineer's services already performed. Mr. Hering evidently could not give personal supervision. Others could. In his opinion $5,500 was too much. Better service could be procured for less money.

Mr. Rushmore said that until the last gentleman had spoken he had been waiting patiently for good, honest, square reasons for the cancelling of the contract, and he must say that what he had said two weeks ago about being out in the vague still held true. His ideas of his opponents' reasons were no clearer than before. The gentleman's arguments were so full of error 'twere useless to try to make all corrections. As to water works construction, the Chicago works were completed satisfactorily under Mr. Hering's plans. One trouble with the water committee seemed to be that it had started this thing going before proper investigation had been made, before actual proofs had been obtained. It ought to have taken the same trouble that some of the citizens had set the example of. It had been aptly asked why the call to citizens had been issued. The evidence of the Water Committee was insufficient. They had gone off "half-cocked." As to personal visits, he had seen Mr. Hering's commutation ticket to Plainfield. It was sorely punched, and he had made a number of trips on collected tickets when his commutation ticket had been forgotten.

Mr. Dunham said that he had thought all along that this meeting of citizens with Council was uncalled for. For himself individually and for the majority of the Council he could say that the rescinding of the contract ought not to be. In behalf of the Council of 1889, which had spent night after night exercising its think-tank over the question, he thought he ought to say something, and he would say that the work ought to be let proceed without further hindrance or additional opposition.

In reply to Mr. Rushmore's statement concerning lack of preparation, Mr. Hetfield said that he thought the Water Committee had investigated the question as carefully as anyone in Plainfield. The gentleman was not treating the Committee justly. The Committee was acting in good faith, regardless of personality.

Mr. Hetfield presented a petition signed by a number of business men and others asking that the Hering contract be annulled because of the exorbitant salary demanded and because of Mr. Hering's lack of practical experience in constructing water works. The petition further asked that the Council get an engineer who would give personal supervision at a less expense.

When the roll was called and it was found that the resolution was lost and that Mr. Hering was retained the lobby applauded with considerable vigor.

After the transaction of routine business relating mainly to the introduction of minor petitions and other matters which will receive attention at future meetings, Mr. Rushmore made an attempt to take the control of the erection of the water works entirely from the Water Committee and presented a resolution providing for the election by ballot of a Water Board consisting of 3 members of Council.

Mr. Hetfield was on his feet in an instant. "It is now very evident indeed"—he said—"that there is a colored person in sight. If anyone has any objection to my serving on the Water Committee I'd like to know it. This is a most unusual proceeding. The appointment of a committee by ballot! And yet these gentlemen proclaim that there is no politics in their opposition! They propose to take away the prerogative of the chair! If they don't like the Water Committee let them make a Board and make it all Republicans! Make it solidly Republican!"

Mr. Rushmore said that the ordinary rules of order and the provisions of the water contract legitimatized his present resolution. The object was not politics. The gentleman was always crying politics; was it because of the politics which he put into things himself? The water works question was the most important ever before Council. All the great work was yet to come. The matter deserved to be treated by a Board specially appointed for the purpose by the entire voice of Council. This was no reflection on the Water Committee.

"I take it as a reflection"—responded Mr. Hetfield—"I should not object if a special committee of three were appointed by the chair to confer with the Water Committee, but this present is a most unusual proceeding." Mr. Hetfield incorporated his suggestion in an amendment, which was lost by the set vote of the evening—6 to 5. Mr. Rushmore urging that a joint committee of six would be too bulky and would be a majority of Council.

The original motion being carried, Mr. Rushmore moved to proceed to ballot, those securing the three highest votes to be considered elected.

"Another unusual proceeding!"—interjected Mr. Hetfield—"No nominations either? No candidates? How are we to know for whom we are to vote?"

Mr. Rushmore said he was disgusted at having the question of politics continually brought up. If nominations were insisted on he should nominate every Councilman.

"Oh, no! You cannot nominate me!"—said Mr. Hetfield. Because I am already on the Water Committe.

President Moffett said that in all his experience he had never heard of such an election, which ought properly to be an appointment by the chair.

Mr. Rushmore retorted that if he were in the chair he should feel relieved of the responsibility. Mr. Rushmore also insisted that no nominations were necessary, but after Mr. Newhall made a speech favoring nominations he said he wouldn't object if they were made.

Mr. Hetfield thought it peculiar that Mr. Rushmore should coincide with Mr. Newhall on a proposition which he had rejected when coming from Mr. Hetfield.

Various nominations were made, but as most of the Councilmen declined to serve the matter was tabled, but not until after Mr. Hetfield had again scored Mr. Rushmore for seeking to make highest votes win and not majorities.

The people's sewerage bill, prepared carefully to meet Plainfield's exingencies, was presented by Mr. Hetfield for the special committee which had prepared it. The committee wished Council's unanimous endorsement of the bill, but as one or two amendments and delays were suggested, and as the bill was to come up at Trenton today, the bill was withdrawn from consideration.

Councilmen Newhall, Hetfield and Spangenberg were appointed a committee to confer with a citizens' committee to present to the Central Railroad reasons why the freight house should be removed and replaced by driveways and sidewalks. Messrs Hetfield and Spangenberg declined to serve. Mr. Rushmore declined. Mr. Newhall said that he should be glad to be relieved from serving, but when the President said he must work work he would. President Moffett insisted that the committee originally named serve. To Mr. Hetfield the citizens are indebted for bringing up the freight house matter for this action. The petitions in circulation for the removal have been signed by citizens representing seven-eighths of the city's taxable valuation.

The street railway matter was brought up by Mr. Smith for the Committee on Streets and discussed, but was referred back to the Committee for presentation in proper shape preparatory to the granting of a franchise. The probable route was announced as follows:

No. 1.—From North avenue railroad station through North avenue to Park ave., to Sixth st., to Plainfield ave, to Fourth st, to Monroe ave.

No. 2.—Fourth st., to Grant ave., to Front st., to Park ave., to North ave., to station.

No. 3—Somerset street from Front street to the city limits.

No. 4—North avenue to Peace street, to Broadway, to Woodland avenue, to La Grande avenue, to Broadway.

Necessary right of way has been secured all along the line.

Banquet of the Sons of St. Patrick.

The first annual banquet of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, which was held in St Mary's Hall, last evening, was the most thorough success in every way that could be imagined, and even surpassed the great expectations of the association.

There were 94 members and invited guests assembled at the table at 8:30 o'clock, when an eloquent address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Andrew E. Kenney, President of the Friendly Sons. A divine blessing was invoked by the Rev. Father Smyth, after which an elaborate and bountiful menu was enjoyed Then toast-master Kenney told of the object of the association, and began announcing the toasts.

The first was, "The Day We Celebrate," to which the Rev. Mr. Smyth responded in a most entertaining manner. The other toasts were as follows, each of which called forth an eloquent, interesting and humorous speech: "The State of New Jersey," Hon. John Ulrich; "The Press," Editor W. J. Leonard; "The United States," Mr. J. L. Anderson; "The Ladies," Hon. J. E. Martine. Music was interspersed, and the vocalists were the Rev. J. A. Stafford, John O'Rourke, E. J. Harding, John Trainor and Wm. Brown. The Rev. Mr. Stafford's songs were great successes, and called forth many encores.

The Rev. Father Freeman's address closed the evening's enjoyment. He thanked the Committee of Arrangements, of which Secretary T. A. McCarthy was the Chairman, for the enjoyable affair, and proposed three cheers for all who had a hand in the entertainment, which were heartily given.

BISMARCK RESIGNS

A Difference With the Emperor Said to be the Cause.

OFFICIALS STOP ALL TELEGRAMS

General Von Caprivi Mentioned as Prince Bismarck's Successor.

Excitement in Lisbon Over News From Nyassaland—The Labor Strikes in England Spreading—Dock Laborers Become Riotous—Meredith Read Out of Danger—The Pope's Reply.

BERLIN, March 18.—It is stated that both Prince Bismarck and Count Herbert Bismarck have resigned and that the Emperor has excepted the resignation of the Chancellor.

LONDON, March 18.—A Berlin despatch to the Daily News says that all telegrams are rigorously inspected by the authorities, and are stopped if they go beyond announcing rumors. The immediate and ostensible cause of the resignation of Prnice Bismarck is a divergence of opinion between the Chancellor and the Emperor concerning factory inspectors. It is reported that the Emperor has refused to accept Count Herbert Bismarck's resignation.

Gen. Von Caprivi is mentioned as the successor of the Chancellor.

The Times' Berlin correspondent says: "Something must have occurred in connection with the labor conference to cause Prince Bismarck's unexpected action. The Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, who arrived yesterday, appears to have failed in his attempt to mediate between the Emperor and the Chancellor."

The Standard's Berlin correspondent says: "The German officials decline to forward my message."

ENGLAND'S BIG STRIKE.

A Colossal Labor Movement Which May Involve Half a Million Men.

LONDON, March 18.—The strike of the miners has created a scarcity of coal. The several strikes have now assumed monstrous proportions and great damage and loss to business must result, besides suffering and destitution among the poorer classes.

Several Lancashire mills have been compelled to shut down because of lack of coal. Others are running on short time.

The attitude of the striking miners varies according to the manner in which their demands are met by the master. Twenty-thousand Tyneside engineers have gone on a strike.

Ten thousand miners in the northern districts of Wales have joined the strike.

The Liverpool coal carters have joined the miners strike.

A majority of the Nottinghamshire miners have gone back to the pits, the masters having granted a 5 per cent advance in their wages

Masters and Miners Meet.

LONDON, March 18.—A conference between the coal mine owners of Lancashire, Yorkshire, Staffordshire, Derbyshire and North Wales took place. As a result of its deliberations the conference decided to refuse the demands of the men for an immediate advance of 5 per cent. on their wages, with a further increase of 5 per cent. to go into operation in July next. The conference then designated representatives to meet a committee of the operatives on Thursday next. These representatives are instructed to endeavor to secure concerted action looking toward the establishment of such methods and regulations as will prevent further strikes.

Emperor William and the Pope.

BERLIN, March 18.—The Emperor William in a letter to the Pope informs him that he has appointed Bishop Kopp, of Breslau, one of the delegates to represent Germany at the Labor Conference and asserts that he depends upon the support of the Catholic clergy in settling the Social question.

In replying to the letter, the Pope thanked the Emperor for appointing Bishop Kopp and declared that himself and the church had always been interested in the question which he said would be best solved by the application of the principles advocated by Christian people which were Sunday rest an religious education.

Excitement in Lisbon.

LISBON, March 18.—The action of acting British Consul Buchanan in hoisting and saluting the British flag in the Shire district has created great excitement here. The Government is in receipt of advices from Mozambique stating that Buchanan had with him a large force of natives, well armed and officered by Europeans. The Government has formally protested to England against Buchanan's act. The British Legation here is strongly guarded to prevent an attack upon it by the excited populace. The Cabinet is in session.

The Parnell Commission Report.

LONDON, March 18.—Mr. Gladstone conferred with the Liberal leaders in the House of Lords yesterday, and it was decided that Lord Kimberly should move an amendment to Lord Salisbury's motion with reference to the Parnell Commission.

Riotous Dock Laborers.

LIVERPOOL, March 18.—The striking dock laborers have become riotous. Thirty thousand of them marched through the streets in procession and assumed an attitude so threatening that the magistracy were impelled to invoke the aid of the military, which has been called out.

Meredith Read Out of Danger.

PARIS, March 18.—Mr. Meredith Read, son of Gen. Meredith Read, formerly United States Minister to Greece, who was wounded in the throat while fencing on Friday last, is pronounced by his physicians to be entirely out of danger.

YALE STUDENTS DROWNED.

The Bodies of Two Young Men Washed Ashore at West Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 18.—The bodies of two Yale students, Edwin Rowe, Jr., a member of the senior scientific class, and Jarius Kennan, a member of the freshmen scientific class, were washed ashore at West Haven. Yesterday morning they hired a small sail-boat and went to Milford, about eight miles down the sound. They started for home about 5 o'clock in the afternoon against a strong wind and a heavy sea. They managed to work up to the entrance to this harbor, where their boat was dashed against the breakwater and the young men were thrown into the water and both of them were drowned.

Rowe is the son of Broker Edwin Rowe, of this city, and Kennan, who resided with Superintendent Sheperd of the New York & New Haven Road, is the son of a western railroad superintendent residing at Pine Bluff, Ark.

STUPENDOUS FRAUD.

Prominent Citizens of Virginia Said to be Involved.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 18.—It is reported here that the greatest sensation ever known in this section of the State will be developed to-morrow. The parties affected are said to be an official of Stafford County and the owner of a valuable and historic estate near this city.

Detectives have discovered alleged frauds of over two million dollars, and have been shadowing the accused parties at the instigation of a prominent Northern man.

A Pious Fraud Exposed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 18.—A pious fraud calling himself George E. Somer and claiming to have received degrees from Yale and Harvard, has just been exposed by Secretary Lotzee, of the Y. M. C. A. He came here five weeks ago and introduced himself to the Y. M. C. A., as a young man who wanted to reform. He claimed to have received the degree of M. D. at Yale and the LL. D. at Harvard and stated that his medical duties had exhausted him, and that he had given them up to accept a position as a reporter for the Associated Press. He was charged with being a fraud and confessed that he was. He gave up some of his personal property to pay his debts and was allowed to leave town.

Prefect King Indicted.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Harry W. King, prefect of the Institution for the Blind in this city, who was arrested on a charge of immoral practices on oath of one of the pupils of that institution, was indicted by the Grand Jury, a true bill of an odious crime being found against him. The offence is not a bailable one, and King will no doubt be railroaded. The maximum penalty for the offence is ten years in the penitentiary.

New Jersey Legislature.

TRENTON, N. J., March 18.—The Legislature held a quiet session. A number of new bills were introduced, including one by Assemblyman Kalisch of Newark, providing for bi-partisan police forces in the cities of the State. A resolution was passed providing for the appointment of a committee of three Senators and three Assemblymen to attend the launching of the cruiser Newark at Philadelphia to-morrow.

Miners' Widows Sue For Damages.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 18.—The widows of the eight men killed by the explosion of gas in the Nottingham mine about six weeks ago, have brought suit against the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company for damages aggregating $100,000, on the ground that the disaster was due to criminal negligence on the part of the company in not providing proper ventilation.

The Flack Conspiracy Case.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The sensation of the Flack trial so far was the examination of Judge Bookstaver. His testimony made it appear that Meeks was the head and front of the whole offending, and it was very damaging, taken in connection with other evidence, to that gentleman. So far the prosecution is proving a strong case.

An Ex-City Treasurer Indicted.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 18.—John A. Davis was indicted by the Grand Jury on the charge of embezzling $60,783.13 of the municipal funds while holding the office of city Treasurer. Davis was brought before Justice Adams of the Supreme Court, who admitted him to bail in the sum of $20,000.

John L. Sullivan's Case.

PLACING THE BLAME

Gross Negligence Caused the Bay View Disaster.

VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY

Conductor Houghtaling Personally Responsible for the Accident.

The Management of the Company Knew that Trains Were in an Unsafe Condition—A Strict Compliance With the Rules Would Have Prevented the Accident—Brakeman Beckwith Censured.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 19.—After deliberating five hours the jury in the inquest on the recent wreck on the Lake Shore road returned the following verdict:

"The management of the Lake Shore Railroad Company should be charged with gross negligence, for the reason that the rules and regulations for the running of their trains are not strictly enforced, and that the safety of passengers is endangered thereby; that the jury believe that Division Superintendent Couch has knowledge that passenger trains have been run on said road in an unsafe and crippled condition, and that a strict compliance with the rules would have prevented the accident.

"That conductor Houghtaling is personally responsible for the accident for these reasons: First, for leaving Dunkirk with air brakes and five cars crippled: second, for not having safety chains adjusted between the coach and sleeper: third, for not placing a trainman on the cars after the first break so as to protect the train in case of a second break: fourth, for pulling the bell cord to stop the front section, in violation of the rules.

"Daniel Beckwith, the front brakeman, is severely censured for leaving the train without first notifying the passengers that the train had parted and that there was danger; that the air brakes that stopped the first portion of the parted train were set by some person or persons to the jury unknown."

A Stay for the Navassa Rioters.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 19.—Judges Bond and Morris of the United States Circuit Court granted writs of error in the cases of George S. Key, Henry Jones and Edward Smith, the three negroes convicted of murder at Navassa Island, and heretofore sentenced to be hanged on March 28th. The court also grants a stay of execution until the United States Supreme Court takes action. The exceptions taken show that a foreign vessel having loaded after April 16, 1889, at the island the Navassa Company's charter was abrogated; also that the United States had no jurisdiction on the island provided the above point be well taken.

Beck protested. The majority of the Common Council favored Beck, but Brennan obtained an injunction restraining them from seating Beck.

The injunction order is returnable at Albany next Wednesday. The board of canvassers will probably be arraigned this afternoon, and will give bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Mr. Woodman's bill, providing that devises to religious corporations must be duly executed at least a month before the death of the testator, was lost.

In the Senate the bill conferring power on the courts to appoint two commissioners of juries precipitated a party discussion, being advocated by Mr. Gardner (Rep.) and opposed by Mr. Adrian (Dem.). The measure was finally passed by a strict party vote.

Other bills passed by the Senate were as follows:

Messrs. Candler, Hitt, Springer and Wilson voted for this, and the amendment was carried.

LANDLORD MILLER'S LICENSE IN DANGER.

But If the Place Was "Open," Why Did Chief Carey Go Round Through the Office?

Joseph B. Miller, one of the proprietors of Laing's Hotel, and the person in whose name the license to sell liquor therein is granted, was arraigned by Chief of Police Carey, yesterday afternoon, before Judge Codington on the charge of having his barroom open after eleven o'clock at night, and permitting persons to congregate therein. The witnesses summoned and mentioned in the complaint as being present, were Messrs Elmore D. Moffett, Walter L. Hetfield and Arthur T. Gallup.

The accused was present in court, and in the absence of any counsel pleaded for himself, "not guilty." An examination was set down for Wednesday afternoon of next week, and he was discharged on his own recognizance. The story of the case as told by the unprejudiced, is as follows:

At the close of Monday evening's meeting, Councilmen Moffett, Hetfield and Gallup walked down to Laing's hotel on their way home. They found the barroom closed, and went into the office. Landlord Joe Miller taking pity on the thirsty trio who had been talking water, water everywhere without a drop to drink, for three hours, opened the door leading from the office to the barroom, lighted the latter, and "accomodated his guests" with what they wanted.

Chief Carey and Officer Giesse had followed the Councilmen, and standing on a chair on the porch outside the barroom, they peeped through the window and over the curtain. As the barroom doors were none of them open, the Chief was compelled to go round through the office and "catch them in the act," as his mouth-organ terms it. Three disinterested witnesses, however, are said to be ready to swear that the Chief forced open the office door to get in.

Today a complaint has been drawn up making the more serious charge against Landlord Miller, of "selling liquor" after eleven o'clock. The same witnesses are cited. But up to the time of going to press, Chief Carey had not sworn to this complaint.

In Memoriam.

The following was adopted at a special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital:

In consideration of the interest manifested and efficient service rendered towards Muhlenberg Hospital, by our colaborer and departed friend, Mrs. Burlingham; we, the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board, do hereby express our sincere appreciation of her intrinsic worth and faithfulness through these many years as Treasurer of our organization. We shall miss her genial presence and kindly greeting, for she has been (with only a short interruption) a constant attendant at our meetings. But we would remember that our loss is her great gain, and while we mourn her absence we cannot but rejoice that her wish has been granted, in that she is no longer separated from the dear ones gone before. We also realize that the Hospital has lost a valuable friend, inasmuch as Dr. Burlingham, being one of its founders, had evinced such devotion to its needs, she desired to assist in carrying on this charitable enterprise from which he had been removed; and her good works will necessarily follow her, for "she hath done what she could." May her example of faithfulness and loyalty to the Heavenly Father stimulate us to nobler purposes, that we, like her, shall be ready when the Master calls; whether it be in the morning, at noon or at night. We would also remember the friends bereft of a loving sister and relative. May they find comfort in the memory of a life fraught with beneficent labor, and may the abiding spirit rest upon them and us all, guiding us into perfectness and preparing us for whatever He, in His wisdom, is preparing for us.

Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson,
Mrs. H. M. Eaton, } Com.

AT REST.

The Remains of the Late Mrs. Burlingham Tenderly Laid in Evergreen Cemetery.

A scene of sadness was enacted at the First Baptist church, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, where many people had gathered to pay their last tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Dr. Burlingham, who died at Los Angeles, Cal., on the 6th instant. The body of the church was filled with relatives and friends of the family, and among the mourners were noticed many colored people, with whom Mrs. Burlingham had labored in a spiritual and christian way. Besides there were present many members of the W. C. T. U., the Board of Managers of Muhlenberg Hospital, of which Mrs. Burlingham was treasurer of the Auxiliary Board, members of the city clergy, a large delegation from Mt. Olive Baptist church, and representatives from Mt. Olive Baptist church, and from other religious bodies. The physicians of the city were also largely represented.

The service at the house consisted wholly of a prayer by the Rev. Dr. Yerkes, but when the funeral cortege arrived at the church, the services were of an impressive nature. The Rev. Drs. Yerkes, Lewis and Ketcham, led the funeral march to the foot of the altar, followed by the casket, borne on the shoulders of six of the undertaker's assistants, young colored men from the Mount Olive Sunday school, in whose company Mrs. Burlingham had labored and worked with earnest zeal for years. While the casket—ladened with a beautiful wreath of flowers from the Hospital, a handsome bunch of calla lilies from Mt. Olive Baptist Sunday school and another beautiful bunch of callas, the gift of Miss Schipper, a near and dear friend—was being carried in and out of the church, the mourners and friends remained standing.

A quartette, consisting of Mrs. J. K. Myers, Miss Alice Holmes, Messrs E. E. Runyon and Arthur Freeman, with Mr. Gaylord as accompanist, sang some beautiful and appropriate selections during the service.

The Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis read the scripture, and the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes preached the sermon. The latter told of Mrs. Burlingham's confession of Christ, and of her joining the Baptist church many years ago. Her early years, he said, were passed in Illinois; part of her life she lived in New York State, but for many years she resided here. Dr. Yerkes characterized Mrs. Burlingham as a woman of intellectual ability, great strength of character and with the gentleness of childhood. She was not a woman of society, he said, but one who walked in the paths of happiness and contentment; she was known by her works. Dr. Yerkes told how Mrs. Burlingham had extended her christianity beyond the Relief Association, in which Association she was elected one of the first in an official way, and how her acts of charity had co-operated with other charitable institutions. Mrs. Burlingham also organized a night school among the colored people for the cultivation and elevation of the race.

He paid other fitting tributes to the deceased, alluding to the husband and four children who have gone before, adding, that she had now gone to join them in the Father's mansion. The choir sang beautifully, "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping," after which the Rev. Dr. Ketcham made the closing prayer.

At the grave in Evergreen cemetery the Rev. Dr. Yerkes conducted the usual committal service, and the Rev. Dr. Lewis pronounced the benediction.

Funeral of the Late J. Newton Jenkins.

The funeral of the late J. Newton Jenkins, who died early on Sunday morning, took place from his late home, corner of Sixth and Washington streets at eleven o'clock to-day, the house being densely filled with the relatives and friends of the family, including delegates from Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum and from Winfield Scott Post, No. 73 G. A. R., both of which organizations Mr. Jenkins was a member of.

Beautiful and appropriate music was rendered by Mrs. C. B. Mitchell and Mrs. N. Hull. The floral display included a handsome crown from the Royal Arcanum, a floral badge from Post, No. 73, a bunch of lilies from the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, and several other smaller designs from friends.

The Rev. C. B. Mitchell conducted the services, and spoke eulogistically of Mr. Jenkins, as a true Christian, and a kind and loving husband and father. He also offered prayer. The remains were interred in the Methodist cemetery.

The evening's programme included vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc., besides a bountiful collation.

The 106 Who Have Subscribed the Money for the "Boys' Club"—A Meeting to be Held Friday Evening.

The public meeting to organize the Boy's Club will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. J. C. Collins of New Haven, Conn., so widely known as the successful organizer of Boys' Clubs, has accepted the invitation to address the meeting. Superintendent Randall Spaulding, of Montclair, New Jersey, has also kindly consented to come and speak upon Manual Training. With such an array of talent, the meeting ought to be a most interesting one.

All subscribers and all interested in this movement are earnestly requested to be present, and not only use their influence to make the meeting a large one, but also to give the visiting speakers a welcome worthy of Plainfield. A special invitation is extended to the City Council and the Board of Education to be present. It is desired that the city form this new society which seems to have aroused much warm interest. The meeting will elect all officers and managers. Keep in mind that this Boys' Club will start, as the city decides.

OFFICERS OF THE FRATERNAL CIRCLE.

Their Election and Installation.

A regular meeting of the Fraternal Circle was held in the Sons of Temperance rooms on Monday evening. Supreme Deputy McKenzie of Newark, called the meeting to order, and Mr. Geo. Carpenter was elected President pro tem. Mr. Wm. Mills was the Secretary. The following officers were elected, and later in the evening they were installed by Supreme Deputy McKenzie assisted by Chas. Haywood of Newark, as Supreme Marshal:

P. W. P.—George Rockafellow.
W. P.—George Carpenter.
W. V. P.—Mr. Sack.
W. S.—Wm. W. Mills.
W. M. E.—Dr. Andrew Manning.
W. C.—Mrs. S. A. Mattox.
W. M.—Mrs. P. Manchester.
W. G.—W. J. Mattox.

After the election and installation services, the meeting adjourned until Wednesday evening next, when new applications for membership will be received.

MRS. THOROUGHGOOD'S THOROUGH BAD HUSBAND.

She's Hunting Him, But Claims the Yellow Widow Brown Has Him Hid.

Mrs. Thoroughgood, who claims to be the mother of four children and a resident of Newark, was in this city yesterday hunting for her husband said to be a former barber at the Hotel Netherwood. She wants him to contribute to the support of her children, at least.

Mrs. Thoroughgood claims she has positive proof that her husband has been living with Mrs. Brown, a yellow-skinned widow of Plainfield who is quite a belle among her race here. The recreant husband has been sought for before, but it is said that Mrs. Brown always "had him hid." All the parties concerned are colored.

That tired, debilitated feeling, so peculiar to Spring, indicates depraved blood. Now is the time to prove the beneficial effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the system, restores physical energy, and and infuses new life and vigor into every fibre of the body.

NORTH PLAINFIELD SCHOOL MEETING.

Reports of the Trustees Received—Mr. E. L. Bonney Elected Trustee in Place of Mr. Geo. F. Brown.

The voters of North Plainfield met in the school house, last evening for the purpose of electing one trustee, receiving the annual reports, and ordering a district tax to pay the school expenses and the salaries of the teachers for the coming year. Hon. Chas. Place was elected Chairman. The Secretary read the call, after which Mr. Geo. F. Brown, the District Clerk made his annual report of the receipts and disbursements in substance as follows:

Total receipts	$19,420.90
Total expenditures	13,609.05
Balance on hand	$ 5,811.85

Teachers' salaries	$ 8,300
Janitor	550
School supplies	250
Building supplies	300
Repairs, etc.	300
Fuel	300
Incidentals	200

The report stated that $6,200 was expected from the State, and that $4,000 was necessary in the District for the coming year. The report was received and filed.

President H. K. Carroll of the Board of Trustees, made a supplementary report in which he stated that the average attendance since the school opened in September has been 550. The total enrollment is 669. Of the latter number 461 belong to classes which occupy the first floor, thus indicating an excess over the normal capacity of the floor of 161 scholars. These 161 scholars have been provided for by over-crowding some of the rooms and placing a class in the basement. One class of 132 scholars was also divided into morning and afternoon sessions. The report went on to urge the necessity for increased school facilities. There has been but one change in the corps of teachers. Miss McCoy has been placed in charge of the sixth grade, to fill a vacancy caused by resignation. "Our teachers," says the report, "are a faithful and competent body of instructors, and are steadily increasing the efficiency of the school." The report was filed.

Mr. E. L. Bonney was elected a trustee to succeed Mr. Geo. F. Brown who refused to accept a reelection.

A recommendation of the trustees to raise $4,000 for school purposes was adopted.

A long discussion followed on the matter of increasing the number of school trustees from three to five, but a motion to increase the number was lost.

The meeting then adjourned.

TWO LOST AND TWO WON.

The Crescent League Team Rolling Big Scores in the Tournament.

The Crescent bowling team went to Elizabeth, Monday evening, and rolled two games in the tournament series with the team of that place. Although the Plainfielders put up high scores for their class, they were unable, of course, to defeat those who train among the State champions.

Thiers and VanEmburgh had the excellent averages of 168 and 169, and the work of all the Crescent five gave entire satisfaction to their many supporters present. The scores were:

CRESCENT.	1st	2d	ELIZABETH.	1ST	2D
VanEmburgh	170	167	Hellmer	175	164

C. Teel	164	143	Turnbull	156	179

The same evening the Somersets, of Somerville, met the Mondays, of Westfield, on the latter's alleys with the following result:

Seely	143	154	Conklin	119	125
	665	737		685	612

Last evening, however, the Crescents jumped on the Fanwoods and took two games. The match was rolled on the Crescent League alleys. There were a number of ladies present. For the third contest in succession the Plainfield team put up over 800. VanEmburgh scored 214 in the second game, and his average was 197. Rogers scored 193 in the first game, making three strikes on his wind-up. The score was:

CRESCENT.	1ST	2D	FANWOOD	1ST	2D
VanEmburgh	189	214	Force	171	130

It's Bad Enough

To fool away one's precious time in experimenting with uncertain medicines, when one is afflicted, without being out of pocket as well. The only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, possessed of positive curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in guaranteeing it to cure, or money paid for it returned, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. For all liver, blood and lung diseases it is specific.

—Mr. Frank Smith, the courteous and efficient clerk at the City Hotel, today severed his connection with the hotel, to accept a more remunerative position in the city.

Upon a fair trial I find Salvation Oil the best cure for rheumatism I have ever known. It gives relief more quickly, and always does its work. Joshua Zimmerman, Wetheredville, Md.

Chronic coughers are bores to the community and should be forced to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

—"Sweet Lavender," will be the next attraction at Music Hall, on Monday evening, the 24th inst.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. Chandler, Junction, Va.

Uncertainty of the Political Situation in Germany.

EUROPE INTENSELY EXCITED.

Leading French Newspapers Display Anxiety for the Future.

A Rupture of the Peace Alliance Predicted—Count Herbert Bismarck May Remain—The Emperor Has Called a Meeting of the Commanders of His Army—Socialists Wild With Delight.

BERLIN, March 19.—Emperor William has accepted the resignation of Prince Bismarck of the Chancellorship.

All the members of the Prussian ministry resigned when Prince Bismarck tendered his resignation.

The National Zeitung says the gratitude toward the restorer of German unity which is filling the hearts of Germans at this time prove that Prince Bismarck will long be regarded as the personification of Germany's growth and prosperity even though other men carry on his work. The Zeitung believes that Count Herbert Bismarck will remain in office, and asserts that the Prussian Ministry has not resigned, as has been reported.

The Tagblatt attributes the resignation of Prince Bismarck entirely to his disagreement with the Emperor's policy of Social legislation. The Bourse was only slightly affected.

It is asserted that Count Herbert Bismarck has on several occasions recently hinted that he should soon be obliged to resign, and it is recalled that lately his demeanor has become entirely changed, so that his manner appeared to be habitually gloomy.

The leaders of the Catholic party are strongly urging the Vatican to allow Catholics to vote in political elections without reserve.

The Socialists are wild with glee. They claim that Bismarck's downfall is distinctly due to them, and their journals, in the excess of their delight, are very unguarded in their expressions. Prosecutions will doubtless follow.

Why the Chancellor Resigned.

BERLIN, March 19.—It is stated that the difference between the Emperor William and Prince Bismarck consists of the refusal on the part of the Chancellor to accede to a request by Herr Windthorst, the leader of the clerical party, to restore to the Duke of Cumberland, the claimant of the throne of Hanover, the larger part of the Guelph fund.

Dr. Windthorst Will Wait.

BERLIN, March 19.—In the lower house of the Prussian Diet when the public worship estimates came up Dr. Windthorst stated that it had been his intention to review the position of the Catholics in Prussia, but owing to the uncertainty of the political situation he had concluded to postpone his remarks.

Anxiety in France.

PARIS, March 19.—The Temps, the Debats and other leading French journals display anxiety for the future in consequence of Prince Bismarck's resignation.

Will Lead to a Rupture.

VIENNA, March 19.—The Austrian Government, press and public greatly fear that the resignation of Prince Bismarck will lead to a rupture of the peace alliance.

The Emperor and the Army.

BERLIN, March 19.—The Emperor has called a meeting of the commanders of the various army corps. He had a conference with the Minister of War last evening.

ENGLAND'S BIG STRIKE.

The Supply of Coal Rapidly Growing Less and Mine Owners Weakening.

LONDON, March 19.—Many more of the mine owners in Nottinghamshire and Lancashire have conceded the demands of the men. The outlook for a victory for the striking miners grows more favorable hourly.

The supply of coal owing to the strike is rapidly growing less. The cotton mills are shutting down on account of the scarcity of fuel at Acrington, Blackburn, Bury and Bolton. The Southwestern Railroad Company has also been compelled to stop the waiting-room fires.

The demands of 1800 striking colliers at Sheffield have been conceded by the owners. This example will greatly influence other owners and stimulate the men, whose chances of winning everywhere are now excellent.

The Committee of the striking colliers resolved to meet the mine owners' committee to-morrow.

The Liverpool Dock Strike.

LONDON, March 19.—The strike of the Liverpool dock laborers shows signs of collapsing. The leaders of the strike have lost control of the men, and the latter are very much disposed to arbitrate. New hands are arriving at a rapid rate.

Mrs. Flack on the Stand.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Mrs. Flack appeared as a witness in the Flack conspiracy case. She contradicted herself in several instances, but she rigidly maintained that while she had signed documents agreeing to a separation she had not signed the papers upon which the divorce was granted. She had some difficulty in identifying her signatures, but she steadily maintained her ignorance of the divorce proceedings from first to last. She wept constantly while testifying.

Escaped from the Officers.

HAMILTON, Ont., March 19.—Thomas Boggs of Pittsburg, Pa., an ex-furniture dealer of this city, who failed some time ago, with liabilities of $50,000 and small assets, was in the city last week and one of the creditors had a capias issued against him to arrest him for debt. Boggs got wind of the affair and when the sheriff and officers went to his mother's house to arrest him he had left for the states.

More Arrests in New York.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Two more deputy sheriffs have been arrested, and it is expected that the Grand Jury will find more indictments. There is a great stir in local political circles over the arrests.

IS GEN. FAULKNER ALIVE?

A Story that His Gardener Was Buried in His Stead.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 19.—A story regarding Lester B. Faulkner, at one time a State Senator, and also chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and lately president of the National Bank of Dansville, is being circulated.

It will be remembered that Faulkner was convicted of being the cause of wrecking the bank, and was sentenced to prison for ten years. An appeal was taken and before a decision was reached Faulkner was presumably taken ill and died.

It was asserted in the Senate Chamber that there is positive evidence that Faulkner is alive and in Mexico. It is asserted that his gardener was buried in his stead.

LEGISLATION AT ALBANY.

A Number of Bills Passed by the Senate and House.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 19.—In the Assembly the bill appropriating $5,000 for the improvement of the canal outlet in Onondaga County was passed.

Mr. Decker's bill for the relief of G. E. Fuller, a militia man who lost an arm 35 years ago came up. The bill was lost.

The following bills were also passed: The Thomas R. Leet Claim bill. Mr. McCarren's bill allowing the Brooklyn Board of Estimate to pay $10,000 annually for ten years to the widows' and orphans' funds of volunteer fire associations.

The Senate spent a long while discussing the $8,000,000 appropriation bill and changed it considerably. They cut it to the amount of $25,500. The items reduced were: Dairy Commission, $5,000, Hudson River House of Refuge, $40,000; Second Judicial district judges, $2,500. The appropriation for the Elmira Reformatory was increased $20,000, an additional $5,000 was voted to the Custodial Asylum at Newark, Wayne County, and the Binghamton Asylum gets $2,000 more. The bill was then passed, and will go back to the Assembly for concurrence in the amendments

Forged His Blind Wife's Name.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 19.—Ex-Policeman Michael Sagerton was arraigned before Justice Borden charged with forging his wife's name to a note for $489. Mrs. Sagerton denies the signature and says she never knew of the note until she received notice of protest. Mrs. Sagerton lost her sight almost completely some years ago, and since then her husband has transacted most of her business. Justice Borden committed him for hearing before the Grand Jury.

Pennington Seminary's Debt.

MILLVILLE, N. J., March 19.—The educational committee of the Methodist Episcopal conference reported a plan for liquidating the debt of Pennington Seminary. They recommend that the trustees raise $20,000 by private subscription, and that the pastors raise $12,000 in the churches. The report was adopted. The following laymen were added to the board of trustees of Pennington Seminary: Wm. Nelson of Patterson, Judge Frankfort, Newark, and Andrew K. Bowen, Trenton.

Troubles of Glass Workers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 19.—The strike of the Liverpool stevedores has caused a sudden scarcity of chemicals here, and William Dillon, secretary of the American Flint Glass Workers' Association, said yesterday that many factories would in all probability be compelled to shut down. The flint, tableware and chimney manufactures will be the heaviest losers.

Wrestler Miller Arrested.

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—Sebastian Miller, the champion Graeco-Roman wrestler of Germany, was arrested here for an alleged criminal outrage upon Miss Amelia Lutz, aged 14 years, and niece of Fred Messenaur of the Casino Theatre. The outrage was committed last Friday afternoon and the assailant lies in prison.

Pennsylvania's Board of Pardons.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 19.—The Board of Pardons considered several cases but no decisions were announced. The case of Joseph and David Nicely, of Somerset County, murder in the first degree, was continued, and permission given to take testimony outside of Somerset County.

Another Mine Explosion.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., March 19.—Foreman Heaton, while descending a manway in Packer colliery, No. 4, at Lost Creek, set fire to a body of gas. Two miners, Fred Foltz and Charles Link, were killed by the explosion of the gas, and Heaton was so badly burned that his recovery is doubtful.

Purchased by Hon. Frank Jones.

CONCORD, N. H., March 19.—It is authoritatively stated that the block of Concord railroad stock, consisting of 5,190 shares, owned by the Northern Railroad, has been purchased by the Hon. Frank Jones, President of the Boston & Maine. The price bid is said to have been over $150 per share.

BURNED TO DEATH

Seven Men Lose Their Lives in a Burning Mine.

A FOREMAN'S SELF-SACRIFICE.

He Heroically Attempts to Save His Companions and is Lost.

The Origin of the Fire Unknown—Searching Parties Exploring With Torches. Two Explosions in a Mine in Pennsylvania—One Life Lost by Fire Damp and Several Persons Injured.

HURLEY, Wis., March 20.—A big fire is raging in the Germania mine, and five men have been burned to death.

One life might have been spared but for the brave impulse which, after he had escaped, started Hugh Waller back into the smoking pit in search of his companions. He died in a noble endeavor.

The dead are William Banks, James Thomas, Hugh Waller, Jimmy Sullivan, Joseph Thomas and two strangers.

It was about midnidnight when fire was discovered in No. 2 shaft, at the third level. The alarm was quickly given to the force of men at work in the mine, but in spite of their efforts to escape four of the men were cut off. The fire burned fiercely, and soon found its way to the surface and destroyed the shaft-house and threatened the engine and boiler-house. The entire timbering of the shaft and the rooms in that part of the mine will doubtless be destroyed.

As soon as it became known that several men were in the burning shaft, searching parties were organized and sent into the mine to rescue the missing men or find their bodies. Waller came to the surface once and returned to look for his companions, and there is no doubt that he suffocated and fell down the shaft.

The bodies of James Thomas and his son were found shortly before noon on the fourth level, near No. 3 shaft. Could they have gone twenty-five feet further they would have been saved. The loss so far will reach about $100,000. All efforts to stay the flames have proved unsuccessful.

SEVERE GAS EXPLOSION.

Several Persons Seriously Injured and One Man Killed by After-Damp.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 20.—While an engineering corps and a few laborers were at work in the Midvale colliery of the Lehigh Company near Mill Creek, a naked lamp carried by fire-boss Patrick Hays caused a severe explosion of gas, and the timbers caught fire. The fire soon caused a second and more severe explosion of gas, tearing nearly all the woodwork of the mine to pieces.

Hays was badly burned on the face and hands. Two engineers were knocked down but not seriously injured. William Jones, aged 17, was seriously hurt. After the fire had been extinguished a Hungarian, name unknown, was killed by after-damp, and Thomas Devan suffered so severe injury from the same cause that he is lying at the point of death.

FELL DOWN IN A HEAP.

The Roof of a Wrecked Building Falls on Workmen.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 20.—About 1 p. m. the east wall of the Becker block, adjoining the Bowen-Merrill building crashed down on the top of the ruins of Monday evening's fire.

For a time the wildest rumors of disaster were afloat, but after a full investigation it was learned that but two men had been hurt, though many had narrow escapes. Those injured were but slightly hurt.

After the crash Mayor Sullivan inspected the ruins and ordered that the front wall of the Bowen-Merrill building be torn down. This was done, and a half hour later the Becker building, a narrow four-story structure, occupied by a notion store, fell down in a heap. Then the flames broke out again in the ruins and have not been wholly extinguished, though a flood of water has been poured into the wreckage.

There is no fear of further loss of life, though the three-story stone-front building occupied by George W. Sloan, druggist, is regarded as unsafe and there are fears that the dry goods house of H. P. Wasson may also succumb.

A Crippled Fire Department.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 20.—The recent catastrophe has killed or crippled two-fifths of the Fire Department. Of the 86 men on the pay rolls, twenty-nine went down in the wreck and several others were injured by the falling rubbish and are not able for duty. The relief fund thus far raised aggregates nearly $7,000, including the $200 sent by President Harrison. Attorney-General Miller sent $100.

Organizing Miners.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 20.—A dispatch from P. McBride of city says he has organized a branch of the United Mine Workers at Lincoln, Ill. The objects are to federate the mines of the Springfield, Ill., district, to ask for a uniform price of 72 1-2 cents. per ton for mining coal, instead of the present rate 60 cents per ton, and the enforcement of the eight hours system on and after May 1st. The organization embraces two-thirds of the active miners of that city and county.

Terrific Northeast Gale.

CHATHAM, Mass., March 20.—A terrific northeast gale, with blinding snow prevailed all night. Several schooners outside were caught, and it is feared some of them may not have been able to find their way over the shoals to anchorage.

BIG DRY GOODS FAILURE.

John F. Plummer of New York Makes an Assignment.

NEW YORK, March 20.—John F. Plummer, Albert F. Plummer, and Wm. S. Darling, dealers in dry goods at 345 Broadway, made an assignment to Jeremiah P. Murphy. Mr. John F. Plummer also made an individual assignment to Mr. Murphy.

The assignee, Mr. Murphy is bookkeeper of the firm. He says the liabilities are $1,000,000, and the assets nominally about the same, but their real value cannot be stated until schedules are prepared. The firm did a business of about $5,000,000 a year. It was founded in 1856. It represents several large mills, including the New England, the Hockanum, the Springville, the Dawson and the North Adams. It also controlled the Satinet mills, and Mr. Murphy says the trouble was caused by carrying too much satinet stock, and by the unfavorable winter for heavy dress goods.

John F. Plummer is a well known Republican, and for the past few years has taken a prominent part in politics

HOUGHTALING ARRESTED.

Rumor of Indictments Against High Officials of the Lake Shore Road.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 20.—In accordance with the verdict of the Coroner's jury, Conductor Houghtaling was arraigned in the police court charged, under section 424 of the Penal Code, with violation of duty as a railroad conductor.

Houghtaling pleaded not guilty, and was held in $500 to appear at the Court of Sessions. Conviction of the offense means imprisonment for not more than a year or a fine of $500, or both.

It is now rumored that several indictments for manslaughter may be found by the Grand Jury against railroad men holding higher positions than that of conductor.

The Lake Shore Railroad Company discharged Conductor Houghtaling and Engineer Mooney for violating the company's rules and causing the recent fatal disaster at Bay View.

ALBANY LAWMAKERS.

The Legislature Decides on April 30th for Final Adjournment.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 20.—The General Registration bill has passed the Senate by a vote of 26 to 3—Messrs. Erwin Coggeshall and Van Gorden in the negative.

The Assembly unanimously passed a concurrent resolution fixing April 30th for final adjournment.

Defrauding Business Men.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 20.—United States officers from Lockport are looking up a gang of men who have been carrying on a scheme to defraud business firms throughout the country. A great many firms have been victimized by them, a majority of them being in New York. Others were scattered through Rochester, Cleveland, and some in Buffalo. The plan on which the Lockport gang worked was to send orders for goods to these firms on display letter heads through the mails. Bogus references were given and the goods were sent. The goods were sold at a ridiculously low figure by the operators. Deputy Marshal Pomeroy in tracing the gang located them in Canada, and a few days ago arrested John Day, who is believed to be one of them. Day belongs to Toronto, but was visiting some friends near Lockport at the time of his capture. Other arrests are expected.

Resurrecting Old Claims.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., March 20—The estate of Hon. S. B. Chase, of New Milford, who failed in 1884, was about to be settled finally by the assignee recently, when J. I. Blair of New Jersey presented a claim of $20,000 in the shape of a mortgage on the Bangor slate quarry. He claimed to have never received notice of audit. Another debt of $1,000 has now been found, held by the Hogden & Summer Bank of New Milford, which recently collapsed. These two claims amount to more than all the rest put together, and it is feared others will still be found.

Snow Fifty Feet Deep.

DENVER, March 20.—An opening has been made on the Denver and Rio Grande route, over Cumbres Mountain, after many weeks of labor. The snow for miles along the track, is from ten to thirty feet deep, and at points fifty feet. Section houses, stations and other buildings have been buried for weeks. Citizens of Durango and other towns in the southwest part of the State were getting down to short rations. Coal oil gave out a month ago.

Farmers Organize.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 20.—A largely attended meeting of farmers and milk producers was held here for the purpose of organizing a local branch of the Central Union. Addresses were made by Mr. C. C. Smith, sceretary of the Central Union, and others. The following officers were elected: President, N. M. Bliss, of Hobart; vice-president, S. Van Dyck, of Roxbury; secretary, T. E. Barlow, of Gardiner; treasurer, George W. Dubois, of New Paltz.

Father Burns Resigns.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 20.—The sensation of the hour is the sudden resignation of Rev. H. C. Burns, the priest in charge of St. John's German Catholic Church. The tongues of his parishioners had been busy with his reputation, which made the priest indignant. He publishes a letter in which he resigns his pastorate, and on taking leave of the people he wrote: "I will allow no member of my church, be it a he or a she, black or white, to use me for a pincushion or foot ball." Father Burns declared that the allegations made against him were false, and proposes to make things decidedly interesting for his traducers.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The President and Senator Sewall Go Duck Hunting

ON MARYLAND'S SHORE TO-DAY.

If the Sport is Good They Will Remain Away Until Saturday.

Planing for the World's Fair—A Vote to be Taken on the Blair Bill To-Day. The Firemens' Medal the Finest Ever Struck—Electing National Officers. Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The President, accompanied by ex-Senator Sewall, of New Jersey, left Washington on a duck-shooting trip to the lower Chesapeake Bay.

A dispatch from Baltimore says the President and ex-Senator William J. Sewall reached the club-house of the Benjie's Point Ducking Club about 6 o'clock last night, after a drive in a Dayton wagon of about four miles. The President and Mr. Sewell were met at the station by Mr. E. C. Knight, of Philadelphia. At the club-house to receive the party were Mr. Edward S. Clark, E. C. Knight, Jr., and Col. R. Dale Benson.

The President went into the blinds early this morning to try his luck with the gun and the canvas backs. He may return to Washington to-morrow, but if the sport is good will remain until Saturday.

The President said that he came to the shore in order to be as free from care as possible. He has needed recreation for some time, and a trip to Florida was at first contemplated. It was suggested, however, that he would have to make speeches at every town and city on his way down, and so he decided to go to Benjie's Point. He had been elected an honorary member of the Benjie's Point Ducking Club.

THE WORLD'S FAIR BILL.

The Money Guaranteed and the Fair to be Opened April 30, 1892.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Mr. Candler of Massachusetts presented in the House the report of the special committee on the World's Fair. It says that as by the vote of the House the city of Chicago was selected as the place for holding the Fair of 1892, the committee has inserted the name in the bill, and has consulted with the representatives of that city for the purpose of perfecting and improving it.

The bill submitted differs in some essential features from the original bill. The representation of the Territories and the District of Columbia has been increased from one to two commissioners from each, and provision is also made for the appointment of eight commissioners at large. The commission is designated as "The World's Columbian Commission." The bill also dispenses with the United States corporation, which it was proposed to create by the Congress of the United States. The necessary $10,000,000 is guaranteed, and the Fair is to be opened on April 30, 1892.

The minority report, signed by Messrs. Belden of New York, Hatch of Missouri, and Flower of New York is as follows:

"The undersigned, members of the World's Fair Select Committee, respectfully dissent from the foregoing report and its conclusions. We believe that the following resolution, which we voted in favor of in committee, should have been adopted:

Resolved, That when a guarantee fund of $10,000,000 shall be secured by the citizens of Chicago, the sufficiency and legality of which shall be satisfactory to this committee, we report the pending bill with such amendments as the committee may agree upon.

Electing National Officers.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The House Committee on the Election of the President and Vice-President and Representatives in Congress had under consideration the bill introduced in the House by Mr. McComas of Maryland to prevent gerrymandering of Congressional districts and passed on three or four sections. A special meeting of the committee has been called for Saturday when the bill will be considered further and probably finished.

Vote on the Blair Bill To-Day.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—At 3 p. m. to-day the final vote on the passage of the Blair Educational bill will be taken. There seems little doubt now that the bill will pass by a majority variously estimated at from four to eight votes. several Senators have joined the ranks of the friends of the bill within the past few days, and Mr. Blair is correspondingly happy.

Serious Breaks in Levees.

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 20.—Two serious breaks occurred in the levees north of this place—one at Lunar, Ark., and the other on the Mississippi side, in Miller's Bend, six miles below Arkansas City. This water will flood the town of Greenville, and will overflow all that section of the Yazoo delta west of Deer Creek and north of Yazoo River. The break is 75 feet wide.

Charged With Fraud.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 20.—Burt & Snow, wholesale woolen dealers, have been attached for $5,000 by Mr. Oelbermann, of New York. Burt is charged with fraud. The firm failed last September for $115,000, and settled for 25 cents on the dollar after obtaining a reduction of liabilities to $98,000.

$1,000 Reward for a Murderer.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 20.—In pursuance of an act of the Legislature, Gov. Hill has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer or murderers of Maggie Hourigan, who was murdered at Middle Falls last October.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Marion A. Taggart of Broadway, has returned from her visit at Sewaren.

Mr. Clinton VanVliet was elected a member of the Plainfield Crescent League last evening.

The Rev. George Angleman of this city, who has been admitted to the ministry by the Kansas Conference, is at home for a brief vacation.

Mr. M. D. Campbell, representing Mr. William Wilson, the wholesale and retail nurseryman of Geneva, N. Y., is a guest at Force's Hotel.

Mr. W. Allen Schutt of Duer street, North Plainfield, left last night for the central part of Illinois, where he goes to accept a position on his uncle's stock farm.

The engagement is announced of Miss Hattie Burnett, of Central avenue, and Mr. Lincoln B. Goodrich, brother of the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, and acting Principal of the public schools.

Mr. C. W. Smith of North avenue, a foreman at the Scott Press works, was presented by his wife with a 11½ pound baby boy this morning. The family now consists of father, mother, two sons and two daughters.

Master Johnnie Kyle who is two years old today, was born on the same day, of the same month and in the same house, as his half brother Jimmie Kyle was seven years before. They are a pair of bright ones, too.

Mr. W. R. Babcock and family, of Brooklyn, have rented the home on Webster place formerly occupied by ex-Councilman Stover. Mr. Babcock is Asst. Passenger Agent of the Providence & Stonington line, at New York.

At 7:25 o'clock this morning, another star was added to the Haffner family at Dunellen. This harbinger shows that the removal of the Phillips family to this city, will not reduce the population of Dunellen as much as was anticipated.

State Councilor Winfield S. Hill, of the State Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be a guest at the meeting of Franklin Council, this evening, and the members are requested to be present. Nominations for the officers of the next quarter will also take place.

The death of Floyd, the little girl baby, seven days old, of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney B. Cady, occurred at her parents' home, 374 West Front street, yesterday afternoon. The interment today was private. Mr. Cady is the representative here of Supervising Engineer, Rudolph Hering.

There will be some changes in the Crescent Avenue church choir when the new organ gallery is completed. The principal cause of regret will be the resignation of Mrs. J. K. Myers, which regret will be somewhat tempered by the appointment of Miss Holmes as soprano soloist.

On Tuesday evening at the residence of the groom's father, Mr. Gideon A. Barnes, Washington avenue and Prospect place, the marriage took place of Miss Anna E. Smith and Milton J. Barnes. Only the families and most intimate friends of the contracting parties, were present. Mr. J. B. Cleaver was the officiating clergyman.

Mr. George D. Patton, Dr. W. H. Murray, Dr. M. B. Long and Mr. Peter Hoagland, are additional names to be added to the list of subscribers to the Boys' Club, published in The Press of yesterday. The meeting of organization will be held in Reform Hall, to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. John C. Collins, editor of Our Boys, published in the interest of Boys' Clubs, has accepted the invitation to address the meeting.

It was thought probable that the sudden death of J. Newton Jenkins was directly caused by a severe fall on his side about two weeks ago. Consequently the accident insurance company in which he had a policy of $3,000 was concerned, and a post mortem was necessary to decide the company's liability. The result releases the company from any claim upon it, as it was found that Mr. Jenkins died of congestion of the lungs.

The firm of Plummer & Co., which failed yesterday as noted in a New York despatch in another column, contains two well known Plainfielders in its make up—ex-Councilman Wm. S. Darling, and Mr. John F. Plummer. The mention of their names will call to the minds of builders, plumbers and painters of this city, the thousand of dollars they lost when Messrs Darling and Plummer failed to pay for work that was contracted for in building Hotel Netherwood.

Probably the finest specimen of crayon portraiture ever seen in this city, is that just now exhibited in Reynolds' pharmacy. The subject is a woman's head and shoulders, and besides its excellence as a picture, the treatment of the flesh tints and the texture of the lace and fabric in the hat and dress, are most remarkable and unusual. It is the work of Mr. O. Venino, a New York artist. He is a brother of Mr. A. Venino, the pianist, who would receive applications for similar portraits.

Orrin E. Runyon, son of the late J. Calvin Runyon, who was one of the owners of the Central Times of this city, and a brother to Manager Charles Runyon of the Telephone company here, is acting at present as the representative of an English syndicate in negotiating for the purchase of the property of Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co., the wholesale grocery and produce dealers of Newark. Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co., ask $900,000 in cash and $900,000 in debenture bonds for their business. The Englishmen have offered a total of $1,700,000. The negotiations are still pending.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

Two of the employes in a grist mill located near Grant avenue whose names we withhold out of consideration for their family relations, were arrested at one o'clock this afternoon by Officers Lynch and McCue, on charges of embezzlement. There were two charges against the accused—one lodged by Chief Carey and the other by the owner of the mill. The alleged embezzlement dates back since January 28, and for the past seven weeks detectives have been working on the case. Today it is said they were caught in the act.

The two prisoners were arraigned before Judge Codington at the station house this afternoon, when they waived an examination and were held in the sum of $200 each to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Would Adorn the Position of Surgeon-General.

(From the Bucknell University Mirror.)

Dr. J. B. Probasco has been elected one of the Board of Education in Plainfield, N. J., where he resides. Of course, that means he is a popular man and a good physician. Dr. Probasco is about as tall as Gen. Wm. T. Sherman, and has a soldierly look. He would adorn the position of Surgeon General of the United States Army, a thing that may happen one of these days. The doctor is a hard worker and attends closely to his practice. When in college he would give an analysis of two hundred pages of Prex's Physiology and never fret. He never frets now; if he does nobody knows it but himself.

Waylaid by Roughs.

Mr. Richard Pelletreau, half brother of Mr. R. C. Dingee of this city, was the guest of Dr. Charles R. Thiers at Elizabeth, Monday evening, when the Crescent bowling team rolled. After the games Mr. Pelletreau left for his home in Brooklyn. He reached New York a few minutes before eleven o'clock, and was passing along West street from Liberty to Courtlandt when he was set upon by two roughs. One of them he knocked down, but Pelletreau himself was terribly beaten by the other from behind. The roughs, however, were frightened away by approaching pedestrians, before they had overpowered and robbed their victim.

A Breakdown at Roselle.

By the breaking down of a freight train at Roselle, yesterday afternoon, the way train from New York due here at 4:30 P. M., was obliged to back up to Elizabeth in order to pass the disabled train. The way train arrived in this city over an hour late.

The engine on the freight train jumped the track and the cars were spread over the other tracks. The locomotive was considerably damaged, but no one was injured. Travel was delayed over an hour, all trains having to run on a single track between Elizabeth and Roselle.

The Infant Was Suffocated.

Detective Oliver of New Brunswick, did not go to New Brooklyn, on Tuesday, to arrest Mary Hoffman and her mother. He and Detective Housell intended to go yesterday, but the storm prevented them No haste has been used in the case because there is no belief that either of the women have any intention of trying to avoid arrest.

The autopsy determined that the infant was suffocated, whether accidentally or otherwise could not be ascertained. Section No. 83 page 241 of the Revision of New Jersey, 1887, applies to her case.

A Quiet Wedding.

At the residence of the bride, corner of Washington and Fourth streets, last evening at eight o'clock, occurred the marriage of Mr. Wm. W. Schenck of New Market, and Miss Alice Wood, the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes officiating. Miss Josie Wood, a sister of the bride, performed the honors of bridesmaid, while Mr. Wm. VanCleve of Brooklyn, was "best man."

The usual wedding feast followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Schenck left town today for a brief wedding tour.

Death of Mrs. Governor Green's Mother.

Monday morning Mrs. Catharine Mulligan, relict of Richard T. Mulligan, Esq., died at the residence of her son-in-law, ex-Governor Robert S. Green, 76 Cherry street, Elizabeth. Mrs. Mulligan was aged, and for some time her health had been failing. She was the mother of Mrs. Green and Col. Mulligan, formerly of this city.

The Holy Cross Will Also Have the Finest.

The contract for the new organ to be placed in Holy Cross church, has been given to Messrs Lebagh & Kemp, builders of some of the best instruments in the metropolis, and work will be begun in the church immediately after Easter. The new organ will be one of the finest in the city and it is confidently expected that it will be completed by June 1.

Testimony in the Moore Will Case Postponed.

Mr. John H. Jackson, of the law firm of Jackson & Codington, was present at the Surrogate's office in Elizabeth, this morning, in the interest of the caveator of the Moore will case, for the purpose of taking additional testimony. The matter, however, was laid over for a week.

OBITUARY.

MRS. HANNAH A. DUNN.

At her home on West Third street, on Sunday evening last, about seven o'clock, occurred the death of Mrs. Hannah A. Dunn, wife of Mr. Isaac Dunn. Mrs. Dunn had been a sufferer from bronchial affection for a long time, although confined to her bed but one week.

She was born at Green Brook, March 30, 1820, and would have been 70 years old had she lived two weeks longer. She was a daughter of Mr. Jonathan Dunham and was a sister to the father of Councilman M. M Dunham of this city. She was married to Mr. Dunn in October, 1840, by the Rev. Walter Gilette, at New Market, and would have celebrated her golden anniversary had she lived until October next.

Mrs. Dunn was a devoted Christian, having connected herself with the Seventh Day Baptist church at New Market in 1834, of which her husband was also a member. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Dunn made New Market their home until about six years ago, when they came to Plainfield that they might be near their children of which there were three.

Mrs. Dunn had four children, three of whom are still living, one in Elizabeth, Mr. Allen Dunn, and two in Plainfield, Messrs David and William Dunn. The deceased was a very estimable woman and beloved by all who knew her. She leaves besides her children a most devoted husband to mourn her loss.

The funeral services took place from her late residence yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. Lewis officiated and spoke in eulogistic terms of the dead. Interment was made at New Market.

Strikes and Spares.

There are forty-two games yet to play to complete the Central tournament, two being played each date. Next Tuesday evening the Crescents play the Somervilles on the alleys of the former.

The highest score made on the alleys of the Olympic Bowling Club is credited to H. White—261, while the Crescent have a 235 record by H. VanEmburgh.

A match game between the Crescent team and the Pin Knights of Newark, will be rolled on the alleys of the former on March 28.

The following are the high scores of the Crescent bowlers during the last few games: Thiers, 221; Haven, 179; Teel, 175; Howe, 160; VanEmburgh, 214, and Reed, 156.

The four highest scores made by members of the Olympic team, during the past four games of the Central League tournament, are as follows: Wilbur, 179; Collier, 178; White, 175; VanAlstyne, 170.

Last evening two games were rolled in the Central tournament, at Somerville, and the Nameless team of Westfield were the visitors. The result was that each won and lost one, by the following scores:

Wants the Street Commissioner to Clean the Sidewalks Too.

Street Commissioner Meeker recently received through the mail a postal card, evidently written by a woman. It contained the following suggestions:

"Please clear off the mud on the edge of the stones under the Park avenue bridge, and any other that may need it, and you will have the good opinion of the ladies of the town.

"Signed,

"——— ———."

As the places referred to belong to the Central Railroad company, of course the Street Commissioner is not expected to mop the company's sidewalks.

The "Yost" is Used by THE PRESS.

Mr. S. B. Cady of this city, has purchased from Wm. A. Coddington, (agent for the Yost writing machine), a new "Yost" typewriter for $100. The "Yost" machine is said to be the most perfect typewriter in the market; every letter is in perfect alignment, neither too high nor too low. For manifolding the machine cannot be surpassed, as it prints direct on the paper and does not require any ribbon. For neatness and practical work the "Yost" ranks among the highest.

Here's a Chance for Plainfield Teachers.

The Philadelphia Item is patterning after the New York World in offering prizes for competition. It's Bad Enough

To fool away one's precious time in experimenting with uncertain medicines, when one is afflicted, without being out of pocket as well. The only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, possessed of positive curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in guaranteeing it to cure, or money paid for it returned, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. For all liver, blood and lung diseases it is specific.

90 MILES IN 85 MINUTES.

A Notable Run Through Plainfield of the Reading Railroad.

The most remarkable feat in the history of American railroading was accomplished a few days ago on the New York Division of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, when a special passenger train passing through Plainfield, covered the distance of 90 miles between Philadelphia and New York in the almost incredibly short time of 85 minutes.

The engine which made the record-smashing run is designated as "No. 366." It is of the peculiar type originated by the Reading Railroad, and was built for the regular fast passenger service of that road. The engineer was Frank Wagner, who, when he climbed into the cab, little fancied that he would leave it the hero of the fastest run ever made between the two big cities. No special preparation was made for a fast run, both engine and crew being selected hastily and almost at random to meet a sudden call for a "special." The first revolution of the drivers was made at 11:38 A. M., and the real running began at Wayne Junction, on the outskirts of Philadelphia, which station was passed at 11:44½. From this point the road is peculiarly adapted to the attainment of high speed, being straight, free from heavy grades, and in excellent condition of maintenance. The 54 and nine-tenths miles between Wayne Junction and Bound Brook was covered in 49½ minutes, an average speed of 66½ miles per hour.

The highest rate of speed reached was 87 miles per hour, and stretches several miles long were run at the rate of 81, 82 and 84 miles respectively. A little calculation will show the terrific velocity implied by these figures, and to stand the strain involved requires the very perfection of machinery and roadbed. The best previous record made by any train between New York and Philadelphia was that of a special, also on the Reading, which conveyed the late President Gowen on his return from Europe several years ago. The time then made was 90 minutes for the 89 and four-tenths miles, and it has never been equalled until now, when Engineer Wagner and "No. 366" have beaten it by 5 minutes.

In the Valley.

Mr. Peter Usterman of Brooklyn, is visiting friends in the Valley.

An election for officers of the Sunday school of the Mary E. Wilson chapel, will take place this evening.

Mr. John Jimerson, a well-known resident of Washington Valley, met with a serious accident some time ago. While "booming" down a load of hay the boom suddenly snapped in two, throwing Mr. Jimerson to the ground. The accident resulted in fracturing the small bones of his left foot, which is extremely painful, and to one of his age is very slow in getting better. He is compelled to use a cane in getting around the house.

A Syndicate Composed of Politicians.

The New Jersey Asphaltic Concrete Company filed articles of incorporation Monday with the Clerk of Union county. The company seems to be a syndicate of wealthy capitalists, and a singular feature is the number of prominent politicians in Union county who figure as stockholders. Among them are ex-Congressman Kean, County Collector Wood, Freeholders West, VanSaun, Kyte and Littell. There are twenty-four stockholders from various parts of the county and from New York and Brooklyn. The capital is placed at $100,000. Ex-Congressman Kean is the largest individual shareholder.

On His Way to the World's Fair.

Patrick Kearns, a resident of this city was found lying on the sidewalk on East Second street at nine o'clock last evening, drunk and asleep. Officer Giesse arrested him and this morning Judge Codington fined him five dollars.

When the officer arrested Kearns, the man had enough clothing with him such as it was, to fill a Saratoga trunk, and it is presumed that he was about to start out for Chicago to attend the World's Fair in 1892.

—Gigging parties are now becoming quite popular among the boys and young men in this city. Some of these parties have been quite successful too, of late.

—Dog Catcher Babbitt says he has not been bothering the dogs much of late. He prefers to wait until the warm weather sets in, so that the crop may become more prolific.

—There is cause for much encouragement to those principally interested, in the spirit and readiness with which the members of the Choral Society have taken hold of the choruses of the "Messiah." It will be rendered in a manner unexcelled.

"Ayer's Medicines have been satisfactory to me throughout my practice especially Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has been used by many of my patients, one of whom says he knows it saved his life."—F. L. Morris, M. D.

This Time Delilah is the Samson.

"A giant in strength, though sixty years of age," is the way The Freedonian of New Brunswick speaks of Delilah Langlon, the New Market woman now confined in the Middlesex county jail for husband beating. The woman at times seems governed by an outburst of temper bordering on insanity and has many times, Mr. Langlon is reported as saying, beaten her children in a most cruel manner.

Mr. Langlon, who is a remarkably quiet and submissive man, always came in for his share of abuse and has borne it many years with much patience and forbearance. Though severely hurt by the last wifely clubbing, he would not consent to take legal steps until compelled by the persuasion of his neighbors to do so for his own safety and the safety of his offspring. Though behind iron bars, Mrs. Langlon still boasts of her prowess in any emergency.

That tired, debilitated feeling, so peculiar to Spring, indicates depraved blood. Now is the time to prove the beneficial effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the system, restores physical energy, and and infuses new life and vigor into every fibre of the body.

ACCORDING to naturalists a scorpion will produce 65 young, a common fly will lay 144 eggs, a leech 150, a spider 170, a frog 1,100. A female moth will produce 1,100 eggs, and a tortoise 1,000; a gall insect has laid 50,000 eggs, a shrimp 6,000. One naturalist found over 12,000 eggs in a lobster, another 21,000. Louwenhoeck computes 4,000,000 as the crab's share.

THE arawanda is a Brazilian bird whose note in the depth of the forest sounds like a tolling bell. It is impossible to conceive any thing of a more solitary character than the profound silence of the woods broken only by the metallic and almost supernatural sound of this invisible bird, coming from the air and seeming to follow wherever you go. The arawanda is somewhat smaller than the ordinary pigeon, and has white plumage.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. Chandler, Junction, Va.

SUCCEEDS BISMARCK

Chancellor Caprivi a Soldier Since Boyhood.

TALK ABOUT THE RESIGNATION.

A Report that the Emperor Has Dismissed Count Waldersee.

Count Herbert Bismarck to be an Ambassador—One Result of the Great Labor Conference—The Tory Meetings To-Day—A Threat From Lord Salisbury—Progress of the Miners' Strikes.

BERLIN, March 20.—General von Caprivi has been appointed Chancellor of the German Empire to succeed Prince Bismarck.

The appointment of General von Caprivi is generally regarded as an excellent one. He is able, firm and well liked and is in thorough harmony with the views and policy of the Emperor. It is now recalled that the new Chancellor has had frequent conferences with the Kaiser of late, which fact gives rise to the belief that the resignation of Prince Bismarck was not unexpected by the Emperor, but was surprising only in its not having been presented to His Majesty earlier. It is not believed that any marked changes in the policy of Prince Bismarck will be made for the present, at least.

The Tagblatt asserts that the resignation of Count Herbert Bismarck has been accepted by the Emperor, and says that Count von Berchem, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, will probably be promoted to succeed him.

Prince Bismarck's note to the Emperor, tendering his resignation of the Chancellorship, says that advancing age and failing health constitute his reasons for retiring from official life.

Changes in the Ministry.

BERLIN, March 20.—It is announced that Herr von Boettticher will become President of the Prussian ministry, and Count Eulenberg, governor of Hesse-Nassau, will succeed Von Boettticher as Imperial Minister of the Interior. Count Herbert Bismarck will be assigned to an ambassadorship. Ministers Herrfurth and Von Mayback have resigned, the latter because he lost Prince Bismarck's support against the increased demands for strategic communications.

Bismarck Entertaining French Delegates.

BERLIN, March 20.—There is much comment in government circles over Prince Bismarck's action in cordially greeting and entering into a long conversation with M. Jules Simon, one of the French delegates to the Labor Conference. Prince Bismarck has invited the French delegates to a dinner to be given by him in their honor.

French Papers Predict War.

PARIS, March 20.—The Intransigeant commenting on Prince Bismarck's resignation, says that war is certain to break out before long. The Siecle fears that some rash act of the Emperor will disturb the peace of Europe.

Newspaper Opinions.

BERLIN, March 20.—The Vienna Tagblatt says: "The world without its Bismarck cannot easily be imagined." The Neue Freie Presse says: "History begins a new page."

SEVERAL WILD RUMORS.

Stories Flying About Berlin About Bismarck and Count Waldersee.

BERLIN, March 20.—General von Caprivi, the new Chancellor, will not assume the foreign portfolio.

Among the many rumors concerning the causes that led to Prince Bismarck's resignation is a story to the effect that the Emperor intimated his intention to abolish the office of President of the Prussian Ministry, and that Bismarck stoutly objected to such a step. The Emperor asked for an interview on the subject, naming 10 o'clock at night as the hour for the meeting. The Chancellor replied that he was too old to come at that hour. It was after this, the story goes, that Bismarck formally tendered his resignation.

The Tageblatt says that the Emperor has dismissed Count Von Waldersee, his chief of staff.

Gladstone Writes About Ireland.

LONDON, March 20.—Mr. Gladstone writes that the reason for his not paying a visit to Ireland is that his presence there might exasperate his political opponents is Ulster, whose severance on, on the Irish question, from the most of their fellow countrymen as well as from the principles of their ancestors, is perhaps the greatest Irish misfortune of the present day.

Lord Salisbury's Threat.

LONDON, March 20.—It is asserted upon unquestionable authority that at to-day's Conservative caucus at the Carlton Club, Lord Salisbury will threaten to dissolve Parliament in case the Government's Tithes and Land Purchase bills, to be discussed at the meeting, shall not be passed.

The Striking Miners Will Win.

ONE THOUSAND MEN OUT.

A Big Strike Ordered at Oliver Brothers Mills in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 20.—The 1,000 men employed in the South Tenth street mill and the bolt factory adjoining, of Oliver Bros. & Phillips, went out on a strike last evening.

The employes claim that the superintendent of the bolt factory has begun a systematic system of discharging the men in charge of the bolt machines with the intention of substituting boys in their places. The real cause is said to be the opposition the Amalgamated Association has to the introduction of a new system of working in bolt factories.

The firm are equally opposed to the interference of the Amalgamated Association in their efforts to cheapen the cost of production. Both sides have taken a determined stand, and the strike will be bitterly contested.

BOARD OF PARDONS.

Action Taken on Several Murder Cases in Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 20.—The Board of Pardons recommended the pardon of Edward Maritz, of Philadelphia, convicted of murder in the second degree, and that the sentence of death in the case of James H. Jacobs, the Lancaster County murderer, be commuted to imprisonment for life. The application of Charles Carter, the Cambria County murderer, was refused. A respite was recommended in the case of William H. Smith, of Allegheny County, convicted of murder in the first degree, and a rehearing was granted Charles Larabee, convicted of murder in Venango County. The case of Joseph and David Nicely, convicted of murder in Somerset County, was continued.

Siamese Boys Coming Here to School.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 20.—The Rev. E. P. Dunlap has been informed that the Government of Siam has sent six of its chosen and brightest young men to America to be educated at Westminster College here. These young men come from the highest caste and royal line, and are chamberoned by a medical missionary who has been at Bangkok for some years. All expenses are defrayed by the King.

Atlantic League Clubs.

WORCESTER, Mass., March 20.—Delegates of several Atlantic League clubs were here to confer with business men, who agreed to purchase the stock of the Worcester club and maintain a club here this season. The visitors gave assurance that Washington would be admitted as the eighth city in the league. Cudworth was engaged as manager of the Worcesters.

Another Deputy Arrested.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The latest arrest in connection with the Sheriff's office scandal is that of Charles E. Hebbard, formerly in the Order of Arrest Clerk's office and now a clerk in the Register's office. He was held in $2,000 bail.

COLLEGE FIGHT.

Princeton and Rutgers Working for the Free Scholarship.

TRENTON, N. J., March 20.—There is quite a fight in the Legislature between Princeton and Rutgers colleges. The Senate passed a bill a week ago providing for a free scholarship at Rutgers for one youth from each of the Assembly districts. The student is to be selected by competitive examination. Rutgers was chosen because it accepted the State aid offered some years ago, which Princeton refused. The cost to the State will be $12,000 a year. The bill came up in the Assembly in the morning, and the friends of Princeton rallied against it.

There are six Princeton graduates among the members, including Assemblymen Williams, Wyckoff and Woolman. Assemblyman Voorhees is a Rutgers graduate, and he fought for his Alma Mater. Several of the Princeton trustees were here asking for a hearing, and it was for a hearing that Princeton contended. President Gates, of Rutgers, has been here almost all the session, and Princeton charges that he has been lobbying on the floor of the Assembly. After a short, sharp fight Princeton won, and the bill went over until Monday.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The evidence for the prosecution in the Flack case in New York will probably be concluded to-day.

THE BLAIR BILL LOST

Rejected by the Senate by a Vote of 37 to 31.

SENATOR BLAIR DEPRESSED.

He Changed His Vote in Order to Move a Reconsideration.

The United States Willing to Meet Canada Half Way—A Rumor About Ex-Congressman Scott—Kincaid Believed to be Dying—A National Bank Amendment Defeated—Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The Blair Educational bill was defeated in the Senate by a vote of 37 to 31. Mr. Blair changed his vote to the negative in order to move a reconsideration, which he did at once, but did not press it to an immediate vote.

The large vote against the bill was a surprise even to the Senators themselves, as up to an hour of the vote it was supposed that it would have a majority of about two or three votes. Senator Blair is greatly depressed over the result.

Fourteen out of the thirty-seven votes cast against the bill were Republicans, while eight of those who voted for it were Democrats. The vote in detail was as follows:

Yeas—Allen, Allison, Barbour, Blair, Chandler, Colquitt, Cullom, Daniel, Dawes, Dolph, Edmunds, Evarts, George Hampton, Hearst, Higgins, Hoar, McMillan, Manderson, Mitchell, Moody, Morrill, Pasco, Pettigrew, Platt, Pugh, Squires, Stanford, Stewart, Stockbridge, Teller, and Wilson of Iowa.

Nays—Aldrich, Bates, Berry, Blackburn, Blodgett, Cockerell, Cope, Davis, Dixon, Farwell, Faulkner, Frye, Forman, Gray, Hale, Harris, Hawley, Hiscock, Ingalls, Jones of Arkansas, Jones of Nevada, Kenna, Morgan, Payne, Pierce, Plumb, Reagan, Sawyer, Sherman, Spooner, Turpie, Vest, Voorhees, Walthall, Wilson of Maryland and Wolcott.

RELATIONS WITH CANADA.

The United States Will Meet the Dominion Government Half Way.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The House Committee on Foreign Affairs instructed its chairman to report to the House the following joint resolution:

Resolved, That whenever it shall be duly certified to the President of the United States that the Government of the Dominion of Canada has declared a desire to enter into such commercial arrangements with the United States as will result in the complete removal of all duties upon trade between Canada and the United States, he shall appoint three commissioners to meet those who may be designated to represent the Government of Canada to consider the best method of extending the trade relations between Canada and the United States, and to ascertain on what terms greater freedom of intercourse between the two countries can be best secured; and said commissioners shall report to the President, who shall lay the report before Congress.

The above resolution was adopted unanimously by the committee.

A National Bank Amendment Defeated.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—There were seven members of the House Committee on Banking and Currency present at a meeting at which a proposed amendment to the National Banking law was voted on and defeated. The amendment authorizes a national bank to loan to one individual ten per cent of its capital and surplus, the present law allowing only the loan of that amount of the capital. There were four votes against the amendment.

Mr. Mudd Seated.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Barnes Compton of Laurel, who has represented the Fifth Maryland district in the Fifty-first Congress thus far in the session has stepped down and out. Sydney E. Mudd, his Republican opponent at the polls, was given the seat by vote of the Republicans in the House. Mr. Compton made a speech in his own behalf before the vote was taken. The vote giving the seat to Mr. Mudd stood 159 yeas to 145 nays. Mr. Mudd was present and took the seat awarded him.

Kincaid May Die.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—"Judge" Kincaid's condition is becoming serious. He was accustomed during the early days of his confinement to rise about 9 o'clock. A telephone message from a friend at noon found him still in bed and very weak. His friends are much alarmed at his condition, and the belief is generally expressed that unless his trial comes on soon he will not live to meet it.

Mr. Scott's Aspirations.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—It is said here that ex-Congressman William L. Scott is to be a candidate for the Pennsylvania Legislature from Erie County this fall and it is understood that his purpose is to promote his chances for United States Senator, in the event that there should be a Democratic majority in the Legislature.

Fourth-Class Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The following named fourth-class postmasters were appointed in New York State: J. H. Alexander, Boomertown; L. J. Bardon, Gage; F. Carpenter, Gansevoort; F. L. Hoke, Lowman; L. M. Gillett, Pleasant Brook; P. F. Flynn, South Easton; A. Whitney, Whitney's Crossing.

HER AWFUL SECRET.

Mrs. Sotz Driven by Conscience to Reveal a Crime.

HARRISON, N. J., March 21.—A conscience stricken woman has revealed to the police of this place the story of a fiendish crime committed in 1887, which resulted in the arrest of six persons as principals and accessories on the charge of incendiarism and murder.

On the morning of Monday, Sept. 18, 1887, the three-story frame tenement house at 6 Middlesex street was burned to the ground. The first floor had been occupied by Frederick Wolf, his wife, five children, his sister, Mrs. Betz, and a young German girl who had been in this country but a short time.

The second floor was occupied by William Boettger, his wife and three children, and on the third floor lived five Hungarian laborers.

All the inmates escaped in safety except Michael Madowski, one of the Hungarians, who fell down a flight of stairs and was burned to death. Another, named Lucas Andrews, died two days later from injuries received by jumping from a window.

Although incendiarism was suspected nothing could be proven, and Wolf received $1,000 insurance on his furniture. The Boettgers lost everything, and shortly after the fire the German girl who lived with Wolf married a man named Sotz and went to Michigan to live.

Sotz soon discovered that his wife was incessantly worrying about something, and when she became ill she told him that the fire which caused the death of the two Hungarians was the work of Wolf. She brooded over the matter so much that it was feared she would lose her reason, and finally Sotz prevailed upon her to come East and tell her story to the police.

They arrived in Harrison three months ago, and were scarcely settled, they say, before Wolf knew of their presence, and, surmising the woman's intention, conveyed word to her that if she divulged his secret he would kill her.

Fear of Wolf kept her silent until yesterday afternoon, when, with her husband, she appeared before Justice Lynch, who, on her information, issued warrants for the arrest of Wolf and Mrs. Betz, charging them with incendiarism and murder.

When the woman had completed her story she was placed under surveillance. Sergeant Eagan and Officer Foster went to Wolf's house and found Mrs. Betz. Going to Newark they arrested Wolf in Saney's stable on Broad street, where he was working as a hostler.

He defiantly said that nothing could be proven against him. Last night William Wolf, a brother of Frederick; William Betz, his brother-in-law; his wife, Annie, and his 13-year-old daughter Carrie, were also arrested. All the prisoners except Frederick and his little girl were taken to Jersey City to make statements before Prosecutor Winfield.

READY FOR THE FIGHT.

Great Excitement Over the McAuliffe-Carroll Battle To-Night.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The mill to-night between Jack McAuliffe and Jimmy Carroll is the only topic in sporting circles. Betting is $100 to $75 on McAuliffe.

Billy Madden and Jack Dempsey will second McAuliffe. Two foreigners will attend to Carroll, Billy McCarthy of Australia and Paddy Smith of England. Both men are said to be in fine fix. The battle takes place at the California Athletic Club.

Jack McAuliffe has telegraphed east that, win or lose, he will fight Billy Myer for any sum from $5,000 to $10,000 aside, the Police Gazette champion belt and the championship of the world, but not for any less sum.

Four Indictments Against Dr. Wagner.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 21.—Dr. Harrison Wagner has had four indictments found against him by the Grand Jury at Stafford Court House. They charge forgery in connection with the papers in the case against the Adams Express Company. The president of the Adams Company, in an interview, says Wagner is a harmless lunatic, whose lunacy takes the form of bringing an annual suit against the company. He has no claim whatever, and never presents any, but the company have to answer to the suits just the same, and are put to expense and trouble on account of it.

Secured a Mother for His Children.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 21.—Abraham Cassell, 60 years old, is here from Livingston County, Ill., visiting the scenes which he left thirty-five years ago. Behind him he left eight children who have been motherless since July last. On Monday he met for the first time Mary McManus, of Dunbar, aged 40, and before separating they agreed to become man and wife. Last evening they were married and will leave for their Western home. The ante-nuptial contract guaranteed her $50,000.

Grand Army Veterans Indignant.

CARLISLE, Pa., March 21.—Great indignation prevails in this valley among the Grand Army veterans over the reported condition of the National Cemetery at Winchester, Va. Col. Penn Lloyd, who is head of the Grand Army in the Cumberland Valley in company with commanders of posts started to investigate the charges of the neglected condition of the cemetery where 4,000 Union soldiers are buried.

Moving Against Chinese Laundries.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A special meeting of the sub-committee appointed by the Master Laundryman's Association was held and arrangements made to perfect their plans to oust the Chinese from the laundry business. They claim to have knowledge that the great Six Companies of San Francisco were about to start a big Chinese laundry trust on a capital of $1,500,000.

LABOR'S BIG FIGHT

How the Demand for Eight Hours Will be Made.

TO BE LEFT TO EACH TRADE.

The Stronger Organizations Will Force the Issue First.

Miners Now Going Out in Pennsylvania—They Demand an Increase of Wages—Compromise Made With Carpenters—A Victory for the Colliers in England—Work of the Berlin Labor Conference.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 21.—Vice-President William Martin, of the American Federation of Labor, has just made known the proceedings of the meeting of the Executive Council in New York.

He says it was decided that the question of demanding and striking for eight hours was to be left to each trade, and the Federation would not choose any to force the fight.

This leaves the question entirely in the hands of the stronger organizations.

The carpenters of the Pittsburg and Wheeling districts will first ask a conference here with the contractors, and if refused they will strike.

The stone masons of Boston and New York will make the demand in the Eastern districts, and probably the miners will do the same in the West.

MINERS GOING OUT.

A Tremendous Shut-Down Anticipated in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 21.—There are now 1,800 men out in the fourth pool, and one mine after another is going out.

A mass-meeting held at Lucyville was attended by 500 miners. Speeches were made exhorting doublers to join the Knights of Labor.

The miners demand an increase of wages, and a tremendous shut-down is anticipated, as the coal operators refuse to consider the advance.

The Berlin Labor Conference.

BERLIN, March 21.—The labor conference is making rapid and successful progress. The committee on Sunday work advises that the prohibition against labor on Sunday and church holidays apply only to women, young persons and children. The committee on children's work has resolved to forbid the employment of children within the school age except in certain well-defined cases.

End of the Coal Strike.

LONDON, March 21.—The great colliery strike is at an end. The conference between the mine owners and their operatives resulted in the granting to the men of an advance in wages of 5 per cent. It was also agreed that another increase of 5 per cent. should be allowed from August 1. Work is to be immediately resumed.

Agree on Nine Hours a Day.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 21.—Fifteen leading contractors and builders of this city have entered into agreement with the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union that on and after May 1 nine hours shall constitute a day's work. The bricklayers and masons propose to demand the same hours.

The Child Murderer Indicted.

HAVERHILL, N. H., March 21.—The Supreme Court grand jury found an indictment against LaPlant, the child murderer, and he will probably be tried the coming week. It is believed the defence will be insanity, although the prisoner, since his confinement, has made statements indicating that he was in possession of all his faculties at the time the crime was committed. The little girl has so far recovered as to be brought to the trial, and will give strong evidence against her grandfather, whose fiendish act caused the death of her little brother and so nearly resulted in the loss of her own life.

A Woman Found Badly Frozen.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., March 21.—Ellen Devlin, a married woman residing at Groveville, was found on a public road on the outskirts of this city at an early hour by a night watchman with her feet and other portions of her body badly frozen. She and her husband had come from Trenton on a late train, and had started to walk home—a distance of three miles. The woman, becoming exhausted, sat down, and her husband left her. They were both intoxicated.

A Dispute About Missionary Students.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 21.—In the letter to the Yale theological seniors, the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions say that the seniors are mistaken in supposing that the prudential committee does not propose to judge of applicants for missionary service according to the principles outlined in President Storrs' letter of acceptance.

Only Steel Products to be Made.

BALTIMORE, March 21.—The Cambria Iron Company, of Johnstown, Pa., which bought the rolling mill belonging to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company at Cumberland, will begin operations there on April 1. When running full 660 men will be employed. Only steel products will be made. The steel will be made into ingots at Johnstown and sent to Cumberland.

New Railroad Manager.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Lucius Tuttle, commissioner of the passenger committee of the Trunk Line Association, has resigned to accept the position of general manager of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, with headquarters at New Haven.

—Some of the sidewalks in the suburbs have not yet been cleared of snow. The penalty is five dollars for allowing snow, slush and ice to remain on the sidewalks.

—The weight and dampness of the present snow fall has afforded excellent facilities for the questionable pleasure of snowballing, and the small boys have not been slow to recognize that fact.

—For the first time in ten years the day after a snow storm, Street Commissioner Meeker had all the crosswalks cleaned, the gutters opened and everybody's sidewalk shoveled off by last evening. He even made the railway company clean off the sidewalk on Park avenue East of the railroad crossing, and that's something the Council, or Chief Carey, or the Mayor or anyone else, never accomplished.

Wetumpka Lodge Installation.

At a meeting of Wetumpka Lodge, K. of H., held last evening, the staff officers installed the following newly-elected members: Messrs Walter G. Runyon, Julian Scott, P. T. B. Nevius, Geo. F. Edwards, Robert J. Shaw, John H. Carman and Ralph A. Frey.

A "BAZAAR OF DAYS."

In the Hands of Over One Hundred and Fifty Young Women.

The "Bazaar of Days," which is to be held in the Crescent Avenue chapel on Thursday evening, March 27, and Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings, March 28 and 29, is expected to be even more attractive than the "Bazaar of Nations," which was so successful under the same management, six years ago.

Each booth will represent a day of the week, will be appropriately decorated, and will have for sale, as far as possible, articles appropriate to Washing, Ironing, Mending and Sweeping, Visiting, Baking and Cleaning, and Shopping days.

A great deal of interest is shown throughout the church. Each booth is under the management of a different committee, each of which is exerting itself to excel, and, including the refreshment department, those on duty at different times will number about one hundred and fifty of the ladies and young girls of the church.

A programme of some kind will be arranged for each evening. Those who attended the minstrel entertainment given by the Crescent League, will be pleased to learn that Mr. A. F. Camancho has volunteered his services for one evening, which date will be given in these columns later.

A pamphlet, called the Household Bulletin, and containing items of interest concerning the bazaar, besides many valuable recipes tried and proved by ladies in this vicinity, will be distributed, as far as possible, over the city in a few days.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Wm. Sandford of West Seventh street, yesterday sold to his niece, Miss Sandford, a desirable new dwelling house on Sandford avenue, for $5,000.

At the annual meeting of the Newark M. E. Conference, which is to be held in Newark early in April, the Rev. Dr. J. L. Huribut of this city will speak at the anniversary exercises of the Sunday School Union and Tract Societies

The funeral of Mrs. Catharine Mulligan, mother of Mrs. Robert S. Green, took place yesterday from the home of her son-in-law, ex-Governor Green, on Cherry street, Elizabeth. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends of the family.

One of the seven pages of an elaborately engrossed testimonial of sympathy and esteem, from the people of Brooklyn to Secretary Tracy, is the work of Mr. Wm. M. Smith of this city, and it is not the least original and elegant page, either. The entire cost of the work was $1,000.

Reform Club Tribute.

At a regular meeting of the above-named Club, held last evening, the following tribute was paid to the late Isaac Brokaw:

WHEREAS, It having pleased Almighty God in His inscrutable wisdom to remove from life our late fellow member and an ex-officer of the Reform Club of Plainfield, ISAAC BROKAW, whose personal interest in and advocacy of the saving and prospering cause of Temperance was zealously maintained; and

WHEREAS, Bowing as we do in humble resignation to the fiat of death, a sense of duty prompts us to make record of sorrow for departed worth, therefore, as a brief but sincere memorial, it is hereby

Resolved, That this action be entered at length upon the minutes of the Club, and a certified copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased friend and co-laborer.

Interesting Exercises at Reform Hall.

Reform Hall was well filled last evening with an appreciative audience, notwithstanding the inclement weather. President Harper was in the chair. The exercises were somewhat varied from the usual custom, including addresses by several of those in the audience, and a duett by Mrs. King and Miss Hawkins. Mr. J. D. Spicer also read an article on temperance. Next Thursday evening the exercises will be on a more elaborate scale.

The Hoffman's Lodged in Jail.

Yesterday morning Detectives C. A. Oliver and W. A. Housell of New Brunswick, went to New Brooklyn and arrested Miss Mary Hoffman and her aged mother on the charge of concealing the birth and death of the illegitimate child of the former. At four o'clock in the afternoon the prisoners were lodged safely in the New Brunswick jail.

The Rev. Dr. Huribut Robbed.

The New York Sun of last evening said: "While the Rev. Dr. Huribut of the Christian Advocate, was lecturing before the Epworth League, in St. James' Methodist church, last evening, a sneak thief entered the side door and made away with the reverend gentleman's overcoat and satchel. The thief has not been apprehended."

—The annual inspection of the Third Regiment, N. G. N. J., which always occurs on Decoration Day, will, this year, be held at New Brunswick.

WHITE CAPS IN WESTFIELD.

They Call at a House at Night, and Order a Visitor Out of Town.

A body of masked men went to the house of a well-known and highly respected citizen of Westfield, just before eleven o'clock of last night, and demanded that a certain New Yorker, who was a guest in the house at the time, should "git up and git."

The owner of the house was told that his visitor—who the "White Caps" called by name—might have time to dress himself and pack his valise, and that if he left town on the next train he would not be molested. The man got to the station as quickly as possible, and as there was no train at that time for New York, he took the 11:02 train West. Where he got off is not known, but a PRESS reporter is of the opinion that he saw the man in Plainfield this morning looking for a justice of the peace.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Notes.

State Councilor Winfield S. Hill, of the State Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., was a guest at the meeting of Franklin Council, last evening. A large number of members were present to greet Brother Hill. After the regular routine business and the nominations of the officers for the next quarter were transacted, speeches for the good and welfare of the Order were made by State Councilor Hill, Past Councilors Bennett, Dunavan, Sthal and others. A bountiful repast was enjoyed after the meeting by the members at McVey's resturant on North avenue.

At the meeting of Franklin Council held last evening, a check of $250 was received from the Funeral Benefit Association on the death of the late Brother John A. Laible, which was forwarded to the family to defray funeral and other expenses.

The Council has also leased the Knights of Pythias rooms and have also purchased the furniture etc., which is now being used by the Knights. They will take possession of the rooms the first week in April.

About the first of April Franklin Council will have the honor, assisted by Councils from Newark, Elizabeth and Rahway, of instituting a Council at Bound Brook.

Resolutions of Condolence

At a special meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, held on the 18th instant, to take action with reference to the death of the late J. Newton Jenkins, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the loss which has been sustained by the Council. To this end the committee offers the following:

WHEREAS, In the removal by death of our brother from our midst, we feel that we have lost a member who was highly esteemed in this community as a true and honest man, one who was a good example in all the relations of life, as a citizen, as a business man, as well as in the tenderer relations of his family.

Resolved, That we put on record this minute of the regard in which he was held.

Resolved, That his family be assured of our sympathy in this their severe trial and affliction.

At the same meeting a committee of the members of the Council was appointed to attend the funeral.

And it was ordered that the Charter of the Council be draped in mourning for thirty days in memory of our brother.

R. M. STOVER,
E. E. ANTHONY,
Committee.

An Evening's Entertainment.

The ladies of the Christian Work Society of the Trinity Reformed church gave a reception to the members and congregation of the church in the lecture room last evening. The time, 8 to 10 o'clock, passed quickly and pleasantly to the large number present.

During the evening the Misses Quinn and Smith rendered a piano duett in a highly pleasing style and were compelled to play another selection in response to prolonged encore. Master Johnny Voehl being present, was prevailed upon to recite the laughable experience of "Hoffenstein and his bugle," and so well did he do it that he was heartily encored, to which he responded by telling the experience of an Irish "gentleman" in a crowded horse-car. Refreshments were served and general sociability was the order for the remainder of the evening.

Kicked a Buggy to Pieces.

Mr. Geo. Ball of North Plainfield was exercising a new horse on East Front street, yesterday afternoon when the animal began kicking. The result was that the buggy to which the horse was attached was reduced into kindling wood, and Mr. Ball narrowly escaped serious injury.

THAT MYSTERIOUS DIVINER, AGAIN.

He Makes A Test Under the Eye of Ex-Councilman Fred. Slater, That Satisfies Skeptics, it is not Guess Work.

The New York Engineering and Mining Journal, in speaking of the "mysterious Russian" whose location of an inexhaustible and ever-flowing river under Plainfield, has been told of exclusively in THE PRESS, says that it records certain facts elicited in the course of an investigation of the merits of the claim by Mr. John Heerdegen, the "Russian," that, by the aid of a scientific instrument, he is enabled to detect the presence of subterranean water. The time devoted to this investigation has been considerable, as is warranted by the importance of the question, one affecting almost every industry in the country; but in the absence of information as to the exact nature of the construction and principles of action of the apparatus or pendulum used, each will form his own judgment.

In the opinion of the paper quoted, the pendulum is merely an indicator to make evident a personal sensitiveness to the presence of water, and as Mr. Heerdegen claims that any one or nearly every one may become expert by practice, it seems that this is a case of the development of nervous sensibility that is present in most persons but is usually unobserved and unknown even to its possessor.

Through the courtesy of ex-Councilman Slater, of North Plainfield, who is Engineer of the National Storage company, the Journal was permitted to make a test of the Russian's gift, which all present thought was the most satisfactory and conclusive in every way, the elements of uncertainty being eliminated as far as possible, the locality selected being outside the gate of the National Storage company, near Communipaw, where the supply of water under pressure to these premises is large and entirely removed from all other pipes, drains, etc., and of course without any indication of its location. This pipe Mr. Heerdegen located with wonderful accuracy and without hesitation, tracing it so nearly correctly that the engineer, Mr. Slater, who had laid it some years previously, and who was present, stated that it was substantially correct. This case was one in which, if Mr. Heerdegen had found it at first only by chance or by a shrewd guess, it would have been impossible for him to have repeated that guess successively three times.

During the occurrence of these tests, fortunately, the opportunity was given to test Mr. Heerdegen practically as a well finder. Mr. Adolph G. Huffel, the brewer at 161st street and Third avenue, New York, desired to have a well located at his brewery, where he had already drilled to the depth of 1,300 feet without finding water. As related by Mr. Huffel, "Mr. Heerdegen went over the ground in the neighborhood of the brewery with his instrument, and discovered water on the West side of our property, and expressed his belief that water would be found within 30 or 40 feet of the surface in considerable quantities, and that the stream was 20 inches wide. Mr. Heerdegen traced the stream for about 1,000 yards, and pointed out in this distance four places where the same stream could be struck. Having selected the place most convenient to us, we commenced boring, and at a depth of 31 feet struck the stream. The water rose to within 10 feet of the surface, and a pump having been introduced, the well yielded 50 gallons per minute for 120 hours without cessation."

A Firm of Enterprising Builders.

Two of the most enterprising and successful builders in this city at the present time are Messrs Jeremiah Manning and William M. Sandford. These gentlemen secured the title in November last to a tract of land on the Southwest side of what is known as Sandford avenue, extending from East Front street clear through to Green Brook, a distance of about 1,200 feet. Since then they have improved the property by laying out 24 lots of fifty feet frontage and erected a number of handsome dwelling houses. The land was purchased for $10,000, and already about $12,000 has been realized for one-half of it, and there yet remains about $12,000 worth of the tract to be disposed of.

Only yesterday Mr. Fred Dunn, the enterprising grocer of North avenue, purchased one of the new houses on Sandford avenue for $5,000, and another $8,000 residence is in course of erection for Mr. E. D. Murphy, the wholesale cloak manufacturer of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has purchased the house and will take up his residence here about April 15.

Messrs Manning and Sandford have done much toward improving property both in this city and North Plainfield within the past few years, and to them much credit is due for the growth of the city.

"Ayer's Medicines have been satisfactory to me throughout my practice especially Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has been used by many of my patients, one of whom says he knows it saved his life."—F. L. Morris, M. D.

—The Central Railroad company performed a commendable deed yesterday by removing the snow from the overhead bridges in this city.

COUNCILMAN NEWHALL MISTAKES.

The Corporation Attorney Provided for the Very Thing Needed.

The objections made by Mr. Newhall at the Council meeting to the City's Sewerage bill as published exclusively in THE PRESS, holding there was no provision permitting the City to fix the rate of charge for use, were anticipated by the Corporation Counsel, who inserted in the act a section that is believed to meet those objections in the most satisfactory manner. Section fifteen is the section referred to, and by its terms gives the City the power to say, in advance of the incorporation of the company, upon what conditions the City consents to the company's incorporation. The act requires these conditions to be annexed to the certificate of incorporation of the company, and makes them obligatory upon the company, its successors and assigns.

The conditions contemplated related to the manner of constructing the sewerage system, the schedule of maximum rates that may be charged property owners, the methods of repairing streets, and so on, ad libitum. Of course, if these conditions were made unreasonable no company would be likely to accept the franchise, but reasonable restrictions, such as those imposed upon the electric light company, the telephone company and the water company, while completely protecting the City and its taxpayers, would probably not deter practical business men from applying for and accepting the franchise.

$20,000 HANGING OVER HIM.

The Editor of the News to be Sued For That Amount.

President E. D. Moffett of the City Council, and Councilmen W. L. Hetfield and A. T. Gallup are about to bring suit against Thos. W. Morrison, editor and proprietor of the news, for criminal libel, placing their damages at $10,000 each.

The suits are the outcome of a series of slanderous articles published in the news since Monday of this week, reflecting seriously upon the character of the three Councilmen. Each one has secured competent out-of-town Counsel, and the papers are now being prepared for the suit.

"Sweet Lavender."

Any play that comes before our public from the New York Lyceum Theatre is ushered in under happy auspices. There is an atmosphere of the parlor about all their settings that puts the visitor immediately in a mood to be pleased. Next Monday evening Daniel Frohman sends to Plainfield Pinero's big success, "Sweet Lavender." This grand triumph in comedy has held the stage in Terry's Theatre, London, for the past four years. It had an uninterrupted run at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, the entire of last year.

One can easily understand the great popularity that has led to the long runs of this piece in the larger theatrical centres. The story is dramatic in its incidents, and such as appeal to the better elements of human nature. The main excellence of the company lies in its general uniform goodness, no one completely overshadows another. The story is that of an adopted son who falls in love with the illegitimate daughter of his foster parent, and through a series of incidents alternately dramatic and amusing, a satisfactory finale is reached, the adopted son marrying the daughter, and the father marrying the mother of the girl. The episode of love unsanctioned by law is very lightly and unoffensively touched upon. It cannot even be considered a flaw in the spotlessness of the jewel. The play will be presented here on an elaborate scale.

It Will be a Close Fight.

A New York paper said recently in commenting upon the State politics:

"Next year the House will miss Fred Marsh, the able young leader of the majority, and Foster Voorhees, the brilliant spokesman of the minority. They are to be pitted against each other in the Senatorial fight in Union next Fall. Won't it be a rare battle! They are warm personal friends and each is slated for his party's nomination as Senator Miller's successor. The contest will probably attract more attention than any other in the State. Mr. Marsh has an up-hill road to travel, and the result of last Tuesday's elections in the county does not offer much encouragement, but it will not be his fault if he does not win. Hundreds of people would be pleased if both could be elected."

Mt. Ararat Amazons Make No Fight.

At the school meeting of Westfield voters, the other evening, quite a number of women were present and cast their ballots for the successful candidates. They made no fight, however, as was feared, to capture a school trusteeship for one of their own sex.

George H. Brown was elected, in place of E. L. Embree, for three years, and two additional trustees were also chosen—James T. Pierson, three years, and Ludlow V. Clark, two years. The sum of $6,575 was voted to be raised by special tax, for school purposes.

—Less than two weeks remain before moving day—April 1.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST. GOLDEN DYE.

BISMARCK HONORED

The Emperor Appoints Him Duke of Lauenburg.

PREPARING TO LEAVE BERLIN.

The Ex-Chancellor Will Take Up His Residence at Friedrichsruhe.

Count Herbert to be Minister of Foreign Affairs—Lord Salisbury's Tory Conference—He Refers to the United States. Paris Disturbed by Rumors—Honors for Jules Simon.

BERLIN, March 21.—A special edition of the Reichanzeiger just issued announces that the Emperor has sent Prince Bismarck two rescripts couched in the most cordial terms, thanking him for his past services and appointing him Duke of Lauenburg, colonel general of the cavalry and field marshal general. Count Herbert Bismarck retains the office of minister of foreign affairs ad interim. General von Caprivi has been appointed to succeed Prince Bismarck as Chancellor and President of the Prussian Ministry.

In the first rescript the Emperor says that, acceding to the request made on the 18th inst., he grants Prince Bismarck permision to retire, hoping confidently that the Fatherland will profit in the future, as it has profited in the past, by his counsel, energy, and faithful devotion. The Emperor says he had hoped that the necessity would not arise for Bismarck to think of separation during his life time. He regards it as the most providential dispensation of his life that on several occasions he has had Prince Bismarck by his side.

What the Prince has achieved for Prussia and Germany and what the Prince had been to him and the house of his predecessors he will ever preserve in grateful remembrance. Bismarck's wise and energetic policy of peace, by which his Majesty is resolved to be guided in the future, being fully convinced of its correctness, will always be remembered abroad and well deserves recognition. It is not in the Emperor's power to reward Bismarck for his services, but as a sign of his lasting thanks he confers upon him the dignity of Duke of Lauenburg and presents him with a life-size painting of himself.

The conscripts are couched in language of the most tender character, and end with the words: "God bless you, my dear Prince, and grant you many years of untroubled old age, brightened by the consciousness of duty truly fulfilled."

Will Leave Berlin.

BERLIN, March 21.—Prince Bismarck will return to Friedrichsruhe Sunday and take up his residence there permanently. The furniture is being removed thither from his Berlin palace.

THE TORY CONFERENCE.

Politicians Say that the Conservatives Are on the Run.

LONDON, March 21.—Politicians are busily discussing Lord Salisbury's Tory conference at the Carlton Club. There is but one opinion outside of Conservative circles, and that is that the Government is in a bad way and dissolution is certain.

At the conference Lord Salisbury told his friends he regretted the slow progress of the public business. The Government had met with obstructions of the most determined kind. He requested the members of the conservative party in the House of Commons to attend the sessions regularly and give close attention to business.

The Tithes bill, he said, was of paramount importance, and the bill should receive its second reading before Easter. He expressed the belief that proposals for the purchase of Irish lands would receive the unanimous support of the Unionists.

Lord Salisbury ridiculed the idea that a dissolution of Parliament was imminent. He severely censured the lukewarmness of the Tories, which, he said, had contributed to such reverses as the present Government had met.

Much misrepresentation, he declared, had been indulged in regarding the proposed Assisted Education bill, and he urged the members to reserve their opinions until the measure had been introduced in the House of Commons.

Lord Salisbury asserted that the new Irish Bill would guarantee the security of the property of the Irish landlords. He also expressed the hope that the Behring Sea matter would soon be settled, but added that with so susceptible a nation as the United States the Government could not negotiate at the top of its voice.

Gladstone's Programme.

LONDON, March 21.—Mr. Gladstone has had another conference with his colleagues in regard to the Parnell Commission report, and it has been decided not to offer any amendment to Lord Salisbury's motion in the House of Lords that the report be adopted.

Paris Rumors.

PARIS, March 21.—An anxious feeling is manifest here. A rumor prevails that the German Ambassador will resign. The rumor has a depressing effect on the Bourse.

Honors for Jules Simon.

BERLIN, March 21.—The Emperor has conferred the Order of the Red Eagle upon M. Jules Simon, French delegate to the Labor Conference.

The Flack Conspiracy Trial.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The people closed their case against Sheriff Flack, his son and Joseph Meeks, jointly indicted for conspiracy, before Judge Barrett, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and to-day the defence are offering testimony. The closing event for the prosecution was the reading of Sheriff Flack's voluntary examination and statement before the grand jury. The gist of this was that Flack got the divorce in order to reform his wife's alleged drunken habits and in order to marry Sarah Cherry at some future time.

A Well-Known Oil Man Killed.

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 21.—Joseph J. Stock, a well-known oil man, was instantly killed at Reno while assisting to draw the tools from one of his drilling wells. He slipped and fell, and was caught between the bull wheel and floor. Before the engine could be stopped his neck was broken and head and breast crushed in.

HURRIEDLY LEFT TOWN.

A Life Insurance President Runs Off With His Pretty Typewriter.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21.—Quite a sensation occurred in this city when it became known that J. W. Woodruff, ex-president of the Life and Reserve Insurance Company, had hurriedly left town leaving quite a number of sorrowing creditors behind.

For nearly eight years Woodruff has been associated with the Life and Reserve, but the fact of his running heavily in debt became known in the office and created unpleasant comment. Lately it was discovered that everything was not all right and an investigation was ordered. It was discovered that Woodruff had purchased a lot of land and had contracted to build fourteen houses thereon, the money for which was taken from the funds of the company. The board of directors thereupon deposed Woodruff from office.

In Woodruff's office was a pretty blonde typewriter named Viva Fiscus. Woodruff fell violently in love with her, and it is reported that the couple have fled together. The sheriff is after Woodruff, and many creditors want to see him. The Life and Reserve Company say they have not lost anything, having taken care to protect themselves.

THE PRESIDENT'S LUCK.

He Kills Four Ducks and Will Return Home To-morrow.

BENGIE'S POINT DUCKING CLUB, Md., March 21.—President Harrison spent the day between the shore and the club house. He went into the blind at half-past seven o'clock with his double-barreled gun and waited for the wary duck. In half an hour his patience was rewarded. A single pair skimmed along the water and rested almost in front of the blind.

The Executive marksman popped both barrels but only one bird succumbed to his aim. This satisfied the President, however, and he returned to the club house, returning to the blind at 10 o'clock again, his record for the day being four ducks.

The President, Senator Sewall, Mr. Knight, Col. Dale and other members of the club will dine on part of the fruits of the President's markmanship. The President has decided to remain here until to-morrow.

The Sugar Trust Dividend.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Judge O'Brien of the Supreme Court has been applied to by the sugar trust for leave to declare a dividend of 2 1-2 per cent. on the $50,000,000 of trust certificates. The motion was made in pursuance of the judge's order restraining a disposition of the funds without leave of the courts. The opposing counsel said if the judge was satisfied that the trust was in a position to pay such a dividend they would not object to the motion. Judge O'Brien will decide the matter soon.

Received Into the Order of Mercy.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., March 21.—Bishop O'Farrell officiated at the reception of five young ladies into the order of Mercy at St. Joseph's Convent here. They were Miss Sarah McHale of Philipsburg, to be known as Sister Mary Helena; Miss Annie McKelvey of Bound Brook, Sister Mary Coletta; Miss Maggie O'Connor of High Bridge, Sister Mary Caldsta; Miss Kate McGarity of Red Bank, Sister Mary Leo, and Miss Ellen Farley of Morristown, Sister Mary Loyola.

The McCalla Inquiry.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The naval inquiry was mostly devoted to inquiring into the charge made by the commander against Ensign Kline, in which Kline was accused of being asleep while on duty at night when the vessel was at sea. Kline has complained to the Navy Department that he was falsely accused. Commander McCalla was on the stand, and naval men in the room said that Kline had much the best of it.

Democrats Issue a Memorial.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 21.—The Democratic members of the General Assembly have issued a memorial to the people of the State condemning the Republican Senate for its course on the State Home and School bill and for refusing to vote in concurrence to divide the cities and towns into small districts to facilitate the exercise by the voters of their right of franchise.

An Old Man Burned to Death.

TRENTON, N. J., March 21.—Benjamin Downey, an aged farmer, residing alone near Stony Hill, Pa., four miles from Trenton, was found burned to a crisp in the ashes of his house, at an early hour. Downey's son thinks that his father met with foul play, because he always had large sums of money about the house.

Layman Hughes Recovering.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 21.—Vicar-General Preston, of New York, will consider the case of Layman George Hughes and Father Earley. Mr. Hughes is recovering from the injuries inflicted upon him at church last Sunday, and his physicians no longer fear the formation of an abscess on the head.

Danforth Whipped Again.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—Tommy Danforth, of Harlem, was knocked out here in a twenty-four-round contest by James Connors, instructor of the Buffalo Athletic Club. The winner got $690 and the loser $250. Wallace Johnson, a prominent member of the club, was referee.

A Well Known Minstrel Dead.

BOSTON, March 21.—Ben Collins, of the vaudeville team of Hawkins & Collins, and a well known minstrel, died in this city of pneumonia, aged 30. He had been connected with Tony Pastor's Company, Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels and other minstrel companies.

Jacksonville's Big Fire.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 21.—Later investigation into last night's fire shows that in all seventeen blocks and houses were destroyed. A careful estimate of the losses place the aggregate at $142,000, with a total insurance of $41,100.

Playing for the Actors' Fund.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 21.—The benefit in aid of the Actors' Fund of America at the Chestnut Street Opera House was the means of adding $2,451.25 to the treasury of the fund.

TICKLING TRIFLES.

IT is the common belief that a man can't see a sea-serpent until he is half seas over.

A DOCTOR practices on his own patients, but a musician practices on the patience of others.

IF it is true that George Washington never told a lie it must be also true that his wife never gave him a letter to mail.

AN old lady who had been reading the newspaper went to a dog store and asked to see one of those "ocean greyhounds" they are talking about.

MARRIAGE, perhaps, has been called a "jump in the dark," because so much courting is done and so many proposals made with the light turned down.

AFTER a somewhat fast life, at least so far as race-horses are concerned, the Prince of Wales, it is said, intends giving them up. Money losses are believed to be the cause, of course. Turf luck.

THE records of the Patent Office show that women have obtained patents on 1,900 inventions. One might expect that among them would appear patents on her methods of sharpening lead pencils or throwing a stone, but they don't.

IT is given out that the Chinese are now making paper of the spider web, which is described as being as light as air and almost as transparent. It wouldn't be a bad idea to introduce it here and use it exclusively for love letters.

LOT'S wife is the first case where the consequences of looking back are so apparent, but still the average woman will do it. No matter how nice a passing dress or bonnet may appear in front she always hopes for some chance to pick flaws behind.

AT a recent Sunday-school meeting in Chicago a long-winded clergyman consumed too much of the time with a wordy address. When he sat down the leader of the meeting unwittingly announced the hymn beginning, "Hallelujah! 'Tis Done."

THE Delaware Legislature has just amended an old law so that no woman in the State can now be pilloried as a punishment for witchcraft. The terrible injustice, however, of permitting the papers to kill the peach crop every winter with frost has not yet been touched upon.

"I RECALL," said Dr. Lyman Abbott at the New England dinner in Philadelphia, "an old cartoon in the Harvard Lampoon which depicted two ladies looking at a milestone near Boston, which was marked, '1 m from Boston.' One of the ladies remarked to her companion: 'What a noble epitaph—I'm from Boston.'"

A NEW YORK man has been sent to prison for failing to pay his wife $400 that he borrowed before their marriage. This seems to be a harsh and unnecessary proceeding when the wife could have canceled the debt on the installment plan by rummaging her husband's inside pockets in the misty morning light and quietly appropriating all the small change.

WONDERS OF THE AGE.

SCREW nails for timber are now made, without cutting the metal, by rolling wire of soft open-hearth steel in a series of dies until the thread is sufficiently formed.

VEGETABLE flannel is a textile material largely manufactured in Germany out of pine leaves. The fiber is spun, knitted and woven into undergarments and clothing of various kinds.

THERE is talk in France of utilizing water-courses as a railway motive power. It is proposed that the track shall be laid on an embankment in the middle of the current, and that the locomotives shall have two paddle-wheels dipping into the water and revolved by it.

RIVETING by electricity has been successfully accomplished. The cold rivet is placed in the hole, and when heated to the proper temperature it can be closed by any of the ordinary apparatus now in use. The heating of a half-inch rivet of two or three inches in length takes about half a minute.

A TRIAL in the harbor of Portsmouth, Eng., recently showed that a modern torpedo boat can mount any boom yet devised to protect a roadstead or harbor. The structure tested it was supposed would instantly stop and hold fast any boat attempting to pass it, but the boat, driven at full speed, went over without difficulty or damage.

A NOVELTY is announced in the shape of a "recording and alarm" compass which it is declared will greatly increase the safety of vessels. The apparatus is said to be composed of a binnacle and recording and alarm instruments connected by electric wires. The principle, in brief, is to sound an alarm whenever the course is not kept.

AT Kansas City recently it was announced that Thomas A. Edison would deliver an address, though he was thousands of miles away. One of his improved phonographs was set in operation, and, though it did not deliver an address, it spoke the inventor's apology for not having prepared one, and spoke it so loud that every word was heard distinctly throughout the hall.

THE Austrian sculptor, Friedrich Beer, in Paris, has discovered a process for making marble fluid and molding it as bronze is molded. The name of the marble thus treated is beryt. The new product costs little more than plaster, and is especially well adapted to the ornamentation of houses and the construction of floors, baths and small pillars. A stock company has been organized in Paris to place beryt on the market.

A RESIDENT of Darien, Ga., has invented what he calls a railroad indicator. The method of its working is briefly in this way: In each coach of a passenger train there is seen within easy sight of every passenger an ornamented frame having a glass front. As a train leaves a station, Atlanta, for instance, the engineer, by a simple and ready motion of his hand, sends an influence along the whole train, and a gong sounds that arrests the attention of every passenger, while simultaneously the name of the next station appears.

"I had all the symptoms of malarial poisoning: headaches rheumatic pains, great nervous depression, loss of sleep, indigestion, &c. The old quinine proving useless I tried "the new quinine" and so on got better. W. Goldburg, Bellefontaine, Ohio."

GEN. CROOK'S DEATH

A Great Shock to the Officials of the War Department.

ATTACKED BY HEART DISEASE

"I Cannot Breathe," Were His Only Word Before Dying.

The Funeral Takes Place To-Morrow. The Remains to be Taken to Oakland, Md.—Orders from the War Department. Gen. Sherman's Tribute—A Sketch of His Remarkable Career.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The news of the death of General Crook, commanding the Department of the Missouri, with headquarters at Chicago, reached here early in the day and was received with profound regret.

Secretary Proctor was particularly affected by the intelligence, as he had intimate associations with Gen. Crook during his visit to Washington a few weeks ago. The Secretary sent a personal message of condolence to Mrs. Crook.

The official dispatch received at the War Department from Chicago says Major-Gen. George Crook died at the Grand Pacific Hotel at 7:15 a.m. of heart disease. There had been but the slightest warning that Gen. Crook was not perfectly well. He was at army headquarters all the previous day, and at night at the hotel appeared to be in his usual good health. He got up as usual in the morning at 7 o'clock, and while he was dressing suddenly said to his wife, "I can't breathe." Mrs. Crook helped him to a sofa, and a doctor was at once summoned.

MAJOR-GEN. CROOK.

Heart Failure the Cause.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Mr. John S. Drake, proprietor of the Grand Pacific Hotel, an intimate friend of Gen. Crook, makes the following statement:

"General Crook arose shortly before 7 o'clock apparently in his usual health, and in accordance with his custom, began exercising with the weights and pulleys connected with an apparatus for the purpose, which he kept in his room. After exercising for a few minutes, he stopped and went and lay down upon a lounge saying that he felt a difficulty in breathing. A few moments later he called out to his wife: "Oh, Mary Mary, I need some help; I can't get my breath!" Assistance was at once summoned, and Dr. Hurlbut, who lives nearby, was sent for. Everything that could be done was done, but he failed to rally and died at 7:15. Mrs. Crook and her sister, Mrs. Reid, were the only members of the family present at his bedside when he passed away. He had no children. I suppose his death resulted from an affection of the heart. For some weeks, in fact, since he returned from his last trip to the Northwest, he has been complaining of a bearing down sensation in the neighborhood of the heart."

A Review of General Crook's Life.

[Gen. Crook was born near Dayton, O., September 8, 1828. After graduating at the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1852, he was assigned to duty with the Fourth Infantry in California until 1861. He was in the Rouge River expedition in 1856 and commanded the Pitt River expedition in 1857. In the latter he was wounded by an arrow.

He had risen to a captaincy when at the beginning of the civil war he returned to the East and became colonel of the Thirty-sixth Ohio Infantry. In 1862 he was wounded at Lewisburg, W. Va.

For his services at Antietam he was brevetted Lieutenant-Colonel, U. S. A. He was actively engaged in several campaigns during the war and took part in Sheridans Shenandoah campaign, receiving the brevets of Brigadier-General and Major-General, U. S. A., March 13, 1865.

He was mustered out of the volunteer service January 15, 1866. July 28 he was commissioned Lieut-Colonel 23d Infantry, U. S. A. and assigned to the districts of Boise, Idaho, where he remained until 1872 actively engaged in Indian campaigns. In 1872 he was assigned to the Arizona district where he quelled serious Indian disturbances.

When relieved of the command of the Department of Arizona, Gen. Crook was sent to Omaha in command of the Department of the Platte. In 1888, on the retirement of Gen. Terry, he was made a Major-General and sent to Chicago in command of the Division of the Missouri.

Action of the War Department.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Official action was taken to-day by the War Department on the death of Major-General Crook. A general order announcing his death was issued to the army and the usual observances of the death of a Major-General of the army was enjoined. The wishes of Mrs. Crook in regard to the funeral will be carried out by the War Department. She desires a quiet funeral.

Probable Changes in the Army.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—A number of important changes in the personnel of the army will ensue from the death of Major-General Crook. Brigadier-General Nelson A. Miles will probably be advanced to the vacant major-generalship. Colonel Benjamin H. Grierson, 10th cavalry, the senior colonel of the army, is named for the brigadier-generalship that will be made vacant. He retires July 8 next.

Words of Praise From Gen. Sherman.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Gen. Sherman says: "Gen. Crook was always a man in whom we could depend. During my 15 years as Commander-in-Chief of the army I had ample opportunity to find out Crook's good traits, and I never found him anything but a man who could be depended on in every emergency."

The Funeral.

CHICAGO, March 22.—The funeral will take place to-morrow at 1 o'clock at the Grand Pacific Hotel, after which the body will be escorted by military to the depot where it will be placed on the 2:55 train for Oakland, Md.

LICENSE OR NO LICENSE.

Judges in Huntington, Pa., at Odds on the Liquor Question.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., March 22.—Nominal prohibition, which began in this county three years ago, has been continued by the action of the Associate Judges overruling Judge Furst and refusing all applicants for liquor license. Judge Furst was indignant and stated from the bench that to his personal knowledge liquor drinking had increased under three years of nominal prohibition, and that every nook and corner of the county could boast of "Speak-Easies."

The Judge intimated that he will have applications for license renewed, or grant new ones by virtue of the prerogative vested in him as presiding Judge.

Unless the action of the Court is reversed by some method of this kind, it will result in the confiscation of 60,000 gallons of whiskey belonging to the Huntington Distillery Company, which cannot be taken out of bond because of the refusal of the Court to grant a wholesale license.

A Student of Harvard Missing.

BOSTON, March 22.—William E. McPherson, a student of the Harvard Medical School in Boston, and who, since April, 1889, has held the office of town treasurer of Canton, where he lived with his parents, has been missing since March 15. His books show an apparent deficiency of $2,400, but this is believed to be due to bad bookkeeping and not to defalcation. McPherson is believed to have become temporarily demented from over-study, and to have wandered away while in this condition. He is 26 years old, of good habits, and is very popular with all who know him.

The Tewksbury Patient Captured.

WEST HAWLEY, Mass., March 22.—Watson King, who escaped from Tewksbury Hospital two weeks ago, has been captured in this place. He was found secreted in a barn, well armed, and with a number of burglar tools in his possession. King was sentenced in 1884 to the State prison for twelve years for robbing an old lady. While in the State prison at Charlestown he attempted suicide, and was sent to Worcester asylum insane, and was subsequently transferred to Tewksbury.

Anarchist Most Making Speeches.

ERIE Pa., March 22.—John Most, the professional Anarchist, who is making a lecturing tour to re-kindle the brands of Anarchy, addressed a mixed assemblage of his followers in this city. He devoted himself almost entirely to a review of the French revolution. He counseled his hearers not to lose time in celebration, but to make themselves acquainted with the means by which they could free themselves from the thraldom of government.

Arrested for Mutiny.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 22.—United States Marshal Newlin and Deputy Marshals Ainscow and Flintlock arrived here from Lewes with five of the crew of the brigantine Ernestine, H B. Wittaker, captain. The men were arrested for mutiny. They were brought to this city in irons and lodged in cells in the Federal building. They will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner S. Rodman Smith.

Washington in the Atlantic Association.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 22.—President J. M. Braden, of the Atlantic Association, notified President Phelps, of the American Association, that the Washington National League Club had been admitted to the Atlantic Association. This leaves the National League with but nine clubs, and unless another club can be dropped it is thought that Detroit will be selected as the 10th club.

Delehanty Leaves the League.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 22.—Delehanty received $1,000 advance money and a contract for $3,500 from Al. Johnson, and left this city to join the Cleveland Players' League Club. He is to play shortstop for the Clevland Club. Managers Mutrie and Wright used all their influence to induce Delehanty to stick, but all to no purpose.

Plantations Covered by Water.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 21.—It is reported that the Nita crevasse is now 450 feet wide and from 6 to 8 feet deep. Two plantations above the break have been covered by back water and the flood is spreading over the country below for a distance of 25 miles.

The Henry W. Grady Statue.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 22.—The Ames Works at Chicopee are to cast the bronze figures for the $30,000 statue to be erected to Henry W. Grady at Atlanta. The 5,000 pounds bronze statue of patriotism was shipped to Atlanta yesterday.

A Sailor Knocked Overboard.

HYANNIS, Mass., March 22.—Schooner J. S. Lamparey, Boston, for New York, reports that while she was beating over the shoals last night one of the crew, Alexander Johnson, aged 29, of Novia Scotia, was knocked overboard by the jibe sheet and lost.

FIGURING ON SOLDIERS' LIVES.

It is Calculated that the Veterans Will be All Dead in Thirty-One Years.

Representatives from Massachusetts Seeking Better Mail Facilities—To Vote on the World's Fair Bill Next Tuesday—General Mahone for Consul-General at Paris.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The House Committee on Pensions estimate the number of survivors of the Union army at 1,200,000, and that the average age of the surviving soldiers is now 53 years, so that in 11 years all will be 62 years old, and in 31 years all the soldiers will be dead. This estimate is based upon the ages of 144,000 members of a large number of regiments. A member of the committee has compiled a statement of a semi-official character giving an outline of the bills that will be pressed in the House, with the estimated sums necessary to carry them out. The statement is as follows:

The Service Bill.—This proposes to pension all who served 90 days or over at $8 per month as soon as the soldier becomes 62 years of age. It is similar to the Mexican pension law. This will take $12,000,000, as it is estimated that there are 200,000 who are now 62 years old, but that 75,000 of these are now on the pension roll, leaving 125,000 to be benefitted by this bill.

The Dependent Bill.—This will pension all under 62 years who can either show disability or inability to earn a living, regardless of cause, at $8 per month. This will take $20,000,000.

The Widows' Bill.—To pension all widows of soldiers regardless of the cause of the soldier's death if they are dependent upon their own manual labor for support. This will take $8,000,000.

Prisoners of War.—This provides for a per diem of $2 while the soldier was in prison, if for sixty days or over. The estimate of these is 30,000 and it will take $7,500,000.

Recapitulation.—Under the Service bill, $12,000,000; under the Dependent bill, $20,000,000; under the Widows' bill, $8,000,000; under the Prisoners' bill, 7,500,000. Total increase, $47,500,000; present pensions, $98,000,000; regular increase, $4,500,000. Grand total, $150.000,000.

Seeking Better Mail Facilities.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Representative Randall, of Massachusetts; Mayor Clifford, of New Bedford; Mayor Jackson, of Fall River, and a committee of citizens, from these places and from Taunton, made an argument before the House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads in favor of additional mail facilities for the three cities represented. It was shown that the railroad companies are willing to perform the additional work at the actual cost of doing so.

The World's Fair Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The House Committee on Rules decided to report favorably to the House Mr. Chandler's resolution setting apart next Tuesday for the consideration in the House of the World's Fair bill, and providing for final action upon it at 4 o'clock that afternoon.

Senator Sherman's Speech.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Senator Sherman's speech in favor of his bill for the suppression of trusts is generally regarded by his colleagues as one of the strongest speeches he ever delivered. It was carefully prepared and read from manuscript.

Mahone for Consul-General at Paris.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—It is stated that the Administration has decided to appoint General William Mahone, of Virginia, to be Consul General at Paris in place of General Rathbone.

A Bloody Riot Near Berlin.

BERLIN, March 22.—A terrible riot took place at Koepenich, a suburb of this city, where a mass meeting of workingmen convened to discuss the eight-hour question. The meeting broke up in disorder, and the Mayor was compelled to read the riot act, as the rioters were amusing themselves by stoning the police. The Mayor then charged the crowd at the head of a body of gendarmes with drawn swords, injuring many men and women. In the fight that followed two gendarmes were killed and several men wounded.

Tried to Rob a Bank.

LONDON, March 22.—Three men, named Lacklose, Smith and Robinson, who, it is alleged, are American "crooks," were arraigned at the Guildhall for attempting to steal a bag containing £5,000 from the City Bank. They were remanded for a further hearing.

England and the Vatican.

LONDON, March 22.—The agreement resulting from the negotiations of Gen. Sinamons with the Vatican extends to a number of apostolic-vicariates in Africa as well as to the status of the Catholics of Malta.

Retreating from Avalanches.

GENEVA, March 22.—In many parts of Switzerland the villagers are hastily retreating from the valleys to places of safety on higher ground, avalanches being imminent.

Six Hours' Work a Day for Children.

BERLIN, March 22.—The Children's Committee of the labor conference has resolved in favor of a maximum of six hours' work daily for children under 14 years of age.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potter have returned from a most interesting month's trip through New York State.

Dr. T. B. J. Bird and Mrs. Bird of Flemington, are today visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wilson F. Fulper of North Avenue

Miss Nettie Athy, daughter of Alderman Athy of Worcester, Mass., is visiting Mrs Walter L. Hetfield of East Second street.

Mr. C. C. Day of North Plainfield, is again lying in such a critical condition from an attack of acute Brights disease, that it was deemed advisable to hold a consultation this afternoon.

Mr. Thos. H. Keller returned home from his Western tour this afternoon. The combination viz: East vs. West, which he represents, will shoot in Harrisburg on Monday, and in Philadelphia on Tuesday. The shoot at Trenton has been cancelled.

Mr. J. L. VanNeste and family, deeply to the regret of the extensive circle of friends he has drawn around him in Plainfield, will remove from their present home at 46 East Second street, about the first of April, and permanently locate in Brooklyn.

Still Another Will Contest.

The latest will contest is that of the will of Henry Regan who recently died in this city. He left all of his property to his brother-in-law, Mr. Andrew McCardell, foreman at the Pond tool works. The will is being contested by two sisters of the deceased. The Court referred the case to the Surrogate to take the testimony, and the first session was held on Thursday. The ground of contest has not yet been declared.

Craig A. Marsh is counsel for the executor. Counsel for the others interested in the case are Messrs Walter L. Hetfield, R. V. Lindabury and Chas. A. Reed.

What the July Freshet Costs.

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

The Board of Freeholders met Thursday afternoon for the purpose of considering the matter of special deficiency occasioned by the losses to bridge property by the freshets of July last. Very careful examination was made, and the committee estimated that to restore the bridges damaged would still require something over $13,000 in addition to the $29,000 already expended. The $13,000 are divided in the several townships as follows: Plainfield, $3,651 50; Summit, $3,700; Westfield, $4,580; Fanwood, $1,195; Union, $150 and Springfield, $60.

A PARADISE FOR STREET GAMINS.

The Boys' Club Organized With a Handsome List of Officers and Starts Out on a Great Field of Labor.

An enthusiastic meeting of the subscribers to the Boys' Club Association of Plainfield was held in Reform Hall, last night and permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

Executive Committee — Mrs. D. W. Pond, Mrs. W. L. Patton, Mrs. C. W. Opdyke, Mr. W. B. Wadsworth, Mr. George Wharton Edwards.

President—Mr. Aaron M. Powell.

Secretary—Miss Nettie Haviland.

Treasurer—Dr. W. H. Murray.

Vice Presidents—Mayor Job Male, ex-Judge Nathan Harper, and Messrs Wm. Miller, A. D. Shepard, Geo. H. Babcock, James T. Closson, W. L. Patton, D. W. Pond, F. F. Beals, F. Wood, Wm. Bloodgood.

Advisory Board—Messrs Isaac Miller, Howard Fleming, S. A. Crinkshank, H. A. Oestermoor, Alex. Gilbert, C. B. Corwin, R. F. M. Chase, F. C. Langhorne, J. C. Pierson, Jr., H. P. Reynolds, Leo Daft, George Wharton Edwards, Dr. O. L. Jenkins, and Mrs. E. L. Goddard, Mrs. M. E. Edgerton, Mrs. Dexter Tiffany, Mrs. J. Evarts Tracy, Mrs. W. J. Leonard, Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, Mrs. W. P. Smith, Miss Adeline P. Newton.

The object of the Plainfield Boys' Club is to reclaim gamins from the streets. It is estimated that at least five hundred boys in this city are not reached by any humanitarian influence, and to prevent these youngsters from becoming worthless and wicked men the management of this Club intend surrounding them with ameliorating attractions.

The method to be followed in this new and important work is that pursued by the Rev. Mr. Collins, the pioneer of the Boys' Club movement, who spoke at last night's meeting. Mr. Collins entered on the gamin mission field while a senior with the Rev. W. R. Richards at Yale College in 1872. He has been very successful among the wayward youth whom he has reached, and the number of Boys' Clubs organized under his direction is very large. Plainfield's is a pioneer club for New Jersey. Mr. Collins asserts that in two years 8,000 Connecticut boys have been snatched from useless and criminal lives by his Clubs, and the average cost has been only eight-tenths of one cent each night for each boy.

In the Club rooms the boys are accorded every privilege. Even the library is at their disposal. When you trust these boys—Mr. Collins claims—they show themselves worthy of being trusted. Among all the boys, who in his first year's experience had unlimited access to his store of books, none ever exhibited any signs of a desire to smuggle away any of the things, which to their newly-awakened minds were such treasures. Indeed, during the entire twelve months, he lost only four books, while the College library lost ninety-six.

The room is always in charge of the Superintendent, and whatever religious instruction is attempted is through his personal efforts. The rooms are open only between seven and nine o'clock at night. In the daytime the Superintendent visits the homes of the boys. Jews, Roman Catholics and Protestants all are welcomed, and the benefits to all are such that when the boys reach manhood they are prepared and willing to be graduated into the Y. M. C. A., the churches, business and good citizenship, instead of continuing evil lives.

Various interesting stories connected with the work were told by Mr. Collins, and Mr. Spaulding, of Montclair spoke at considerable length on manual training work, of which he has charge in his town. This manual training is to be made a very especial feature of the local Club. The public schools, as Mr. Opdyke announced, had refused to add it to the regular course; but the Club will develop it thoroughly. A fund of $500 to be devoted to this branch of the work was started last night, and by voluntary subscriptions the sum of $265 was promptly raised. Mr. Wadsworth started with $100; Mr. Pond gave $50; Mr. Rockfellow, $5 and Messrs. Opdyke, Patton, Field and Cruikshank contributed $25 each.

Brief speeches were made by Mr. Powell, who presided during the evening, the Rev. Mr. Richards, the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Editor W. J. Leonard and ex-Judge Nathan Harper. Votes of thanks were extended to Messrs Collins and Spaulding, to the Reform Club, and to Mrs. Patton and Mrs. Pond.

A bevy of bootblacks straggled early into the meeting, frolicked a little, quieted down, became interested and were chosen as a nucleus around which to build a constant large attendance at the club's rooms.

The constitution and by-laws adopted by the Association are brief and contain no unnecessary provisions. The Executive Committee has supreme control of affairs, and in consequence for at least the coming year Mrs. Pond and Mrs. Patton, the founders of the club, will be most prominently identified with the work. Annual meetings of the Association will be held the third Friday of every April.

Will Shoot For $100 a Side.

There is to be an interesting shooting match on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club at Dunellen, on Monday, March 24, between two well known amateur shooters of this city. The match is for $100 a side (cold money, too), at 25 live birds each, Hurlingham rules to govern. Much interest is manifested over the result, and lots of money will change hands.

Scrub Teams in Competition.

There was a match on the Olympia alleys last evening, between teams of the Olympics and the Mondays of Westfield, barring such members as roll on the teams in the Central League. The Westfielders led in the fourth frame, but took a fall afterwards from which they never recovered. The score was:

Second Anniversary of Wetumpka Lodge.

Wetumpka Lodge, No. 3,401 Knights of Honor met on Thursday evening, as told in THE PRESS of yesterday, with Mr. J. F. Barber in the chair. Besides the seven new members initiated, one member was received by card. Several applications were also received for membership, and they will be acted upon at the meeting on April 3.

Wetumpka Lodge is one of the growing lodges of the State, and bids fair to increase its membership to 100 in a short time. The lodge will move into its new quarters in the Hand building in the near future, it will also celebrate its second anniversary in Music Hall on April 15, admission to which will be by ticket.

The Usual Answer Fits the Case.

A correspondent today asks: "Which of the Councilmen did landlord Miller sell the liquor to?" and adds, "I saw nothing in your columns relating to the charge of liquor selling." The usual answer will do for this questioner, and will fully cover the ground—If you don't see it in THE PRESS, it isn't so. Not even "Chief Carey says" upon his oath, that a drop of liquor was had by anybody. The reports of irresponsible newspapers are the only foundations of such a charge.

She Denies the Statement.

Mrs. Ramsberger, whose husband was arrested on Thursday on a charge of embezzling from Abram C. Cadmus, wishes THE PRESS to deny a statement published in another paper that evening to the effect that her husband accumulated considerable real estate while in Mr. Cadmus' employ. She says that the entire property, valued at about $1,400, belongs to her, and not to her husband. She says that her husband is a hard working man and was very attentive to his business.

Meeting at Hope Chapel.

The meeting at Hope chapel last evening was opened by Editor Wm. J. Leonard. Owing to the bad roads and the state of the weather the attendance was small.

Mr. Leonard's subject was found in the book of Corinthians. He spoke strongly in favor of temperance. What a grand thing it is, he said, to be temperate.

At the close of Mr. Leonard's address the meeting was thrown open to all, and short addresses were made by several of those in the audience.

Concerning the Post Office Removal.

Post Office Inspector Henry D. Parham, visited this city yesterday to receive proposals for the lease of a new site for the Post office, in accordance with the advertisement in THE PRESS. There were three bids for a location: one from Wm. R. Clarkson, 17 East Front street; Jacob Voehl, 17 West Front street, and Mr. J. P. Taylor, corner Park and North avenues. Inspector Parham took the proposals and reserved his decision.

Grossly Exaggerated But Somerville Wins.

(From the Somerville Gazette.)

We recently published an account of how a man at Plainfield ate two dozen eggs at one sitting, upon a wager. This feat has been completely overshadowed by the act of a German named Albert Glass, hostler at the Commercial Hotel of Somerville, who recently, while employed at Wooden's Hotel at White House Station ate three dozen eggs, raw, shells and all. The feat was performed in the presence of Station Agent Dankel and others, who purchased the eggs. Glass had previously often eaten a single egg in that manner merely to show that it could be done.

An Excellent Idea.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company, on recommendation of Ticket Agent Spellenger, will have two young men at the Union Station, Elizabeth, Monday, to act as ushers and escort women and children to and from the waiting room to the trains. This is found to be a much needed measure on account of the number of trains constantly moving both ways. There have been several hairbreadth escapes from death the past few months.

A Birthday Party.

Miss Lavina Gerhold of Plainfield avenue, tendered a birthday party to her twin cousins, Ella and Eva DeCamp at the residence of the latter on West Fifth street, last evening. The playing of games and the serving of refreshments composed the evening's enjoyment.

A $250,000 JOB.

Councilman Smith Proposes to Burn New York City's Garbage.

Councilman Seymour G. Smith of this city, and several other officers of the Seaboard Sanitary Garbage Cremating and Refuse Utilizing company called on Mayor Grant the other day and suggested the advisability of New York city giving the company a five years' contract for disposing of all the garbage and other refuse of the city by cremation instead of having it towed out to sea.

The company claims to have adequate facilities for consuming all the street sweepings and other refuse at its works foot of East Seventeenth street, and it agrees to do all the work at a price not exceeding what it costs the city now for disposing of the garbage alone, which they estimate at $250,000 a year. The Mayor promised to lay the matter before Street Cleaning Commissioner Loomis on his return and to communicate the result to the company.

At Music Hall.

For the proper rendition of the various musical numbers which are introduced in the performance of "McKenna's Flirtation," which Barry & Fay are to give at Music Hall on the night of Thursday, March 27, the services of a quartette of young ladies has been secured. These young ladies are pretty of face, shapely of person and sweet of voice.

The constantly increasing proportion of our city's best play-goers should welcome with peculiar gladness the appearance here of the Lyceum Theatre Company in "Sweet Lavender," at Music Hall, next Monday evening. This distinctly American organization represents with striking accuracy the progress of the drama in this country. They have worked with admirable care and intelligence and their influence upon our plays, our players and our playgoers has been elevating and refining. Managed with sagacity and equipped generously for all their undertakings, they have had the rare satisfaction of unbroken success in the accomplishment of which they have displayed the gratifying evidences of careful, steady, ripe thought and splendid pluck.

Legislative Visit.

(From the Messenger of Somerville)

Our representative at Trenton, W. S. Potter, in company with some 30 or 40 of the members of Legislature, including Hon Jacob Klotz, visited Atlantic City last week, at the invitation of Hon. James Beckwith the Journal Clerk of the House. The party were quartered at the Ocean, a large and beautiful hotel, of which Mr. Beckwith is part owner, and were furnished with a special car by the West Jersey RR. All enjoyed themselves. Only a few had been to Atlantic City before. Great was the surprise to find a large city of nearly 15,000 people. An electric street railway, the light house and life-saving station, new board walk about three miles long, 25 feet wide, are among the many objects of interest. Any person visiting this beautiful seaside resort will certainly stop at the Ocean House (J. A. Reid, proprietor.) It is large, comfortable and home-like; the rooms are large and the furniture new. The table is excellent. It is situated near the sea, corner of Pacific and Connecticut avenues.

An Item For the Top of Your Hat.

In this season of bad traveling the best medium for vendue sales is the newspaper. Bills are only of use in the immediate neighborhood of the sale, and general publicity can only be obtained through the newspaper which circulates in the whole county, and draws a larger attendance.

If there is an article that a buyer would like, the newspaper is the source from which he receives the information. The Plainfield CONSTITUTIONALIST goes out every week and pauses not until it enters every household in the county—nearly. No matter how bad the traveling is, it gets there. Plant an advertisement in its columns if you want people to know what you are doing.

A Sussex Weather Prophet.

(From the Deckertown Independent.)

Mose Swarts has launched forth as a weather prophet. His predictions were made last Fall, and were made by what is known among some old-time farmers as the hog-melt and caterpillar signs. Mose said the "melt" indicated an open Winter with cold spells toward the last, and, in his opinion, it will be "nip and tuck" on the ice business this Winter.

Mose also noticed that there was more black on the tail end of the red and black caterpillar than there was on the head end, and this indicates that there will be more cold weather during the latter part of the Winter than there has been during the first.

Convention Echoes.

Mr. D. E. Davis will play the trombone at the young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday at 4:15 P. M.

Mr. W. D. Murray will lead and reports from delegates to the Morristown convention will be received.

Members of the Association are especially urged to be present.

Grapes for Changeable Weather.

The effect of changeable weather on ladies of delicate constitutions is very depressing and serious, and something strengthening is needed to assist nature in withstanding the strain. Nothing more effective can be found than Speer's Port, Burgundy and Claret Wines, which are in general use in the New York and other hospitals. For sale by druggists.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS ORGANIZE.

The North Plainfield Township Committee Elect Officers for the Ensuing Year, and Transact Other Business.

The meeting adjourned subject to a call by the chair.

EVEN BOWLING BY THE FANWOODS.

The Mondays and Nameless, and the Olympics and Fanwoods, Tied in the Central Tournament.

Mr. Fancher of the Fanwoods, who says the Crescent team "can't bowl a little bit," can't bowl a little bit himself it seems. He was low man on the Fanwood team who were all low men last night at Westfield. The following were the scores:

Concerning the Dunellen School.

Some of the more progressive residents of Dunellen are anxious to have a new public school built there and a larger and hence more efficient corps of teachers provided. The best results secured by the present hampered state of affairs are considered very unsatisfactory, but the remedy lies with the citizens themselves. Every schoolday morning a large number of children from the district board the early trains with books and lunches in hand on their way to Plainfield. Most of these are of a grade of scholarship which is nominally prepared for in the Dunellen school, and an investigation shows that many citizens who are ready to complain when their tax bill comes in are really adding to their tax by paying money annually into the treasury of the Plainfield School Board. An effort is being made to have the use of this money turned to the development of the home school.

As THE PRESS has stated, $2,500 was the amount appropriated for the support of the Dunellen school this year. Many of the residents favored an increase in the appropriation, but the majority of the voters present at the annual school meeting voted against it.

PEERLESS DYES Are the Best, Boldest Dyestuffs.

MYSTERIOUS TRAGEDY.

A Young and Handsome Girl Shot by Her Lover.

LEMONTON, Pa., March 22.—A sad case of shooting occurred here at 11 p. m. which resulted in the almost instant death of Miss Bertie Hiskey, a handsome girl, aged 16 years.

Webster Campbell, of Weissport, Pa. was paying his attentions to Miss Hiskey. He says that after the other members of the family had retired he removed a revolver from his pocket and placed it on the bureau. The weapon fell to the floor and was accidentally discharged. The ball entered Miss Hiskey's brain and she fell to the floor and soon afterwards expired.

The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Miss Hiskey came to her death by a pistol shot wound at the hands of Webster Campbell. Two chambers of the revolver were found empty, and it is alleged that, instead of accident, Miss Hiskey was shot by her lover. Campbell was arrested and lodged in Mauch Chunk jail at noon.

NO HELP NEEDED.

Wilkesbarre Desires No Outside Aid for the Distressed Miners.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 22.—Mayor C. B. Sutton, of this city, is in receipt of innumerable letters from the cities of this State, New York, New Jersey, and other States asking if any help is needed in relieving the distress of the mining population.

Some of the most generous offers of assistance have been received, but to all he answers that no such help is needed. Wilkesbarre is an exceptionally rich city, and her people are very generous in all such cases, so she is abundantly able to care for her own poor.

The Mayor is not pleased that any idea to the contrary should get abroad, but highly appreciates the benevolent spirit which prompts the kind offers.

Two Girls Missing.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 22.—Miss Laura Hague and Miss Rebecca McKelvey are missing from their homes. The girls are each 19 and both are pretty. Elopement is the word used in speaking of the fair runaways, and Miss McKelvey's sister says she believes "Dr." Smith and a man named Harvey are with the missing ones. For the past two weeks the girls were constant attendants at the Methodist Church, where a revival was in progress. Both young women were at the altar at the conclusion of each night's service.

The Proposed Leather Trust.

NEWARK, N. J., March 22.—A meeting of the large leather manufacturers of this city was held to settle upon the price which the English syndicate should pay for the industry. There were sessions for several hours with Mr. Bostwick, the agent of the syndicate, and it is stated on semi-official authority that the price agreed upon was about $3,000,000—a decrease of about $2,000,000 from the original price. It is said that Mr. Bostwick cabled to the syndicate to send men over to verify the statements presented by the manufacturers.

Business Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co. by telegraph, number for the United States 215, and for Canada 40, or a total of 255, as compared with a total of 260 last week, and 252 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 249, representing 220 failures in the United States and 29 in Canada.

Hotel Destroyed by Fire.

POINT PLEASANT, N. J., March 22.—A fire broke out early in the morning at Tree Lawn Hotel, this place. It completely destroyed the building with its entire contents. There were no guests in the hotel at the time, but the occupants, Landlord Russell Hulick, his wife and daughter, Nellie, barely escaped with their lives, and saved nothing but their night apparel.

Maggie Hourigan's Murderer.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., March 22.—Deputy Sheriff Tefft of Greenwich arrested Lawton Wilbur on suspicion of the murder of Maggie Hourigan at that place. He was identified by Mr. and Mrs. Scully as the man who called at their house. Further developments are expected shortly.

Sam Tait Arrested.

TRENTON, N. J., March 22.—Sam Tait, a notorious criminal of Philadelphia, who figured conspicuously in the Sharpless murder case, was given a hearing in this city before a United States Commissioner on the charge of passing counterfeit money. He was held for the grand jury.

CARLISLE, Pa., March 22.—The Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference considered the question of increasing the laity representation at the General Conference and, after a lengthy discussion of the subject, voted against the proposed change. The vote stood 41 for the change and 144 against.

HARD TIMES IN THE CONFEDERACY.

Striking Picture of the Exhausted Condition of the Troops.

In his book, "Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government," Mr. Davis makes the statement that owing to a surplus of cash unused from previous appropriations and on hand in the fall of 1864, no appropriations were deemed necessary to carry the treasury over until the spring of 1865. The matter of lack of supplies was investigated during the winter, and in a secret session of congress at Richmond the following exhibit was made of the condition of Lee's subsistence department: "That there is not meat enough in the Southern Confederacy for the armies in the field. That there is not in Virginia meat and bread enough for the armies within her limits. That the supply of bread for those armies to be obtained from other places depends absolutely upon keeping open the railroad connections of the south.

"That the meat must be obtained from abroad through a seaport. That the transportation is not now adequate, from whatever cause, to meet the necessary demands of the service.

"That the supply of meat to Lee's army is precarious, and if the army fall back from Richmond and Petersburg there is every probability that it will cease altogether."

The hard times in the Confederacy were known to every Union soldier who came in contact with the enemy on the Petersburg lines. There was regular communication between the opposing pickets, and there was an epidemic of desertions from the Confederate ranks, which alone would have encouraged the Union troops to believe that the bottom was dropping out of the Confederacy. The stories which these men told of the state of affairs in Dixie more than confirmed the suspicions that were awakened by their action in deserting their colors. Their stories briefly were that the whole population of the south had given up all hope of success and wanted the end to come soon; that only the leaders who feared for their heads were holding out; that the friends of the soldiers in the field encouraged them to desert, and that all of them would desert as soon as opportunity offered, except property owners; that the property of deserters was confiscated and their families turned adrift; that men who remained in the ranks would not fight any more, and that all of the firing, or nearly all, on the picket line was done under the orders and direction of the officers, and they in some cases handled the guns themselves; that many soldiers when compelled to shoot were careful not to hit the target. They laid great stress upon the fact that the southerners would not fight again. Circumstances might compel them to remain in the ranks, but nothing could induce them to do battle with their old time ardor. The condition of the men who came into the Union camps as deserters attested the truth of all that was told over the lines of the forlorn aspect of things in Lee's camps. A deserter's first act on finding himself in the hands of the enemy was to appeal for food. Occasionally they were too modest to throw themselves boldly upon the mercy of an antagonist, but their famished faces, and their hungry eyes, wandering wistfully to the camp chests and sometimes resting upon a refuse bone, led their captors to offer food the moment they had secured their prisoners. Often these men were barefoot and some of them had worn their trousers legs off half way up to the knees. Such absolute distress among so large a number of men is seldom witnessed. And this was not confined to the men who came in as deserters. Every night Confederates came to the Union camps, wading through swamps and risking their lives where the pickets' bullets flew, in order to get bread and meat which their generous foemen kindly gave out of an abundance.—George L. Kilmer.

Anna Dickinson's Bravery.

It was in one of the coal mining towns, and a crowd of rude, turbulent men had gathered to prevent Miss Dickinson from speaking. As she stepped upon the platform she was greeted with hisses and screams, and as she advanced to the front the tumult increased. She did not shrink nor show one sign of fear; her eyes burned with a new light and her face paled a little, not from fear, but from excitement. With an undaunted air she stood there, with her head thrown back, her eyes blazing, one arm behind her, in the attitude all her admirers knew to be her own characteristic, stood waiting for the tumult to cease. Suddenly one man, more reckless or more inflamed with anger than the rest, drew a pistol from his pocket and fired. The shot cut off a lock of her curly hair, but still she never flinched. The look of contempt deepened on her face, and the firm lips closed more tightly. For a moment there was a dead silence, then a voice cried out:

"Ah! but she's a brave lassie; let's hear what she has to say, boys."

In a second the tide was turned. There was a responsive cheer, that was given with as much heartiness as had characterized the hisses before.

She stood conqueror in this curious and dangerous conflict of wills. One who heard her says that she spoke as though she was inspired, and she carried that audience of men with her.—Boston Herald.

Say Well and Do Well!

A short time before Dean Stanley's death he closed an eloquent sermon with a quaint verse, which greatly impressed his congregation. On being asked about it afterward, he said it was doubtful whether the lines were written by one of the earliest Deans of Westminster, or by one of the early Scotch Reformers.

The dean had come upon it by accident, and feeling that it expressed with singular felicity the true Christian proportion between doctrine and character, between good words and good works, he used it to point and adorn his sermon. Readers of The Companion may be glad to add it to their collections of good words:

Say well is good, but do well is better.
Do well seems spirit, say well the letter.
Say well is godly, and helpeth to please;
But do well lives godly, and gives the world ease.
Say well to silence sometimes is bound,
But do well is free on every ground.
Say well has friends, some here, some there,
But do well is welcome everywhere.
By say well to many God's word cleaves,
But for lack of do well it often leaves.
If say well and do well were bound in one frame,
Then all were done, all were won, and gotten were gain.

—Youth's Companion.

A Quick Witted Boy.

Loss of life was doubtless prevented by the prompt action of a little 9-year-old lad, Norman Smith, at Kingston recently. While playing near the West Shore railway track he discovered a mass of rock which had slid down over the south bound track in Fitch's cut, just after the watchman had passed. Seeing the Hudson River express rounding the curve some distance above, he made frantic efforts to warn the engineer of danger. The train was stopped just in time and was switched on the north track. Other trains were detained for a time. A private car, with P. W. Clement and family on board, was attached to the train. A purse of money was quickly made up for the little fellow.—New York Tribune.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The colony of Victoria, Australia, with 1,110,009 inhabitants, is said to muster 150 religious sects.

There has been little progress in cooking utensils in 2,000 years. Implements like those still in use are to be found in Pompeian ruins.

A cat in Santa Cruz, Cal., has become so expert in climbing up the door and raising the latch to get in that the carrying of a big rat does not now interfere with her performing the feat.

Many take it for granted that because musk is sold in what is called a pod that it is a vegetable. It is instead an animal product, being a substance found in a two or three inch sac in the body of the musk deer of Asia.

At the sale of the Marquis collection, at the Hotel Drouot, Paris, $9,500 was paid for a superbly decorated Louis XVI clock, and a Louis XIV chandelier fetched $4,000. The first five days of the sale realized upward of $100,000.

A fox driven by the hounds in a recent hunt upon the estate of Lord Granville, at Walmer castle, bolted right before Lord Granville's eyes through the hall of the castle and into the drawing room, with the hounds in full cry after him. They ran him down and killed him in front of the mantelpiece.

A curious fact is that of the seventeen clerks in the senate of the new state of Washington a majority (nine) are women, and there is but one who carries "Mrs." before her name. The same rule holds good with the house, a majority of the clerks being ladies.

In the recent sale of old books and manuscripts in New York a letter written by Christopher Columbus sold for $2,000. It consisted of 116 lines, and 84 words, and very easy words at that, were spelled the most convenient way.

The rates of transporting heavy freight, merchandise and the like have changed. Less than a half century ago the railroads of Great Britain made a very careful estimate, and it cost just a penny a ton per mile for carrying coal.

A gentleman at Poona, India, recently received a letter that had been posted at a station twenty miles away two years and four months before, accompanied by the explanation from the postal authorities that the delay was owing to the fact that it "had been posted by the wrong train." Instead of being grateful for the explanation he is mean enough to insinuate that the train the letter got on must have had an uncommonly long run.

The present standing army of Great Britain may be said to date from the reign of King Charles II, although some few of the oldest regiments claim, and with justice, to date back to the previous century. Cromwell's army, which was disbanded at the restoration, was certainly the best, most disciplined, most sober and most highly trained army England ever had.

A sale of a collection of pictures of Nell Gwynne, the famous favorite of Charles II, and of the king himself and many of the court people of the time, recently took place in London. All the pictures were engravings. The total brought by 215 lots was $2,200. Prints of Nell herself, after the pictures of different artists, brought from $30 down to $15 each. Pictures of King Charles brought about the same prices. Those of other women of the court went for from $15 to $25 each.

A fisherman who was desirous of catching a specimen of the stereolepis, a gigantic fish somewhat resembling a black bass and found on the Pacific coast, accomplished his purpose in the summer of 1889 off the island of Santa Catalina, in California. His success encouraged others, so that altogether thirty were captured, ranging in weight from 75 to 300 pounds. The stereolepis is migratory, and only comes in shore during the summer for the purpose of spawning. It ranges from the Farralones down 500 miles below San Diego. Those of 300 pounds in weight are nearly six feet in length, and are taken with a hand line.

London Truth calls attention to the following illustration of the anomalies resulting from the preposterous English rates for "ocean postage." A letter from any part of the United States goes to India for 2½d. From England the postage is 5d. The United States letters are actually transmitted through England. That is to say, a letter may come from San Francisco to New York, thence to Liverpool and thence to India for half the postage of a letter from Liverpool to India.

As one passes along the main traveled road leading to the upper end of the prairie, about a mile distant from Prairie du Chien, he can see a bit of ground inclosed within a pile of rock and debris on the right hand side of the way. If one's curiosity should lead him to investigate this lonesome spot, he would find the ruins of a tomb of a once prominent and influential character in the great northwest, and a leader of the British troops under Col. McKay, who captured the American fort and forces at Prairie du Chien in 1812. The tomb is that of Jean Joseph Roulette. A heavy marble slab, overrun with weeds and underbrush and half obliterated, marks the spot where sleeps the hero of many a hard fought battle.

Chicago's New Opera House.

To strangers the Auditorium building is not only a source of wonder and delight if they are privileged to inspect its interior, but it is a sort of a thorn in their path as well, because if they are not acquainted up in its neighborhood they mistake it for all sorts of other places. One night last week George Irish, who was on the main door, was astonished to see approaching him a procession of country looking chaps who carried lanterns and who attempted to pass right by him. "Tickets!" he said. "Yaas," replied the leader, "we've got tickets;" and he pulled out a railroad ticket a yard long and handed it over. "That's no good here," said Irish, as he passed it back. "It ain't?" exclaimed the countryman. "Isn't this a railroad depot?" He was informed that it was not, and he turned to his followers and remarked that "it beat all." Mr. Irish mused that he did not care who else it beat as long as they didn't beat him. Treasurer Temple, in the box office, has often been approached by gentlemen from the rural district who have asked for tickets to Kenosha and directions to the World's fair site, and not a day passes that some stranger does not call on Manager Adams or his assistants and ask for something, from a marriage certificate to a pass for the dog show.—Chicago Herald.

A Strange Bequest.

Now and then a woman who has property to bequeath puts a strange bequest in her will. Mrs. Mary E. McDonald, of Flushing, affords the latest instance. Her will has been admitted to probate by Surrogate Weller, at Jamaica. She bequeaths $100 to Dr. Louis A. Stimson, with the request that he buy something that will give him pleasure and be a memento of herself. She says she had long thought of presenting him a pet dog and expresses the hope that he will invest the legacy that way.—Brooklyn Eagle.

THE FLACK VERDICT

The Conspirators Found Guilty as Charged.

TALK ABOUT THE SENTENCE.

The Jury's Recommendation for Mercy May Keep the Sheriff Out of Prison.

Gov. Hill Non-Committal About Removing Sheriff Flack from Office—A Reporter's Presence in the Jury Room May Secure a New Trial—Politicians Figuring to Obtain the Office.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The conviction of Sheriff James A. Flack, his son Will and Referee Joseph Meeks for conspiring to obtain a fraudulent divorce is the talk of the city.

There is much speculation as to the kind of sentence Judge Barrett would impose when the convicted persons shall be brought before him. Owing to the recommendation of mercy made by the jury it was the universal opinion that the full penalty of twelve months' imprisonment and $500 fine would not be imposed in any one of the cases. Indeed not a few thought that the fine only would be imposed, and the convicted misdemeanants escape imprisonment altogether.

But the latter is not the view taken by some lawyers, and they believe that Judge Barrett must sentence to imprisonment, no matter how brief the term.

There is still the possibility that Judge Barrett may grant the request for a suspension of sentence to afford counsel for the convicts to present points of law, but if he do not granat a "certificate of doubt" he must sentence there and then. Messrs. Fullerton, Russell and Bird have made up their minds to appeal the case. Supposing the Judge should sentence the Sheriff, Will and Meeks to six months' imprisonment, they would have served out their time before the appeal would be decided by the courts alone.

At any rate it is believed that Meeks will get a lighter sentence than the others as he has made some show of a defence.

Prominent lawyers declare the conviction of Sheriff Flack does not operate as a forfeiture of his office. Even though he may be a prisoner on Blackwell's Island, he will still be the sheriff of the county until removed by Governor Hill. The law does not provide who, in the event of the sheriff's incarceration in a penal institution shall administer his oath of office, and the lawyers believe that the duties will devolve upon the under sheriff still holding office, by virtue of his appointment by the sheriff. The latter continues to be his superior officer until he is removed and his successor named by the Governor.

Counsel for the defence may move for a new trial on various grounds, but the motion will certainly be denied. It is possible that the presence of a reporter in the jury room will be offered by the defence as one of the reasons for a new trial. Col. Fellows is seeking to find a means of punishing the reporter.

Governor Hill Non-Committal.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 24.—Gov. Hill refused to give his opinion of the verdict in the Flack case. It is believed here that he will remove Flack at once, but whether the next sheriff will be Ridgeway or Sexton is as yet a matter of speculation. The general feeling in Albany is that the verdict is a just one.

RAGING WATERS.

The Monongahela Reaches the Highest Point and is Doing Damage.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 24.—Twenty-four feet was the stage of water shown on the marks in the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers this morning, 22 1-2 feet at Davis Island dam and almost at a standstill. This was the highest point reached. Rivermen do not now anticipate a higher stage of water, reports from up-river points indicating that the water will soon begin subsiding.

In this city and Allegheny many cellars and first floors of business houses and residences along the river fronts are more or less flooded, but no serious damage to property or loss of life has been reported. The new grounds of the Players' League Ball Club in Exposition Park are several feet under water and will no doubt be the worse for the flooding. Traffic on the Pittsburg & Western Railroad between Pittsburg and Sharpsburg is temporarily suspended. Pittsburg and Western trains, however, arrive and depart regularly from the Allegheny depot of the West Pennsylvania Railroad.

A Baby Lieutenant.

COLUMBUS, O., March 24.—John Alexander Logan, Jr., grandson of the late Gen. John A. Logan, and son of J. A. Logan, Captain of the Fifth Ohio National Guard, has been commissioned First Lieutenant of the Logan Rifles. As he is only six weeks old he is presumably the youngest officer in the service of his country.

Funeral of Major-General Crook.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Services over the remains of Major-General George Crook were conducted in the Grand Pacific Hotel yesterday by Rev. Drs. McPherson, Locke and Thomas and Professor Swing. Ex-President Hayes and Judge W. Q. Gresham, representing the Loyal Legion, sat at the foot of the casket with General H. T. Devol. After eulogistic addresses were made the remains were escorted to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad depot by four regiments of the National Guard, the Loyal Legion and the G. A. R. The remains will be taken to Oakland, Md., where the final interment takes place this evening.

SHOT THE HIRED MAN.

The Coroner Reports It as a Case of Justifiable Homicide.

NORWICH, Conn., March 24.—Voluntown, a mill village eleven miles from this place, was the scene of a homicide Saturday night. Ira E. Briggs the 25-year old son of Ira G. Briggs, a well-known manufacturer of that place, was in the furnace room of his father's house when Samuel R. Green, the hired man, entered and, with an oath said: "I have you just where I want you; now I'll cut your throat." As Green reached for his knife young Briggs drew a 32-calibre pistol and sent a bullet into Green's body between the eleventh and twelfth ribs on the left side.

Green still pressed toward Briggs and he fired three more shots, one going into his throat, one grazing his left cheek and one entering his brain through the left eye, killing Green instantly. Green was 36 years old and had worked for Mr. Briggs for a year and a half. The coroner reports it as a case of justifiable homicide. Briggs gave bonds in the sum of $5,000 for trial.

STAND BY THE PASTOR.

Father Early's Congregation Support Him in the Hughes Trouble.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 24.—The congregation of St. Mary's Catholic Church of this city held a meeting last night and adopted resolutions supporting the pastor, Father L. J. Early, in his position in the recent trouble with George Hughes, a parishioner. The latter was so badly injured in his fight with Father Early and three others on Saturday night last, that he has been confined to his bed all week.

Hughes expects to appear before the police court to-morrow against Father Early and the men who assaulted him.

The members of St. Mary's congregation will petition the church to uphold their master in this matter.

THE EIGHT-HOUR DEMAND.

A Clash Expected Between Contractors and Workmen.

BOSTON, March 24.—The plasterers and carpenters of this city and vicinity recently demanded that eight hours shall constitute a day's work on and after April 1 and May 1 respectively.

Both trades expected to secure their demands without trouble, but the Carpenters Builders Association have voted not to grant the eight-hour demand of their workmen. The Association further determined that no member should sign a contract for 1890 that did not contain a strike clause.

The workmen express themselves as determined, and will resort to extreme measure to obtain what they ask.

Three Trainmen Killed.

PORTAGE, N. Y., March 24.—A collision occurred between a passenger and freight train on the Western New York & Pennsylvania road near this station. Fireman Hughes and Brakemen Riley and Olsen were killed and Engineers Warner and Stont badly scalded. A passenger, name unknown, was fatally injured. A Rochester man had both legs cut off. Conductor Godfrey is badly hurt.

A Seaman's Suit for Damages.

NEWPORT, R. I., March 24.—The suit of Robert Carbrey, a seaman, against Lieut-Commander Edwin Longenecker of the Naval Training Station here, for $10,000 damages, was called in the Supreme Court this morning. Carbrey claims that Longenecker caused him to be placed in double irons and confined for hours, after he had been discharged from the service at his own request by order of the Secretary of the Navy.

Arrested for Adulterating Milk.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 24.—The State milk inspectors have caused the arrest within the past few days of a number of milk men in villages and cities along the Hudson, on the charge of adulterating milk. Fines of $25 were paid in each case. Two such arrests were made at Poughkeepsie yesterday, and three here to-day.

State Prison for Life.

SALEM, Mass., March 24.—Thomas J. Dempsey, aged 28, who in October, 1889, killed his brother-in-law, Clarence H. Willey by shooting, was allowed to plead guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to state prison for life. The killing was the outcome of a refusal by Dempsey, who lived in Willey's house to pay board.

Kemmler Learns His Fate.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 24.—William Kemmler was yesterday officially notified by Warden Durston of the Auburn prison, of the decision rendered in his case at Albany. Kemmler displayed no signs of uneasiness and the only question he asked was when he would be taken away.

Long Distance Telephoning.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 22.—The long distance telephone system between this city, New York, Philadelphia and Boston has been opened for business. Conversations were held with persons in the above-named cities. The system worked to perfection.

Police Stop the Fight.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 24.—The police last night stopped the fight between Mike Conley, the "Ithaca Giant," and Frank Glover, formerly of Chicago, after the men had fought two rounds. Glover was considerably punished.

Hancock Found Guilty.

SALT LAKE, Utah, March 24.—John Hancock, on trial for the so called "church murders" 30 years ago at Provo, was found guilty of murder in the second degree for killing Mrs. Jones and her son.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The World's Fair Bill to be Voted on To-Morrow.

BUSINESS BEFORE THE SENATE.

Mr. Ingalls Opposed to Reconsidering the Blair Bill.

The Sherman Anti-Trust Bill to be Debated—The House to Discuss the Bill to Admit Wyoming to Statehood—General Schenck Dead—Carried Off by Pneumonia After Five Days' Illness.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The proceedings of the House during the week will be enlivened by the discussion on the Chicago World's Fair bill to-morrow. There will be some opposition to the measure, but the impression among members is that the bill will be passed without substantial change.

Measures concerning the District of Columbia occupied the House to-day. Among the bills that will come up for passage will be one to establish a Columbus memorial park on Rock Creek, near this city. The bill to admit Wyoming to statehood will be discussed but probably not pushed to a vote. Other measures of lesser interest will occupy the House during the rest of the week.

The Senate will dispose of the Sherman Anti-Trust measure some time during the week but the many amendments offered to it may be debated until quite a late day. When it is out of the way the Undervaluations bill will be taken up and passed. There was no opposition to it from the Democrats in the Finance Committee and none is expected in the Senate. There may be some debate over the amendments offered by the Senate Committee but this will not consume much time.

This afternoon the motion of Mr. Ingalls to table the motion of Mr. Blair to reconsider the vote by which the Senate refused to pass the Educational bill to a third reading will come up for action and it will likely be agreed to. In anticipation of this action, Mr. Blair has offered his bill in a new form and very likely he will report it to the Senate favorably again before the end of the week. It will have to take its chances on the calendar, and the probability is that is dead, for this session at least.

GENERAL SCHENCK DEAD.

The Ex-Minister Expired Last Night After an Illness of Five Days.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Gen. Robert C. Schenck died at his home at 5:45 last evening of pneumonia, after an illness of but five days. General Schenck was in the 81st year of his age, and his career as a soldier, congressman and diplomat was a remarkably busy one.

He was born in Franklin, Ohio, on Oct. 4, 1809. He was first elected to Congress in 1843, and served four terms and until 1851, when he was sent by President Fillmore as Minister to Brazil. When the civil war broke out he promptly offered his services and was one of the first brigadier-generals appointed by President Lincoln, his commission bearing the date of May 17, 1861. He served with distinction as brigadier and division commander until December, 1863, when he resigned to again take his seat in the House of Representatives. General Schenck was re-elected in 1866 and 1868, and during his last four terms in Congress filled a number of important positions in the House and rendered distinguished services as chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs and of the Ways and Means Committee.

In December, 1870, he was appointed Minister to England by President Grant. Resigning his post as Minister in 1876, General Schenck returned to Washington, where he has since resided.

CARD PLAYING IN CHURCH.

The Pastor Charged that There Was Disorder in the Back Pews.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., March 24.—The Rev. John Bolton, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity, did not preach a sermon yesterday morning. Instead of doing so he made an address at the close of the services, in which he attacked the vestry and said that once, while reading the litany, he had observed a game of cards being played in the pews in the rear of the church.

The difficulty that culminated yesterday started last Tuesday when Rector Bolton, without consulting the vestry, ordered the removal of eight pews from the rear of the church.

Vestryman C. Bradford, Jr. accidentally went in into the church and found the carpenter, under Mr. Bolton's supervision, removing the pews. He spoke to the rector and told him that he was exceeding his authority and had no right to take the pews out, and suggested that work be suspended until an immediate conference of the vestry be held. This Mr. Bolton refused to accede to, and ordered the carpenters to proceed with the work. Mr. Bradford then called the vestry together and a resolution denouncing the pastor's action was unanimously adopted.

The Body Positively Identified.

BOSTON, March 24.—Robert Thompson, an intimate friend of Hiram F. Sawtelle, having informed the police that, shortly before the latter's disappearance, he had, in Thompson's presence, burned a wart from his left hand with a hot needle, leaving a scar, and that he had a peculiar corn on his left foot, the body was exhumed and both scar and corn were found precisely as described by Thompson. This is the most satisfactory identification of the body yet made.

TALMAGE ON ANGELS.

FAMILIAR RENDITION OF SCRIPTURE TEACHING THEREON.

They Are a Separate Class from Glorified Saints—Christians Will Not Be Angels. This World Is Their Field of Battle with Infernal Powers.

BROOKLYN, March 23.—The Academy of Music was filled to overflowing this morning by the Tabernacle congregation, and a large number of strangers anxious to hear the famous preacher. After the opening exercises, which commenced with the singing of the hymn,

Heaven is my fatherland,
Heaven is my home,

Dr. Talmage announced as his text Judges xiii, 19: "And the angel did wondrously." Following is a verbatim report of his sermon:

Fire built on a rock. Manoah and his wife had there kindled the flames for sacrifice in praise of God and in honor of a guest whom they supposed to be a man. But as the flame rose higher and higher their stranger guest stepped into the flame and by one red leap ascended into the skies. Then they knew that he was an Angel of the Lord. "The angel did wondrously."

Two hundred and forty-eight times does the Bible refer to the angels, yet I never heard or read a sermon on Angelology. The whole subject is relegated to the realm mythical, weird, spectral and unknown. Such adjournment is unscriptural and wicked. Of their life, their character, their habits, their actions, their velocities, the Bible gives us full length portraits, and why this prolonged and absolute silence concerning them? Angelology is my theme.

THE SUPERNAL-INFERNAL WAR.

There are two nations of angels, and they are hostile to each other; the nation of good angels and the nation of bad angels. Of the former I chiefly speak today. Their capital, their headquarters, their grand rendezvous, is heaven, but their empire is the universe. They are a distinct race of creatures. No human being can ever join their confraternity. The little child who in the Sabbath school sings, "I want to be an angel," will never have her wish gratified. They are superhuman; but they are of different grades and ranks, not all on the same level, or the same height. They have their superiors and inferiors and equals. I propose no guessing on this subject, but take the Bible for my only authority. Plato, the philosopher, guessed, and divided angels into super-celestial, celestial and sub-celestial. Dionysius, the Areopagite, guessed, and divided them into three classes—the supreme, the middle and the last—and each of these into three other classes, making nine in all.

Philo said that the angels were related to God, as the rays to the sun. Fulgentius said that they were composed of body and spirit. Clement said they were incorporeal. Augustine said that they had been in danger of falling, but now are beyond being tempted. But the only authority on this subject that I respect says they are divided into Cherubim, Seraphim, Thrones, Dominations, Principalities, Powers. Their commander-in-chief is Michael. Daniel called him Michael, St. John called him Michael. These supernal beings are more thoroughly organized than any army that ever marched. They are swifter than any cyclone that ever swept the sea. They are more radiant than any morning that ever came down the sky. They have more to do with your destiny and mine than any being in the universe except God. May the Angel of the New Covenant, who is the Lord Jesus, open our eyes, and touch our tongue, and rouse our soul, while we speak of their deathlessness, their intelligence, their numbers, their strength, their achievements.

Yes, deathless. They had a cradle, but will never have a grave. The Lord remembers when they were born, but no one shall ever see their eye extinguished, or their momentum slow up, or their existence terminate. The oldest of them has not a wrinkle, or a decrepitude, or a hindrance; as young after six thousand years as at the close of their first hour. Christ said of the good in heaven, "Neither can they die any more, for they are equal unto the angels." Yes, deathless are these wonderful creatures of whom I speak. They will see world after world go out, but there shall be no fading of their own brilliance. Yes, after the last world has taken its last flight they will be ready for the widest circuit through immensity, taking a quadrillion of miles in one sweep as easy as a pigeon circles a dovecot. They are never sick. They are never exhausted. They need no sleep, for they are never tired. At God's command they smote with death, in one night, one hundred and eighty-five thousand of Sennacherib's host, but no fatality can smite them. Awake, agile, multipotent, deathless, immortal!

THE ANGELIC INTELLECTS.

A further characteristic of these radiant folk is intelligence. The woman of Tekoah was right when she spoke to King David of the wisdom of an angel. We take in what little we know through eye and ear and nostril and touch; but those beings have no physical encasement and hence they are all senses. A wall five feet thick is not solid to them. Through it they go without disturbing flake of mortar or crystal of sand. Knowledge! It flashes on them. They take it in at all points. They absorb it. They gather it up without any hinderment. No need of literature for them! The letters of their books are stars. The dashes of their books are meteors. The words of their books are constellations. The paragraphs of their books are galaxies. The pictures of their books are sunrises, and sunsets, and midnight auroras, and the Conqueror on the white horse with the moon under his feet, and seas of glass mingled with fire. Their library is an open universe. No need of telescope to see something millions of miles away, for instantly they are there to inspect and explore it. All astronomies, all geologies, all botanies, all philosophies at their feet. What an opportunity for intelligence is theirs! What facilities for knowing everything and knowing it right away!

There is only one thing that puts them to their wit's end, and the Bible says they have to study that. They have been studying it all through the ages, and yet I warrant they have not fully grasped it—the wonders of Redemption. These wonders are so high, so deep, so grand, so stupendous, so magnificent that even the intelligence of angelhood is confounded before it. The apostle says, "Which things the angels desire to look into." That is a subject that excites inquisitiveness on their part. That is a theme that strains the faculties to their utmost. That is higher than they can climb, and deeper than they can dive. They have a desire for something too big for their comprehension. "Which things the angels desire to look into." But that does not discredit their intelligence. No one but God himself can fully understand the wonders of Redemption. If all heaven should study it for fifty eternities they would get no further than the A B C of that inexhaustible subject. But nearly all other realms of knowledge they have ransacked and explored and compassed. No one but God can tell them anything they do not know. They have read to the last word of the last line of the last page of the last volume of investigation. And what delights me most is that all their intelligence is to be at our disposal, and, coming into their presence, they will tell us in five minutes more than we can learn by one hundred years of earthly surmising.

THEY REGARD NOT TIME AND SPACE.

A further characteristic of these immortals is their velocity. This the Bible puts sometimes under the figure of wings, sometimes under the figure of a flowing garment, sometimes under the figure of naked feet. As these superhumans are without bodies these expressions are of course figurative, and mean swiftness. The Bible tells us that Daniel was praying, and Gabriel flew from heaven and touched him before he got up from his knees. How far, then, did the angel Gabriel have to fly in those moments of Daniel's prayer? Heaven is thought to be the center of the universe. Our sun and its planets only the rim of the wheel of worlds. In a moment the angel Gabriel flew from that center to this periphery. Jesus told Peter he could instantly have sixty thousand angels present if he called for them. What foot of antelope or wing of albatross could equal that velocity? Law of gravitation, which grips all things else, has no influence upon angelic momentum. Immensities before them open and shut like a fan. That they are here is no reason why they should not be a quintillion of miles hence the next minute. Our bodies hinder us, but our minds can circle the earth in a minute. Angelic beings are bodiless and have no limitation. God may with his finger point down to some world in trouble on the outmost limits of creation, and instantly an angelic cohort are there to help it. Or some celestial may be standing at the furthermost outpost of immensity, and God may say "Come!" and instantly it is in his bosom. Abraham, Elijah, Hagar, Joshua, Gideon, Manoah, Paul, St. John, could tell of their unhindered locomotion. The red feet of summer lightning are slow compared with their hegiras. This doubles up and compresses infinitudes into infinitesimals. This puts all the astronomical heavens into a space like the balls of a child's rattle. This mingles into one the Here and the There, the Now and the Then, the Beyond and the Yonder.

Another remark I have to make concerning these illustrious immortals is that they are multitudinous. Their census has never been taken, and no one but God knows how many they are, but all the Bible accounts suggest their immense numbers. Companies of them, regiments of them, armies of them, mountain tops haloed by them, skies populous with them. John speaks of angels and other beings round the throne as ten thousand times ten thousand. Now, according to my calculation, ten thousand times ten thousand are one hundred million. But these are only the angels in one place. David counted twenty thousand of them rolling down the sky in chariots. When God came away from the riven rocks of Mount Sinai, the Bible says he had the companionship of ten thousand angels. I think they are in every battle, in every exigency, at every birth, at every pillow, at every hour, at every moment. The earth full of them. The heavens full of them. They outnumber the human race in this world. They outnumber ransomed spirits in glory. When Abraham had his knife uplisted to slay Isaac, it was an angel who arrested the stroke, crying, "Abraham! Abraham!" It was a stairway of angels that Jacob saw while pillowed in the wilderness. We are told an angel led the hosts of Israelites out of Egyptian serfdom. It was an angel that showed Hagar the fountain where she filled the bottle for the lad. It was an angel that took Lot out of doomed Sodom. It was an angel that shut up the mouth of the hungry monsters when Daniel was thrown into the caverns. It was an angel that fed Elijah under the juniper tree. It was an angel that announced to Mary the approaching nativity. They were angels that chanted when Christ was born. It was an angel that strengthened our Saviour in his agony. It was an angel that encouraged Paul in the Mediterranean shipwreck. It was an angel that burst open the prison, gate after gate, until Peter was liberated. It was an angel that stirred the Pool of Siloam where the sick were healed. It was an angel that John saw flying through the midst of heaven, and an angel with foot planted on the sea, and an angel that opened the book, and an angel that sounded the trumpet, and an angel that thrust in the sickle, and an angel that poured out the vials, and an angel standing in the sun. It will be an angel with uplifted hand, swearing that Time shall be no longer. In the great final harvest of the world, the reapers are the angels. Yea, the Lord shall be revealed from heaven with mighty angels. Oh, the numbers and the might and the glory of these supernals! Fleets of them! Squadrons of them! Host beyond host! Rank above rank! Millions on millions! And all on our side if we will have them.

THEY ARE MINISTERING SPIRITS.

This leads me to speak of the offices of these supernals. To defend, to cheer, to rescue, to escort, to give victory to the right, and overthrow the wrong; that is their business. Just as alert today and efficient as when in Bible times they spread wing, or unsheathed sword, or rocked down penitentiaries, or filled the mountains with horses of fire hitched to chariots of fire and driven by reinsmen of fire. They have turned your steps a hundred times, and you knew it not. You were on the way to do some wrong thing, and they changed your course. They brought some thought of Christian parentage, or of loyalty to your own home, and that arrested you. They arranged that some one should meet you at that crisis, and propose something honorable and elevating, or they took from your pocket some ticket to evil amusement, a ticket that you never found. It was an angel of God, and perhaps the very one that guided you to this service, and that now waits to report some holy impression to be this morning made upon your soul, tarrying with one foot upon the doorstep of your immortal spirit, and the other foot lifted for ascent into the skies. By some prayer detain him until he can tell of a repentant and ransomed soul! Or you were some time borne down with trouble, bereavement, persecution, bankruptcy, sickness, and all manner of troubles beating their discords in your heart and life. You gave up; you said: "I cannot stand it any longer. I believe I will take my life. Where is the rail train, or the deep wave, or the precipice that will end this torment of earthly existence?" But suddenly your mind brightened. Courage came surging into your heart like oceanic tides. You said: "God is on my side, and all these adversities he can make turn out for my good." Suddenly you felt a peace, a deep peace, the peace of God that passeth all understanding. What made the change? A sweet, and mighty, and comforting angel of the Lord met you. That was all.

What an incentive to purity and righteousness is this doctrine that we are continually under angelic observation! Eyes ever on you, so that the most secret misdeed is committed in the midst of an audience of immortals. No door so bolted, no darkness so Cimmerian as to hinder that supernal eyesight. Not critical eyesight, not jealous eyesight, not baleful eyesight, but friendly eyesight, sympathetic eyesight, helpful eyesight. Confidential clerk of store, with great responsibility on your shoulder, and no one to applaud your work when you do it well, and sick with the world's ingratitude, think of the angels in the counting room raptured at your fidelity! Mother of household, stitching, mending, cooking, dusting, planning, up half the night or all night with the sick child, day in and day out, year in and year out, worn with the monotony of a life that no one seems to care for, think of the angels in the nursery, angels in all the rooms of your toiling, angels about the sick cradle, and all in sympathy!

FEAR NOT! ANGELS GUARD YOU.

Railroad engineer, with hundreds of lives hanging on your wrist, standing amid the cinders and the smutch, round the sharp curve and by appalling declivity, discharged and disgraced if you make a mistake, but not one word of approval if you take all the trains in safety for ten years, think of the angels by the throttle valve, angels by the roaring furnace of the engine, angels looking from the overhanging crag, angels bracing the racing wheels off the precipice, angels when you mount the thunderbolt of a train and angels when you dismount! Can you not hear them, louder than the jamming of the car coupling, louder than the bell at the crossing, louder than the whistle that sounds like the scream of a flying fiend, the angelic voices saying, "You did it well. You did it well!" If I often speak of engineers it is because I ride so much with them. I always accept their invitation to join them on their locomotive, because I not only get to my destination sooner, but because they are about the grandest men alive.

Men and women of all circumstances, only partly appreciated, or not appreciated at all, never feel lonely again, or unregarded again! Angels all around; angels to approve, angels to help, angels to remember. Yea, while all the good angels are friends of the good, there is one special angel your body guard. This idea, until this present study of angelology, I supposed to be fanciful, but I find it clearly stated in the Bible. When the disciples were praying for Peter's deliverance from prison, and he appeared at the door of the prayer meeting, they could not believe it was Peter. They said: "It is his angel." So these disciples, in special nearness to Christ, evidently believed that every worthy soul has an angel. Jesus said of his followers: "Their angels behold the face of my Father." Elsewhere it is said: "He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways." Angel shielded, angel protected, angel guarded, angel canopied, art thou. No wonder that Charles Wesley hymned these words:

Which of the petty kings of earth
Can boast a guard like ours,
Encircled from our second birth
With all the heavenly powers?

Valerius and Rufinus were put to death for Christ's sake in the year 287, and, after the day when their bodies had been whipped, and pounded into a jelly, in the night in prison, and before the next day when they were to be executed, they both thought they saw angels standing with two glittering crowns saying, "Be of good cheer, valiant soldiers of Jesus Christ! a little more of battle and then these crowns are yours." And I am glad to know that before many of those who have passed through great sufferings in this life, some angel of God has held a blazing coronet of eternal reward.

THE DEAD SHALL RISE WITH THEM.

Yea; we are to have such a guardian angel to take us upward when our work is done. You know we are told an angel conducted Lazarus to Abraham's bosom. That shows that none shall be so poor in dying he cannot afford angelic escort. It would be a long way to go alone, and up paths we have never trod, and amid blazing worlds swinging in unimaginable momentum, out and on through such distances and across such infinitudes of space, we should shudder at the thought of going alone. But the angelic escort will come to your languishing pillow, or the place of your fatal accident, and say: "Hail, immortal one! All is well; God hath sent me to take you home;" and without tremor or slightest sense of peril you will away and upward, further on and further on, until after awhile heaven heaves in sight, and the rumble of chariot wheels, and the roll of mighty harmonies are heard in the distance, and nearer you come, and nearer still, until the brightness is like many mornings suffused into one, and the gates lift and you are inside the amethystine walls, and on the banks of the jasper sea, forever safe, forever free, forever well, forever rested, forever united, forever happy. Mothers, don't think your little children go alone when they quit this world. Out of your arms into angelic arms. Out of sickness into health. Out of the cradle into a Saviour's bosom. Not an instant will the darlings be alone between the two kisses, the last kiss of earth and the first kiss of heaven. "Now, angels, do your work!" cried an expiring Christian.

Yes, a guardian angel for each one of you. Put yourself now in accord with him. When he suggests the right, follow it. When he warns you against the wrong, shun it. Sent forth from God to help you in this great battle against sin and death, accept his deliverance. When tempted to a feeling of loneliness and disheartenment appropriate the promise: "The angel of the Lord encampeth around about them that fear him and delivereth them." Oh, I am so glad that the spaces between here and heaven are thronged with these supernaturals taking tidings home, bringing messages here, rolling back obstacles from our path and giving us defense, for terrific are the forces who dispute our way, and if the nation of the good angels is on our side, the nation of bad angels is on the other side. Paul had it right when he said: "We wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against Principalities, against Powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." In that awful fight may God send us mighty angelic re-enforcement! We want all their wings on our side, all their swords on our side, all their chariots on our side.

THIS WORLD THEIR BATTLE GROUND.

Thank God that those who are for us are mightier than those who are against us! And that thought makes me jubilant as to the final triumph. Belgium, you know, was the battle ground of England and France. Yea, Belgium more than once was the battle ground of opposing nations. It so happens that this world is the Belgium or battle ground between the angelic nations, good and bad. Michael, the commander-in-chief on one side; Lucifer, as Byron calls him, or Mephistopheles, as Goethe calls him, or Satan, as the Bible calls him, the commander-in-chief on the other side. All pure angelhood under the one leadership, and all abandoned angelhood under the other leadership.

Many a skirmish have the two armies had, but the great and decisive battle is yet to be fought. Either from our earthly homes or down from our supernal residences, may we come in on the right side; for on that side are God and heaven and victory. Meanwhile the battle is being set in array, and the forces celestial and demoniacal are confronting each other. Hear the boom of the great cannonade already opened! Cherubim, Seraphim, Thrones, Dominations, Principalities and Powers are beginning to ride down their foes, and until the work is completed, "Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon, and thou, Moon, in the valley of Ajalon!"

A florist in London, England, has had the happy thought of hanging trails of moss over and around the electric lights in his window. The green and yellow tints of the delicate leaves form a lovely veil for the light, which glimmers through them without being diminished.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON VALLEY.

A Handsome Summer Boarding House Burned to the Ground Yesterday Afternoon—Loss About $5,000.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon, fire was discovered in the large Summer boarding house, owned by the Meyer estate and situated on the main road leading from Mt. Bethel to Smalleytown, about two-and-a-half miles Northwest of this city. The building was of frame, three stories high, and was completely destroyed, together with most of the contents.

The house was occupied by a man named Stangle, a son-in-law of the late Mrs. Meyer, the latter named being a sister of Mrs. Geo. Lissignolo of this city. When discovered, the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to extinguish it. The only furniture saved was a few articles on the first floor.

The total loss will probably not exceed $6,000, on which there is said to be a small insurance. The fire originated from a defective flue.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Counselor Wm. K. McClure's mother died on Friday last, in Baltimore, at the home of her other son.

Mr. C. J. Feytel formerly of North Plainfield, has become a resident of this city, having removed to No. 145 West Front street.

Mr. James Evans of the Potter Press Works, who went to Colorado a few weeks ago, suffering from throat troubles, is reported as much improved.

A cablegram just received from Mrs. Jacob Kirkner, dated at Dresden, contains the sad news that Miss Carrie Kirkner has had another relapse and is so much worse that recovery is almost despaired of.

Among the young ladies who were admitted into the Order of Mercy at St. Joseph's Convent, Bordentown, on Friday, was Miss Annie McKelvey of Bound Brook, to be known as Sister Mary Corletta.

An evening sociable was given at the residence of Mr. J H. Fosher, corner of Grant avenue and Fourth street, Thursday evening last. The committee of arrangements consisted of Messrs F. B. and H. L Randolph. Prof. Frazee furnished the music.

His physician reports Mr. C. C. Day, North Plainfield's Overseer of the Poor, as better this morning. A consultation on Saturday resulted in the same diagnosis of the case as his attendant physician had already made. The patient is afflicted with acute albuminuria.

The Rev. Joseph. H. Bailey, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church (colored) of Elizabeth, again preached in Mt. Olive Baptist church this city, last evening. Every pew was occupied, as well as chairs in the aisles, and the interest was very great. There were ten on the mourner's bench, and four converts. Revival services will begin in the church to-morrow.

A Tribute to a Sexton's Faithful Service.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Crescent Avenue church held on Saturday evening, March 22, 1890, the following resolution was adopted, and the Secretary was authorized to have the same published. The Trustees deem it fitting to recognize the services of Henry Kline, deceased, late sexton of this church, and desire to express in memory of him what they believe to be proper and consistent with the feelings of the congregation.

That for nearly twenty-five years he faithfully and conscientiously performed the duties of sexton according to the best of his ability, and very satisfactorily to the church, looking well after its interests, and when in health was always found at his post of duty. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we regret his death, and express our sympathy with his family, who have lost a good husband and father, and the church, which he served so long, a useful and faithful sexton.

By order of the Board of Trustees,
CHAS. PLACE, President.
W. F. ARNOLD, Sec'y and Treas.

Death of a Promising Youth.

The death is announced of Frederick W. Zeisz, the bright and promising twelve-year-old son of Mrs. Elizabeth Zeisz, which occurred at his home on Chatham street, North Plainfield, yesterday morning from membranous croup. The child was just branching out into young manhood, and would soon become a great help to his widowed mother, when his life was thus cut off, leaving her without a protector.

The funeral will take place from the house, to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be in North Plainfield.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

Mr. G. W. V. Moy, the popular druggist, is forging ahead. Starting in business in the little room thirteen feet front, on North avenue, about a year ago, and feeling himself "cribbed, cabined and confined" therein, he moves on April 1, to the large store in the Hart building, Park avenue and Fourth street, as already stated in these columns.

Mr. Moy is an expert pharmacist who wears a seven and a half hat, and, if any evidence were needed that the quality of brain is in keeping with the size of the "brain pan," it is shown in his case by his 'cuteness in reorganizing his business as a stock corporation with Mr. T. S. Burr, of LaGrande avenue, as President.

Any one who knows "rare Tom Burr" of Bicycle Club fame, knows that this means the Moy Pharmacy Co., will take its place in the front rank and keep it. He is a firm believer in the use of printers' ink, which belief is an unerring indication that he, too, has a large and level head. Mr. Burr continues his New York business, as the general management of the Pharmacy Co., is in the hands of Mr. Moy as Secretary-Treasurer.

Death of Mrs. Peter Wooden.

At her home on Somerset street, North Plainfield, about four o'clock yesterday morning, occurred the death of Margaret, the estimable wife of Mr. Peter Wooden, from general debility. Mrs. Wooden had she lived until Saturday next, would have been 91 years of age. Her death occurred on the fiftieth anniversary of her marriage.

"Aunt Margaret" as she was familiarly called has been a resident of North Plainfield for half a century past, most of which time she has lived with her husband in the plain and unostentatious looking structure on Somerset street where her death occurred yesterday morning, as above stated.

Mrs. Wooden was a member of the Rev. Dr. Yerkes' church. She leaves a husband but no children.

The funeral will take place from the house on Wednesday at eleven o'clock A.M

Courtesies Extended to Mr. Pliny Fisk.

Through the courtesy of Supt. Ohlhausen of the New Jersey Central Railroad, train No 512, which passes through this city about 11:50 o'clock A. M., on the way to Philadelphia and Washington, was stopped at the Plainfield station on Saturday to take on board Mr. Pliny Fisk and family of West Seventh street, who were on their way to Washington.

Mrs. Fisk is just recovering from a siege of illness, and it was on this account that the courtesies of the road were extended to Mr. Fisk.

A Plainfielder (?) Elected Superintendent.

Saturday's New York Herald says: "The Union Ferry Company directors met yesterday and named Charles E. Smith, of Plainfield, N. J., as the successor of Superintendent Edgerton.

"Mr. Smith is a brother of Director Bryan H. Smith and has had no previous experience in the ferry business."

—A rumor was circulated on the streets today to the effect that a woman had been foully murdered at Netherwood some time during last night. Neither the police nor the undertakers know anything about the alleged murder.

A Great Discovery.

The fact that castor oil, as vile a medicine as was ever discovered, has so long held its own as a laxative, is because, until HAMBURG FIGS were discovered, no medicine could take its place. Now, however, ladies and children take HAMBURG FIGS, and like them. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

THE VOICE OF THE VISTOR.

Items Culled From the Monthly Journal that the Rev. C. B. Mitchell Sends His Congregation.

"What will Mrs. Grundy say?" Next Thursday evening.

Mrs. John McNaughton recently visited Washington, D. C.

Miss Nettie Beeching is doing an excellent work in the Washingtonville Sunday school.

If we are not mistaken the pastor of our church is the only pastor in the city who has escaped La Grippe. He has not been seriously ill for ten years. Do not waste any sympathy on him because he does not look like a rusher in a foot-ball team.

If our choir could hear all the kind things said of the excellent work it is doing, the chorister and members would be greatly encouraged.

The officers of the Ladies' Aid Society were elected for the coming year at the last meeting. It is the same list of officers with the exception of Miss Mary Brown as Treasurer. They are as follows: President—Mrs. L. M. French. Vice President—Mrs. D. E. Davis. Secretary—Mrs. R. R. Fairchild. Ass't Secretary—Mrs. Samuel Mitchel. Treasurer—Miss Mary Brown. Ass't Treasurer—Mrs. Lorenza J. Spicer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waterson, of Summit avenue, will remove soon to Cranford.

Dr. Carroll ably filled the pulpit of the large and influential St. John's M. E. church, Brooklyn, Sunday, March 16.

Mr. John Weir will soon begin the erection of a fine residence on Rockview avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Weir will have some excellent Methodist neighbors.

Sunday evening, February 23, the pastor baptised Raymond Sperry, the infant son of E P. and Hattie L. Stevens, at the family residence, 65 Grand View avenue. The four grandparents were present at the ceremony.

Mr. Frank French, with several other boys of Mr J. Newton Jenkins' Sunday school class, presented a beautiful floral offering for the funeral of their beloved teacher. It was an appropriate tribute of love for a most faithful friend.

During the past quarter sixty-five have united with our church; ten by letter, and fifty-five on probation.

Mr. Edwin Loomis recently entertained the Rev. Chas. Parsons, D. D., and wife, of St. Paul's church, Newark. Dr. Parsons and Mrs. Loomis were classmates in college

March 16, Mr. Geo. C. Martin, President of the S. S. Missionary Society, presented to Flossie Loomis, Harry McGee and Frank French, three Chinese coins, each over 1800 years old, as a prize for the largest sums of missionary money collected during the past year. The coins were a gift from the Rev. Marcus Taft, a returned missionary.

The pastor will deliver a lecture Thursday night March 27, in Vincent chapel, on "What Will Mrs. Grundy Say?"

Reform Hall.

There was a fair sized audience in Reform Hall last evening. President Harper presided, the Rev. Mr. Honeyman conducted the devotional services and the Club's full choir, under the leadership of Mr. King, with Miss Alice Smith as accompanist, supplied the music. The speakers were Messrs Amos Andrews, Benjamin Hand and Nickolson, and their remarks were emphatically practical and delivered in a pleasing manner. They all bore testimony to the happy results attending total abstinence from the drink habit, portrayed the terrible evil of intoxicating liquor, and in bold and uncompromising language denounced the license system. A religious sentiment pervaded each discourse, and all the speakers were listened to with marked attention.

President Harper read the usual notices and asked for an increased attendance at the Thursday evening meeting. He stated that the speaker for next Sunday evening would be Mr. S. A. Haines of Netherwood.

"Der Padder of Der Shingle."

At Somerset Hall, Somerville, on Thursday evening last, Damon Association of the Pythian sisterhood, gave an interesting entertainment, and among those who took part was Mr. J. H. Carney of this city. In speaking of Plainfield's German delineator a Somerville paper remarks:

"Mr. Carney gave Dutch pieces, and although down on the programme for only one piece, had to give six before the entertainment was through."

Mr. Cleaver's Theosophistical Mind.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The advertised discourses on the "Presbyterian Dilemma" at the First Church of Christ, have perceptably increased the congregation to hear Mr. Cleaver upon this subject. It would seem that this gifted divine must have a theosophistical mind upon the law of truth to discern, as against the great minds of Presbytery.

CHARLES K. MOORE THE MAN.

Contractor Wood Fails to Complete South Avenue, and a Successor Suggested.

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

Another matter of some interest [at the meeting of the Board of Freeholders reported in Saturday's PRESS] was the report of County Engineer Dunham of Plainfield, in regard to the improvement of South avenue in Fanwood township, a portion of the county road system. The acts under which the roads are being improved makes it the duty of the county engineer, if in his opinion there is an unnecessary delay in the completion of a contract, to report the fact to the board with a recommendation.

In accordance with this provision Engineer Dunham reported that in his opinion the work on South avenue was being unnecessarily delayed to the detriment of the road and county. He recommended that the contract which had been awarded to Mr. H. G. Wood be annulled.

Mr. Dunham said the contractor, Mr. Wood, has for six weeks or two months paid no attention whatever to the road. It has been left in charge of a foreman, who is doing nothing but waiting for stone and top dressing which never came. He (Mr. Dunham) had sent his inspector to the road every day to find at every visit this state of affairs. The road is being injured in consequence and the people are complaining. Mr. Wood had received $13,000 on the contract price which amounts to $17,000.

Mr. Dunham said the road was in good shape as far as the work had progressed It was practically completed. There was still about one-half mile of the road in Fanwood needing another course of macadam, and the top dressing. The work of finishing it completely would not be expensive and could easily be done by the county for less than the balance of amount of the contract. He said a Mr. Charles K. Moore, a resident of Fanwood, had very kindly advanced Mr. Wood money and material to finish the work. Mr. Wood owed Mr. Moore $1,800, and it did seem that Mr. Moore having accommodated Mr. Wood he should be protected.

"SWEET LAVENDER."

Some Notes About To-night's Play at Music Hall.

Have you secured your seats for the production of "Sweet Lavender," by Daniel Frohman's Lyceum Theatre company, at Music Hall this evening?

During the run of "Sweet Lavender" at the Lyceum Theatre in New York the matinees were thronged with fashionable ladies, for whom the play seemed to have a peculiar charm.

"Sweet Lavender" was originally produced at Terry's Theatre in London, holding the stage of that theatre for over 300 nights. The critics of that city proclaimed it the grandest success the stage had known for years.

The artistic wholeness of the play, "Sweet Lavender," is surprising and gratifying. It is a play which tells what you understand; which has a genuine purpose, and goes to its mark simply, directly and effectively.

The South Plainfield Infanticide Case.

Mary Hoffman, of South Plainfield, the young woman who is charged with concealing the birth of her illegitimate child and implicated in its consequent death, is still confined in the New Brunswick jail in company with her mother and her two-year-old son. The warrants were issued from the Prosecutor's office some time ago, but Justice Houseil committed them to jail in default of bail, to wait the action of the Grand Jury.

When seen at the jail by a reporter Friday morning the young woman refused to say anything in regard to the case. She was coerced into silence by her mother, who was equally as reticent. When asked what she had to say for herself her mother flared out with the remark, "I guess you newspaper reporters know what we're here for," and that was all the information that could be extracted from her.

Mary, the principal in the case, is extremely repulsive looking. Her face is dull and wears an inanimate expression when in repose. Her eyes are formed after the fashion of a Chinaman's, having a tendency to slant upwards from the corners. Both women were carelessly dressed in greasy black gowns, and this in conjunction with frowsy heads, did not tend to heighten their general appearence The case when it comes up in court, will probably prove extremely sensational and spicy developments may be looked for, although no one believes that the woman killed her child.

To Secure a Means to Sewer Plainfield.

The Common Council held a special meeting Saturday evening, and added Mr. Newhall to the committee consisting of Messrs Hetfield, Rushmore and Spangenburg who have in charge the bill now before the legislature providing for the building of sewers in Plainfield by a private corporation.

The committee was instructed to consult with Assemblymen Ulrich and Marsh, and with the City Attorney, as to the best steps to be taken to secure speedy and favorable legislation for the bill. Some of the committee will go to Trenton this evening in its interests.

Many cases of rheumatism, which have resisted the skill of the profession, have promptly yielded to that wonderful remedy, Salvation Oil. 25 cents.

He Was Only Half Shot.

A boozy Italian with mud covered boots, made his way into town, last evening, between six and seven o'clock, on the hunt for the police. He found Officer Grant at his post of duty and poured into his ear a string of broken Italian laden with beer, to the effect that he had been shot.

His story as translated by Officer Grant was to the effect that the keeper of an unlicensed beer saloon in the midst of the Italian colony in Fanwood township, had shot at the complainant twice and at his brother three times, just as the Sunday school bells were ringing in the Scotch Plains Methodist church a few hundred yards distant. The officer told the Italian he must apply for a warrant of arrest, to a Justice of the Peace in whose jurisdiction the deed was committed; and told him also that he was drunk and unless he left Plainfield at once, would be locked up. He left.

RAILROAD WRECK.

Several Cars Demolished and Train Hands Severely Injured.

CONCORD, Mass., March 24.—The worst railroad wreck in this vicinity for a long time occurred late last night at Concord Junction on the Old Colony Railroad. A south bound ice train which was standing in the yard, was run into by another freight train from Lowell, which was going in the same direction. The engine and several cars on the train from Lowell were totally demolished, also the caboose and several cars on the ice train.

The wreck took fire and burned for several hours. Charles Blodgett, a fireman, was badly injured; William Hunt, fireman, seriously injured; F. P. Chamberlain, engineer, was buried in the wreck but escaped with slight injuries. The other trainmen escaped by jumping. The loss will reach $20,000.

ASSISTING STUDENTS.

Yale Will Weed Out the Undeserving by a New Rule.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 24.—The faculty of Yale has taken a step which had been under consideration for some time. All the classes in the college are divided into four divisions, according to class-standing. Heretofore, as long as funds were available, indigent students were given aid irrespective of class-standing. It is apparent, however, that many thus aided failed to appreciate their privileges and to accept the advantages accorded them. The faculty has, therefore, decided that, after this year, no student who falls below the second of the four divisions shall be open to receive assistance. This will weed out undeserving students and allow the funds to be distributed to more meritorious ones.

As the different departments of the university are rapidly prospering in every direction, possibly no want among the many wants is more visible than the need of dormitories. Hundreds of the students already are compelled to room in private houses near the college, and the heavy demand inevitably raises the room rent beyond the legitimate price. Several large dormitories are a pressing need, and President Dwight is on the qui vive to hear several rich alumni or friends of the university express their intention to fill the need.

CANNOT NURSE LEPERS.

Sister Rose Gertrude Meets With Disappointment at Molokai.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Dr. J. M. Whitney of Honolulu, who arrived here on the steamer Australia, says that Sister Rose Gertrude, the English girl who was anxious to nurse lepers at Molokai, will not become an exile in the leper settlement and perhaps die there, as she anticipated. The settlement of Molokai is in charge of the sisters of the Sacred Heart, who are maintained there by the Hawaiian Government, and as Sister Rose Gertrude belongs to another order—the Dominican Sisters—she cannot be admitted.

She is therefore at Kalili, the receiving station for lepers, or those who are supposed to have contracted the disease. There they are cared for until it can be determined what their ailment really is. Dr. Whitney says she is very comfortable at Kalili and not isolated, though she is disappointed in her expectations.
